NOTED COLUMNIST TO SPEAK HERE

Ernest K. Lindley, noted Washington editor of Newsweek and television commentator, will be the principal speaker for the Star Course on October 12. His subject will be "Our Stake in Asia".

Mr. Lindley was born July 14, 1899, in Richmond, Indiana and educated in Indiana University, University of Idaho, and Oxford University, where he was a Rhodes Scholar and specialized in modern history.

While in college, he edited a small-town daily for a time and, on returning from England in 1924, went to work for Henry J. Allen of the Wichita (Kansas) Beacon.

In December 1942, he joined the staff of the New York World as a reporter, and gradually worked into political reporting.

In 1928, Mr. Lindley traveled with Al Smith and Herbert Hoover for the New York World. When the World folded in 1931, he became a political writer for the New York Herald Tribune in 1932.

In 1933, he became a roving correspondent attached to the Washington Bureau of the New York Herald Tribune. In 1936, he traveled with

THETA CHI HOLDS 100 CONVENTION

On September 5-8, 1956, at Norwich University located in Northfield, Vermont, Theta Chi Fraternity held its Centennial Convention. Delegates from 119 chapters representing more than 42,000 members scattered all over the United States gathered for this convention. They spent these days learning from each other, enjoying special events, and revering the memory of Frederick Norton Freeman and Arthur Chase, two young cadets who founded Theta Chi Fraternity in 1856.

Beta Omega Chapter from Susquehanna University was well represented. Jack Bishop, of Harrisburg, the president of Beta Omega Chapter, attended as the official delegate. Four other brothers from Susquehanna were in attendance. They were Jack Cisney, of Shippensburg, Jon Haussler and Park Haussler, of Sunbury, and Wayne Rutz, of Carlisle. It was a most interesting and memorable ex-

PLANS UNDERWAY FOR FROSH NIGHT

Plans for the annual "frosh" stunt night, to be held in the near future, are well under way. The Freshman Class has chosen as its co-chairmen Pat Bodel and Ken James.

At a meeting last Wednesday evening, theme suggestions were discussed. A committee of six girls and six boys will be appointed to choose a theme from these suggestions. After the theme has been chosen, various other committees will be appointed and rehearsals will begin.

VESPERS

On Sunday evening, September 23, Vespers were conducted by the S.C.A. in the chapel. The liturgist was Al Hazen and the speaker was Dr. E. P. Turnbach, the campus pastor. The theme of Dr. Turnbach's address was the future of the freshmen on this campus. The hymns chosen to fit into this theme were "Beautiful Savior" and "Jesus Savior Pilot Me". The Scripture was taken from the book of Ephesians. Vespers were well attended and well receive. We hope that they will be as well attended the rest of the year.

Alpha Delta Pi sorority was in charge of vespers on Sunday, September 30 in the chapel. The liturgist was Pat Walker and the speaker was Carol Daily. The title of the address was "Prayer". The hymns, chosen along these lines, were: "Sweet Hour of Prayer", Dear Lord and Father of Mankind", and "Praise to the Lord", The Scripture was Mark 14:26-42.

HASSINGER AND COX DIRECT SUCCESSFUL ORIENTATION PROGRAM

Most of us, after we graduate from college, vividly remember certain outstanding events which occurred while we were in college. Orientation is one of those times. It is a period of time when a freshman on campus usually decides whether he is really going to enjoy college, and much depends upon the leaders of the program. This year's co-chairmen were Lynn Hassinger and Elwood Cox who did a very fine job.

Orientation began Wednesday, September 19, with a meeting of all the members of the freshman class and transfer students in the Little Theater at 4:30 p. m. at which time the co-chairmen greeted the new students and discussed rules and regulations of the college. That night, a party for the freshman women was held at Mrs. G. Morris Smith's, and an informal meeting for the freshmen men with Dr. G. Morris Smith, took place in the Little Theater followed by a "mixer" in the gym of which Al Hazen and Betsy Walker were co-chairmen. Everyone had an enjoyable time, including the upperclassmen.

The outstanding events on Thursday started with English placement tests for the freshmen, under the supervision of Dr. Arthur Wilson, after which at 10:15, there was a meeting with Dean Russell Galt in the Little Theater followed by separate meetings for women and men whre the new students were introduced to th house mothers, Miss Ruth Meister, proctors, Mr. Axel Kleinsorg, Mr. Bernard Krapf and Dean Galt. More placement and aptitude tests were given in the afternoon and a general meeting was held for all the new students at 4:30 p. m. The student-faculty dinner was given in the dining hall after which the students were given an official welcome and led in song by Dr. Albert Zimmer in the Chapel—all had an hilarious time, including some eavesdropping upperclassmen.

On Friday meetings for registration instructions, and group instruction from faculty advisors were given, followed by registration for the freshmen and transfer students. A meeting for all new students took place in the Little Theater at 4:30 p. m., and at seven o'clock separate meetings for introducing the Student Councils, election for stunt night chairman, and discussions about fire drill regulations took place. At eight o'clock, a party in the gym, sponsored by S.C.A. and the local churches, was given where the students enjoyed entertainment and dancing provided by various upper-classmen. At ten o'clock, the new students had there first fire drill.

On Saturday, a psychological test was given by Dr. Albert Zimmer and Miss Leatrice Voorhees. At one o'clock

BOY SCOUTS NEED YOUNG EXECTIVES

Young men are needed in the executive branch of the Boy Scouts of America. The field excecutive has a job of "sales" and "service". In the "sales" job the executive organizes new Scout units. The "service" job involves the responsibility of seeing that established units succeed in delivering a rich scouting program to boys.

Because of the national coverage of the Personnel Service, it is possible for a career man to move in any direction that his talents and opportunity lead him. The welfare program of the Boy Scouts of America includes group life insurance, hospitalization, medical-surgial coverage, retirement plan, and social security. By no means least are the intangible compensations returning from the association with a movement with the prestige and dignity which the Boy Scouts of America enjoys.

Any student interested in a professional career in the Boy Scouts of America, please see Dr. Albert Zimmer during the week of October 1-6.

SELECT McDOWELL AS SCA ADVISOR

Miss Betsy McDowell, instructor in Physical Education, was chosen as an advisor to the Student Christian Association for the two year term beginning 1956-1958.

Miss McDowell graduated from Luther College in 1955 and began her teaching career at Susquehanna last year. Always active in youth leadership, she is considered an asset to our advisory group and the SCA looks forward to her leadership in the many projects planned for the present school year. Other faculty advisors include Mr. Howard DeMott and Mrs. Rachel Thomson.

The first cabinet meeting of the SCA will be held Tuesday evening, October 9, in the SCA room in Has-

Leach and Robinson Initiate New Clinics

This year there was initiated a very successful experiment in the choir and band departments of Susquehanna University. The Chapel Choir and Susquehanna's Marching Band featured a three day clinic starting on Wednesday, September the nineteenth.

The Chapel Choir rehearsed from 10:00 to 11:30 a. m. and from 3:30 to 5:00 p. m. daily. The material rehearsed consisted of the regular choir literature for chapel services and program material for the season. In the tryouts for the choir there was an enthusiastic response in both numbers and talent. As a result, Mr. Lavan Robinson, the choir's director, is looking forward to a very good year.

The Marching Band under the direction of Dr. John Leach started rehearsing for the season's appearances

Centennial Appeal Opens in Pa. Synod

A Susquehanna Centennial Appeal for $500,000 to be obtained from the 625 churches in the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the United Lutheran Church was approved by the Synod in June 1955 and has opened this fall. The over-all period of the campaign began September 1 and is to extend to November 18, with actual solicitation in the churches from November 4 to 11.

The campaign sector is comprised of eight conferences—East Allegheny, East Pennsylvania, Juniata, Lancaster, Susquehanna, West Allegheny West Pennsylvania, and York —divided into forty-two areas. November 4 has been denoted as Susquehanna Appeal Sunday in the churches of the sector.

This action was prompted by a need for more facilities because of a considerable increase in enrollment at the college, and an equally pressing need for improvement of faculty salaries. The money raised as a result of this centennial appeal will be used as follows:

SU PLAYERS CAST FALL PRODUCTION

The Susquehanna Players are now preparing to present "The Heiress" for Parents Day — October 13 — and Thursday, Friday and Saturday of the next week — October 18, 19, 20.

The cast of the play includes Thiry Reamer as Catherine Sloper, the heiress; Don Boyer as Dr. Sloper; John Hendricks as Morris Townsend; Suzy Tharp as Mrs. Penniman; Noretta Sheesley as Mrs. Montgomery; Helen Frerichs as Marien Almond; Judi Anderson as Mrs. Almond; Bill Hand as Arthur Townsend; and Muriel Behrens as Maria.

"The Heiress", of course, is being directed by Mr. Axel Kleinsorg. This play is being produced for the enjoyment of the students of Susquehanna, and so, we certainly hope that everyone will reserve one night in which to attend the play.

SAI GIVES NEWS OF CONVENTION

Six Susquehanna students who are members of Sigma Alpha Iota, national professional music fraternity for women, attended the National S.A.I. Convention in Washington, D. C. from August 16th to August 20th. Linda Youhon was the official delegate from Sigma Omega. Other members of the local chapter who attended included: Carolann Zust, Mary Moore, and Mary Davis.

Notable among many concerts scheduled during the convention days was one presented by Mildred Miller, mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Co., as a benefit for the Sigma Alpha Iota Foundation. Other highlights included a Vesper Musicale at the National Presbyterian Church and the American Music Awards Banquet.

Regional meetings, business sessions, "work parties", election of officers, and ritual services were also included.

The headquarters for the triennial convention was the beautiful Shoreham Hotel. There were approximately

University Fills Various Positions With Six Capable Campus Newcomers

To our campus this fall, we welcome six new members of the faculty and staff. They will be filling positions vacated by Mr. Harold Gullberg, Dr. Waldemar Zagars, Miss Margaret Kommel, Miss Alma Urffer, Mrs. Margaret Miller, and Miss Margaret Gable.

Miss Joanne Heinly class of '54 has joined the staff at Susquehanna University in the capacity of college nurse and along with five others, tok up her new duties September 18.

Miss Heinly completed her two-year Pre-nursing program at Susquehanna before entering Columbia University where she received her training at the Presbyterian Medical Center and her B. S. degree in nursing education at Columbia. Since her graduation she has been doing public health nursing in New York City. Miss Heinly replaces Miss Alma Urffer.

Mr. Phillip Bossart, who had been on leave og absence last year to complete residence requirements for his doctorate at Syracuse University, has requested extension of his leave and will remain at Syracuse for another year.

Miss Leatrice Voorhees of Auburn, New York, has taken over Mr. Bossart's duties in the Department of Psychology. Miss Voorhees received her bachelor's degree from Houghton College and has a master's degree from Syracuse University.

Dr. Waldemar Zagars has joined the faculty at Gettysburg College and his place at S. U. has been taken by Mr. Louis R. Dougherty, Jr., of Philadelphia. Mr. Dougherty received both his bachelor's and master's degrees from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. He had had teaching experience at Pennsylvania State University and Temple University.

Mrs. Frances D. Alterman, of Asheville, North Carolina, joined the faculty of the Conservatory of Music and has taken over the work formerly done by Miss Margaret Kommel.

Mrs. Alterman has an impressive background in music, having received her Bachelor of Music degree from the Eastman School of Music of the University of Rochester, and her master's degree from Columbia University. She has also studied at the Juilliard School of Music, New York.

Miss Dorothy Hoyer, a graduate of Kutztown State Teachers College, has replaced Miss Margaret Gabel as assistant librarian.

Mrs. William Connor of Allentown is the housemother in Seibert Hall this year. She has served in a similar capacity at Penn State University and Cedarerest College. Mrs. Margaret Miller, the former head resident in Seibert, is now working in the Business Manager's department and the Bok Store.

Coming to Susquehanna as a part-time instructor, Mr. Robert A. Christensen will teach mechanical drawing to pre-engineering students. Mr. Christensen holds the degree of Bachelor of Science in Architecture, and is associated with Malcolm A. Clinger, Architect, of Lewisburg, Pa.

Miss Janet Rohrbach is working in Harrisburg helping with a Lutheran Synodical drive for $500,000. She will be there for several months.

Welcome, Frosh!

Welcome Frosh. Welcome to the intercircles of Susquehanna University. We hope you have found everything as you expected it and more. These past few days as you remember them have been busy ones with many happy and new experiences. Of course, you might recall some of those tests standing in those endless lines, but also you will recall with more vividness the dances, open-houses, and the greetings that came your way from some other student or a faculty member.

May The Susquehanna give to you a most cordial welcome as you find your places within this College family. We hope your days at Susquehanna University will be happy and profitable ones.

S. U. Gets New Look

Since Commencement, the following renovations have taken place on S. U.'s campus. Additional storage facilities have been provided in Steele Science, while storage facilities have been completed in the basement of Selinsgrove Hall.

In Seibert the sororities now have closets, and there is also a closet to hold male choir gowns. Furniture has been renovated in both Seibert and the lounge of G. A. Hall, and auto shed have now been set up on the south side of the laundry. There has been much miscellaneous painting here and there, but the major work was that of the exterior of Steele Science. The faculty now has office space in Hassinger Hall.

On the sports side, the back stops on the tennis courts have been rewired, and new steel goal posts have been placed on the football field. Also, the beginnings of a permanent refreshment booth can be seen on the west side of the grandstand.

perience for the men from S. U. as they came to know other Theta Chi's from all parts of the U. S. as well as all the national officers of Theta Chi.

A most exciting convention session saw William F. Frantz of Folcroft, Penna. elected new national president of Theta Chi. Mr. Frantz graduated from the University of Minnesota in 1941 and has been very active in Theta Chi Fraternity since his undergraduate years.

Some of the other special features of the convention included the dedication of the Theta Chi Fratenity Scholarship to be awarded yearly to a worthy cadet of Norwich University. The recipient of this scholarship need not be a member of Theta Chi nor be connected with Theta Chi in any way. Another fascinating event, foreign to the Pennsylvanians from S. U., was a sugar-on-snow party. If you don't know what this is, just ask one of the brothers who attended. They will be glad to explain it to you.

The convention provided an interesting experience which the brothers from Susquehanna will never forget.

Frosh Observations

At the first glimpse of Susquehanna U., it appears, to a freshman, to be a large unfriendly place, just ready to swallow you if you make one mistake. But, as time goes on, you find that your ideas of that sort of life are a bit distorted.

The first few times an upper-classmate says "Hi!" in a friendly voice, your first thought is, "What do I have to do now?" And the strange part of it all is that there is no catch. They are actually doing it just to make you feel at home. So by the end of Orientation Week, you have decided if college is all like the past week, you'll stay.

But then disaster strikes! Classes begin. You just know the professors will beat you if you don't answer every question asked, get a perfect test score every time, or do your assignments. By the time your first class comes around the corner one of the few thoughts left in your mind is, "It's a good thing I didn't get my bags all unpacked. I can just leave them packed and go home. To your surprise there are no whips in the corner of the class room. You try to find a back seat so no one will see you but every one has the same idea. So here you sit in the front row.

Then the prof enters. He smiles and that unnerves you so much you can't remember where you are. Roll is called. You wait for the bitter blow to come. To your surprise, it never comes. As the class ends and the prof is still smiling, you decide to unpack a few things in your spare time. This goes on a few weeks or so and the prof still acts like a human. Every one is still talking and being friendly and so you unpack the rest of your things. In fact you even write home that you think you'll stay a while. Thus begins your life at S.U.

One hundred and seventy-five strangers arrived on the campus and in only a few days they were miraculously transformed into one hundred and seventy-five friends. The orientation committee spun the frosh around and ushered the dizzy newcomers into the friendly family of Susquehanna. The friendliness was practically demonstrated by the warm welcome given to the class of '60 by both the upperclassmen and the faculty.

Somehow most freshmen pictured upperclassmen as inconsiderate intellectuals who were jealous of new students coming to their school and who bullied the ignorant newcomers. It took only one day to wipe this foggy fancy from clouded minds and to bring into sharp focus upperclassmen who were considerate, understanding, patient and quite indispensible in aiding the frosh to become acclimated to this, the beginning of a great new adventure.

Many times during orientation college was described as a new adventure. Adventure is always accompanied by danger and, in fact, danger is what makes a common deed adventurous. The most predominant danger to a freshman is that dreded epitath, "he flunked out".

The freshman class upon arrival was thoroughly indoctrinated with the statistical forecast that 40% would undoubtedly fail to conclude four years years in the school. At first these facts were taken in an attitude of unbelief but eventually as they continueed orientation the frosh's unbelief turned to belief and their belief to worry. Worry is not a desirable state of mind, for it sometimes kills ambition and stifles progress; but, the worry instilled in freshman was indispensible because it served as the predecessor of another state of mind—concern. Concern fosters ambition, and ambition is essential to success. Most frosh have passed into that stage of mental development, but some unfortunately have passed beyond, allowing concern to slip away to be replaced by indifference, the arsenic of education.

Indifference kills ambition; it kills the hunger for knowledge and the thirst for understanding which are vital to the procurement of an education. It is deadly because it may strike anytime in four years. Very few victims of indifference graduate and none ever lead a full and successful life.

MUSIC NOTES

To all the music freshmen, the upperclass music students say a hearty hello and we hope your first year will be a big success. The twenty-one new students include seventeen girls and four boys.

Mary Ellen Harrington sang for the membesr of the County Federation of Women's Club last Tuesday in the Middleburg Church. Robert White was the accompanist.

The "Coeds", vocal trio comprised of three senior music students—Mary Ellen Harrington, Linda Youhon and Elizabeth Stradling, will appear on WHP-TV, Channel 55, this evening at 5:30 D. S. T.

Saturday the Susquehanna University Band made its first appearance of the year at the Susquehanna-Ursinus football game. Congratulations to the football team and the band for fine performances.

PHI MU DELTA NEWS

Mu Alpha chapter of Phi Mu Delta takes pleasure in welcoming all freshmen to the campus of Susquehanna. May your years spent here be rewarding and enjoyable.

Welcome back, also, members of the sophomore, junior and senior classes.

Congratulations to Coach Whitey Keil, Bob Pitello and their tremendous team on their victory over Ursinus on Saturday afternoon!! Those who saw S.U. romp to a 26-13 win over the Collegeville team will agee that it will take a pretty good gridiron aggregaion to stop the Crusaders this year. Brothers Walt Benham and Gordie Thompson played outstanding ball in this initial contest of the 1956 season. Again . . . congratulations Crusaders, and the best of luck!!

It will soon be time for intramural football at Susquehanna, and this year Phi Mu Delta, under the tutelage of Wade Hoffman, aims to capture the trophy for our mantle. The brotherhood joins in wishing the team good luck in "bringing home the bacon".

President Frank Chango and Secretary Pete Nunn were Mu Alpha's delegates to the National Conclave of Phi Mu Delta, held at Fernwood in the Pocono Mountains. The meeting ran from Wednesday, September 5 until Saturday, September 8, and dealt with such topics as fraternity improvement, scholarship reports and expansion. All in all, a successful Conclave was realized and a bigger and better future for Phi Mu Delta was anticipated. We wish to thank brothers Chango and Nunn for representing us most capable in their capacity as delegates.

On Saturday, Phi Mu Delta was honored by a visit from Mr. Pierce Appleyard, our National Alumni Director, and Warren Pirie Mu Alpha's Alumni Pesident. We tust they had a pleasant stay and will pay us a return visit in the near future.

Mu Alpha extends congratulations to brother Bill Aspray who pinned Carol Zust of Sigma Alpha Iota and best wishes to George Schlucterer and Janis Quigley who were engaged this past summer.

Thanks to the Women's Student Council for providing a pleasant evening of dancing on Saturday with their Record Rock in the Student Lounge. We're sure all who attended enjoyed themselves immensley.

THETA CHI NEWS

Hello again, or to the scholarly, Guten Tag! The brothers of Theta Chi returned to S. U. tanned, relaxed and ready (if that be possible) for another college year.

Theta Chi wishes to express a hearty welcome to the new freshmen and to all our old friends. We would also like to welcome to our campus the new members of the faculty and administration, Mrs. Frances Alterman, Miss Joanne Heinly, Miss Leatrice Voorhees, Mrs. William Connor and Mr. Louis Dougherty, Jr. We sincerely hope that this will be a year of fruition and pleasures for everyone.

The first two weeks brought many pleasant and surprising incidents. The study rooms around the "old homestead" were given a new painting in bright pastels. Last Saturday the brothers were treated to the delightful charms of the freshmen girls. "La Grande Femme" graced our portals for an enchanting evening of dancing and socializing. Entertainment was provided by the Happiness Boys—Jack Anthony, Dick Kisslak, Carl Catherman, Randy Fox, Bill Woelkers and Bucky Clark. Refreshments came under the hands of Chester Hall, Park and Jon Haussler and Stanley DeCamp. We would like to thank our chaperones Dr. and Mrs. John Leach and the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lotz. It was a sincere and genuine pleasure to have you. We hope that everyone had as good a time as we had in having you.

Also noted were the macadamizing of the walks and the capaciousness of some of the classes. Now there are mass-produced classes like Penn State. "Ah, the days of the small, individualized liberal arts class."

Summer news reports. . . Brother Clayton Leach wed to Miss Lucian Smith. . . five Beta Omega Chapter members attended the Theta Chi national convention at Norwich, Vermont. This convention marked our 100th birthday. (A description of said convention may be found in another part of the paper.)

Congratulations to Brother Gary Shoeder who pinned Sue Carmint (Kappa Delta) and Brother Frank Romano who pinned Gail Muller (Alpha Delta Pi) early in the summer.

Opening the 1956 football season, the Theta Betata Band marched in a pre-pep rally on Thursday night. Playing their usual best, the band led the S. U. girls in cheers and songs in expectation of the big game on Saturday. The Event of the past weeknd can be expressed in two words: "upset victory." Yes, victory for the S. U. football team over Ursinus College. A greatly improved and rebuilt team, playing magnificent ball, smashed their way to an upset victory over the Bears. Blocking, running and play variation clicked beautifully. Congratulations, team! ! Felicitations also go to Coach "Whitey" Keil, who drilled and guided the team through four weeks of intensified practice. The team, sporting new uniforms, equipment and added muscle power, looked like a football team! Our special applause goes to Brother Jack Anthony for his outstanding play. Again, congratulations to the entire team.

(With shiny new equipment for the football team, we hope the same will be forthcoming for the basketball team. We can then really make our teams look like champions.)

In order to win ball games it takes a whole unified team. We as students are part of that team; let us all get out and back the Crusaders!

A Fat Thought for the week: "Get back in stride."

ALPHA DELTA PI

Welcome back upperclassmen. It's a pleasure to see you all again. We're especially glad to see such a spirited and friendly freshman class. Our first impression of the 'frosh' is that they are nothing short of terrific. We're all glad to have you here as the class of 1960.

Alpha Delta Pi held vespers Sunday evening. Thank you to Sister Pat Walker, liturgist and to Sister Carol Daily, speaker, for a fine job.

A bouquet of violets to our Sister Thiry Reamer, who will have the leading role of Catherine Sloper in Mr. Axel Kleinsorg's next production, "The Heiress". Also appearing will be Sister Noretta Sheesley as Mrs. Montgomery.

Congratulations to our eight sisters who hold those "precious spots" on Dean's List. Among the top forty-three are Sisters Elsie Gruber, Anna Jane Moyer, Maria Romngren, Thiry Reamer, Carole Sadosuk, Linda Kilbourne, Thelma Sheesley and Janet Snyder.

We wish, most of all, to congratulate our team on their big victory on Saturday. Theta Chi's torch parade, the big rally on Friday night, and the cheering of the freshmen and Kappa Delta at the game were outstanding examples of how important it is to support our great football team. Let's all get behind them and push on to more victories. Let's 'swamp Swarthmore' on Saturday!

KAPPA DELTA NEWS

Hi gang! Welcome back to the ranch, pardners. The Kappa Delta sisters want to especially welcome the new freshman class. Have you heard the latest? Rumor has it that this is going to be one of S. U.'s best years. Of course it's true! I wonder if the frosh have anything to do with it?

Creepers! Where's all that news I was going to write? Oh, I know what you'll be happy to hear. Wedding bells rang for four of our sisters during the summer. Sister Pat Dawn married Jim Bortle, a brother in Lambda Chi Alpha; Sister Debbie Krapf married Bruce Bell of Lambda Chi Alpha; Sister Genevieve Thomas married Mat Waters also of Lambda Chi Alpha; and Sister Kay Kline married Frank Koch from Selinsgrove. Your KD sisters all wish you gals the best of luck toward happy marriages.

Best wishes go to a few more of our sisters who also took important steps this summer. Sister Joyce Hancock was engaged to Joe Stauffer; Sister Jan Brown was engaged to Nick Kloap, a brother in Phi Mu Delta; and Sister Sue Carmint was pinned to Gary Shroeder of Theta Chi. By the news you have just read you can see our KD sisters like the men from all three fraternities.

Hooray for the team! Special congratulations to the football team for the fine victory. Great work guys! We're all behind you for six more wins.

We are proud to announce that Kappa Delta has four more girls who will soon become activated. On Friday night Carol Zacharias, Sandy Locke, Muriel Behrens and Peggy Burns received their second degree pledge pin, making them one step closer to activation. By next week I hope to tell you that these girls are Kappa Delta sisters.

On Parents' Day Sister Helen Frerichs, Sister Judi Anderson, Sister Susie Tharp, and Sister Muriel Behrens will take part in the play entitled "The Heiress", which will be directed by Mr. Axel Kleinsorg. From past experience I can predict another hit.

On Sunday, several of the sisters went to Bucknell where they were met by KD sisters of the Phi Tau Chapter. They spent an enjoyable day on a picnic with Kappa Deltas from both Bucknell and Penn State.

Congratulations are in order for the KD's who made the dean's list last semester. They are Mary Lou Ernst and Kay Kline.

Next Saturday Panhell is sponsoring a picnic for both sorority and non-sorority women. See you there!

That's the end of the line for now. Tune in. . . dial in. . . no, read in (sounds silly, but I guess it's right) next Tuesday for more of the latest gossip, rumors, and oh, I almost forgot—news.

SIGMA OMEGA IOTA NEWS

Sigma Omega welcomes all the incoming freshmen and hopes that they have a profitable four years at S.U. Also a cheery "hello" to all returning upperclassmen.

Congratulations to Coach "Whitey" Keil and his fine team for the victory over Ursinus! From all indications this should be a good season for S.U.

Sigma Omega extends congratulations to alumni sister Barbara Hartranft who became Mrs. Russell Myers on September 1.

Belated congratulations to sister Carolann Zust who was pinned to Bill Aspray of Phi Mu Delta at the end of last semester.

Our sisters who graduated last year are all happily situated in their new teaching jobs. Ruth Brobst is teaching in Basking, N. J.; Janet Gerner in Pennsville, N. J.; Liz Ford in Middletown, Md.; Diane Schilke in Fairfield Conn.; Maggie Sultzbaugh in Wilmington, Del.; Anna Dorward in Rutherford, N. J.; and Helen Nestler in Tom's River N. J. Sister Mary Jane Solomon is studying voice and doing secretarial work in New York City.

Sigma Omega will greatly miss the help and services of Miss Margaret Kommel, former faculty member who served as president of our Alumni-Patroness group and who is now a member of the faculty at Wittenburg College in Wittenburg Ohio.

This summer five sisters of Sigma Omega attended the national convention of SAI which was held in the Shoreham Hotel in Washington, D. C. August 16 through 20. Linda Youhon served as official delegate and Carolann Zust, Mary Moore, Janet Gordon, Mary Davis attended. The convention proved to be a woderful experience and the girls participated in many workshops, discussion groups, etc. Eta provinces president Mrs. Ruth Gould, was elected 2nd national vice president and the new president for Eta province is Mrs. Grace Cameron. Sigma Omega will welcome Mrs. Comeron for a visit to our chapter in the near future.

By GEORGE POSPISIL

I trust everyone saw the wonderful show on Saturday afternoon. I mean the show put on by our football team. To the new students it may have been just another victory, but to upperclassmen it was beautiful. The seniors have gone through three years of losing football, and the path out of the woods has suddenly been shown to them.

The switch of positions that Purnell and Lewis made was a touch of genius on "Whitey" Keil's part. Purnell is a smooth-working quarterback who can pass and run the pitch or keep play with uncanny accuracy. Lewis is a crunching runner and a devastating blocker as he proved on Saturday. He can also double as a signal caller.

The freshmen are well represented on the squad with 14 men, 3 of them starters.

Here is a quote by Ray Gurzinski, the Ursinus coach, before the season started. "Twenty - seven seasoned veterans reported to inaugurate what could well be the finest football season in 25 years." The Crusaders may have changed his mind. . . .

Swarthmore College, the next foe, runs from a single wing. They downed S. U. last year 33-12. They lost quite a few men through graduation and the story should be different this year. The Crusaders may for the first time in three years rule as favorites. . . .

Here are scores of our future opponents: Hamilton 26, Swarthmore 0; Hofstra 40, Wilkes 0; Wagner lost to PMC last week and fell to Dickinson on their last game 3-0. . . .

The Intramural program should get underway next week with the start of Touch Football. Last year Lambda Chi Alpha went undefeated to capture the championship. On this basis they may rule slight favorites, however Phi Mu Delta is reported to have a powerful team, and Theta Chi is always strong. The Freshmen dorms had better start practising if they want to compete successfully. . .

Competition for the Amos Alonzo Stagg Trophy will begin anew. The point system will be posted on the bulletin board at the gymnasium. At present Lambda Chi Alpha has possession of the trophy.

Congratulations to you, Dick and Jack, for being picked as Saturday's Best. . . .

MAROON "T" TRIPS FAVORED BEARS TO PUT SU BACK ON FOOTBALL MAP

Scoring four times in the first half, the Crusaders of Susquehanna crushed a favored Ursinus College eleven by the score of 26-13.

Head Coach "Whitey" Keil unveiled his 1956 gridiron combination and served notice that Susquehanna is back on the football map.

Clad in bright, new, white uniforms, and playing before an opening game crowd, the Crusaders exhibited a powerful split-T offense in rolling up 40 yards. Dick Purnell, a junior from Ashland, Pa., provided the spark that fired Susquehanna to their first victory over Ursinus since 1952. Purnell rolled up 186 yards in 14 carries, completed 6 of 9 passes for 98 yards, and scored three touchdowns and two extra points for a pretty fair day's work.

After an exchange of punts, the Crusaders started a 67-yard drive capped by Purnell's 10 yard scoring jaunt. Purnell converted and S. U. led 7-0.

Early in the second period the Keilmen once again drove 60 yards into Ursinus territory where "Bullet Bob" Lewis scored from 6 yards out. Purnell again kicked the extra point.

To the amazement and delight of the partisan crowd, the Crusaders' smooth working offense clicked again as passes to Veryl Milroy and Jack Anthony set up a third touchdown. Dick Purnell baffled the Bears all afternoon with his perfect execution of the option play. This time he used it for 8 yards and his second TD. The try for the extra point was blocked and the scoreboard flashed S. U. 20, Ursinus 0.

Ursinus offense was almost stalled at midfield when a pass play from Purtzman to Donnely covered 40 yards and set up Arger's 6 yard slice off-tackle for the visitors first score. A bad pass from center nullified the extra point attempt.

Seconds later Susquehanna had possession on their own 46 yard line. Co-capt. Purnell, running from a spread formation, looked as if he were going to pass. Suddenly Milroy threw a perfect block and Purnell saw daylight. He started up the right side, reversed his field and galloped 54 yards to paydirt. The half ended with SU leading 26-6.

The Crusaders showed the wear and tear of their inspired first half play as they bogged down in the third quarter. Sparkling runs by Freshmen Ray Richie and John Yanuklis pleased the fans.

Ursinus recovered a Crusader fumble mid-way through the fourth stanza and drove to a TD in eight plays. Purtzman sneaked over from the one and Famous kicked the point.

The starting backfield combination of Purnell, Yanuklis, Richie and Lewis worked beautifully together. Jack Anthony, Gordie Thompson, co-captain Walt Benham, and Ralph Ferraro sparkled on defense throughout the afternoon.

Susquehanna plays Swarthmore College this Saturday in Philadelphia and returns home to host the National Aggies next Saturday.

early in the morning at 8:00 to 9:30 a. m. and from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m. throughout the three days. The first show and also the marching routines that will be used throughout the season were rehearsed. The Marching Band, which features two fine twirlers, Miss Nancy Vastine and Miss Isabel Carroll, is under the capable leadership of Miss Nancy Kendall as head majorette.

The purpose of the clinics was to achieve concentrated rehearsals and at the same time avoid the usual class conflicts. Both Dr. Leach and Mr. Robinson were very pleased with the ultimate outcome of this experiment. The effectiveness of these clinics has proved to have far reaching advantages.

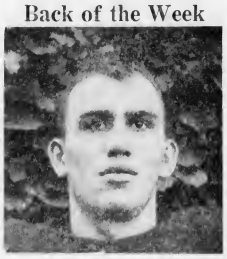
Saturday's Best Back of the Week



DICK PURNELL

For his outstanding Saturday performance, Dick Purnell has been acclaimed "Back of the Week." His spirited play sparked S. U. to its first win of the season. Dick proved unable to be stopped as he ran and passed the Crusaders to a decisive 26-13 victory. The highlight of the game came with two minutes remaining in the first half. Seemingly trapped on a pass play, Dick turned the table son the Bears with a dazzling 70 yard run through the entire team for S. U.'s final TD of the day.

Dick is a junior math major from Ashland, Pa. He is a brother of Lambda Chi Alpha. He plays on the varsity basketball team as well as participating in intramural competition for the Bunders.

Lineman of the Week

JACK ANTHONY

Lineman of the week honors go to end, Jack Anthony. Jack's spirited play on defense held the Ursinus Bears in check much of the game. He spent much of the afternoon in the opponents backfield doing a good job of breaking up plays.

Jack is a junior business education student hailing from East Stroudsburg, Pa. He belongs to Theta Chi Fraternity and this year was elected vice-president. Besides playing varsity basketball, his other sports activities include intramurals for the Big Red.

there was a softball game for the freshmen. The women met with Miss Meister in the Chapel, enjoyed informal entertainment provided by W.A.A. in the gym directed by Joyce Hancock, and had a twenty-minute meeting with Miss Joanne Heinly in the Chapel. That night, there were open houses at the fraternities for the freshmen women and open houses with the sororities in the Social Rooms for freshmen men.

Sunday, the Trinity Lutheran Church was crowded with Susquehanna students for both Sunday School and Church. he events for the rest of the day were: visiting by Pastor Turnbach among freshmen women and men in their dormitories; a Student-Faculty Reception at three o'clock in the Seibert Social Rooms; a picnic supper at five followed by vespers in charge of S.C.A. behind faculty row; and a pajama party in the Social Rooms at nine o'clock for freshmen and transfer women.

On Monday classes got underway after the Convocation at nine o'clock in the Chapel at which time Dr. Russ gave an enjoyable and stimulating talk.

Grateful appreciation is extended to everyone who helped with the Orientation Program, and as a result, made this year's Orientation one of the finest that S. U. has ever had.

Lindley to Open Star Course Friday

At the first Star Course event of the year, Susquehanna is presenting Mr. Ernest K. Lindley, noted Washington editor of "Newsweek" and television commentator. His subject will be "Our Stake in Asia". The program will take place in Seibert Chapel on Friday, October 12.

Mr. Lindley was born in Richmond, Indiana and educated at Indiana University, University of Idaho, and Oxford University, where he was a Rhodes scholar and specialized in modern history.

ERNEST K. LINDLEY

While on the staff of the New York World, Mr. Lindley traveled as the political reporter with Al Smith and Herbert Hoover. In 1936 he traveled with Alf Landon for the New York Herald Tribune.

In 1937, Mr. Lindley became chief of the Washington Bureau of News-

NEWS IN BRIEF

Phi Kappa Phi . . .

Phi Kappa Phi, the classical club, will hold its first meeting for this year on Thursday evening, October 11, in Bogar 103, at 7:00 p.m. A record of Medea, a Greek tragedy by Euripides will be played. Anyone interested in the culture and life of the ancient peoples is invited to attend.

The purpose of Phi Kappa Phi is that of learning and gaining a much better and deeper understanding of the life of the ancient peoples which can only be attained by a study of their languages and histories.

The officers of the club are; president, Don Trimmer; vice president, Gerald Fletcher; secretary, Betsy Walker; treasurer, Lester Rudisill. All who are interested in joining are invited and urged to attend this meeting.

W. S. C. . . .

One of the first projects for the Women's Student Council this year was sponsoring an informal dance in the lounge after the Ursinus game.

The Women's Student Council places magazines and newspapers in both women's dorms. These are for the enjoyment of the students. The schedules for using washing machines have been posted in the laundry. Please be sure to sign for the hour you desire to use the machines. The only way you can be sure to get a washer when you want it is to sign for a definite time. Also, when someone else has signed for a certain hour and is not there, please reserve the washer for the person assigned to it. If everyone co-operates, there will be enough time for everyone to finish his wash. One week the mornings are reserved for girls and the afternoons for boys. The next week the schedule is reversed.

Both the Men's Student Council and the Women's Student Council are are planning to sponsor a coffee hour in the Social Rooms of Seibert Hall following the game on Parents' Day for students and their parents. See you and your parents at the coffee hour on Parents' Day, Saturday, October 13.

S. U. TO HOLD PARENTS' DAY

Coming up October 13th is an event much looked forward to by all—Parent's Day. Invitations have been sent to the parents of all the students, and festivities have been planned for their enjoyment starting early in the morning and lasting through the afternoon and evening.

Open House in the dormitories begins at 10:00 a. m. and will last until 12:00 when luncheon will be served or students and their guests in Horton Dining Hall.

In the afternoon starting at 1:30 p. m., Susquehanna meets the National Aggies on the football field in what, no doubt, will prove to be an exciting game. Next at 4:00 p. m., a Coffee Hour will be held in the Seibert Social Rooms.

On the agenda for the evening, is 'The Heiress," starring talented actors and actresses from S. U.'s student body. Curtain time will be at 8:00 p. m. in the Little Theater.

Frantz Art Exhibit Begins October 14

The first of the current season's art exhibits will open on Sunday afternoon, October 16, with a reception for the artist, Mrs. Lola Frantz, from 3 to 5 p. m. in Bogar Hall. The faculty, student body, and friends of the University are cordially urged to come and meet Mrs. Frantz.

Painter, world traveler, and aviation enthusiast, Lola Frantz was born in Jennings, Louisiana, the granddaughter of a well-known landscape painter. Painting and sketching all her life, she studied at Louisiana State University, where she obtained her B.A. and M.A. degrees. Further study was done at the Peabody and Watkins Institute at Nashville. She has taught in several schools, and has been a fashion designer with her own custom-made gown shop in Miami.

Mrs. Frantz and her husband Raymond, a manufacturer of Waynesboro, Pennsylvania, are inveterate travelers, having visited 30 countries in Europe, Africa, South America, and the Caribbean, whence her many paintings and sketches are derived. In addition to painting, she is an inveterate air traveler, having been the first licensed woman pilot in Louisiana and having for four years her own plane. One of her children, Carolyn, was a former student at Susquehanna, and another, Alba, a painter in her own right.

The exhibition includes oils and watercolors, done with the dash and brilliance which characterizes the artist's own life and the countries which she has visited. The show will remain open until the 28th.

FROSH PRESENT STUNT NIGHT

On the 24th of October the class of 1960 will present the annual "frosh" stunt night under the directions of its committee. The committee chosen by the co-chairmen, Pat Bodel and Ken James, have already set aside special days for auditions.

The success of frosh stunt night will depend on the support of every freshman; it is not the committee's responsibility. So let's go, freshmen. Support your class, the great class of 1960!

Women's Auxiliary Opens New Year

The Women's Auxiliary of Susquehanna University had their first meeting this past Saturday, October 6, in The Little Theatre.

Mrs. Charles Nicely of Watsontown, the new president, presided over the program. Mrs. Nicely paid tribute to Miss Olive Barry, a former member of the auxiliary and also, a member of our faculty who passed away this summer.

An address was given by Dr. William Russ, having to do with the Alaskan highways as he and his wife discovered them on their trip this summer. He stated that during their six weeks of traveling to and from Alaska, they covered 11,767 miles.

Music entertainment was then provided by Nancy Kencail who played the violin and Mary Klinger who accompanied her on the piano. The selection played was entitled "Adoration" by Borowski.

Mrs. Lee A. McDaniel, wife of the Reverend Mr. McDaniel, of Sunbury, was in charge of devotions. Mrs. McDaniel read a poem by Margaret Snyder entitled "A Dream" centering around the chosen theme which was Love, as found in Deuteronomy.

Mrs. Rachael Thomson, financial secretary, reported a membership of 1744 to the group. This means that we are well on our way to have that new conservatory.

Following the program there was a tea in Seibert Social Rooms. The next meeting of the Women's Auxiliary, November 3, includes a program of music entertainment by members of the auxiliary.

BIEMIC TO HOLD MEETING ON 15TH

The Biemic Society is an organization founded primarily for the purpose of supplementing classroom learning and creating a better understanding of scientific problems among the students of the various science departments. Membership in the organization is open to all students interested in the biological, chemical, and physical science. The society meets the first and third Monday of each month, at which time programs are presented by senior, faculty members, and guest speakers.

The officers of the Biemic Society cordially invite you to become a member of the organization. The society particularly welcomes freshmen members who are studying any of the sciences. If you are interested, why not attend the Biemic meeting on Monday evening, October 15?

Membership cards will be available after the meeting, or if you are anxious to join, cards are available from Dave Wise, Dick Smith, Ruth Zimmerman, and Nick Kloap. Membership fee — $1.00.

Business Society . . .

The Business Society began its membership drive Monday, October 8. Any student interested in joining this club, see Betty Ann Ormond, chairman of the membership drive.

S. U. PLAYERS PRESENT THE HEIRESS; REAMER AND BOYER PORTRAY LEADS

Have you heard strange noises emanating from the Little Theater? If you have, don't be alarmed; it is only the Susquehanna Players rehearsing for their coming production, "The Heiress." This excellent play was written by Ruth and Augustus Goetz.

The members of the cast are as follows: Thiry Reamer, Don Boyer, John Hendricks, Sue Tharp, Judi Anderson, Muriel Behrens, Helen Frerichs ,Noretta Sheesley, and Bill Hand.

Thiry Reamer, a senior, has the role of Catherine Sloper, the heiress. Last year she appeared as the maid in "The Late George Apley" and previously as a witch in Macbeth. She has also been on property committees in various other plays.

Don Boyer, a sophomore, is appearing for the fourth time on the Susquehanna stage. He was introduced to the student body last September as George Apley in "The Late George Apley." Last winter he gave a very excellent performance as one of the members of the cast of "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial" which was given by the Sunbury Community Theater. Don also proved his ability in Shakespeare last spring as King Claudis in Hamlet. We are sure that Don will live up to his fine reputation as Dr. Austin Sloper in "The Heiress."

THIRY REAMER

DON BOYER

John Hendricks is appearing as Morris Townsend, suitor of the heiress. He has never appeared on the Susquehanna stage before, but he played the lead role of Lt. Greenwald in "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial." If his previous work was any indication of his ability, he will give a very fine performance.

Suzann Tharp, a junior is Mrs. Lavinia Penniman, Catherine Sloper's aunt. Suzy has also appeared in several minor roles, one in Romeo and Juliet and another in a one act play, "So Wonderful in White." She gave

Annual Picnic Held By Panhellenic Group

Last Saturday, October 6, the annual Panhellenic picnic was held for all of the non-sorority and sorority women. It was planned and carried out by the committees composed of members of both social sororities.

Although rain prevented holding the picnic outside, it failed to dampen anyone's spirit. The Women Day Students' room was the site of the gala activities. After everyone had eaten their fill of barbeques, potato chips, apples, etc., there was entertainment in the form of competitive games, singing, and some extemporaneous participation by the freshmen women. All those who attended had a wonderful time.

VESPERS

On Sunday evening Theta Chi fraternity was in charge of vespers. The liturgist was Gary Crum and the speaker was Stanley DeCamp. The hymns, scripture and message were centered around the theme of the erring church. The hymns were: "Lord, Speak to Me That I May Speak", and "The Church's One Foundation". The scripture was taken from Mark II: 15-18. Ray Stiller was the organist.

S. C. A. CABINET MEETING TONIGHT

The Bop Hop sponsored by the Student Christian Association was attended by many students. The record dance which was held in the Student Lounge was chaperoned by Miss Hilda Kolpin, Miss Betsy McDowell, and Dr. George Robison. Refreshments of coke and pretzles were served to those attending the dance. The S.C.A. would like to thank the chaperones and the students who helped make the dance a success.

The first cabinet meeting of the S.C.A. will be held in the S.C.A. room in Hassinger Hall on Tuesday evening (tonight), October 9. The organization's semester plans will be made at this meeting.

FALL PROGRAM BEGINS FOR FTA

The F.T.A. held their first meeting of the year on Thursday, October 4. A large group attended, among them many new, interested members. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

An interesting history of F.T.A. on Susquehanna's campus was given. The activities it has been engaged in during the past four years and those it is planning for the future were included. A field trip around the local area and a foreign student panel will be among the first programs for the coming year. During American Education Week, a poster contest will be sponsored in the junior and senior grades in the Selinsgrove High School. An open house to which everyone is invited will be held on November 16, 17, and 18 at the new addition to the Selinsgrove High School. The music students and business students will be asked to put on a special program later on in the year.

A membership drive will start next week. Any student interested in joining this club, contact any of the following officers: Pres., Lynn Hassinger; Vice- Pres., Marilyn Wrigley; Tres., Jerry Schlichter; Librarian, Marion Drumheller; Historian, Barbara Boob.

BOOK NOOK

Attention all students! The library of Susquehanna University extends an official welcome for this the school year of 1956-57. Remember the library is for your use, not only for assignment purposes, but also for your own reading pleasure. The library contains many magazines and fiction books for your enjoyment.

May I suggest that the freshmen and the transfer students, in particular, read the section in the handbook on the proper use of the library. In doing so you will be helping yourself as well as the librarian. Get acquainted with the rules and regulations. Use them! You won't be sorry.

Some new magazines have been added to the library this year. They are as follows:

GREATNFSS . . . A LIVING WORD

Have you ever stopped to think of the future? Have you ever wanted to leave the flat, obvious plain of the present and plunge daringly into the dark wood of "shall be"?

Out of Susquehanna have come men who have undertaken the leadership in the church, in industry and in countless professions: men who we, and all the world, proclaim "great". We can therefore assume that in the future many of those whom we see every day and who are our friends and classmates may very well be potentially "great" men.

Your roommate in twenty years may be pointed out to you. People will whisper, "That's Mr. B. He's one of the country's most prominent engineers", or "that's Mr. V. He's without a doubt the most noted author and lecturer of this age." You smile and reply, "Yes, I know him. We attended Susquehanna together."

Greatness does not become apparent early in life. It remains somewhat hidden so that today we can not perceive greatness in any of our acquaintances. Greatness, as does wisdom comes with age. Most men whom we consider worthy of the adjective did not achieve the goal until after fifty years of age. Darwin was fifty when he published Origin of the Species, William James did not publish a single article before forty, Michelangelo and Titan painted their greatest masterpieces after eighty and William Harvey was seventy-two when he discerned the circulation of blood.

Popularity is not greatness. Although Elvis Presley, Perry Como and Marilyn Monroe are popular, they have not reached the point of greatness; neither are they assured a place among the greats. Greatness is not a superficial something that lies dangerously on the brink of being nothing at all. It is an inner resource that everyone possesses and need only develop. Greatness is not exclusive.

If a man be rich, powerful or influential he is not necessarily "great". If a man be an unpopular, unknown pauper he is not necessarily lacking the qualities of "greatness."

Greatness is a combination of knowledge and ability. "A pen in the hand of a wise man is useless if the wise man does not write." It is knowledge plus know-how; the rare attribute of mobilizing all the intellect towards the successful accomplishment of a specific task; the inner power which may be drawn upon for any deed. Greatness is the supreme prize in the race of humanity; the secret to the satisfaction of fulfillment; the ultimate of success.

an excellent performance as Mrs. Apley", in the first play given last year.

Judi Anderson, a sophomore, is Mrs. Almond, sister of Dr. Sloper. Although Judi has only been here two years, she already has an impressive dramatic record in that she portrayed Queen Gertrude in Hamlet so beautifully.

Muriel Behrens, a sophomore, is Maria, the maid in the Sloper household. Muriel also has participated in campus dramatics doing a fine job as Mrs. Agnes Carroll in "Time Out For Ginger" which was given last winter.

Noretta Sheesley, a sophomore, has the role of Mrs. Montgomery, the sister of Morris Townsend. She has already proven her dramatic ability with her very nice performance of the lead part of Peggy in the one act play "So Wonderful In White."

Helen Frerichs, a junior, is Marian Almond, a cousin of the heiress. Helen ,also, is no newcomer to the Susquehanna stage. She appeared in the one-act play "Poor Aubrey."

Bill Hand a junior, is Arthur Townsend, the cousin of Morris Townsend. In the past two years he has had a slight tendency toward the Shakespearean productions, appearing as Tybalt in Romeo and Juliet and as Horatio in Hamlet. Bill did both of these roles very well.

Of course, the cast just mentioned is very important to the success of the play, but there are other people—behind the scenes—who also give a lot of their time and energy to the cause. Jill Fuller is the prompter, Gilbert Bannerman is stage manager, SEE SU PLAYERS PRESENT—P. 3

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Better late than never! The brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha welcome to Susquehanna's "halls of learning" the freshman class, and we trust they have already found the key to curricular success.

A welcome is also extended to seniors, juniors, sophomores, and faculty.

In spite of a narrow loss to Swarthmore on Saturday afternoon, the Susquehanna football squad, coached by Whitey Keil, deserves credit for doing their best. We predict a successful season for the Crusaders. Brothers Dick Purnell, Chalmers Bartlow, Veryl Milroy, Lenny Quick, Jim Keiser, Lanny Thomas and Bob Lewis adorn Lambda Chi Alpha and the team with particular pride.

The brothers will soon attempt to capture the championship laurels when they invade the 1956 intramural football season. Brother Jerry Herbster is fitting the team into assemblage. Good Luck!

Particular congratulations go to brother Matt Waters, who wed Genevieve Thomas, and Jim Bortle, for his marriage to Pat Dawn.

Brothers Fred Chrvala, John Hendricks, Vern Hoover, Roger Holtzapple, Chuck Bailes and Dick Neff "chalked up" honors on the Dean's List. (How do they do it?)

Thanks to S.C.A. for their Saturday night dance, the dance in mention being the "Bop Hop".

Let's all be out there next Saturday to watch S. U. defeat the National Aggies.

———S———

PHI MU DELTA NEWS

Taking precedent over all news this past week was the heartbreaker the S. U. Cusaders dropped to Swarthmore on their new field. Even though emerging from the contest on the short end of a 13-12 score, Coach 'Whitey' Keil's grid team played their usual great brand of ball and we are proud to congratulate them.

Plaudits are especially due for brothers Gordie Thompson and Walt Benham for their tremendous performances in the game. But this loss is not discouraging, and Phi Mu Delta wishes the Keilmen the best of luck in the remainder of the schedule.

Mu Alpha extends thanks to S.C.A. for providing a pleasing evening for the students with their Bop Hop, and relieving the usually dull and quiet weekend.

The brothers returned early this year, and as a result Phi Mu Delta boasts a "new" dining-room. The room has been painted and new drapes bought to enhance the decor. This bit of renovation seems to have had a great effect on the appetites in the house, considering the amount of food consumed.

Congratulations to the brothers who placed on the Dean's Honor List this past semester. We are indeed proud to have ten men who attained this envious position.

Congratulations this week to John Biber who pinned Miss Heather Bria of Harrisburg. Best wishes are extended to Nick Kloap and Jan Brown (Kappa Delta '56), and "Lynx" Wolfe and Nancy Marek (Alpha Delta Pi) who were recently engaged.

Summer matrimonials: Charles Duncan '56 took Lynn Kilbourne as his bride, and Hank Cook '56 wed Maddy Lease, a Susquehanna alumna.

THETA CHI NEWS

Everything is back to normal now; late studying, football games, complaining, intramurals, and parties. S. U. played their second football game on Saturday, and came within a hair's breath of another great victory. "Good luck, team, on the next one!"

The brothers of Theta Chi are pleased to welcome as a new pledge, Mr. Mark Lytle.

The intramural football schedule gets under way this week. Advance reports indicate it will be a tough race all the way. Best of success to the men of the "big red".

The brothers would like to thank the S.C.A. or their "Bop Hop" on Saturday. The brothers enjoyed it mightily.

Congratulations go to brother John Albright for making the Dean's List last semester.

With the World Series on, the eyes and ears are turned toward the radio or T. V. Most of the brothers are exhuberent Dodger fans (unfortunately). Only brothers Frank Romano and Stanley DeCamp stand alone with the Yankees against the furious onslaught of Dodger rooters led by Gary Schroeder.

Not too much news this week so we'll close with the "Fat thought for the week": "everyone get out and back the Crusaders."

and Walt Benham, Larry Hoover, and Ed Simonds compose the stage crew. This crew is assisted by the students of the Stagecraft and Lighting class. Barbara Boob is in charge of properties.

Since most of you would like to know a little about the play before you go to see it, a short summary is in order. The setting is in the Victorian household of Dr. Austin Sloper and his daughter Catherine, who is a very shy, socially inadept girl. When Morris Townsend is introduced into the Sloper household, he immediately begins to court Catherine who, though shy, has a great deal of money. Her father is suspicious of Morris's motives and tries to discourage him in various ways. Catherne and Morris plan an elopement, but the afternoon before, Catherine voluntarily disinherits herself. If you would like to see how the story ends, you have only to attend one of the performances.

"The Heiress" will be presented on Parents' Day, Oct. 13 and also on Oct. 18, 19, 20 in the Little Theater. Tickets may be obtained in the lounge this week. Student admission is free on the presentation of your activity card. Admission for the public is $1.00 per person. Get your tickets early, especially if you would like to go on one particular night.

Lynn Hassinger

Our personality for this week can usually be seen typing diligently on the typewriter in Miss Meister's office. This diligence is typical of Lynn Hassinger who hails from Sunbury, Pennsylvania and is a graduate of Sunbury High School.

While in high school she was active in the band, orchestra, chorus, and tested her typing ability for the school newspaper and yearbook staffs. She was also a member of the National Honor Society.

Here at Susquehanna, Lynn is a business education student and has been active in the Student Christian Association, Business Society, and the Lanthorn staff. She is president of the Future Teachers of America and was also co-chairman of the Orientation Committee. Lynn is also president of Women's Student Council and is the receiver of this year's Lutheran Brotherhood Scholarship.

At present Lynn is student teaching at Selinsgrove High School, but she is not sure what path her future may take. Whatever career Lynn may pursue we are sure that she will apply herself to the utmost and attain her measure of success.

ALPHA DELTA PI

First of all we must congratulate our football team for their fine showings against Ursinus and Swarthmore. These games have proved to anyone who might have doubted the ability of this year's squad that S. U. is going to have a big season. The whole squad is pulling together under the helm of our able coach, Whitey Keil. Good luck against the "Aggies", team!

The sisters of Alpha Delta Pi are proud to bestow a bouquet of violets to our sister, Thiry Reamer. Thiry has received an invitation to membership in Pi Gamma Mu, the national honorary social science fraternity. She is one of the few S. U. students to be asked to join this select group.

Best wishes to our president, Sister Nancy Marek on her recent engagement to Lynx Wolfe, brother of Phi Mu Delta fraternity. We also wish to extend our good wishes to Sister Jane Holland on her recent engagement. Belated best wishes to Sister Gail Muller, who was pinned to Frank Romano, one of the "big red" of Theta Chi.

Parents' Day is an old tradition here at S. U. and it is up to us to give our parents a favorable opinion of our Alma Mater. Let's all do our best to see that they enjoy their visit this week-end.

KAPPA DELTA NEWS

Here we are again starting only the third week of school and everybody is already snowed under with school work. I'm beginning to think it's one big circle. But who's complaining? It's fun.

Remember that big, fat, green and white worm in the Homecoming parade last year, upperclassmen? Well, this year the KD sisters have decided to make it the traditional Homecoming Parade float. Sister Lois Andren and Sister Janis Adams were put in charge of its construction.

Saturday was an exciting day on S. U.'s campus. While most of the KD sisters took a jaunt to Swarthmore to support the team, others went to the Panhellenic Picnic (held in the Day Students' room because of weather), and enjoyed good food as well as the funny antics of Sister Janice Hiddeman.

Congrats go to the team for playing a good game at Swarthmore. Win or no win, they did fine work. Don't forget Parents' Day this coming Saturday, everybody. We're playing the National Aggies, so let's all get out there and cheer our team to another victory!

Violets go to the SCA for having a very successful dance last weekend. We're for many more of those informal dances.

News is becoming scarce at the present time, so until next Tuesday, cheerio!

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA NEWS

Sigma Omega wishes to thank Pan-Hell for the very nice "indoor" picnic on Saturday evening. We all enjoyed ourselves even though the rain marred outdoor plans.

Friday evening we entertained the freshmen girls in the Conservatory at a hot-dog roast in back of faculty row. In spite of the fact it was so dark that we could hardly see one another, we got acquainted. The active chapter sang sorority songs which were directed in the firelight by Linda Youhon.

Sigma Omega will serve as hostesses for the first Susquehanna Players production which will be "The Heiress," under the direction of Mr. Axel Kleinsorg on Parents' Day week-end. We are sure that it will prove to be another fine dramatic production.

This coming Sunday we will have our first musicale-tea in the parlors of Seibert Hall at 2 p. m. Pledges Mary Louise Neal, Janis Adams, and Denece Newhardt will perform musical selections as fulfillment of their pledge requirements.

It was good to welcome Sister Anna Dorward for a visit to the campus over the week-end. Anna is teaching in East Rutherford, N. J., and is very well pleased with her job.

Swarthmore Edges Mighty Crusaders

Untimely penalties and a controversial pass was the story of the ball game, as the Quakers of Swarthmore edged the Crusaders by a score of 13-12. A total of sixty yards in penalties were handed to the Crusaders, many coming at crucial moments to bog down drives.

The first quarter saw Dick Purnell send fullback Bob Lewis crashing thru the Quaker line consistently. Our charging line held the Quakers ground attack in check, and alert pass defense stopped their passing attack sold.

The Crusaders opened the second quarter with a sixty yard drive which was halted by a fumble. Fighting back they had the Quakers stalled on their own twenty-five due to the fine line play of Gordie Thompson and Jim Keiser. A bad center looked like pay dirt was in sight but Ronald Sutton picked up the bad center and carried it to the Crusader forty yard line. A fifteen yard penalty for unnecessary roughness put the ball on the twenty-five, and four plays later Swarthmore took the lead, 7-0.

The kickoff was returned to the Susquehanna forty yard line by Dick Purnell. Dick hit Veryl Milroy on the twenty-five yard line with a pass and he carried to the twelve before being brought down. Four plays later Purnell passed again, this time to Jack Anthony who collected the pass neatly, for the TD. The extra point attempt was foiled.

The Crusaders started the scoring in the second half when Ray Richie returned a punt to the Quaker twenty. Dick Purnell was trapped behind the line in an attempt to pass, but almost miraculously he broke loose and skirted to the five. Lewis drove to the two and on the next play he blasted over for the second TD. The extra point attempt failed.

The fourth quarter again saw penalties cancel the tremendous line play of Walt Benham, Ralph Ferraro and Chalmers Bartlow who were penetrating the Quaker backfield at will.

A long pass from Sutton to Price who made a finger tip catch as he was falling out of bounds on the thirty brought the crowd to its feet. On the next play Sutton again connected with Price, who was driven out of bounds by John Yanuklis. The next play produced the final and winning TD.

This loss was one of the most heartbreaking this writer has yet witnessed and far more credit is due the team and coaches than a loss might seem to indicate. You can feel certain the entire student body and faculty will be lending their support next Saturday against the National Aggies when the Crusaders will be seeking their second win.

BOB LEWIS

Bob "The Truck" Lewis did more than live up to his nick name, piling up almost 100 yards rushing by himself. He was not only responsible for scoring our second TD, but in the all too often over-looked defense department, he was a human dynamo of spirit and efficiency. Bob, who played at quarterback last season, has adjusted perfectly to his new position at fullback. Only a junior, you can be sure we'll be hearing lots more about him for the rest of the season, and next year as well.

Bob who hails from Selinsgrove, Pa., is also varsity catcher on the baseball team, and he can switch to left field if the occasion requires him to. An active member of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity, Bob is a business administration student.

Lineman of the Week

WALT BENHAM

Playing before a capacity crowd in his home town of Lansdowne, Pa., junior, Walt "the Claw" Benham, electrified the crowd with his rock'm, sock'm brand of football. After noticing a tip off feint on the Quaker end run, Walt stopped the play cold for the rest of the game. Playing the entire game with leg and side trouble, Walt threw caution to the winds, and exhibited the real fighting spirit he is noted for.

Benham is a member of Phi Mu Delta Fraternity, and is in the school of business administration. Last year Walt displayed a hidden talent with his fine acting in the Susquehanna Players production of Hamlet.

How to Make a Bag of Peanuts Pay Off

• Ever thought how much the cost of a bag of peanuts saved each day can mean to your future? Did you know, for example, that for those "peanuts" you can own an endowment policy of $2,200?

Let's say you want money for retirement at age 65. Here's how those "peanuts"—20¢ a day—pay off for you . . .

After only 20 years you're all paid up—then at age 65 you get back all you've paid in—plus a gain of $2,000 in interest and dividends (per present rate of dividends). And you've been protected for the full amount of the policy during the entire time!

This kind of pay-off is why hundreds of students start their insurance program with Lutheran Brotherhood right while they're in school. Interested? Write . . .

Welcome Mom and Dad Resounds Over Campus As 1956 Parents' Day Commences

Welcome Mom and Dad! Hi, folks! Gee, am I glad to see you! No matter how you put it, this was the dominant feeling as Susquehanna's student body greeted their parents this past weekend. And thus, Parents' Day, 1956 began.

Although there was a pep rally and Star Course lecture which parents could attend if they were fortunate enough to arrive Friday night, the official Parents' Day activities did not get started until ten o'clock Saturday morning with registration in Bogar and open house in the dormitories. At noon most of the students escorted their parents to Horton Dining Hall where they were treated to a very nice luncheon consisting of turkey salad, potato chips, lima beans, rolls and butter, and pineapple ice cream and loaf cake for dessert.

Little time was wasted by parents and students in leaving Seibert and getting to the S. U. gridiron for the opening kickoff of the Susquehanna-National Aggies football game. In addition to witnessing an extremely exciting pigskin performance, the spectators enjoyed a series of precision drills brilliantly executed by the Susquehanna band. A special commendation is due Coach "Whitey" Keil for permitting all players to see some action during the afternoon.

At the conclusion of the football game which saw S. U. on top with a score of 19-0, most of the Susquehanna crowd proceeded to Seibert Social Rooms where they enjoyed themselves at a Coffee Hour during which time many parent-faculty introductions were made. Supper at six brought the afternoon festivities to a close.

At eight p. m. a large and appreciative audience enjoyed a performance of "The Heiress" in the Little Theater. Lambda Chi Alpha provided the ushers for the evening and Sigma Alpha Iota acted as hostesses for the occasion. With this performance Parents' Day came to a close for 1956. It was certainly a successful and enjoyable day.

M. S. C. Re-enforces Lounge Regulations

The first meeting of the Men's Student Council was held September 24 in the Men's Day Student Room with President George Pospisil presiding.

The Council transacted the following business pertinent to the student body.

Student Council will attempt to obtain excused cuts for away football games.

Gene Witiak, Richard Neff, and Carl Catherman were appointed to the Sophomore Tribunal.

The rules of student council in the lounge will be posted on the bulletin board and strictly enforced by the Council Representatives.

VESPERS

The vesper service on Sunday evening was in charge of Kappa Delta sorority. The liturgist was Judi Anderson and the speaker was Janice Hiddeman. She spoke on the subject of the college student and his church relationships. The scripture was John 14:1-7. The hymns were "Day is Dying in the West" and "Take My Life and Let It Be". The organist was Mary Davis.

Election-yearing

In these dangerous days of hurricanes and typhoons there are other windstorms which are just as hazardous. I refer to the windstorms that issue forth from the platforms of our wonderful candidates for public office.

We, the people of these United States, do not consider ourselves stupid or assinine, and yet when the silver-tongued orators plant themselves on the stage and expound adjectives and ambiguities, we are inclined to become a bit confused. For example:

The politician throws his heavily-burdened shoulders back and straightens his Ivy League tie, and says, "Dear friends, unless it rains, the weather will certainly be dry!"

And after we have mulled this profound thought through our muddled brains, we peasants nod our heads and loudly cry, "How true!"

And then our erstwhile William Jennings Bryan blows his bulbous nose and clears his silver throat, and says, "The ship will never sink as long as it's afloat!"

At this we roll our bloodshot eyes and applaud with all our might, and pound each other on the back, while we exclaim, "He's right!"

The politician becomes quite warm, his drone increases to a roar. He yells, "I say to you, my friends, that 2 and 2 are 4!!"

And thereupon our fears dissolve, and doubts are put to rout, and we all agree that here's a man who knows what it's all about.

PI GAMMA MU OPENS SEASON

The Susquehanna Chapter of the National Social Studies honor society, Pi Gamma Mu, held its first meeting of the current academic year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Frederick Stevens. Nine new members were received at the first meeting; John Hendricks, Wade Hoffman, Galen Schlichter, Franklin Stugart, Edward Rhodes, William Hand, Thiry Reamer, Lillian Troutman and Suzanne Tharp.

Officers of the current year are Peter Nunn, President, Frank Romano, Vice-President and Mr. Stevens, Secretary-Treasurer.

The program at this first meeting consisted of a color-slide travelog given by Dr. Thomas Armstrong of his recent visit this past summer to Russia and several of the Satellite countries.

The honor society's program for the balance of the 1956-57 year will be:

November 8—Mr. John Dean's of the Northeastern Penitentiary, lecture. "Custodial problems"

December 13—Dr. William A. Russ, Jr. Professor or History at Susquehanna, lecture. "Problems of Federalism in the United States"

January 10, 1957—Student panel

February 14—Mr. Vernon Graybill, Esq. lecture. "How to campaign for a public office"

March 14—Lecture by a State Police Officer

April 11—Student panel

May 9—Dr. Charles Karracker, Professor of History at Bucknell University and Chairman of the Pennsylvania Commission on the Migrant Worker, lecture. "The Migrant Child Laborers"

S. A. I. PLEDGES ENTERTAIN FROSH

On Sunday, the 14th of October, the freshman women music students were honored at a tea given by S. A. I., so they would get to know the patronesses, alumni and present members.

The program which featured S. A. I. pledges is as follows:

"Dancer in the Patio"
Janice Adams, pianist

"How Lovely Is the Hand of God"
"When Love is Kind"
Denece Newhard, soprano
Mary Davis, accompanist

"Chanson"
Mary Louise Neal, clarinetist
Janet Gordon, accompanist

Following the program refreshments were served by the patronesses and alumni.

Father: "Well, son, how are your marks in school?"
Son: "They're under water."
Father: "What do you mean under water?"

The photo-album section in ONE includes campus beauties from 24 of the 31 four-year Lutheran colleges in the U. S. and Canada. All of the queens had been selected over a campus event during the past school year.

ONE is the youth magazine published for young people of four Lutheran bodies—American, Evangelical, Free and United Evangelical Lutheran Church. The queens photo section is an annual fall feature in ONE.

Four Girls to Vie For Coveted Crown

Last week the students of Susquehanna University chose four attractive girls as their representatives for Homecoming weekend. The students body will elect the Queen to reign over the Homecoming festivities next week.

The senior representative is Liz Stradling. Liz is a music education major and plans to teach elementary grades. The junior class representative, Carolann Zust, is also a music education major and a member of Sigma Alpha Iota. Maureen Ball, the sophomore representative, is a medical secretarial student and a member of Kappa Delta. The freshman representative, Nancy Bricker from York, Pennsylvania, is also a medical secretarial student.

One of the four girls will be elected queen with the other three girls serving as her court. On October 26th the coronation will take place and the Homecoming Dance on October 27th will be held in honor of her majesty.

LINDLEY SPEAKS TO FULL HOUSE

Mr. Ernest K. Lindley, noted Washington editor of Newsweek and television commentator, was the guest speaker at the first Star Course of the year in Seibert Chapel on Friday, October 12. His topic was "Our Stake in Asia."

He started his speech by mentioning how pleased he was to come before a college audience, since his father had been a college professor.

The situation in Asia was the first topic that he discussed. The Bandung Conference of April, 1955 was particularly emphasized. This was the first conference ever held of Africa and Asia. All of the nations under European influence or origin were excluded. This conference supported the United Nations among its conflicts and agreements.

Mr. Lindley then discussed the downfall of western imperalism in Africa and Asia as well as the appearance of Communism in both places.

He particularly emphasized the fact that the word "capitalism" alone is sufficient to bring about a rebellious attitude in the African and Asian nations. The Japanese people, he felt, were more socialistically inclined and accept commuism as an economic form rather than in its political entirety.

He did state, however, two highly important factors that are quite certainly in the favor of the free nations. These are: (1) the dominant democratic leadership in Asia; (2) the fact that English is rapidly becoming the second language of the Asian and African nations.

Among the questions directed to Mr. Lindley were those concerning U. S. policy. Mr. Lindley mentioned that both presidential nominees prefer not to get involved with the Russians. He felt that the U. S. had made a great mistake when it did not move in with the British in an

SU Players Production of "The Heiress" Pleases Capacity Audience of Parents

SUE THARP

The lights dim, a hush settles over a large crowd, and then the curtain rises on the first production of the Susquehanna Players for this year. The play is entitled "The Heiress" as you already know, and we might add, is very well done with Thiry Reamer as Catherine, the heiress; "Doc" Boyer portraying Dr. Sloper, her father; Sue Tharp as Mrs. Penniman, Catherine's vivacious aunt; John Hendricks as Morris, Catherine's suitor; Muriel Berhens portraying Maria the maid; Helen Frerichs as Marian; Judi Anderson as Mrs. Almond; Bill Hand portraying Arthur; and Noretta Sheesley as Mrs. Montgomery.

The Players gave their first performance Saturday afternoon and again on Saturday evening for the entertainment of the parents of S. U. students.

Comments on "The Heiress" bring us to the conclusion that this dramatic production is splendidly portrayed by the Players which, of course, is largely due to Mr. Kleinsorg's capable direction. Tickets are available in the lounge, so get them while you can for this coming Thursday, Friday, or Saturday night. Don't miss it!

WSC ESTABLISHES ANNUAL AWARD

The Women's Student Council helped make Parents' Day a success by co-sponsoring a Coffee Hour Saturday afternoon in the Seibert Social Room. During this get-together parent and faculty had an opportunity to meet each other. The affair was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The Women's Student Council in 1956 established the Golden Book Award for a senior woman who shows outstanding qualities of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. To be eligible a girl must have a cumulative average of 2.0 for three and one half years.

The selection is to be made by a special faculty committee and will be awarded only when the committee feels that there is a girl who fulfills all of the qualifications.

SELECT FROSH FOR STUNT NIGHT

This last week has certainly been a busy one for many members of the freshman class, as auditions were held for stunt night and other preparations were made. Dick Horn was chosen Master of Ceremonies and the best of the frosh are now preparing a variety of good acts for your entertainment. All in all, the frosh stunt night of the class of 1960 looks as its it will be the best frosh night in the history of S. U., so why not come out on October 24th and see if you agree? See you there.

"Silver Symphony" Set as Dance Theme

With a theme of "Silver Symphony", this year's Homecoming Dance promises to provide an enjoyable evening. The music for the dance to be held on October 27 from 9 to 12 will be provided by Al Bethel and his orchestra. The tickets are $3.60 a couple and will be sold by individuals on campus.

The dance is under the capable direction of Nancy Forrest and Al Zimmerman, student heads of the Panhellenic Council and Inter-Fraternity Council respectively. The committee heads are as follows: Decorations—Catherine Henry and Glenn Showalter; Publicity—Chester Hall; Tickets—Nelson Bailey; Refreshments—Sandy Crothers; Clean up—Stanley DeCamp and Chaperones—Gerry Fletcher.

S. C. A. to Hold Fireside Chat

The first S.C.A. Campus Night will be held this evening at 7:00 p. m. in Seibert Social Rooms. The meeting will be in the form of a Fireside Chat with Dr. A. W. Ahl as speaker. His subject will be "Running Life's Race". Dr. Ahl who is Professor Emeritus of Greek here at Susquehanna, received his undergraduate training at Breklum, Germany. He has done graduate work here at Susquehanna and at Vanderbilt University and Peabody College.

The S.C.A. would like to thank all who helped with the Victory Dance held in the Student Lounge Saturday evening. The chaperones for the evening were Miss Joanne Heinly and Miss Dorothy Hoyer.

Paul Denise, regional secretary for World University Service, visited our campus on Thursday. During his visit a number of students were introduced to World University Service, an international organization of university and college students.

A group of Susquehanna students are planning to attend the Annual World University Service Fall Conference at Bucknell University on Sunday, October 21. After this meeting plans will be made for a WUS campaign to be held next spring.

Procrastination!

One day last week, I decided to give my mail box a thorough cleaning. After all there might have been a letter under the accumulation of dust of three weeks. But, when I finally got the mailbox open, all I found was a slip of paper that told me to write an article for the Susquehanna.

I wandered out of the lounge, deep in thought, and courteously held the door open for some freshmen (I didn't even tell them to square their "dinks"). This was a challenge to me for if I intend to be an English teacher it might be nice if I could write a few thoughts down on paper. Anyway I decided I could think better if I went to my room.

Upon entering Seibert I was overwhelmed by the smell of lunch cooking. (Was that the day we had "mystery cakes" and mashed potatoes or was it hot dogs and mashed potatoes) However, I relinquished my lunch in order to think about my article but by the time afternoon classes started I was well on my way to nowhere.

Then I had to hurry off to a botany lab as we were going to name some of the trees on campus (no self-respecting tree at Susquehanna would dare lack a name) and so I pushed all other thoughts aside and joined the rest of the crowd. After that there was a hockey game to referee and then studies to do and so the article went unwritten.

The next day was quite full of classes, studying (S. U. is really keen about that sort of thing) and cleaning our room for Parents' Day (my roommate and I wanted to show our parents that we could actually keep a room neat). Naturally I again neglected to write anything.

Parents' Day came and went and

ESTABLISHED 1894

Published weekly throughout the school year, with the exception of Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter and Semester holidays, at a subscription rate of $2.50 a year.

Reentered as second-class matter February 21, 1947, at the post office at Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania, under the act of March 3, 1879.

What Is the Price?

What price for this way of life? How often have you heard this seemingly undying question? Probably every day a normal person, who is even minorly interested in economic and social affairs, is confronted with thoughts that can ultimately lead to this basic question. The quesion is not of a spontaneous nature, but seems to arise from bull sessions, news papers and formal classes. How often we can hear the rumble of a disgruntled tax-payer. I can hear one now. . . . "I work on my job five days a week, and every Friday I see on my check that I've "donated" a day's wages to the "cause." He does not realize how he is repaid.

This "cause" is a real cause; it is one that concerns you and me intimately. You and I are the most important people in this society. Without us, who will be the support? We can conclude that part of the price we pay is via taxes. How else?

If we be civic-minded people we pay in a temporal way. We may be asked to help in civil projects and function in fraternal units, schools and churches. Indeed part of the price we pay is via time and effort. But what is the most costly and most discouraging part of the price we must pay to live in this country of world leadership?

Since our earliest days of life each of us has been in competition. At first it was with life and later with people. This life-blood, competition, excites economic and social improvements and leads to a higher standard of living. This is good. But it is not true and unfortunate that part of the price we pay for this competitive society is loss of love and friendship.

JEST FOR FUN

A not-too-bright young lady went up to a window in an income tax office and handed the clerk twenty-five cents.

"What's that for?" asked the clerk.

"Why, that's for my income tax. They told me I could pay a quarter at a time."

—S—

"Now, gentlemen," said the professor to his English class, "can you give me a clear, concise definition of a politician?"

"I can, sir," volunteered the son of a Congressman, "if you'll just tell me to which party you refer."

all of a sudden it was Sunday and my article was due, but I still didn't have any bright ideas. However, the editor patiently listened to my tale of woe and was really quite understanding. Of course, I'm no longer on the staff but this will give me more time to devote to the study of why all the Diptera (common fly) have to die in my room. effort to internationalize the Suez Canal. One of the points of exceeding importance was that the United States or free nations in general, in order to get along with the African or Asian nations, must make it unquestionably clear that they are completely against imperialism.

Many thanks should be extended to Mr. Lindley for giving both the students and the professors here at S. U. a deeper insight into the delicately precarious situation of the relationship of the United States, and its free world followers, to Asia and Africa.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

What a weekend! The parents saw a really great Susquehanna football team triumph over the National Aggies (19-0) Saturday afternoon. The whole team and "Whitey" Keil deserve highest merit for the fine play. Last week's column somehow failed to mention brother "Rube" Forster as being among Lambda Chi's gridiron contributions, but Rube snapped us to attention with his sensational touchdown catch. Next week we expect to see the Crusaders come home with another victory.

"That man on the loudspeaker" at Saturday's game appears to be proud of the Pospisil addition. Brother George Pospisil's pride for daughter Joanne is fully justifiable.

Football credit also accompanies the brothers who defeated Selinsgrove North (42-0) in Lambda Chi Alpha's debut to the 1956 intramural season. Let's go all the way!

Parents' weekend witnessed the Susquehanna Players' first contribution to the new school year. Brothers Don Boyer and John Hendricks are among the cast of "The Heiress". (Congratulations!) Brothers Vern Hoover and Baird Collins who ushered the Saturday night's performance reported that once again a truly fine evening's entertainment was provided by the Susquehanna Players.

Lambda Chi Alpha happily welcomes to its fold Don Middlesworth and Richard Cahn as our recent pledges.

The big weekend has elapsed, but the brothers can truly reflect upon pleasant memories of the 1956 Parents' Day.

PHI MU DELTA

Phi Mu Delta was most happy on Saturday to welcome the parents of both brothers and guests during S. U.'s annual Parents' Day. At noon, an informal luncheon was served to our guests for their enjoyment after long journeys. After attending the production of "The Heiress," parents and guests were again invited to an open house. Dancing provided the entertainment, and light refreshments were served. The brotherhood certainly hopes that each successive Parents' Day may be as happy and enjoyable as the past one has been. We extend a cordial welcome to everyone to come back and visit again as soon as they can.

Congratulations to Mr. Axel Kleinsorg and the Susquehanna Players for their fine presentation of "The Heiress." Everyone in the cast performed admirably in their assigned roles. The student body may see the play on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. We look forward with great anticipation to the next production of the Susquehanna Players.

The loudest congratulations this week go to 'Whitey' Keil's Crusaders for their tremendous victory over the National Aggies on Saturday afternoon. Everyone did a bang-up job in plowing under the Aggies by a 19-0 score. Good luck, Crusaders—we know you'll continue your winning ways!!

Last week in intramural sports Mu Alpha captured two victories, the first over Selinsgrove South 15-6, and the second over Selinsgrove North by a 21-0 count. The brothers wish the team the best of luck in the race for the trophy.

Congratulations are in order for the brothers of Phi Mu Delta who have been invited to become members of Pi Gamma Mu, honorary social science fraternity. Those who have attained this enviable position are Wade Hoffman, Frank Stugart, and Bill Hand.

THETA CHI

The third week of school is over and it has been rather an eventful one. The Yankees triumphed in a magnificent World Series(much to the joy of brothers Romano and DeCamp). This, of course, is not news to Dodger fans nor to Yankee ones either.

Also in that expansive field called sports, the valiant men of Theta Chi won two intramural football games. Playing a tough G. A. Hall team, they downed them 14-0 and overwhelmed Selinsgrove Hall. The Big Red received a severe blow to its football hopes when Stan Shilling fractured his wrist in the G. A. game. But the team intends to ight on! Lots of luck, team. In that G. A. game Stan scored both T. D.'s on a long run and an interception. Jack Bishop made the two extra points, the latter one on a pass from Stan. "We sure are going to miss that valuable arm, Stan."

Speaking of football, how about those Crusaders! Another supreme upset victory; this time over the powerful "National Aggies". Congratulations, team! Let's keep rolling! As an exposition for the Big Game, the Theta Betata Band marched on Thursday night, much to the delight of the S. U. girls; their voices are getting even stronger.

Saturday brought another Parents' Day to S. U. We were pleased and honored to welcome so many parents and friends to the campus.

Saturday night Theta Chi held its annual fall hay ride. Everyone had a happy time under the stars, with pleasant memories for all. We would like to thank our chaperones: Miss Betsy McDowell, Miss Leatrice Voorhees, and Dr. Thomas Armstrong.

Best wishes go to Mr. Kleinsorg and the cast of "The Heiress".

Theta Chi Fraternity is pleased to welcome as a pledge Mr. Raymond Stiller (we understand a coin was tossed among his roommates to determine who was to be his Big Brother. Carl Catherman was the loser).

The brothers had a visit this week from its national executive secretary and regional counselor.

The brothers found Ernest K. Lindley's lecture stimulating particularly in the light of the present election.

The Fat Thought for the Week: Let's have more student and faculty interest and participation in this national election.

Campus Spotlights

NANCY MAREK

Have you noticed the above mentioned cute redhead strolling around from one meeting to another? Well, just in case you happen to get into a conversation with her, here's a little background.

Nancy graduated from Atlantic Highlands High School where she played a clarinet in the band, was a twirler, and a cheerleader (all at once?!!?) She was the literary editor of the yearbook, and belonged to the Commercial Club and the Journal Club. Nancy was chosen to attend Science Days at Rutgers University, and at graduation, she won a medal for the highest math and science average for all four years.

Here at S. U., Nancy is the very capable president of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority. Acting as the secretary-treasurer of the Panhellenic Council in her junior year, she is a member again this year. Also in her junior year, Nancy was vice-president of the Women's Athletic Association, Lanthorn typist, member of an Orientation committee, and a participant of intramural sports. The Junior Class elected her as their representative to SCA.

Nancy is well known to all the upperclass girls since she is the house president at Seibert Hall, and a member of the Women's Student Council and the Judiciary Committee.

For Nancy's future plans, contact Lynx Wolfe down at Phi Mu Delta—he's the guy who gave her that diamond ring, you know. Since Nancy is taking the Business Education course, we can presume that she will probably teach school under the alias of Mrs. Leroy B. Wolfe, Jr.

Sorority News

ALPHA DELTA PI

The sisters of ADPi wish to congratulate our wonderful team on their victory over the Aggies on Parents' Day. We had a warm, autumnal day and the victory sent Mom and Dad home happy.

As a part of Parents' Day, Mr. Axel Kleinsorg presented a most successful production, "The Heiress". Some excellent jobs were turned in by the entire cast. We would like to congratulate the feminine lead, Sister Thiry Reamer and Sister Noretta Sheesley on their roles and Sister Jan Fuller, bookholder.

Political affiliations were in evidence on Saturday at the game. We especially noticed when a certain clown put the 'back' in "Let's Back Ike". Cavorting for W.A.A. in full clown regalia were the "Walker twins". They were Sister Pat Walker and Sister Betsy Walker, who made her "debut" as a clown on Saturday, substituting for Sister Janet Cole.

The sisters of the blue and white are well under way with plans for a big party, to be held on Saturday night, November 10.

Once more, let's all back our terrific football team. Rallies and cheering are as much a part of victory as the quarterback's signals. Good luck at Bridgewater, team.

KD NEWS

Hello again! Wasn't Saturday a perfect Parents' Day? That football game was "the most". Special congratulations to the team for such a fine victory! We're really proud of you. Saturday evening was a busy one for everybody. Parents enjoyed the play while students attended either the S. C. A. dance, Phi Mu Delta's open house, or Theta Chi's hayride. Many of our alumni came back to see us over the weekend. Included were Sisters Jessie Smith, Sally Brown, Nancy McCullough, Carolyn Frantz, Helen Thomas Heilman, Carolyn Hester Haag, Debbie Krapf Bell, Margie Lamon, Lana Fegley and Char Sandt.

I have some really exciting news to tell you. As of last night four new girls were initiated into KD. We are proud to welcome Sister Carol Zacharias, Sister Sandy Locke, Sister Muriel Behrens, and Sister Peg Burns. A bouquet of white roses to each of you.

Congratulations also to Thiry Reamer of ADPi for her outstanding performance in "The Heiress"; also to our KD sisters who did fine work.

Saturday, October 21, 1956 marks the day of Kappa Delta's annual Founders' Day Tea. We're looking forward to seeing you there.

Bye for now. Read again next week.

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA

Congratulations to Coach "Whitey" Keil and the team for the fine win on Saturday!

Sigma Omega was happy to welcome all the parents of chapter girls for Parents' Day and hope that they enjoyed all the activities of the weekend.

We were also happy to welcome '56 alumni sister, Diane Schilke over the week-end for a visit. Diane is teaching music in McKinley Junior High School in Fairfield, Connecticut.

On Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. the chapter held an informal tea and musicale in Seibert parlors. Pledges Mary Louise Neal, Denece Newhard, and Janis Adams performed. The program was as follows:

"Dancer in the Patio" Repper
piano solo — Janis Adams
"How Lovely Is The Hand of God" Loughborough soprano solo — Denece Newhard
"Chanson" Gliere
clarinet solo — Mary Louise Neal
Janet Gordon ,accompanist

SPORTS SHORTS

By GEORGE POSPISIL

We were talking to Pete Pihos, coach of the Aggies, after the game and he seemed a bit disappointed over the outcome. He signed the game ball for us and remarked about our fine football team. We agreed with him...

The shafting we took at Swarthmore will loom bigger and bigger as the season progresses.

Bridgewater, our next opponent has lost two close games so far this season. The results of their other two games were unobtainable at this writing.

Here are some scores that concern us: Ursinus 20 Wilkes 6, Hamilton 33 Wagner 7, Haverford 7 Wesleyan 7.

Intramurals got off with a bang last week. Remember points are counted toward the Stagg trophy, so failure to provide a referee and forfeits are costly.

The former Eagle great, Pete Pihos and our own "Whitey" Keil had a few words in the fourth quarter when tempers fired up, but after the game they cooled off and parted as friends.

Congratulations to "Duke" Bartlow and John Yanuklis for their play on Saturday and being picked Saturday's Best.

Intramural Football Sparks Campus Scene

The pigsgins were literally flying all over S.U.'s athletic field this past week as the Intramural Football Season got underway. The results of the games thus far are as follows:

Tuesday, Oct. 9
Lambda Chi 42 Selinsgrove N. 0
Theta Chi 14 G. A. Hall 0

Wednesday, Oct. 10
G. A. Hall 23 Selinsgrove N. 16
Phi Mu Delta 15 Selinsgrove S. 6

Thursday, Oct. 11
Theta Chi 37 Selinsgrove S. 0
Phi Mu Delta 21 Selinsgrove N. 0

Tuesday afternoon found the "Bunders" of Lambda Chi Alpha in their only clash of the week, completely outclassing a valiant Sel. N. sextet. The "Bunders" with offense and defense working perfectly scored almost at will through the entire game. Jim Bortle led the touchdown parade with 3, folowed by Gerry Herbster with 2 and Les Rudisill with 1.

In the other battle of the afternoon Theta Chi scoring twice in the first half defeated hard fighting G. A. Hall, as Quarterback Stan Shilling tallied both times for the "Big Red".

G. A. Hall bounced into the win column Wednesday by sneaking past the freshman of Sel. N. Building up a 23 pt. margin in the first half was enough to hold off the challenge of the Sel. sextet who scored 16 pts. in the second half. Ron Aller led the way for the victors by throwing 3 touchdown passes. Ralph Wagner hit Tyler with 2 scoring passes for the losers.

Phi Mu Delta found the going rough but managed to hang up its first win of the season by edging Sel. S. Clyde Wood and Jim White each tossed a 6 pt. pass for the winners. Marvin Bonawitz passed for Selinsgrove's only score.

Thursday's games saw the "Big Red" from Theta Chi chalk up win number 2 blanking hapless Sel. S. Six men shared in the scoring as the "Big Red" hold the distinction of not having been scored on as yet.

In the other tussle of the afternoon, Phi Mu Delta also continued its winning ways by submerging Sel. N. Holding a slim 7 pt. margin at half time, the "Orange and Black" sewed up the game as Jim White tossed 2 second half T. D. passes, one to Milan Kratzer and the other to Gene Witiak.

The standings after the first week's action are:

Theta Chi	2	0
Phi Mu Delta	2	0
Lambda Chi Alpha	1	0
G. A. Hall	1	1
Sel. South	0	2
Sel. North	0	2

In closing this column a unanimous vote of thanks and congratulations is in order for Coach "Whitey" Keil and his Ass't Bob Pittello and especially to the men on the varsity for their magnificent victory over the National Aggies on Saturday. Keep up the good work men and V*I*C-T*O*R*Y will be assured at Bridgewater this Saturday.

KEILMEN PLUNDER PIHOS' AGGIES BEFORE LARGE PARENTS' DAY CROWD

Before a huge Parents' Day crowd, the Crusaders ground out a well-earned victory over the National Aggies by the score of 19-0.

Tremendous lineplay combined with a bruising attack gave the Keilmen their second win of the campaign.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Crusaders offense began to click. Dick Purnell fired a long pass to Rube Forster who gathered it in and outran the Aggie safetyman for the first score. The play covered 50 yards. Bob Lewis' attempted placement was blocked.

Toward the end of the second period Purnell sent Bob Lewis into the line for repeted gains. Lewis chewed up yardage with sheer power. Time and again he carried two and three tacklers with him. From seven yards out, John Yanuklis cracked over for the TD. This time Bob's placement was good and Susquehanna led 13-0.

The Aggies tried to mount an offensive at the start of the third period; but the fighting Crusader line led by Chalmers Bartlow, Gordie Thompson, Walt Benham and Ralph Ferraro stopped them cold.

Once again Dick Purnell directed his backs masterfully as the Crusader ground-making machine went into motion. Freshman John Yanuklis teamed with Ray Richie, also a first year man, to move into Aggie territory. On two occasions it looked as if the drive would be stalled when Yanuklis, displaying some devestating ball-toting, bulled his way for the first down.

With the ball on the six-inch line, Dick Purnell rammed into the end zone with the third and final score. Again Lewis' placement was blocked.

Midway through the last stanza Coach "Whitey" Keil cleared his bench. The S. U. second and third stringers proved rough and tough as they halted the Aggies final thrust of the day on the winners ten yard line. Joe Osinchak, Lenny Quick, Ted Shilling and Dick Zabriski sparkled on defense for the second stringers.

The Crusaders will travel to Virginia to meet Bridgewater College this Saturday. This will be the first meeting of the two school. A week from Saturday the Wilkes College Colones provide the opposition on Homecoming Day.

—S—

WOMEN'S SPORTS

Girls' intramural hockey got off to a good start this past week. Some sixty girls have signed up for this sport. Four teams have been chosen; one of juniors and seniors; one of freshman; and two of sophomores. On Tuesday the first sophomore team defeated the freshman and on Thursday the juniors and seniors were victorious over the second sophomore team.

Tau Kappa will sell sandwiches in both girls' dorms this year. Anyone interested in buying sandwiches may purchase them in either Seibert or Hassinger Hall on Sunday evening, October 21, from ten to ten-thirty.

The W. A. A. is again looking forward to the coronation festivities which will be held the night before Homecoming, October 26, in the Chapel. The program will be held at 7 p.m. Co-chairmen for this event are Thelma Rosetti and Arlene Roberts. The identity of this year's Homecoming queen will be kept a secret until that time.

Saturday's Best
Lineman of the Week

CHALMERS BARTLOW

The nod for lineman of the week goes to Chalmers "The Duke" Bartlow. The competition for this honor was as rough as it could possibly have been this week, but "The Duke" edged his stout linemates when he took the bit between his teeth and galloped in persuit of the Aggies halfback as he was heading for paydirt with the score 0-0. "The Duke" had no intention of seeing the lead fall into the enemy hands. Bartlow must also be congratulated for the fine kick-offs he has been blasting deep into the competitions territory this year. Keep up the good work!

Bartlow is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity where he serves efficiently as house manager. A junior from Sunbury, Pa., he is majoring in Business Administration.

Back of the Week

JOHN YANULKIS

The competition for back of the week was equally as keen as in the forward wall, but the heart of John Yanuklis could not be denied. Determined to emerge on the winning side after last week's heartbreaker, John took to the air when his hole closed in front of him and vaulted into the end zone for the second TD. Slanting off tackle John evaded the "Plow Boys" and drove thru, over, under, and around, whichever the occasion called for, to gain those valuable first downs when they were needed. Only a freshman, you can be sure there will be an awful lot of opponents walking off the field in the future with the vision of John's heels pulling away from them forever embedded in their memories.

John is a 20 year old lad hailing from Union City, N. J. He intends to major in accounting.

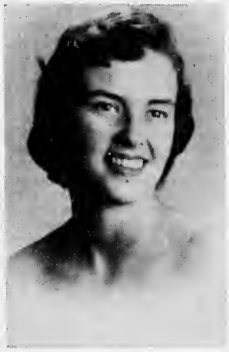
CAMPUS HUMS WITH ACTIVITY AS TRADITIONAL "HOMECOMING WEEKEND" HOLDS THE SPOTLIGHT QUEEN WHO?? - - - ELIZABETH STRADLING? CAROLANN ZUST? MAUREEN BALL? OR NANCY BRICKER?

CAROLANN ZUST



LIZ STRADLING

NANCY BRICKER

MAUREEN BALL

Last week the students of Susquehanna University chose four attractive girls as their representatives for homecoming week end. The student body has elected the Queen to reign over the homecoming festivities.

Repesenting the senior class is a popular music education student, Liz Stradling. Liz, a graduate of Nashaminy High School in Langhorne, Pa., now hails from Barclay, Maryland. While in high school, Liz took part in a variety of activities, including district and county choruses, acting as accompanist for the glee club, playing varsity softball, basketball and hockey, and being chosen Prom Queen her senior year. She also served on the student council, was elected the best athlete in her class, and acted as color guard for the band. Here at S. U., Liz is very active in musical groups. She belongs to the Chapel Choir and the Susquehanna Singers. She has been a color guard with the band for three years, and at present she is singing with the "Coeds" a trio composed of music students. She is in the MENC (Music Education National Conference) and during her sophomore year she went to intercollegiate chorus at Slippery Rock. At present Liz is serving as secretary of the senior class. She is kept busy student teaching in Northumberland; teaching kindergarten and third grade. This is Liz's second year as homecoming representative.

Carolann Zust, the junior representative for Homecoming, is also a music education student. While in high school at Roselle, New Jersey, she took an active part in the band and on the newspaper staff. At Susquehanna, Carolann belongs to the Chapel Choir, Susquehanna Singers, orchestra, and MENC. She is a banner carrier for the band and she belongs to the concert band. She has appeared in two plays here on campus, the Shakespearean play Romeo and Juliet and The Late George Apley. Carolann is a member of the SCA and sings with the motet choir. A member of Sigma Alpha Iota national music fraternity for women, and acts as recording secretary for the local chapter. She was a representative for homecoming her freshman year.

The sophomore class has chosen Maureen Ball, a brunette medical secretarial student, as its representative. A graduate of Point Pleasant Beach High School, "Little Mo" is proud of her home state of New Jersey. While she was in high school she was captain of the cheerleading squad, an attendent at the Junior Prom, runner-up in the Miss Point High contest, and a member of the National Honor Society. She belonged to various clubs, some being the Dramatic Club, Sports Night Club, Glee Club, Tri-Tones, and the Girls' Athletic Association. She played varsity volleyball and intramural basketball. During her year at S. U. "Mo" has joined the Business Society and the SCA. Last year she took part in the production So Wonderful in White and she recently became a member of the Chapel Choir. She is a member of the Kappa Delta sorority.

Another medical secretarial student, Nancy Bricker from York, Pa., was chosen as the representative of the freshman class. While attending William Penn High School, in York, she belonged to the Euterpean Literary Society, the Dolphin Swimming Society, the Penn Peppers Sport Society and the Girls' Athletic Association. She was captain of the cheerleading squad and served as an attendant both to the queen of the Junior Prom and the homecoming queen. An honor student, Nancy took part in intramural sports and belonged to the Teen Club at the local YWCA. Here at Susquehanna, Nancy belongs to the SCA and is on the Decoration Committee for the Freshman party.

Encyclopedia Invites Lotz to be Editor

The Reverend Mr. Benjamin Lotz, our associate professor of religion and philosophy, has been invited to become an editor of the Lutheran World Encyclopedia, an international reference publication of Lutheran history and doctrine.

The Encyclopedia was approved last year by the Lutheran World Federation at its second assembly in Hanover, Germany. The editor-in-chief is to be Dr. Gulius Bodensieck, professor of theology and president of Wartburg Seminary in Debuque, Iowa.

The Lutheran World Encyclopedia will be accessible to persons who wish authoritative statements of Lutheran doctrine, worship, policies or the attitude of Lutherans in regards to labor and other similar subjects.

Mr. Lotz will be given the subject of philosophy. He is well qualified for such an editorial assignment since he has made numerous contributions in thei field to church publications.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA HOLDS LUNCHEON

Friday evening, following the Susquehanna Players' performance of "The Heiress", Alpha Psi Omega entertained dramatic groups representing Bucknell University, Wilkes College, and Bloomsburg State Teachers College at an informal luncheon.

Favorable comments were received from all the groups on the excellent caliber of dramatics apparent at Susquehanna by virtue of the excellent performance of the cast of "The Heiress". Mr. Axel Kleinsorg, serving as host, presented a brief resume of the dramatics program conducted by the Susquehanna Players, after which similar resumes were presented by members of the visiting schools.

Alpha Psi Omega feels that much was accomplished toward cementing good relations with neighboring schools by extending this invitation to other dramatic groups to become acquainted with our drama program. In the future, members from Theta Pi Chapter plan a return visit to these schools to see one of their productions.

WSC Plans Projects For Fall Program

The first regularly scheduled meeting of the Women's Student Council was held at 6:45 p.m. on Tuesday, October 16 in Seibert Parlors.

The council decided to purchase new records for the dining room. Note paper will be sold again this year at the price of $1 per box. This paper includes three scenes of the campus—Seibert Hall, Bogar Hall, and Hassinger Hall. See your representatives and get your supply!

Committees for the coming year were appointed. The problems of using the laundry were discussed. It was pointed out that all students must be sure to sign for the time they plan to use the machines. This is the only way in which we can know whether or not the procedures need to be changed this year. Please cooperate in the laundry!

Blood Needed! Help Meet the Quota

On December 5 between the hours of 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., the Bloodmobile will be on campus. Their headquarters will be set up in the Social Rooms of Seibert Hall. All between the ages of 18 and 56 can give blood provided they don't have any cold, diseases, or respiratory disorders. Anyone under the age of 21 must have parental consent.

Sandwiches and juices will be served. It is being sponsored by Kappa Delta Sorority in conjunction with the Red Cross. Help us meet our quota!

All off-campus persons and organizations as well as campus organizations excepting the four organized classes, the latter being integral parts of the University, will pay for mimeograph work done by the university offices or secretaries to faculty members as follows:

Cost of paper plus 20% for handling.

Cost of running 100 sheets or copies (minimum amount) 50c

Cost for running a ream $1.25

Any multiples between 250 to 500 sheets $1.25.

All work to be done must be in the hands of Miss Beamenderfer by 10 A. M. and at least 24 hours before required.

Work brought in after 10 A. M. will require 48 hours before completed and delivered.

Don't Miss the Homecoming Dance

Don't forget the big annual Homecoming Dance on October 27 in the College Gymnasium from 8:30 to 12:00 p.m.! During this event, the climax of a busy weekend, the Homecoming queen with her lovely court will reign amid a "Silver Symphony" of blue and white.

Music will be provided by Al Bethel and his orchestra. Tickets will be sold at the door; admission is $3.60 per couple.

Frantz Art Showing Acclaimed Success

The first of Susquehanna University's current series of art exhibits opened in Bogar Hall Sunday afternoon one week ago with a reception to the artist, Mrs. Lola Frantz. Parents of students back for Parents' Day on Saturday were given the privilege of a pre-opening showing of the work of this talented artist at the intermission in the performance of the Susquehanna Players' presentation of "The Heiress."

In both her oils and water colors Lola Frantz shows an extraordinary sensitivity to nature in its many manifestations. Landscapes, seascapes, still life and genre are all handled easily and with felicity. The sixteen oils are all done with the palette knife, and the resulting impaste is rich in tonal qualities and emotional appeal. Particularly noteworthy is "Winter Dusk," showing two children walking homeward along a snowy path in the bluish after-glow of a winter's evening. Another, "Cir-

The Critic Speaks

Last week the Susquehanna University players opened their current theater program with a presentation of the two act drama called The Heiress. This was an ambitious undertaking in that the play was a dramatization of the Henry James novel Washington Square. The dramatists, Ruth and Augustus Goetz, had the difficult task of making a play out of undramatic material. Washington Square is a story of intangibles told with an ironic reticence that scrupulously avoids big scenes. However, the resulting drama is a refreshing excursion into intelligence and good taste. The role of Catherine Sloper, the heiress, is difficult to portray and a challenge to any seasoned actress, let alone a college amateur. It is all the more to the credit of Thiry Reamer that she could meet the demands of her role and make tangible many of the subtleties and agonies of an ugly, unloved woman who is capable of deep feeling. Her gradual change from the awkward and gullible character of the first act was almost professional in its marked contrast with the assured and bitter old maid of the closing scenes. Her character was pathetic in a tragic sense, which was conveyed by Thiry's control of voice and gesture. The highest compliment that can be paid her is that she was Catherine Sloper, and not Thiry Reamer at any time during her performance.

Donald Boyer gave a masterful portrayal of the role of Dr. Sloper.

Biemic Society Hears Magalhaes

The first meeting of the Biemic Society was held Monday, October 15, 1956. Immediately following the meeting, a talk was given by Dr. Hulda Magalhaes, of Bucknell University. The talk was entitled "The Golden Hamster as a Research Animal."

Dr. Magalhaes received her B. S. from Douglas College where she majored in zoology. For her M. A. degree at Mount Holyoke College, Dr. Malgalhaes investigated the normal standards for basal metabolism and their application to healthy college women. She received her Ph.D. degree from Duke University; her thesis was concerned with the ecological study of the giant sea snails of the genus Busycon that are found near the Duke University laboratory at Beaufort, North Carolina.

Dr. Magalhaes has taught at Mount Holyoke College, Duke University, Women's Medical College in Philadel-

"I LIKE IKE" — "MAD ABOUT AD"

Me? Why should my vote make any difference? This is a view held by all too many American citizens today. This is a national election year, the time every eligible citizen should exercise his privilege of voting. Yes, it is a privilege—not a right. It's something you must qualify for; it is not handed to you on a silver platter.

Of course many of us are not yet of voting age. But this does not hinder our interest in the present campaign. A few, brave students on campus can be seen wearing their "I Like Ike" buttons. "Adlai and Estes" appear every now and then. Should our interest stop here? Above all, we, as college students, should be actively interested in the platforms being offered by both parties. For these are the years to listen to and weigh the facts with open minds. How will we ever become a responsible citizenry if we have no previous knowledge of our national and political affairs? And politics is not an ugly word. Literally it means—of the citizens. That's you and I!

So let us begin now to become responsible, informed citizens. Develop an interest in this election, follow the campaigns, listen to the keynote speakers on radio or T. V. And above all, be at the polls on election day if you are eligible.

His irony and arrogance were evident throughout the entire play to the point where his intolerence proved annoying not only to his sister Elizabeth, but to the audience as well.

Mr. Boyer's carriage and excellent speech quality were major assets in his portrait.

The rather unpleasant role of the fortune hunter was interestingly portrayed by John Hendricks. The task was a difficult one in that the author never quite makes clear the character of Morris. Is he a scoundrel or is he just an unfortunate lover with expensive tastes? John brought to the role a richness of variety in his various scents. He was convincing, though at times one was inclined to feel that with a speaking voice as fine as his, he might improve by avoiding a breathiness which tends to weaken the character in certain spots. However, more experience will easily remedy this, if it is a fault.

Much humor was provided by Susie Tharp in the role of Lavinia Penniman, widowed sister of Dr. Sloper. Seldom has the college audience been fortunate enough to see so clear, consistent, and refreshing portrayal of a garrulous and sentimental romantic. Her rich performance will be a memorable one. Her Aunt Levinia was the antithesis of the wonderful Mrs. Apley of last year's production. There has been great growth in control of voice, character, and movement on the part of Susie. She should be seen again and often.

Judith Anderson as the doctor's younger sister was adequate and graceful. Her past performance as Queen Gertrude in Hamlet was so excellent that it was rather disappointing to find her portraying a role with the limitations inherent in the character of Mrs. Almond.

An excellent character study was provided by Noretta Sheesley as Morris Townsend's sister, Mrs. Montgomery.

Helen Frerichs as Marion Almond made a beautiful figure on the stage, although her portrayal was weakened by a tendency to drop her at the end of certain lines. One could readily understand Catherine's sense of inferiority in her presence.

William Hand in the minor role of Arthur was duly stuffy, and Muriel Behrens made a pert maid.

The running time of the play was a bit long, but obviously could not be avoided. The lighting was very well planned by Douglas Smith as light technician, although we might suggest that we felt the day scenes might have a greater contrast from the night scenes. Merely bringing sunlight through a window did not seem to fully do the trick. The men's costumes were adequate. Morris would have profited by a more colorful costume, especially in his early love scenes. The dresses of the girls were magnificent, although we are still wondering how they could manage to go in and out on a cold rainy day or a fall day without benefit of cloaks, bonnets, or gloves.

Once again Mr. Kleinsorg has directed the play with a knowing hand. Later in the season we hope he will give us some comedies. The decor of the set was in keeping with the period and formed a neutral background for the elaborate costumes of the women. However, we feel that Victorian homes enjoyed many pictures on the wall, which were conspicuous by their absence on the present set. Perhaps they were anxious that we see the golden roses. The entire production was a credit to the Susquehanna Players and provided a worthwhile evening of theater for the student body.

Homecoming Day

There is an atmosphere of excitement on the campus. Upperclassmen go scurrying hither-and-yon in search of chicken wire, wood, and crepe paper, circulate around campus hawking tickets "to the dance Saturday night", and amidst all the confusion stands an unknown freshman with a quizzical look on his face.

"What's all this action"? he asks.

And so he is told. Saturday is the Homecoming Day celebration, and the students are merely preparing for it.

"Does this happen every year"? asks the frosh.

Yes, it does. And every year it gets better than previous years. And this year promises to be the best thus far.

"Well, what happens on Homecomming Day"? questions the still-wondering freshman.

The alumni return and renew former acquaintances. They have meetings of their individual graduating classes, and discuss their experiences after leaving college. Then there are usually a banquet and speeches and such. The returning grads go to the football game in the afternoon, with high hopes of seeing their team romp over the opponents. After the game they have dinner and rest up for the dance in the evening, if they plan to attend. If not, there are many small parties here and there where the alumni can further enjoy themselves. All in all, everyone has a tremendous time in returning to his old Alma Mater. And the undergraduates, as well as the alumni, join in the festivities just as eagerly.

"Are you going to stay this weekend"? the upperclassman asked the frosh.

"Nah"! answered the freshman, "I'm going home to go hunting. Hunting season'll be open at home, and I want to get a couple of rabbits".

So saying, the frosh picks up his suitcase and walks away past the Conservatory on his way home. Little does he know he's missed one of the finest days of his college career. But chances are he'll never go home again on Homecoming Day at Susquehanna.

MUSIC NOTES

On Monday, October 29, a group of conservatory students will present a musical program to the members of Eastern Star in Northumberland. Those participating are Nancy Kendell, violinist; Elinor Hinkle, clarinetist; David Boltz, viola; Mary Moore, pianist; Gloria Myers, soprano; William Aspray, tenor; Richard Kisslak, bass; Carolyn Gillaspie and Mary Moore, four-hand piano, and Gary Crum, Robert White, and Alice Ann Patterson, clarinet, flute, piano ensemble.

Denece Newhard sang several selections for the monthly meeting of the Selinsgrove Rose Club on Saturday here at the university. Mary Davis was the accompanist.

Second prize was awarded to the Susquehanna University marching band which competed in a parade Thursday in Sunbury. Approximately twenty bands marched in the event.

Several members of the conservatory faculty presented a program of music to a group of Lutheran ministers on Parents Day in Seibert Chapel a tour of the S. U. campus was on the agenda as part of the convention of the ministers of the National United Lutheran Church held in Harrisburg. The program included selections by Mr. Frederick Billman, Dr. Percy Linebaugh and Mr. Lavan Robinson.

A doctor told his patient that there was nothing really the matter with him. All you require is more outdoor life; walk two or three miles regularly every day. What's your business?"

"I'm a letter-carrier, doc."

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Some may contend that Saturday's game at Bridgewater, Virginia validates the old prophecy that "the South shall rise again". But the weekend's sad defeat shall never rise above the potential of this year's S. U. team, nor above the spirit of the Crusader fans. Both shall combine their forces Saturday and a victory is hoped to be witnessed by the alumni on University Field.

The brothers defeated three more intramural squads last week. G. A. (12-0) and Selinsgrove South (39-0) fell victims to the "Bunder" prowess early in the week. In a real battle the "Big Red" of Theta Chi emerged on the short end of a 7-0 score.

As the national election draws near, the political furor predominates among the news. The big political news, bursting from the portals of Lambda Chi Alpha, reveals that Brother Les Rudisill (newly 21) has been thoroughly trampled by the Eisenhower and Stevenson camps, in their attempt to secure his vote. His sympathies for the Bull-Moose party remain intact, however.

Brothers George Nesbitt and Don Boyer are to be congratulated on their fine conducting of the Sunday night Vesper service.

A big weekend is approaching, and the anticipation of the event is being paralleled by preparation.

PHI MU DELTA

This past week at Susquehanna was comparatively quiet, falling as it did between the Parents' Day weekend and the eagerly awaited Homecoming celebration, so there is very little to report from Mu Alpha chapter.

An open house was held on Saturday night after the Susquehanna Players' presentation of "The Heiress." Light refreshments were served, and music for dancing was supplied by the latest recordings. We were extremely pleased to have as our guests for the evening the Reverend Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lotz, Miss Betsy McDowell, Miss Ruth Meister and her guests, and also Dr. Lyder Unstad, Mr. Lavan Robinson, Mr. Axel Kleinsorg, Mr. Robert F. W. Meader, and the Reverend Vicar Mark Witmer.

Well, we did it again! The Mu Alpha intramural football squad downed a strong G. A. Hall aggregate by a 14-0 count. Touchdowns were scored by brothers Clyde Wood and George Schlucterer. Everyone on the team played a great game in clinching our third victory in as many starts. This week Phi Mu Delta tangles with the "big red" of Theta Chi on Tuesday, and on Wednesday we meet Lambda Chi Alpha. So, all you brothers get out and cheer the team on to an unbeaten first-half season in the race for the trophy.

Al Hazen, Phi Mu Delta's very capable Social Chairman, has been selected as a co-captain of the Crusaders' cheering squad. Al is also student advisor to the freshman class. Congratulations, Al, in achieving these honors.

Congratulations to the Crusaders' grid team for a hard-fought game with Bridgewater College. We express our regrets to those members of the team who were injured in the contest. Mu Alpha, as well as the rest of the student body, looks forward to trampling Wilkes College on Homecoming Day.

Coming up on Saturday is that long-awaited day of the college year—Homecoming! The festivities start on Friday night with the coronation of the Homecoming Queen—whoever she may be—in Seibert Chapel, and a pep rally for Saturday's game.

The brothers of Phi Mu Delta are eagerly looking forward to Saturday when we welcome back alumni of Mu Alpha chapter, and really have a tremendous weekend. We urge everyone to stay on campus and "have a ball!"

THETA CHI NEWS

The Big Red of Theta Chi played two football games this past week. They extended their winning ways by downing Selinsgrove North, but lost a close 7-0 game to Lambda Chi Alpha. The lone tally was scored in the first five minutes with the two teams drawing to a deadlock for the remainder of the game. The game might be probably described as bruising, blood and bellicose. "Only one loss, let's make the rest wins, team!

Susquehanna suffered its second set back. We are still playing .500 ball. That's good in any league! Let's everyone get out on Saturday and help the team boost the average to .600!

Homecoming plans are going ahead rapidly under the direction of Don James and Gary Crum.

Brother Carl Catherman has found a freshman girl's dink. It can be reclaimed from room No. 6 in G. A. Hall.

Not too much news this week so we will close with the Fat Thought for the week: Who is Dr. Pangloss?

Linda Youhon

Our campus spotlight shines on a pretty little blond senior, Linda Youhon.

Linda graduated from Kingston (Pa.) High School, where she was active in the band, Glee Club, French Club and Sketch Club. The junior and senior plays also claimed Linda as a member of their casts. This busy little miss was also a cheerleader while in high school.

Here at Susquehanna Linda has been active in the Future Teachers of America, the S.C.A., orchestra, marching band, Chapel Choir, Susquehanna Singers, and Sigma Alpha Iota, as well as song director of the fraternity. She held the office of secretary of S.A.I. in her junior year.

Linda's future plans are for teaching music, and we're certain that she will be successful in her field.

Profound Thoughts (I Think)

Yea, verily, and forsooth, I have returned again. (Just like a bad penny.) Last week I was under the impression that my association with this newspaper would be severed. (I was young and foolish.) but apparently the word leaked out that I have only two tests next week, and so they put me to work again.

Speaking of tests (a naughty word), I find that they have been quite the fad around here at least for the last week or so. Lights have been burning for into the night and bags under the eyes have made a startling appearance. With all this, wouldn't you know that the weather would be just beautiful? It was a rather welcome change from the cold, wet summer we had but why did it have to wait so long?

Just by chance I happened to look at a newspaper the other day and noticed that the political aspirants are headed into their last big fling before election day. (I bet drug companies eally make a good penny or two on all their sore throat remedies at this time of year.) But if you'd like to have your voice resound across the campus just go cheer for the team at the pep rallies and the football games. (Why should the cheerleaders have all the fun?)

Say, if you thought you were lucky enough to go home over the weekend you can consider yourself unfortunate. (?) You missed the exciting new dessert we had for lunch on Saturday. It was really out of this world. (Mars, at least!)

By the by, have you been following the thrilling adventures of Captain Africa" at the local cinema? If you have would you please tell me what happened in Chapters 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5. I only saw Chapter 6 and next week's Chapter 7 promises even more excitement.

Well that's all for this week but I leave you with this constructive (?) piece of advice:

Keep the study lights burning,
Because your hearts are yearning
To pass those tests with A's and B's
Then you too may become a member of Phi Beta Kappa National Honorary Society.

a member of the District Chorus for four years, District Band for two years, and State Band for two years.

Marty transferred to Susquehanna University after spending her freshman year at Linden Hall Junior College a Lititz, Pennsylvania. Among her many activities at Linden Hall, she was vice-president of the student council, associate editor of the school newspaper, and a member of the chapel choir.

Since she is vice-president of Kappa Delta Sorority, president of W.A.A., and, having an avid interest in all sports, a participant in intramurals, Marty is often seen rushing around the campus on some vital mission. Despite the fact that she is always busy, she is never too busy to flash a dimpled smile in your direction and say "Hi".

Where future plans are concerned, Marty, who is a four year secretarial student, wants to do some type of personnel work. We're sure that Marty will maintain the same "live-wire" personality in the business world that she has shown on the campus.

ALPHA DELTA PI

Congratulations, team, for a battle well fought, but, as the saying goes, "you can't win them all." Don't forget, though, that S. U. is behind you 100 per cent.

This coming Saturday is Homecoming. Let's all get out and welcome the Alums in a grand old manner. The team will be doing their bit; so we should make it a point to join the parade and help cheer the team to victory for the glory of "Old S. U."

If you neglected to see a performance of "The Heiress", you were most unfortunate. The play was very well done, and ADPi extends bushels of congratulations to Mr. Axel Kleinsorg and the cast for the excellent job they did.

Tonight Alpha Delta Pi will be entertaining their Patronesses and Alumni with a card party in Seibert Social Rooms where all the actives will turn out to meet their sponsors.

Last, but by no means least, ADPi extends best wishes to KD who celebrated their Founder's Day with a tea in Seibert Parlors on Sunday afternoon.

That's all for now, there isn't any more, but we'll see you all at the pep rally and the game this weekend.

KAPPA DELTA NEWS

What a week! How many tests have you kids failed, or should I say, just passed, this week? I think we all deserve at least a week's vacation when they're over. Agree?

Congratulations to the team for playing a good game. KD sympathies go to the players who received injuries, and remember, we're still with you.

On Saturday Kappa Delta held its annual Founder's Day Tea. We were glad to see the students who made an appearance.

Special congratulations to Dr. John Leach and the members of the marching band for winning second prize in the parade in Sunbury last Thursday night. We think you sound—in plain words—great!

A bouquet of white roses goes to Sister Susy Tharp who has been invited to become a member of Pi Gamma Mu, honorary social science fraternity. Congratulations also to Sister Maureen Ball who was elected to represent the sophomore class for Homcoming this Saturday.

It's going to be an exciting weekend. The pep rally, coronation, parade and dance will be on Friday, and then finally the exciting game between S.U. and Wilkes, and the formal Homecoming Dance in the evening. Homecoming decorations will be judged over the weekend. Last year Theta Chi received first prize.

Don't forget to get your parents' permission to donate blood if you are over 18 and under 21. The KD sponsored Blood Mobile will visit the campus on December 5. The quota is 50 pints, so let's all see what we can do to help.

He did it again! Mr. Axel Kleinsorg directed another successful production entitled "The Heiress". Hats off to the Susquehanna Players who did a fine job.

'Bye for now and, until next week, keep sluggin', keep pluggin', and have a good time!

"REBS" REVERSE FIELD ON "YANKS" IN FIRST "MASON-DIXON" INVASION

It was an "off" Crusader team that saw a hard fighting, but clean fighting, Bridgewater club power its way to their first victory in five starts. Better tackling, more bench strength, and more support by their fans when the chips were down, turned the tide against the Crusaders seeking their third victory in four starts.

The first in a series of injuries accurred four minutes after the opening kick off, when Chalmers Bartlow was hit from behind in a pile up and his left knee was injured. Both he and the trainers worked furiously to correct the trouble, but to no avail, and "the Duke" was taken to the hospital. "The Duke" will not be able to see any action for at least a week or two. A few minutes later Dick Purnell was hit hard and had to be removed from the game.

The second quarter was only a few minutes old when a pass from Dick Purnell fell short as he was hit again. It was intercepted by the Eagles on their own forty, and carried all the way for a 60-yard TD. As the quarter was coming to an end, the Eagles were stalled on our forty yard line when a pass was deflected by Dick Purnell, then by the Eagles' end, then by Walt Benham, and finally hauled down by an Eagle half back. This was the break they needed, and a few plays later Bridgewater drove over for the second score.

The half gave Coach Keil enough time to tape up his starting team, and with the exception of Bartlow, the third quarter started with the first team intact. It wasn't long before Ralph Ferraro was down with shoulder trouble, Purnell was hit again, Benham was shaken up, and Ritchie had to be rested after his hard running. With the ball on their own 30, a long pass eluded our defender, by this time worn and tired, and carried over for a 70 yard TD.

The fourth quarter was a devastating one as far as injuries went. Rube Foster who had played steadily since the second quarter, switching around between the backfield and end to give the starter a break, was hit and had to be benched. Ferraro was hurt again and this time couldn't get back in the play. Purnell went down and out for the third time, Benham was shaken up again, and the second string was called upon to fill the gaps. This quarter saw the Eagles run a 60 yard quarterback sneak for their final TD.

As the game was coming to a close the Crusaders quarterbacked by Bob Lewis, and led by the fine running of Ritchie, DelNero and Yanuklis, drove deep into Bridgewater territory and a TD run by John Yanuklis was nullified by a backfield in motion penalty.

We all know that there are many times when we are feeling down, or doubtful of our ability to accomplish a task, when a pat on the back, or a word of encouragement can give the self confidence, and supply that certain something necessary to pull us through. The team this week was in exactly this predicament. An individual could have gone to support the team if he were willing to sacrifice his aSturday night date, which certainly cost three dollars anyway. I'm not crying over spilt milk, but if you are an individual who likes to be proud of such things as winning teams, lets get down to Wagner in two weeks and show the team we are willing to give a little of ourselves in appreciation. The team is giving more than a "little" of themselves, and deserves more than a "nice game, Joe" when they pass us on campus.

"Saturdays' Best" Benched for Season

It has been decided by the Susquehanna Staff, upon the request of the team, that this column be altered. When an article is titled Saturday's Best, there is a problem every week in picking a "best" from a group of men who play as a team. We will select instead two players each week, and devote a few lines to each. This should both serve the purpose of acquainting the student body with its atheletes and of giving recognition to those who devote their time to spreading the name of Susquehanna to the public.

Girl's Hockey Team To Match Dickinson

Girls' varsity hockey has made a comback to S. U.'s campus! November 17 will initiate this new program, for on that date the girls from S. U. will travel to Carlisle where they will match skills with the members of the Dickinson hockey team. Other games will be scheduled later.

Although the girls are looking forward eagerly to this new program, intramural hockey has not been neglected. The games are still in full swing, and the winner of the round-robin wil be declared soon.

May we remind you again of the Homecoming coronation ceremony to be held in Seibert Chapel on Friday evening, October 26, at 7 p. m. An impressive program is being planned, and the identity of our queen will be revealed at that time. Why not plan on attending?—you won't regret it!

cus," is as gay and riotous of color as some of Utrillo's or Van Gogh's sunwashed canvasses. Two smaller pictures, entitled "Pennsylvania Gold" present a quiet rural landscape backed by mountains with an intensity of emotion that transforms them into something dynamic and almost dramatic. Four small studies of Pennsylvania barns have a quality reminiscent ,both in color and treatment, of some of the medieval minature paintings. A still life of flowers possesses a baroque opulence which contrasts with and yet compliments the other oils in the show. One of the most provocative studies in the exhibition is that entitled, "Primative Motivation of the Indian Dance." Done in the primitive colors and angular patterns of the Indian costume and dance-group, it is expressionistic and very provocative; it attracted a good deal of interested and favorable comment.

The nine water colors, done in a mixture of gouache and transparent paints, are, half of them, seascapes and marine studies centered around Cape May. Characterized by meticulous drawing and sure handling of the medium, they present a clean, cool, crisp aspect of the shore scenery that makes one recall trips to that area with longing. Two studies of Brazilian peasants are done in the broad, posterlike technique reminiscent of Toulouse-Lautrec, and quite at variance with the Cape May pictures. Two impressionistic studies of shells and seabeach foliage are noteworthy for their crisp delicacy and sure handling of form which recalls some of the themes so dear to the heart of Japanese wood-block artists. These, too, created a great deal of favorable comment.

The paintings of Lola Frantz rank among the very best that the University has been privileged to exhibit. It was a pleasure, too, to have had the artist and her husband, Raymond Frantz, of Waynesboro, present at the official opening of what is surely one of the most exciting shows seen at Susquehanna in a long time. The pictures will remain up through October 27.

The remaining exhibitions of the 1956-57 season are the following: Japanese prints, November 11-December 8; photographic studies by Professor Frederick Stevens of the Univeristy faculty, January 6-24; prints in mixed techniques, February 17-March 2; and paintings by Hilda Karniol, March 24-April 13.

Phi Mu Delta and Lambda Chi Alpha Remain Undefeated

The second week of intramural foothall action saw Lambda Chi Alpha sweep three successive games, thereby forging a one-half game lead in the highly competitive league. The results of last week's action are as follows:

Tuesday, October 16
Lambda Chi Alpha 12 G. A. Hall 0
Theta Chi 28 Sel. North 0

Wednesday, October 17
Lambda Chi Alpha 39 Sel. South 0
Phi Mu Delta 14 G. A. Hall 0

Thursday, October 18
Lambda Chi Alpha 7 Theta Chi 0
Only game scheduled

The "Bunders" from Lambda Chi engaged in a loosely played contest with G. A. Hall, managed to score two touchdowns in the second half, enough to win their second game of the campaign. Jim Stone and Gerry Herbster each tallied once for the victors.

In the other game of the afternoon, the "Big Red" from Theta Chi scalped the Selinsgrove North sextet.

On Wednesday the "Bunders" displaying an excellent brand of football, completely outclassed a helpless Selinsgrove South aggregation.

Phi Mu Delta emerged victorious for the third consecutive time defeating G. A. Hall. Clyde Wood and George Schlucterer each tallied a T. D., while Gene Witiak and Wood added the extra pts. on passes from Jim White.

The west field, behind Hassinger Hall, was the site for the game of the week Thursday afternoon, as Theta Chi and Lambda Chi battled it out for the league lead. These two teams up to this fray have been undefeated, untied, and unscored upon. The "Bunders" receiving the kickoff immediately drove to the goal line of the "Big Red" before being stopped short of the goal. Following the series of downs for the "Big Red", the "Bunders" took the pigskin and moved for the only TD of the game on a short pass from Jim Bortle to Gerry Herbster. These two combined to add the extra point. The rest of the game was all defense as neither team could build up a scoring opportunity.

W.A.A. OUTLINES CAMPUS ACTIVITY

The W.A.A. (Women's Athletic Association) plays an important part in the life of S. U. This organization is composed of girls who enjoy and participate in intramural sports. Many freshman girls have asked, "How can I become a member of the W.A.A.?", so this article has been written to help explain this organization to the new class.

The W.A.A. sponsors various intramural sports for girls. Included are hockey, volleyball, basketball, softball, badminton, tennis and ping pong. Each girl who participates in a sport receives 25 points. The number of points necessary for entrance into W.A.A. is 50. Thus participation in two sports will earn you a membership in the organization. After you have become a member there are other goals to attain. Upon reaching 250 points you receive class numerals; at 450 points you win a school letter; at 650 points a bronze cup (the jr. award) is awarded, and at this time you are eligible for membership in Tau Kappa, an honorary sports sorority for women; and at 950 points you earn the senior award—a silver cup. Each year the senior who most exceeds 1200 points is awarded a jacket. In addition to the 25 points given for a sport, you can earn extra points by scoring, timing, or refereeing the games.

The W.A.A. has other activities, too. Each spring it sponsors a dance. The concession stand at the football game is "manned" by W.A.A. members, and each year there is a banquet. Also groups of girls travel to other colleges for interscholastic sports.

Why don't you become a member of the W.A.A? Intramural hockey has just begun and all girls are welcome to sign up. The W.A.A. encourages and welcomes all of you to participate and have a lot of fun. Why not give it a try?

QUEEN ELIZABETH AND CRUSADERS REIGN OVER HOMECOMING FESTIVITIES

Stepping before the star-studded curtain, Miss Arlene Roberts, in a billowy white gown, set the mood for the coronation of the 1956 Homecoming Queen by singing, "When you Wish upon a Star." The curtain then opened on the '55 Queen, Miss Charlotte Sandt, in an apricot gown before a background of baby blue springled delicately with sparkling stars and dominated by the huge silver star that formed the back of the Queen's throne.

After introducing the '55 Queen, George Pospisil, acting as master of ceremonies, called the audience's attention to the '56 court that was entering from the rear.

Leading the court was Elizabeth Stradling, the senior representative, gowned in red velvet topped by fur and carrying a bouquet of red carnations. Following Miss Stradling was the junior representative, Carolann Zust, wearing a dark multi-colored plaid gown. The sophomore representative, Maureen Ball, and the freshman representative, Nancy Bricker, followed carrying pale yellow and pink carnations bouquets, respectively. Miss Ball was gowned in pale blue set off with sparkling silver sequinsl, while Miss Bricker wore a delicate aqua blue gown.

The court seated themselves on either side of the '55 Queen as Dick Kisslak sang, "My Little Angel" and Gracia Thomas danced for last year's Queen.

Miss Elizabeth Stradling then graciously received from Miss Sandt the royal crown as Homecoming Queen of 1956, and ascended the starry throne. She was then serenaded by Jim Maurer, who sang, "How Do You Speak to an Angel" after he had presented her with a bouquet of white mums luxuriously tied with a shiny white satin ribbon.

Walt Benham and Dick Purnell, co-captains of the Crusader eleven, presented the Queen with a football as a symbol of good luck which she returned to them before the game with Wilkes the next day.

Mr. Clyde R. Spitzner, president of the Susquehanna Alumni Association, was called upon to make a few remarks on behalf of the alumni. Mrs. Spitzner voiced gratitude for the welcome so cordially extended to the alumni and urged the team on to victory over Wilkes.

Queen Elizabeth and her court then recessed to conclude the 1956 Homecoming Coronation.

The smooth functioning splendor which distinguished the ceremony testified to the effort invested by Arlene Roberts and Thelma Rosetti as co-directors of the committee composed of Allan Hazen, publicity; Joy Klingler, programs; Don Abel, lights; and the faculty advisor, Miss Betsy McDowell.

VESPERS

Sigma Alpha Iota fraternity was in charge of vespers in the chapel on Sunday evening. The liturgist was Janet Gordon and the speaker was Mary Louise Neal. She spoke about the quest of youth. The hymns used were, "Saviour Like a Sheperd Lead Us", and "Lord Dismiss Us". The scripture was taken from Luke. Mary Moore was the organist.

BEAUTY . . . ?

Mickey Spillaine, amid the gory murders and senseless chases of a recent novel, asked an interesting question. Through one of his many female characters he hurled a perplexing query at the invincible Mike Hammer; a question to which Mike, quite unnaturally, was unable to reply. Perhaps you can do better. It is, simply: "Well, am I pretty or beautiful?" What would you answer if your girl suddenly asked this? Would you girls rather be pretty or beautiful?

Beauty is a combination of virtues which, taken together, are pleasing to the sense. A pleasant voice, a pleasant appearance and excellent poise are all necessary to beauty. Beauty is not skin deep, for it penetrates into the very soul and permeates the entire personality of the individual, bestowing rich rewards, so that we may truly observe, as did Byron;

"She walks in beauty, like the night
Of cloudless climes and starry skies;
And all that's best of dark and bright
Meet in the aspect of her eyes."

The old are often beautiful within; the young, beautiful without, but true beauty is the brief union of young and old; the merger of two imperfections into one awe-inspiring perfection which cannot last, but is only as a bright, blazing comet fleeing speedily across the dark sky, soon to disappear, and never again to return during a human lifetime.

"Beauty," wrote Francis Bacon, "is as summer fruits, which are easy to corrupt, and cannot last." Beauty is an empress, robed in the royal purple of education and crowned with the diamond tiara of an understanding heart. But the Empire of Beauty is doomed to a speedy conquest and her reign is short-lived.

But enough of beauty. Let us examine briefly the alternative—prettiness. A person who is "pretty" possesses all the qualities of beauty, although, perhaps in a somewhat lesser degree. She is well poised in every situation; she is pleasing to the eye and generally impresses one as being capable of coping with an unforseen occurence.

NEWS IN BRIEF

FTA Plans . . .

FTA will soon invade
Our local high schools in a raid.
What's it all about? During the week of November 11-17, the American Education Week Committee, under the chairmanship of Nancy Boyer, will present programs in several of the local high schools.
Just two more days of dark suspense;
Then the next meeting will commence.
Yes, on November 1, the FTA will hold its next meeting. What's the suspense? Well, at this writing the program has not yet been released to the public.
A member wouldn't you like to be?
Then one of these you ought to see:
Jerry Fletcher, Nancy Bumbarger, Bonnie Miller, Russ McTague, Evaleen Benfer, Dick Cahn, Betty Ormond, Sue Wahl, Lynn Hassinger, or one of the co-chairmen of the Membership Committee, Carolyn Gillaspie or Jerry Schlichter.

Administration . . .

President G. Morris Smith has attended special conference rallies for our centennial appeal. Last week he attended conferences in Altoona, Harrisburg, Lewistown, Lancaster, Watsontown and Somerset.

Last week Mr. Dan MacCuish attended several College Night Programs. On Monday night Mr. MacCuish visited the high school in Westmont Upper-Yoder, and on Thursday he visited the high school in Somerset. At these conferences high school students have an opportunity to consult with representatives of various colleges and universities.

ATTENTION!
FUTURE TEACHERS!

To all students in all schools of the University. If you are in any way interested in teaching as a profession, it is to your advantage to join the Susquehanna University chapter of the Future Teachers of America. Membership in this organization will entitle you to receive the journals of the two national organizations, to attend the interesting an dvaried FTA programs throughout the year, and, in general, become acquainted with pertinent policies to be followed as you enter the profession. Meetings are held on the first Thursday of every month and student membership is $3.00 for all persons with the exception of sophomore, junior, and senior music students affiliated with MENC. The fee for this group is $1.00.

If you are interested in joining this organization, give your money to any of the persons mentioned in the FTA article elsewhere on this page by Thursday, November 1.

"Frosh" Stunt Night Displays New Talent

The Freshman Stunt Night held on Thursday Night, October 24, was an enjoyable evening for all those who attended. It showed many hours of hard wok, and also proved that "this class has talent, and the spirit and cooperation to go with it." The show was under the direction of Pat Bodle and Ken James. Dick Horn was the pungent, epigrammatic master of ceremonies.

The program began promptly at 8:15 with the curtain opening as the group arrived on stage, singing "Deam Along With Me". From this casual beginning, the show proceeded in a sincere manner. Bill Furjanic was the drunk appearing at various times throughout the evening.

The program was as follows:
"Getting To Know You"—Joyce Bond and Sue Apgar, ukelele;
"Love is a Many-Splendored Thing"—Jim Maurer;
"Make Believe"—Cindy Smith and Dave Diehl;
Comedy Routine—Jim Hayward and Jack Clark;
"Nothin' Like a Guy"—Girls' Chorus;
"Nothin' Like a Dame"—Male Quartet (Jim Maurer, Ken James, Dave Diehl and Ralph Wagoner); Monologue—"Chief" Smith;
Pantomime—Day Students;
"Dry Bones"—Male Quartet;
"Ole Man River"—Dave Diehl;
"Courtin' in the Rain" Audience Participation with a monologue by Jack Clark;
Magic comedy monologue—Charles Rovenolt;
"If I Loved You"—George Gopie;
Kick Chorus Number;
"What a Show!"—Cindy Smith and entire group;

Joan Heslop directed the chorus, although she wasn't present for the production. The following girls were in the kick chorus:

Helene Schumacher, Carole Duncan, Sandy Risser, Izzy Carroll, Bonnie Gilfillan, Pat Eitzen, Pat Campbell, Jane Sanders, Cindy Smith, Ginny

MARINE CAPTAIN TO VISIT CAMPUS

Captain E. H. Ultey, USMC, Marine Corps Officer Procurement Officer will visit Susquehanna University, Thursday, Nov. 8, 1956, to interview students interested in obtaining a commission as a Second Lieutenant in the Marine Corps. Captain Utley will be at Susquehanna University from 10:00 a.m. till 4:00 p.m.

There are four officer training programs which the Marine Corps offers college students, which offer opportunities as ground officers or pilots. Seniors may be eligible for the Officer Candidate Course or Aviation Officer Candidate Course programs, and Freshmen, Sophomores and Juniors may be eligible for the Platoon Leaders Class or Platoon Leaders Class (Aviation) programs. None of these programs require specialized studies or drills during the school year.

Enrollees in the Platoon Leaders Class programs receive their commissions as Second Lieutenants in the Marine Corps Reserve after they have graduated from college. Seniors who enter the Officer Candidate Course are ordered to active duty after graduation and become Second Lieutenants upon successful completion of ten weeks of officer training at Marine Corps School, Quantico, Virginia.

Charlotte Sandt Relinquishes Throne To Liz Stradling in Festive Ceremony

A continuous light rain could not put a damper on the collegiate spirit as students and alumni observed a festive Homecoming celebration. Highlighting the big weekend was the coronation of Queen Elizabeth Stradling on Friday evening. The president of the Men's Student Council, George Pospisil, crowned the queen, and Queen Elizabeth reigned over the festivities that evening and the next day.

Following the coronation, a parade, ruled by the queen and her court, gave the citizens of Selinsgrove an eyeful and an earful of Susquehanna's spirit. The court, composed of Carolann Zust, Maureen Ball, and Nancy Bricker, was accompanied by the freshmen in costume, the band and cheerleaders, and various floats. Floats of the fraternities included a "fire engine" of Lambda Chi Alpha and a rock and roll theme exhibited by Phi Mu Delta. Alpha Delta Pi Sorority featured a "We Can Can Em" float, and Kappa Delta Sorority presented their traditional "KD piler". A bondfire and pep-rally followed the parade with a burning of a dummy representing the Wilkes team. Afterward students and alumni gathered in the student lounge for an informal dance.

The traditional freshman-sophomore football game was postponed due to the rain on Saturday morning, but the freshmen were overjoyed to learn that they could discontinue wearing their dinks anyway.

A council meeting was called by Cylde R. Spitzner, President of the General Alumni Association, for 10:30 Saturday morning. At noon there were luncheons at the fraternities.

The prizes for the best decorations of the fraternity houses and dormitories were awarded: first prize to Theta Chi for its presentation of Wilkes Falls with running water in a forest setting; second to Phi Mu Delta with its gigantic mug denoting "Drown Em"; and third to Lambda Chi Alpha for its Susquehanna-Lambda Chi Calendar.

Following the football game with Wilkes alumni gathered in Seibert Hall for a meeting and a tea.

Climaxing the Homecoming weekend was a formal dance in the college gymnasium, sponsored by the Panhellenic and Inter-Fraternity Councils. The dance theme was "Silver Symphony", and the gym was delightfully decorated in a blue and white and silver setting of streamers and stars. The queen and her court were presented to the large crowd of students, alumni, and guests in attendance. With dancing to the music of Al Bethel and his orchestra, the Homecoming Dance climaxed a delightful day of activity.

ESTABLISHED 1894

Published weekly throughout the school year, with the exception of Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter and Semester holidays, at a subscription rate of $2.50 a year.

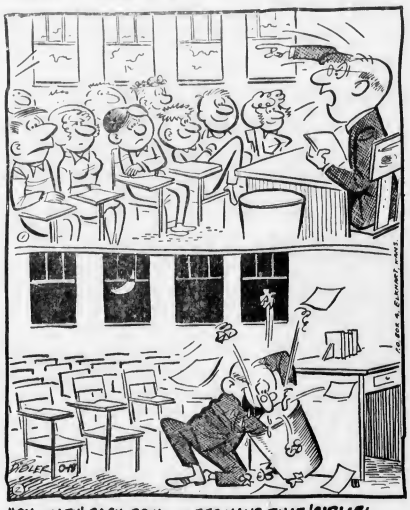
CONGRATULATIONS, COMMITTEES??

Do you think Homcoming was a success this year? Or, let's be more specific, do you think the dance was a success? If you attended, you probably think so and you probably had a fine time. But do you know who was responsible for the gala affair? No, not the committees, but the CHAIRMEN of the various committees. For a week before the dance the committee chairmen worked on publicity, decorations, refreshments, and tickets without the expected cooperation and assistance of the numerous committee members.

One of the biggest and most important jobs was that of decoration, and yet the entire job was done by two co-chairmen and a few conscientious individuals who were not members of the committee. Maybe the fault lies in the manner in which the committees are selected. Why not select people who will do the work and not only those who are favorites of the person making up the committees? A little thought given to the people who are asked to serve might make the entire job a lot easier.

Of course, this is not the first time an important event was paralleled by lack of cooperation. It seems that students want to attend dances and so forth, to show-off a particular "date," or that new gown, or just to prove how popular they are. They give little or no thought to the people who made the whole affair possible. Therefore, congratulations committee chairmen, YOU did a fine job!

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler



"OK, IN TH' BACK ROW — LETS HAVE THAT 'GIRLIE' MAGAZINE UP HERE IN THIS BASKET!"

Prettiness is beauty plus practicality, for a pretty girl is useful while a beautiful girl is not necessarily anything but beautiful. Ruskin asserts, "The most beautiful things in the world are the most useless; peacocks and lilies, for example."

Beauty is to look upon and wonder. It has no value unless, when combined with usefulness, it is transformed into prettiness. It is as gold in Voltaire's Eldorado—it is pleasant to gaze upon and quite decorative but also utterly devoid of value.

FRATERNITY ROW

The sentiment of the Susquehanna Crusader fans is best expressed by the closing words of Saturday's football announcer, Brother George Pospisal. "It's a rainy day, but the sun shines on Susquehanna". The remark, although it may be slightly mispuoted, expresses not only the sentiment for the football game; but for the entire weekend as well.

Lambda Chi's banquet at the Dutch Pantry Saturday night was entirely successful. The brothers wish to thank coach "Whitey" Keil for his interesting discourse; and wish, also, to express their appreciation for the attendance of alumni.

Congratulations to Liz Stradling, Homecoming Queen; to Theta Chi for winning he "house-decoraion" prize; and to those who helped prepare the Homecoming dance. Mention is also made of the fine parade and bonfire which were on Friday night. Many are deserving of congratulatory mention for applying their effort to the success of the weekend.

In intramurals, the brothers lost their first game to a good Phi Mu Delta team last week. Lambda Chi won Thursday by the forfeit of Selinsgrove North.

We wish to thank Lynn Hassinger for her clerical assistance.

The serenade, by the sisters of Kappa Delta, was sincerely enjoyed by the brothers.

In summary: a fine weekend; now "back to the books" and to anticipation of a football victory next Saturday.

PHI MU DELTA

Another Homecoming Day is written off the books of Susquehanna, and with it another fabulous day in the college year. We, at Mu Alpha chapter, sincerely hope that everyone who attended this year's festivities had a wonderful time and will return next year on Homecoming to join in the fun again.

Phi Mu Delta started off the gayeties this past weekend with an informal gathering of the alumni and actives at the Blue Hill restaurant on Friday night. On Saturday we had a luncheon for the alumni and their guests. Then, on Saturday night, was the observance of the annual Alumni Banquet at the Blue Hill restaurant with a fine group in attendance. Mu Alpha was especially happy to welcome this weekend Mr. Lloyd K. Miller, our National Treasurer, and his lovely wife; Mr. Clyde Spitzner, pesident of the S. U. Alumni Association; and Mr. Warern Pirie, president of ou own chapter alumni association. To these, and all our other guests, we extend a welcome to come back and visit with us again as soon as possible.

Congratulations to the Homecoming Dance committee for the fine decorations and the great music they provided for the dance on Saturday night. Everyone concerned deserves special commendations for their efforts.

Congratulations of the highest order to Miss Elizabeth Stradling who was chosen as Queen to reign over the Homecoming festivities. May you always have days as wonderful as this, Liz. Congratulations, also, to the very pretty court of Queen Elizabeth who are, Miss Carolann Zust, Miss Maureen Ball, and Miss Nancy Bricker.

Congratulations go to Theta Chi for winning first prize in the Homecoming decorations. Mu Alpha chapter took second place with a representation of a fraternity mug with a Wilkes player hanging headfirst into the mug, and a sign proclaiming "Drown 'Em!" We wish to thank all the brothers who had a part in making both the house decorations and the float.

Best wishes to brother Pete Nunn and Ruth Scott who were engaged the week before Homecoming, and brother Jerry Musselman, completing his third semester in advanced Navy, and Linda Youhon who were engaged on Homecoming Day.

Mu Alpha welcomes four new members who were initiated last Wednesday evening. They are Harry Leonard, Guy Frisk, Harry Haney, and George Thies. We are proud to have them as brothers of Phi Mu Delta.

On the sports scene last week the Black and Orange of Phi Mu Delta emerged victorious over Lambda Chi Alpha in the last intramural football contest of the first half of play. The Mu Aphs controlled the game completely, only once allowing the "Bunders' 'to move the pigskin over the midfied stripe. George Schlucterer caught a pass in the end zone for the only score of the game. Congratulations to the team for their tremendous play in the contest.

THETA CHI NEWS

Despite the fact that old man sol kept his face hidden this weekend proved to be the best Homecoming in many a year. From beginning to end everybody seemed to have a wonderful time.

The coronation on Friday was radiantly beautiful. The Brothers of Theta Chi bow low in congratulations to Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth. Her court added a circle of glitter to an already beaming queen. Congratulations to all! Also congratulations to Brother Dick Kisslak for his singing of "My Little Angel" at the coronation.

The parade this year was especially enjoyable. The brothers pleasureably noted the firemen antics of Lambda Chi Alpha. Also liked were the floats of Alpha Delta Phi, Kappa Delta and Phi Mu Delta. The brothers were also pleased to note the budding humorous spirit of the freshman. Those that fell into the fun of Hell Night are to be congratulated! Everyone we are sure, had a lot of laughs.

The brothers were happy to welcome back many of its alumni. Old acquaintances were renewed and many new ones made. We hope that all of them will return soon again. A buffet lunch was served, with Brother Chester Hall handling the arrangements.

It might be mentioned that Chester made the pearl studded Queen's crown. These artistic hands have been responsible for making almost all of the other campus crowns seen in the past few years. "A really lovely job, Chet".

Homecoming decorations showed great originality and a lot of really good displays. Everyone is to be congratulated.

Theta Chi is proud to salute all its brothers who helped to bring the winning Homecoming Decoration Trophy to our house again. Under the gifted leadership of Gary Schroeder and Don James the house was turned into a woodland mountain scene. Cascading over the mountain was a shimmering water fall—this carrying out the theme "Wilkes-Falls". The brothers worked diligently hard on this masterful setting. They gathered moss, dug up trees, painted scenery and joked far into the night. But all this was worth the effort as the trophy was awarded to us for the second straight time. Congratulations men!

Under the furious onslaughter of the Crusaders, Wilkes succumbed to a 31-7 defeat. This is the first time SU has scored as many points within undergraduate's memories and it does the upperclassmen's heart good. Congratulations team, you really looked great! Special applause goes to Brother Jack Anthony who played an outstanding game.

Facilitations also go to Coach Whitey Keil and Bob Pittello for their hard driving spirited tuteledge.

Congratulations are in order to all those connected with making the event of Homecoming a great success. While it would be impossible to mention everyone here, congratulations go to everyone. The dance was enjoyed mightly by all the brothers.

Other events of the week: The Freshman Stunt Night was a huge success . . . the Brothers would like to welcome their new cook, Mrs. Tharp . . . (We hope she enjoys us as much as we appreciate her) . . . Congratulations to Kappa Delta for their fine serenade.

Fat Thought for the Week: Everyone is rather tired but happy this week.

ALPHA DELTA PI

A week of excitement and fun has come to an end for all the sisters of ADPi. We all wish to thank the football team for making our week complete with their rout of the Wilkes Colonels. Even though the weatherman didn't cooperate the spirit wasn't dampened by the elements. We were glad to welcome back the alumni to our campus. It was good to see old, familiar faces once again.

Theta Chi is to be congratulated on their winning of the Homecoming Decoration contest. It was the second victory in a row for the "Big Red". They also entertained us with their "wild Indians" in their Theta Betata parade on Thursday night.

We wish to express our thanks to everyone who had anything to do with the most successful Homecoming Dance held in the gym on Saturday night. The Sisters enjoyed the decorations and especially the music of Al Bethel and his aggregation, one of the best bands heard at S. U.! Special thanks go to Co-Chairmen Art Zimmerman and Sister Nancy Forrest. Congratulations are also in order for the lovely queen of Homecomin, Her Majesty, Liz Stradling and her equally lovely court.

ADPi patronesses were feted this week when the patroness party was held Tuesday night in Seibert social rooms. Food, "card sharks" and group singing made the card party a success for those who attended.

Between floats, serenades, Kappa Delta's in particular, and rallies, the week was one of activity. We did enjoy the singing of the green and white on Thursday night. Also, we were much impressed with the "worm" that they presented in their traditional style. ADPi also had their share of activity in preparing their entry in the float parade. The sisters wish to thank the "Garter-wearing" sisters who made the powder blue and white "We Can-Can 'Em" float such a success.

KD NEWS

Once again—back to the old grind, after a full week of excitement. It was good to see all our KD Alumni back for the game.

Congratulations to the team for the terrific victory over Wilkes College on Saturday. From the talk going around it looks as though this campus is going to be deserted next week. Most of the students will be at the game rooting for you, football players. We want you to win!

Best wishes to Liz Stradling, who was elected by the student body to reign as queen of the Homecoming festivities. Also congratulations to Carolann Zust, Nancy Bricker and Sister Maureen Ball who made up the court. They certainly made a pretty picture at the dance on Saturday night. We appreciate Chester Hall's work on making the queen's crown.

Theta Chi really reserves a basket full of praise for winning the Homecoming Decoration Cup two years in a row. They showed their support of the football team in a big way by having the Pep rally on Thursday night. Also congrats to Phi Mu Delta and Lambda Chi for placing 2nd and 3rd respectively.

A bouquet of roses to Sister Janis Adams and Sister Maureen Ball who were in charge of the "worm" which made its appearance in the Homecoming parade. Me thinks my poor sisters all have aching backs from carrying it. Ah well, any thing for KD. We all missed the band at the game on Saturday.

Hats off to the freshman for having such an entertaining stunt night.

Goodbye everybody. See you next week.

Campus Spotlights

The spot light falls this week upon Arthur Zimmerman, a guiding light in his own right. "Zimmie", as he is affectionately called by all who know him, is a senior from Sunbury, Pennsylvania. While in high school Zimmie participated actively on the student council, yearbook staff, Rifle Club, Community Center Board of Directors, and played standout ball for both the Basketball and Baseball teams.

ARTHUR ZIMMERMAN

As a personnel specialist in the air force, Zimmie spent 2½ of his 3 year hitch serving as General McCarthy's personal aid in Ashiya, Japan. Being discharged on January 7, 1954, Zimmie immediately realized the necessity of a college education and enrolled in the business administration course at Penn State only 3 weeks after his discharge. While at Penn State Zimmie participated on the track team and the Accounting Club.

Since transferring to Susquehanna, Zimmie has been extremely active in campus life taking part in the S.C.A., Business Society, Freshman Orientation Committee, the now extinct Veterans Organization, the Inter-Fraternity Senate, and The Susquehanna Staff. Perhaps the work of Art, as one of those who led in the merger of Bond & Key with Lambda Chi Alpha, will be his most momentous contribution to those who follow. His part in the merger, as the last president of Bond & Key and first president of Lambda Chi Alpha, was a difficult and trying one, and he may never realize the gratitude of everyone who followed him for his leadership.

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA

Another busy week-end is over and we're back in the old routine. Many activities took place and we welcomed many alums.

Congratulations to Coach "Whitey" Keil and the team for the wonderful victory on Saturday. Good luck at Wagner!

Congratulations also to the lovely Liz Stradling who reigned as Homecoming Queen. Sigma Omega was proud to have Sister Carolann Zust as the junior class representative in the Court.

Over the week-end we were glad to see many SAI alums. Sisters Liz Ford, Anna Dorward, Janet Gerner, Maggie Sultzbaugh, Mary Naugle, Carol Dauberman, Peggy Weber Millard, and Rose Marie Sharretts Coates attended the Homecoming festivities.

Sunday evening Sisters Gloria Myers, Carolyn Gillaspie, Carolann Zust, and Alice Ann Patterson sang in Trinity Luthearn church in Ephrata with the motet choir in the connection with the synod campaign for funds for S. U.

Last evening several Sigma Omego sisters entertained at an Eastern Star program in Sunbury. The program was arranged by Mrs. Alice Giauque, and sisters who performed included Gloria Myers, Mary Moore, Carolyn Gillaspie, Alice Ann Patterson and Mary Davis.

Congratulations to Dr. John Leach and the band for winning $125 in the Sunbury Halloween parade last Thursday. The band will also participate in the Selinsgrove parade tonight.

Thank you to Sister Mary Louise Neal who was speaker, Janet Gordon who was liturgist, and Mary Moore who was organist for the SAI sponsored vespers on Sunday evening.

Date to remember: November 12 the Sigma Omega chorus will sing over WKOK in Sunbury at 10:30 p. m. Tune in!

A bouquet of red roses to Sister Linda Yohoun on her engagement to Jerry Musselman.

DAZZLING DISPLAY BY KEILMEN DISARM WILKES COLONELS

As a large enthusiastic crowd waited in the rain for the 1956 Homecoming game to begin, the Queen and her court arrived amid the cheers of the onlookers.

Homecoming Queen, Elizabeth Stradling, returned the game ball to co-captains Walt Benham and Dick Purnell, and the Crusaders promptly strode out to the gridiron and trounced Wilkes College 31-7.

A rain soaked field failed to dampen the spirits of Coach "Whitey" Keil's charges as they thrilled the large crowd of alumni and undergraduates with their third victory of the season.

Dick Purnell, looking like an All-American, sparked his team to five touchdowns, scoring two of them himself and passing for another.

After an exchange of fumbles on the slippery turf, the Crusaders began to move on a pass from Purnell to Jack Anthony good for 22 yards. Then Purnell broke away for 26 more yards to put the ball on Wilkes 15 yard line. Ray Richie carried to the 5 and the drive bogged down as Wilkes took over on their own 4 yard line. On the fourth down the Colonels were forced to punt. Walt Benham and Dan Marvin crashed through to block the kick and Susquehanna had the ball on the four. Purnell, on a sneak, cracked over for the T.D. Dick converted and the Crusaders took the lead they never relinquished, 7-0.

With five minutes remaining in the first period Purnell speared a Wilkes pass and sprinted 32 yards for the second Maroon touchdown. His kick was low and the first quarter ended with S. U. leading 13-0.

In the second quarter, the Crusaders steamroller started from its own 10 yard line. Purnell fired strikes to John Yanuklis and Ray Richie to put the ball on the losers 28 yard line. Then Purnell pitched another pass to his favorite target, Yanuklis, who made a leaping grab of it, and scampered into the end zone. John tried to go around right end for the extra point, but was stopped short.

One and one half minutes remained in the first half, when Ron Rescigno, a real workhorse for the Colonels, went wide around the left side on the fourth down. He was nearly trapped, shook off several tacklers and reversed his field; he picked up a few blockers and circled his right end for Wilkes only score of the day. Wozniak converted and S. U. led 19-7.

Yanuklis once again gathered in one of Purnell's aerials that was good for 30 yards. With 30 seconds left, Purnell powered his way to the enemy 5 yard line, but the first of three costly penalties ended the threat and the first half.

The Crusaders lost no time as the third period got undeway. Ray Richie took a pitchout from Purnell and dashed 39 yards for T. D. number four. Purnell's kick was no good and the score was 25-7.

Wilkes promptly fumbled the ensuing kickoff and the Keilmen recovered on the 32 yard line. Bob Lewis smashed to the 16, and Richie again took a pitchout and ran into the end zone for his second touchdown in three minutes. Walt Benham tried to hit the scoring column with a drop kick but it fell short.

At this point in the game Coach Keil put his second and third stringers into the game. The anti-climax, however, was yet to come.

Near the close of the third quarter, Dick Purnell thrilled the crowd with a spectacular 79 yard jet-propelled jaunt, but a penalty nullified the score.

As the final, period started, the brilliant Purnell threaded his way through the entire Wilkes team, aided by a beautiful block thrown on the safety man. Purnell galloped 67 yards and once again brought the crowd to their feet with what looked like another score. But that beautiful block was called clipping and again the play was called back.

The Crusaders subs played out the remainder of the game and Susquehanna walked off the field with a 31-7 Homecoming Day victory.

The next game is away with Wagner College of Staten Island. Then in two weeks Haverford College will visit Selinsgrove to close out the season.

The Susquehanna Presents!

The staff of The Susquehanna takes pride in presenting to the student body this week, two freshmen who have helped make Susquehanna's first winning season in many years a reality.

Whenever there is a pile-up anywhere on the field, you can usually count on Ralph "Porkie" Ferarro to be right in there where the going is the roughest. Porkie is a 5' 10", 208 lb., 18 year old lad from Union City, New Jersey. He attended St. Michaels' High School where he played such a good brand of football that he was elected to the All-Metropolitan Team ,an honor that is anything but easy to attain. His shoulder has been giving him a lot of trouble this year, and he has to have a special brace when he is playing. About all you can say about a guy like Porkie is, "You're a great man"!

It is a true sign of intestinal fortitude when an individual who tilts the scales at 130 pounds can take the jarring contacts that Ray "The Splinter" Richie takes as if they were just "love taps".

While playing ball for Shamokin High School, The Splinter was the second highest scorer on the ball club. In his sophomore year, playing against none other than Dick Purnell & Company from Ashland High School, Ray returned a punt 96 yards for a touchdown to set a record for his school. Ray is a business student who can knock out grades as easily as he does touchdowns, so we can be sure he'll be around for some time to come.

SPORTS SHORTS

By GEORGE POSPISIL

The score against Wilkes could have been in the fifties if the referees and Coach "Whitey" Keil had not taken mercy on the Colonels. . .

Wagner College, the next foe, has yet to win this season. They lost to Ursinus 20-13 on Saturday. . . On the other hand Haverford College dopped their first contest after going undefeated in 7 games, to Hamilton 41-6. . . Here's one for you, mediocre Dickinson knocked off Swarthmore 7-6.

The freshmen-sophomore game may be played on the morning of the Haverford game.

Basketball coach Ed Pfeiffer has started two-a-week practice sessions and will swing into high gear on Nov. 1st. He is optimistic about his teams' chances this year, and who can blame him? He has his entire squad returning from last year, which includes a point-making machine called Frank Romano. Frank was ranked ninth in the nation in scoring and made third string All-State. This is Frank's senior year and he hopes to make it his best. . .

Looks like Lambda Chi Alpha's undefeated streak in intramural football has finally been snapped. Phi Mu Delta turned the trick after the Bunders had gone without a loss for two years. It all makes for an interesting race, and shows what team work and determination can do. . .

—S—

INTRAMURALS

The weatherman, along with three forfeits, put the damper on last week's action as only one game was played. However the one game that was played was a very exciting and important contest, for the winner would take over first place in the league.

Phi Mu Delta, displaying a very destructive passing attack, squeezed by Lambda Chi Alpha, 6 to 0. It was a give and take battle until late in the first half; Bob Fiscus intercepted a Jim Bortle pass and ran it back to the five yard line of the "Bunders". On the second play following, Jim White hit George Schlucterer with what proved to be the winning touchdown. The try for the extra point was broken up by Dick Neff. Phi Mu threatened in the second half but could not dent the goal line any more.

The standings to date with the point: accumulated thus far for the Amos Alonzo Stagg Trophy are as follows:

	W	L	Pts.
Phi Mu Delta	5	0	41
Lambda Chi Alpha	5	1	40
Theta Chi	4	1	37
G. A. Hall	1	4	25
Selinsgrove N.	1	5	24
Selinsgrove S.	0	5	26

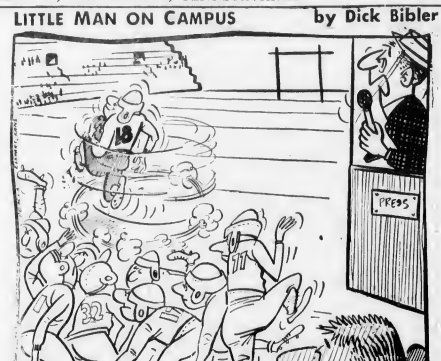
LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler



"AN ON THIS PLAY IS RUNS TH' BALL AROUND HIS OWN RIGHT END"

Autumn
Is a colorful time.
The leaves
Change their Green dress for Bright shades of Red and green and Tumble gaily to the ground,
For children to rake
Into huge piles
To run and jump into.
Halloween comes too,
With witches, goblins,
And ghosts.
Autumn
Is the football season.
The world of sports
Changes from baseball
To football.
Games mean
High excitement,
Bright banners,
Pom pom courages,
Drilling bands and their music,
With cheerleaders leading Crowds of people who Cheer the home team on.

Centennial Appeal Well on Way to Goal

The Susquehanna University Centennial Appeal for $700,000 is already well underway. A total of $206,000 has thus far been raised from alumni and friends of the university. The additional $500,000 is to be solicited from the 675 Lutheran Churches comprising the Central Pennsylvania Synod.

November 4-11 has been designated as Susquehanna week during which an effort will be made to acquire most of the funds. A new music building to cost approximately $300,000 and an addition to the library which will double its size are slated for construction upon receipt of the funds.

The conducting of the appeal has been placed at the disposal of the committee headed by the Rev. Mr. Robert W. Koons of Zion Lutheran Church, Sunbury, and Mr. Oscar L. Lingle, a businessman and active Lutheran layman of Harrisburg. The third floor of the Lutheran Church House, 2600 North Third Street, in Harrisburg has been placed at the disposa of the committee for the appeal.

The Susquehanna Conference, the University's home conference, rallied its 126 churches in a special Susquehanna service held at First Lutheran Church, Watsontown, last Wednesday.

PHI KAPPA PHI TO HEAR MEADER

Thursday evening, November 8, at 7:00 p.m., Phi Kappa Phi will hold its second meeting of the year in Bogar Hall.

Professor Robert F. Meader will speak to the group, choosing as his subject, "Virgil", and pointing out modern day relationships to his subject. Mr. Meader is well qualified to come before those of us who are interested in civilization by virtue of his broad experience in this field both in teaching and in his private life.

All students are urged to attend this meeting and broaden their views on their ancient heritage.

KIRK TO ADDRESS BIEMIC SOCIETY

The regular meeting of the Biemic Society was held on November 6. Immediately following the meeting, the Corning Glass Film was shown. The movie was very interesting and was enjoyed by all.

The next Biemic meeting will be held November 12, 1956 instead of November 19, 1956. This change is necessary because on this date we are privileged to have on our campus Dr. Kirk, Dean of the Graduate School of the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn, who will be guest speaker at the Biemic Society.

Dr. Kirk received his B. S. degree from the University of Nebraska and his Ph.D. degree from Cornell University. He has taught at Iowa State College, University of Minnesota and Montana State College and was professor of inorganic chemistry at Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn from 1931 until 1944. At this time he became Dean of the Graduate School of the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn. Dr. Kirk is also director of the American Chemical Society. In 1954, he received the Scientific Apparatus Makers' Award in Chemical Education. He is co-editor of the Encyclopedia of Chemical Technology.

Dr. Kirk will speak on "Science as a Career," which will also include the opportunities for graduate training today. Everyone is invited to attend. This meeting will be held in Steele Science 100 on November 12, 1956.

"GOOD OR EVIL" PRE-THEO THEME

The regular meeting of the Pre-Theological Club was held Thursday night, November 1, 1956 at 7 p. m. in Bogar 103. The business meeting was conducted by the president Ken Zimmerman. There were twenty-five members present. Pastor Eugene Steigerwalt and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lotz were also present.

The program for the evening was the movie "For Good Or Evil." This picture discussed the uses of money, both good and bad. Following the showing of the film a discussion period was held.

The next regularly scheduled meeting is December 6.

Mobile X-Ray Unit Visits Susquehanna

On October 29, the mobile chest x-ray unit was on S. U.'s campus. Some interesting observations were made by the students who received an x-ray:

"The whole thing was painless; however I felt that the use of the same chin-holder was unsanitary."
Larry Wingard

"I liked those girls—It wasn't hard to fill out my chest for them."
Allan Roshon

"I found out I had one." One what? "A chest!"
Skitch Hiller

"This opportunity for free public health is a wonderful thing in America. Of course, this is an advantage brought about by the Eisenhower (did you get that?) administration."
S. DeCamp

Results. "Cancer & T.B." (tin brains)."
Mike Edwards

Seriously now, many more students should have availed themselves of such a simple and worthwhile process as getting an x-ray. This program can be effective but only if all the students take part.

Thanks to Miss Heinley and some of the medical secretaries for giving their service to aid in this chest x-ray program.

"STAMPEDED"

Who said the days of the "Old West" have vanished from the face of the earth? (It wasn't I). The most colorful and yet the most appalling event of the past era still lives on right under our noses, (except for a few changes).

If you recall your history (you'd better if you expect to pass any history courses here), you will remember that during the days of the great cattle drives to distant railheads there were, sometimes, spectacular (not produced by Max Liebman) stampedes. These were often set off by only the slightest noise and the cry would go up, "Stampede". In these stampedes the cattle weren't heading for anywhere in particular, they were just trying to escape from what scared them.

We have modified this, somewhat. For example, where else can we find a better example, of this past terror, than the conduct before meals. Three times a day a crowd (of people in this case) collects in front of each of the two doors to the dining-hall milling around and catching up on

VESPERS

Dave Wise, representing Phi Mu Delta, was in charge of vespers on Sunday evening. The subject of his talk was "The Disciplined Prayer Life of a Christian". The scripture was taken from II Timothy 4:6-8 and the hymns were "Lovely Divine all Love Excelling" and "Lord, Teach Us How to Pray". The organist was Alice Ann Patterson.

Dr. Nace Addresses Future Teachers

The Susquehanna University chapter of the Future Teachers of America held its monthly meeting on Thursday evening, November 1, in Bogar Hall. Plans for future meetings and American Education Week were discussed.

The Reverend Dr. Oliver Nace, of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church of Selinsgrove gave an interesting and informative outline of the release time school in Selinsgrove. The procedures that need to be followed in forming such a school were stressed in the talk.

At present there are forty-four members in the S. U. Chapter of F. T. A., one of the largest chapters in this state. Anyone wishing to join the organization may do so for the remainder of the week. Membership dues are $3.00 which can be paid to anyone of the officers. Music students affiliated with MENC need only pay $1.00 local dues to become a member.

Famed Duo, "Nelson & Neal", to Appear In November 9 Star Course Attraction

Nelson and Neal, America's most popular two-piano team, will be presented in a concert here on November 9th. The event will take place in Seibert Chapel at 8:15.

NELSON & NEAL

Nelson and Neal (Mr. and Mrs. Neal) travel with their two children in a specially constructed mobile unit which also carries their two matched concert grand pianos. For several years, Nelson and Neal have been breaking records all over the world in the tremendous schedule of concerts which they maintain, usually over a hundred a year. In recognition of their outstanding accomplishments in the profession, the Baldwin Piano Company recently presented them with the two specially matched concert grands which they will use here in Selinsgrove.

Over six million Americans read their life story in the January 1956 issue of the Ladies Home Journal. Its title "Wave As You Pass!", was taken from the sign on the rear of their mobile unit.

Allison Nelson is a native of Australia, while Harry Neal is from Tennessee. The young couple met and married in Philadelphia where both were studying at the famed Curtis Institute of Music. They now spend their summers in a large southern colonial home in Paris, Tennessee, and the rest of the year on concert tours.

Their musical program will consist of various pieces including a few original scores composed by the performers.

Hallowe'en Dinner

Horton Dining Room was the scene of the annual Hallowe'en dinner on October 30. The tables were decorated with big black cats, candles, candy and lollipops. The waiters and waitresses wore masks and bermudas. When they entered the dining room, they sang "Happy Halloween To You."

Bob Wilhauer, who waited on the faculty table, had on a big fur coat and bright red bonnet. He looked like Old Mother Hubbard.

S. U. Hosts County Career Conference

On Wednesday, November 7, Susquehanna University will be host to the annual Snyder County High School Career Conference. The Conference will begin at noon with a luncheon in the Horton Dining Room for the school administrators and consultants.

Over eight hundred students will visit the campus from the three county high schools. Selinsgrove Area Joint High School will send students from grades nine to twelve. Middleburg Joint High School and West Snyder High School will sponsor their junior and senior classes.

BOOK NOOK

Have you just failed a lit test? Are you stumped by an accounting problem? Does the word, education, or any related word make you feel depressed? You need to read Lowry W. Harding's book, Essays in Educology.

This book brings out the important sixth sense of education—the sense of humor. By short essays the author makes you realize that this sixth sense is very essential to every person in th efield of education. In the essay, "The Art of Confusion," the professor expounds to a graduate student the scholarly method—the method of making simple things difficult.

The library has received the first Dance Annual News in which writers of the United States, England, France and Canada survey the field of ballet, modern dance, musica comedy dance and dance of the movies and television.

"Amelcan Heritage," June 1956 and August 1956, the magazine of history, edited by Bruce Catton, contains colorful pictures and fascinating articles about our American history.

When your club needs some entertainment, consult The Master Stunt Book by Lawrence Brings. This book is crammed full of skits and sketches ,which can be performed by amateur groups.

Next time you are in the library, browse through the books which have arrived recently. I'm sure you will find one you like.

Talented Members of Women's Auxiliary Present Program of Music at Meeting

The Women's Auxiliary of Susquehanna University held its regular monthly meeting on Saturday afternoon, November 3rd, in Seibert Hall on the University Campus.

The president, Mrs. Charles A. Nicely of Watsontown, opened the meeting and introduced Mrs. James Shannon, Middleburg, chairman of Devotions. Mrs. Shannon used the Commandments of Jesus Christ as set forth in the New Testaments for the basis of her meditation. She stressed the necessity of each Christian using these Commandments in daily life.

Following the devotional period a delightful program of music was presented by several talented members of the Auxiliary. Mrs. Alice Glauque, a member of the music faculty, introduced the participants. The program consisted of the following numbers:

Mrs. Norman Heimbach, Soprano
"Thanks" ..... O'Hara
"When Love is Kind"
Irish Folk Tune
"Calm as the Night" ..... Bohm
She was accompanied by Mrs. Edward Turnbach.

Mrs. Russell Hatz, Pianist
"The Swan" ..... Palmgren
"The Lark" .... Glinka-Balakireff

Mrs. Kenneth Badger, Contralto
"A Spirit Flower" Campbell-Tipton
"Berceuse" ..... Baton
"Don' You go a Frettin" .... Grey
"Sunbeams" ..... Ronald
She was accompanied by Miss Mary Potteiger.

Mrs. David Volk, Organist,
Two choral preludes from The Liturgical Year by J. S. Bach:
"In Death's Strong Grasp the Savior Lay"
"I Call to Thee Lord Jesus Christ"
"Finlandia" ..... Jean Sibelius

The business session was called to order with Mrs. Charles Nicely, president, in the chair.

Reports were presented and approved as read. The financial secretary reported a total membership to date of one thousand seven hundred and ninety two.

Favorable action was taken by the Executive Board to increase to twenty five dollars the annual award for the best script written for the May Day Pageant.

The Following book entries were presented:

For the Children's Book—Terrence Keith Burns, honored by his grandmother, Mrs. James Thompson.

For the Golden Book—Mr. and Mrs. J. Ambrose Neff, Sr., memorialized by their daughter, Mrs. Jesse Gulick.

Dr. G. Morris Smith, president of the university, graciously commended the Auxiliary members for their continued interest and fine financial support.

An enjoyable social hour was held in Seibert Social Rooms following the afternoon meeting. Mrs. Edward Turnbach and Mrs. Max Valsing, co-chairmen, were in charge of the Coffee Hour.

Mrs. Eugene Steigerwalt and Mrs. William Stauffer received, and Mrs. Harry Wilcox and Mrs. James Wirt poured.

To the Polls, Men! To the Polls!

According to the views of certain sociologists, there seems to be, on the part of a significant number of Americans, an attitude in favor of war. This particular concept may prove surpraising to a number of individuals, and in view of present world situations their objections seem to have sufficient ground on which to stand. We are all aware of world conditions as they stand today. We, as young Americans, are faced, possibly for the first time in our short memory, with the threat of a world war. During our lives we have been the fortunate "victims" of peace, progress, and prosperity to adopt a current political slogan. We have lived in a world which proved capabe of satisfying our daily needs, providing for our physical well being and exciting within us a true sense of gratitude and thanksgiving for our liberty and justice. Certainly, we are not in favor of war. However, how well do we realize just why our past years were in such close accordance with human desires. Lying in back of our comfort and security is an institution of gigantic size and infinite value. This institution which is the very backbone of our nation is, of course, our democratic national government. We the people, are this government, and it is our innate responsibility as Americans to see that this political machine is perpetuated. YOU, as an American, who for the past twenty-two or more years, have been a parasite on the prosperity of this nation, are morally obligated to go to the polls and vote wisely, on Tuesday, November 6.

You've all heard the old story of how your grandfathers have fought and died that you might live in a nation free from monarchical jurisdiction. Well, don't forget it it might be old, but each word of it is backed by an overwhelming quality of truth. And, for the benefit of the female sex, let me remind you of your grandmothers who made public spectacles of themselves as they stood on street corners and cried, "Suffrage for women!" They didn't go through all this for the sake of exercising their vocal cords. They sincerely believed in the equality of men and demanded a voice in the government which controlled them. You know the story; they got what they wanted. And you, as direct decendants of all the Susan B. Anthonys, have the immediate responsibility of exercising the vote of American women. On Tuesday, November 6, 1956, let the battle cry of every qualified American be: "TO THE POLLS, MEN. TO THE POLLS!"

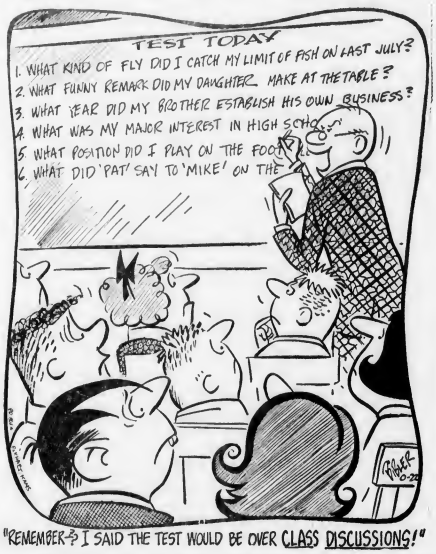
the latest gossip. Suddenly everyone tenses! Someone has caught the distinct sound of a latch being lifted or a door handle being turned. Then the host appears (reminicent of the earlier trail boss) and announces that everything is in readiness, after which he hastily retreats to avoid the onslaught of the stampede which follows.

This attacking herd has a specilic objective in mind. FOOD! Therefore it rapidly disapears among the many (heavy-laden?) tables and, for the time being at least, the stampede is over.

So you see, we still have those glorious days of the "Old West" with us. Those days of rugged individualism where men were men and—Please excuse me. The bell just rang and I have to hurry if I want to be first in line for lunch. My, those turnips smell good!

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler



LETTER TO THE EDITOR

May I answer last week's editorial about Homecoming committees by praising, in addition to committee chairmen, those few reliable souls who worked on their appointed committees? I'll agree there were only a few—the same few who do the work every time. To let you in on a secret—that's why they are always appointed! That is the problem of those who choose committees—if you don't appoint those whom you know will work, the job will not even be started—and yet, is it fair to those chosen few?

What would you suggest—tear gas or horse whips? Since there is evidence that some do not read the list of names on the bulletin board, should we call them off and/or ridicule them in chapel? Personally, I don't think it would have any effect! Think it over—you chairmen of the future—it's quite a problem to get some teamwork among "hand picked" Susquehanna students.

—S—

An answer to last week's editorial: Yes, Homecoming week end certainly was a successful one. The sun did shine despite the rain.

In writing last week's editorial, I'm sure the writer was either nearsighted or poorly informed. The credit for the success of the affair was given entirely to the chairmen of the various committees. Obviously each must have done a fine job, for the tasks were done well. However, to generalize to the point of saying that the credit belongs to the chairmen alone is incorrect. Being a chairman of the ticket committee, I know well the situation.

The ticket committee was composed of an efficient body of students who did their jobs well. Thanks to you Nancy Ridinger, Thelma Rosetti, Peg Pattyson, Jack Bishop, George Schlucterer, Jim White, Dick Neff, and Herb Daniels for a good job completed efficiently and effectively.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Another victory for the Crusaders! In their own back yard, Wagner suffered defeat at the hands of the Susquehanna squad, Saturday afternoon. This Saturday S. U. will conclude its season by playing Haverford on University Field.

In intramurals, Wednesday, the brothers were unable to check the G. A. team, and were delivered a hard defeat (13-8). Playing a fine game, Lambda Chi returned to victory Thursday by rallying over Selinsgrove South (35-0).

The brothers would like to announce that anyone, interested in joining the Crutch Club, is to contect either Crutch Club president, Carl Shoemaker; or vice-president, secretary, treasurer; Brother Chalmers Bartlow. Club activities are limited to competition in the fields of stairway climbing, rising from chairs, and graceful falling.

The green that has recently appeared on the S. U. campus is not the product of new leaves, but rather the color of the new Lambda Chi jackets.

Already preparation for the Crusader basketball squad is developing. With the football season not yet over, basketball practice has begun. S. U. fans are expecting a successful season on the court.

Let's all be out Saturday to see the curtain come down on the 1956 Susquehanna football season.

—S—

PHI MU DELTA NEWS

The halls of Phi Mu Delta this week were strangely silent, and hardly a face was too be seen. But on the campus of Wagner College the cheering section of S. U. was very much in evidence. Yes, almost everyone journeyed to Staten Island to see the "Keilmen" of Susquehanna down the Wagner Sea-Hawks by a 26-13 score. Mu Alpha chapter takes great pride in congratulating the Crusaders for their fourth victory in six starts. Special plaudits go to brothers Walter Benham and Gordie Thompson for their usual outstanding play. Let's not forget that there is still one game left in the season, so make it a "must" to get out to the field on Saturday to cheer the team to a final victory over Haverford College. To the team, the best of luck in this wind-up contest.

In sports last week, Mu Alpha was nosed out by Theta Chi by a 7-0 count. This effects a three-way tie for first place in first-half play. In the other contest, played, the Black and Orange romped to an easy 25-13 win over a Selinsgrove North combination, thereby extending our string of victories to six, as against one loss. This week rounds out the intramural touch football play with games with G. A. Hall, Lambda Chi Alpha and Theta Chi on the agenda.

On Sunday, Phi Mu Delta was in charge of the Vesper services at 5:45 p. m. with brother Dave Wise serving as speaker.

A final thought: We certainly hope everyone who was able went to the local polling place, or by other means, and voted for the candidates of their choice. You hold the future of America in your hands, and we trust you voted to insure that future.

—S—

Tramp (to stout lady): "Lady, please have pity on me. I haven't eaten in four days."

Lady of the House: "My word, I certainly wish I had your will power."

Girls, do you know that there is a new diet now called the Rockefeller Diet? All you do is eat money.

THETA CHI NEWS

A title to a once-famous song is "Wintergreen for President." Today is Election Day, Wintergreen is not running, but two fine men are. (Eisenhower and Nixon) Those fearless men of Theta Chi now set forth their choice and their prediction. A majority of the brothers are "madly for Adlai". These hopeless souls are led by brothers Bishop and Anthony. The other side, the smarter side, is also to be heard. These intelligent men follow Ike's banner, held high by Gary Crum (another good Adams County man.)

The brothers were impressed by Vice President Nixon's visit to Sunbury.

Now for the prediction: despite their favoritism, the brothers are realists. Almost all of them perceive General Ike as the winner! Hurrah!! Nothing is sure, especially in America, and so we shall wait and see what happens tonight. (It would have been appropriate to have a television set in the lounge so that all the students could discern this important event. But. . . . . .)

Speaking of "seeing", that is what the brothers will be doing from now on. They are happy to see in one corner of the old homestead a new TV set.

This week the brothers forced a three-way tie in intramural football. The Big Red nipped Phi Mu Delta 7-0. Playing outstanding ball, Theta Chi drew to a 0-0 tie for the first half. Then, just after the beginning of the second half the Red plunged over for the score. The team displayed fine offense with hard-charging defense. "Way to go, men way to go!"

Congratulations to the Crusaders on their victory over Wagner. This has really been a season.

Fat thought for the week: This column is in no way biased. Watch Connecticut. If Ike sweeps—then a landslide for him throughout the country.

Campus Spotlights

The brilliant orb of the Susquehanna Spotlight this week falls on Frank Chango, a senior from Mt. Carmel, Pa. Frank was very active in high school, being a member of the student council for three years and the president of the senior class. He also wrote for the school paper, participated in class plays, and was a member of the Science Club.

Here at Susquehanna Frank is best known for his brilliant performance as Romeo in the production of Romeo and Juliet. He also appeared in Macbeth, and as Laertes in Hamlet. By virtue of these performances, Frank has gained membership in Alpha Psi Omega, the honorary dramatic fraternity.

Frank is a member of Phi Mu Delta fraternity, and has served as social chairman, and is now serving as its very capable president. He is also a member of the Biemic Society.

At S. U., Farnk is pursuing the liberal arts course, majoring in chemistry and biology. He plans to enter some phase of the science field after graduating. The best of luck to you, Frank, in your future work and may you have great success in whatever you chose to do.

ALPHA DELTA PI

Many congratulations go to the football team for the fine performance they turned it over the weekend. Chalk up another victory for Susquehanna.

Don't forget that this coming Saturday will be our last game of the season and will pit the Crusaders against Haverford. Let's all get out and support the team to show how much we appreciate them.

Next Saturday is also a big day for ADPi. The party planned for that night promises plenty of fun for all the sisters and their guests. Sister Arlene Roberts is planning some fabulous entertainment as chairman of the entertainment committee and Sister Jan Smith, chairman of the refreshment committee has a scrumptious menu planned.

If you are between the ages of 18 and 21 ,don't forget to send home for your parents' permission so that you can donate a pint of blood to the Red Cross. Kappa Delta is sponsoring this worthwhile drive and it is something to which we should all give some serious thought. So, if you are physically fit and able, why don't you "Give, so that others may live."

So long for now but we hope to see you all at Star Course on Friday night. Remember: "Don't let your studies interfere with your education."

KD NEWS

Greetings! Not too much happened on campus last week, but we do have a few bits of news to tell you.

On Saturday many of the KD Sisters traveled all the way to Wagner to see our football team play. Congratulations to the team for the victory! Wagner really made a nice showing on their Homecoming Day. Before the game started they had a parade of floats including a tiger, kangaroo, whale, snow ball scene, and many others. It was good to see that so many of our S. U. students were there to support the team.

A bouquet of white roses to Sister Janis Adams who was initiated into Sigma Alpha Iota, professional music fraternity for women, last night. We're really proud of you, Janis! Congratulations to Denece Newhard, and Mary Louise Neal who were also made sisters in Sigma Alpha Iota.

Remember the KD News of last where it mentioned Sister Maureen Ball's name as one of the girls responsible for the construction of the worm? Instead of Sister Maureen, it should have been Sister Lois Andren, who led the worm.

Reminders for the week: Don't forget to get your parents' permission if you are over 18 and under 21 to donate blood to the KD Bloobmobile on December 5. Of course you are eligible if you are over 21, with or without parents' permission. Let's get out there and support our team for another victory this Saturday. We're going to win!

That's it for now. Next week we'll have more news for you.

—S—

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA

Last evening we welcomed Mary Louise Neal, Denece Newhard, and Janis Adams as sisters. Congratulations, girls, we are proud to have you in our sisterhood!

Sister Mary Moore is selling Christmas cards in Seibert and Arlene Roberts is selling them in Hassinger. See either of them if you want some very nice cards—orders are being taken and delivery will be in the very near future.

Congratulations to Coach "Whitey" Keil and the team for their fine victory over Wagner on Saturday! Let's all cheer the team to victory in the final game of the season with Haverford on Saturday.

The choral music you may hear floating from the basement of Seibert during the evening is being sung by the sisters of Sigma Omega as they prepare for their WKOK broadcast next Monday evening, November 12, at 10:30 p. m. Also included in the program will be four numbers sung by the motet choir and a selection of four-hand piano music played by Mary Moore and Carolyn Gillaspie. Do tune in!

Don't forget Star Course on Friday evening. Nelson and Neal, an Australian four-hand piano team, will provide an evening of very enjoyable music.

Be sure to tune in WKOK next Monday evening at 10:30 p. m. for the SAI broadcast!

How to Make a Bag of Peanuts Pay Off

● Ever thought how much the cost of a bag of peanuts saved each day can mean to your future? Did you know, for example, that for those "peanuts" you can own an endowment policy of $2,200?

Let's say you want money for retirement at age 65. Here's how those "peanuts"—20¢ a day—pay off for you . . .

After only 20 years you're all paid up — then at age 65 you get back all you've paid in — plus a gain of $2,000 in interest and dividends (per present rate of dividends). And you've been protected for the full amount of the policy during the entire time!

This kind of pay-off is why hundreds of students start their insurance program with Lutheran Brotherhood right while they're in school. Interested? Write . . .

ORANGE AND MAROON END ROAD JINX; CRUSADER DRIVE GROUNDS SEAHAWKS

It was an overflow, homecoming crowd of 5,000 that saw the results of Susquehanna's football renaissance march to a 26-13 victory at Grymes Hill. The Wagner Seahawks, from the opening kick-off to the final gun, were unable to stop the fired-up Crusader line. There is a murmur going around the grapevine that Walt "The Claw" Benham is a possibility for Little All-American; if the judges were watching this game, he has it made in the shade.

After a few minutes of give and take ball, John Yanuklis and Ray Richie pounced on a Seahawk fumble deep in Wagner territory, and the Crusader machine was in motion. Purnell spun back from the line and pitched out to Yanuklis who hit Richie with a pass as he was cutting down field on the 1 foot stripe. On the next play Yanuklis penetrated Wagner pay-dirt, Lewis converted, and the Crusaders led 7-0.

The next time the Crusaders got their hands on the ball, they drove to the Wagner 10 where an off-side and a clipping penalty, coming back to back, forced us to relinquish possession.

Early in the second quarter it looked as if the Seahawks were beginning to move, but Lewis and Yanuklis teamed up on a Wagner end as he was gathering in a pass and jarred him so hard he fumbled. Three plays later, after a crash by Lewis and an option keeper by Purnell, Dick connected with Ray Richie who "dazzled them with foot-work" and wiggled across for the second TD. Lewis converted for the PAT, and the score was 14-0.

Benham had displayed his All-American form, and now Dick Purnell gave the fans a real look at his. Running the option play, Dick picked up 8 yards and 15 yards on two tries. On the next play, he pitched out to Lewis who drove down field for 45 yards. Two plays later Dick drove over for our third TD. The extra point was wide.

As the second half opened, John Yanuklis returned the kick-off to our own 40 yard line, where the wet turf brought him down. The first play of the half saw Dick Purnell dodge a rushing Wagner line and connect with Yanuklis for 15 yards. John slanted off tackle on the next play for 5 more yards. An end-around lost two yards, and the stage was set for our final TD. Purnell capped his dazzling performance with a 42 yard run that brought the crowd to its feet. The extra point failed.

In the middle of the fourth period the entire crowd once again came to its feet to show its appreciation of Purnell. This time, however, it was not in recognition of a touchdown run, for Dick was smothered by Seahawk tacklers and had to be removed on a stretcher from the field.

Now, one final word—it was heartening indeed to see the large number of S. U. fans who turned out for this game.

Greeks Nip and Tuck In Intramural Race

The final standings for the first half of the football season with the points accumulated for the Amos Alonzo Stagg Trophy are as follows:

	W	L	Pts.
Lambda Chi Alpha	4	1	37
Phi Mu Delta	4	1	37
Theta Chi	4	1	37
G. A. Hall	1	4	25
Sel. North	1	4	25
Sel. South	0	5	21

In a make-up game of the first half, Theta Chi tripped up Phi Mu Delta by the score of 7-0. The game, which was nip and tuck all the way, saw Frank Romano pitch what proved to be the only T.D. of the game to Jack Bishop. It was Romano to Dick Kisslak for the extra point.

G. A. Hall, Theta Chi, Lambda Chi, and Phi Mu each won their first game of the second half by forfeit. On Wednesday, Oct. 31, Phi Mu Delta defeated a fighting Sel. North sextet, 25-13. The other game of the afternoon saw G. A. Hall upset highly favored Lambda Chi Alpha, 13-8 in a contest marred by much controversy.

Thursday, Nov. 1 saw the "Big Red" from Theta Chi eke out a 12-0 win over Sel. North, while "The Bunders" bounced back into the victory column with a resounding 35-0 triumph over an undermanned sextet from Sel. South.

Here are the standings thus far in the second half:

G. A. Hall	2	0
Phi Mu	2	0
Theta Chi	2	0
Lambda Chi	2	1
Sel. North	0	4
Sel. South	0	3

The schedule for the final week of play is:

Tuesday, Nov. 6
Phi Mu vs. G. A. Hall
Lambda Chi vs. Theta Chi
Wednesday, Nov. 7
Sel. S. vs. Sel. N.
Phi Mu vs. Theta Chi
Thursday, Nov. 8
Phi Mu vs. Lambda Chi
Sel. S. vs. G. A. Hall

The remaining games are important to every one concerned so come out and see intramural football at its best. Game time is 4:30.

The Real Low-Down

Hi, there, collegians! This is Scoop Hennessey, your old news hawk, with the latest news on campus and abroad. Scoop number one: our neighbor to the north, Bucknell University, is said to have been flooded last Friday. Claims have been made that all the water came from a sudden cloudburst. Your reporter's opinion? That all the tears shed over B. U.'s somewhat less than perfect football season had been stored in the Bison and on Friday morning a Buffalo Bull opened the door. Score on Saturday — Bulls 31, Bisons 13.

Here's the latest flash from the front. The French-British troops say Egypt's air arm is crippled. I have news for you! Egypt's arm may be crippled, but her feet are still kicking. Draw your own conclusions.

Now a little item from over the back fence. Elvis Pressley has been seen in Hugo Winterhalter's reception office on several occasions. Scuttlebutt has it that Elvis is trying out for the position of first guitar wih Hugo's orchestra. Best of luck to the both of you.

While we are on the celebrity scene, here's a small item that may interest you. Secret Agent X-9 is looking for the person or persons who planted the hidden mike in the sick-room of nuclear expert David Holmes. Don't tell anyone, but Captain Africa did it.

I hear via the grapevine that the U. S. Army is sueing Chrysler Corporation for two billion smackeroos. It seems that somebody stole the plans for the 1957 model jeep and incorporated them into the new Dodge. All right, who did it?

We just received word that the coming presidential election is fixed. For which side? We ain't a-tellin'.

Here's a local bit. The chipmunks of S. U. are forming a union, Local 79982. Reason for the new union? They claim that this year they have not been issued umbrellas and rubber-lined tunnels. They are also demanding that the members of the student body stop filling up the entrance of their tunnels with dirt and gum wrappers. Officials are taking action immediately.

Well, people, that's all the news for now. Before I sign off, here's the question of the week. What's a flying ox-box?

See you around the campi.

HARRINGTON, HASSINGER, LORAH, NUNN, POSPISIL, REAMER, ROMANO, AND SADOSUK REPRESENT SUSQUEHANNA IN "WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES"

MARY ELLEN HARRINGTON

LYNN HASSINGER

CLARENCE LORAH

PETER NUNN

GEORGE POSPISIL

THIRY REAMER

FRANK ROMANO

CAROLE SADOSUK

Four men and four women of Susquehanna's senior class have been chosen to represent the school in the annual publication, Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. The students so honored are Mary Ellen Strauch Harrington, Lynn Hassinger, Clarence Lorah, Peter Nunn, George Pospisil, Thiry Reamer, Frank Romano, and Carole Sadosuk. In chosing the candidates, the campus nominating committee has considered scholarship, participation and leadership in academic and extracurricular activities, citizenship and service to the school and promise of future usefulness.

Mary Ellen Harrington is a music education student and a member of Sigma Alpha Iota. She is planning to teach music as a career. During her junior year Mary Ellen served as a counselor in the freshman dormitory, and she was elected House President in Hassinger Hall. During her four years here at S. U. she has taken an interest in many organizations, including the Student Christian Association, the Susquehanna Singers, Chapel Choir, Concert band, Concert orchestra, and the marching band for which she has served as drum majorette. She has been appointed to the Vice-President's Council and the Women's Judiciary Council, The Susquehanna staff and the Lanthorn staff, for which she was literary editor. Last year Mary Ellen was secretary of her class, and she was a Homecoming representative her freshman and sophomore years.

Lynn Hassinger, the president of the Women's Student Council, is a business education student. She has belonged to the Student Christian Association, the concert band, concert orchestra, marching band, F.T.A., of which she is president, the Business Society, and the Women Day Students Organization. During Orientation her junior year she served as assistant chairman, and her senior year she was co-chairman. She has worked on the Lanthorn staff and the staff of The Susquehanna and was awarded the Lutheran Brotherhood scholarship last year.

The efficient host you've noticed in the dining-hall is Clarence Lorah, also newly elected to Who's Who. He calls Gordon, Pennsylvania home, and here at Susquehanna he is enrolled in the liberal arts curriculum.

Clarence is a member of Phi Mu Delta Fraternity and also active in many other campus activities. He is a member of the S.C.A. and Biemic Society of which he served as the publicity chairman in his junior year. Last year he was the editor-in-chief of the Lanthorn and has also been active on The Susquehanna staff on which he was a photography editor. Clarence has also helped with the Orientation programs in the last year.

His future seems to be centered around a career in bio-chemistry, and Clarence intends to go to graduate school after leaving Susquehanna.

Peter Nunn, a senior in the business administration school, is from Newark, New York and is a member of Phi Mu Delta Fraternity, of which he served as its vice president in his junior year, and is now serving as a very capable secretary.

"Pete" is a member of the Business Society and has served it faithfully as a vice-president in his sophomore year and president is his junior and senior years. He is also the president of Pi Gamma Mu. Class officers have seen his services, too as: treasurer, vice president, president, and another vice presidency. He has been active in the Student Christian Association, orientation programs, and is an intramural enthusiast.

Upon his graduation from Susquehanna, Pete will more than likely pursue a career in the field of accounting.

George Pospisil, a senior from Union, New Jersey, is in business adminsitration here at S. U. and is a loyal member of Lambda Chi Alpha, not to mention the man behind the versatile announcer's voice you've heard at the football games.

He has been a member of the Men's Student Council for three years, serving as its vice-president last year and as its president this year. George has also been the sports editor of The Susquehanna for the last three years and was active in the Business Society and the Veterans Organization. He is a member of the Susquehanna Players, having acted in many of Mr. Axel Kleinsorg's productions; and vice pres. of Alpha Psi Omega.

He has held two class offices, that of vice president in his freshman year and president in his sophomore year. Intramural sports have been given a great boost by George's talents and he has also lent his services to the Lanthorn and the Orientation programs.

George, his wife, Barbara, and their daughter Joanne live in Selinsgrove.

Thiry Reamer, a member of Alpha Delta Pi, is a senior in the liberal arts course. Very active in dramatics, she is a member of the Susquehanna Players and has been in the productions Macbeth, The Late Geoge Apley, and The Heiress. She has belonged to the Student Christian Association ,and at present she is serving as proofreader on The Susquehanna staff.

Thiry is secretary-treasurer of Alpha Psi Omega, a newly elected mem-

Next SU Production Features Frosh Cast

Now for the first time in the history of SU there will be a freshman play produced entirely by the class of 1960. "The Patsy", a three act comedy by Barry Conners is being directed by Mr. Axel Kleinsorg and will be presented the first Saturday in February.

Included in the cast are: Ralph Ferro as Bill Harrington; Pat Bodle as Mrs. Harrington; Charlene Gruner as Grace Harrington; Joan Heslop as Patricia Harrington; Ralph Wagner as Billy Cadwell; Richard Reichard as Tony Anderson; Sandy Reiser as Sadie Buchanan; Jack Clark as Francis Patrick O'Flaherty and John Yanuklis as "Trip" Busty.

Be sure to come out in February and see these freshmen when they give this fine production.

I. F. S. OUTLINES CAMPUS ACTIVITY

The Inter-fraternity Senate is the campus organization representing the interests of the entire social fraternity program. It is composed of six members, namely the president and faculty adviser of each of the three fraternities. The Dean of the College serves as the chairman of the senate, presiding over its meetings and represents it in its business with the administration. Meetings are held whenever it is deemed advisable by the Dean or on recommendations of the members. One faculty member of the senate is elected to serve as secretary-treasurer. This year Mr. Axel Kleinsorg has been elected to this position.

Cartoonist Contest Nearing Final Week

Do we have an artist in our midst? Only time will tell. Any student who has a sense of humor and a slight bit of drawing ability could win a seven day all-expense-paid vacation in Paris, France, plus national recognition as the number one college cartoonist in the country.

You all may be wondering how to win all this? Well, here it is. Box Cards is looking for the "Campus Cartoonist of ahe Year". Contestants may submit as many entries as they choose, but each entry must be accompanied by a fully completed and signed entry blank. All entries must be postmarked not later than midnight December 1, 1956. To enable the contestant to win he must submit a design and caption suitable for reproduction as a Studio Greeting Card.

Besides the trip to Paris and national recognition, the winner will also receive a royalty contract with Box Cards.

The judges of this nation wide contest are three nationally known men: Groucho Marx, Steve Allen and Al Capp.

Anyone who is interested in this contest should get full details and entry blanks at the college bookstore. Why not try. You may be more talented than you think!

Chamber Music

The Chamber Music Concert originally scheduled for Saturday, November 17, 1956 has been cancelled. Further news about the Chamber Music Society will be given in a later issue.

Katherine Gibbs Offers Scholarship

Two national scholarships for college senior girls are offered for 1957-1958 by the Katherine Gibbs School. These awards were established in 1935 as a memorial to Miss Katherine M. Gibbs, founder and first president of the school.

Each scholarship consists of full tuition ($685) for the secretarial training course, plus an additional cash award of $500, totaling $1,185. The winners may select any one of the four Gibbs schools for their training—Boston, New York, Montclair, or Providence.

Winners are chosen by the Scholarship Committee on the basis of college academic record, personal and

Attention, Students

The Student Council of Wilkes College cordially invites your student body to attend the Annual All-College Dance to be held Friday, November 23, 1956. There will be dancing from nine to twelve to the music of a college orchestra. We hope to see you at the Wilkes Gym.

Conservatory Plans Nearing Completion

Building plans for Susquehanna's new conservatory of music drawn by Lawrie and Green, architects of Harrisburg, will be ready November 15 for submission to bidders.

The proposed $300,000 brick edifice will include a library for reference work, a listening room, ten studios, four large class rooms, a rehearsal room, and twenty practice cubicles. The construction will be so designed that any sound annoyances which may now be evident in the present building will be eliminated. In outward appearance the conservatory will blend with the present architectural design of the college.

Lawrie and Green have been the achitects of Susquehanna for the past twenty-nine years and may be credited with various buildings on campus, notably the president's home, the library, the gymnasium, and Bogar Hall.

Preliminary plans have been drawn by Lawrie and Green for the library addition which will double the size of Susquehanna's present building. The completion of the final plans is expected to follow closely that of the conservatory.

BIEMIC SOCIETY HEARS MR. KIRK

The regular meeting of Biemic Society was held November 12, 1956. Immediately following the meeting a talk was given by Dr. R. E. Kirk, dean of the Graduate School of Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn.

Dr. Kirk received his B. S. Degree from University of Nebraska and his Ph.D. degree from Cornell University .He has taught at Iowa State College, University of Minnesota, and Montana State College. He began at Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn as professor of inorganic chemistry in 1931 and continued until 1944. At this time he became Dean of the Graduate School at Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn. In 1954 Dr. Kirk received the Scientific Apparatus

Nelson and Neal Impress Large Audience In Friday Star Course Production

The chapel was filled to capacity on Friday, November 9 as students, faculty, and friends enjoyed the duo piano recital of Nelson and Neal. Many of the students enjoyed talking to Mr. and Mrs. Neal personally and seeing their two children aged two years and ten months. You probably saw their mobile unit arriving Friday afternoon. Nelson & Neal left after the recital for their next engagement.

In case you have lost your program, the recital consisted of:

Toccata and Fugue in D Minor Bach

The D Minor Toccata and Fugue ranks among the mightiest works of Bach. The Toccata is a brilliant bravura piece of an improvisational nature. The transcription takes full advantage of the two pianos while scrupulously observing the composer's purity of design.

Sonata in BlFlat Major Mozart

Nelson and Neal dedicated this charming sonata to their son, John. Mozart's four-hand music was written originally to be played by himself and his sister, Nannerl.

American Education Week

President Eisenhower has proclaimed this week to be American Education Week throughout the nation. More than 20 million persons are expected to attend open-house and other activities at the schools during the week.

But this number has no meaning if we are simply not interested. We have all had the advantage of education in America, but yet how many of us realize its significance?

American education holds a unique place in the history of education. Nowhere in the world has such a system ever developed. And at no other time in our history has there been such a need of its continued development. The theme of American Education Week reflects this belief—"Schools For a Strong America". America's future rests in America's children. The type of education they receive will determine America's scientific, political and industrial future.

With this thought in mind, can we afford not to be interested in education? We, as college trained people, should realize this fact and show an active interest in our public schools.

ber of Pi Gamma Mu, and serves her sorority as chaplain.

Another of the privileged to be elected to Who's Who this year is Frank Romano. Frank is a liberal arts student and hails from Weatherly, Pennsylvania.

Frank works out most of his activity on the basketball court and was fifth highest scorer among the nation's small colleges. Since he has been at S. U., Frank has been very active in Theta Chi Fraternity, is president of the senior class, and vice president of Pi Gamma Mu.

Sports, though, seem to be his first preference for, besides playing first string basketball, he is also active in intramural sports and played varsity baseball in his sophomore year.

Frank is also a member of the Future Teachers of America and he is planning to teach and perhaps coach basketball after he leaves Susquehanna.

Carole Sadosuk, another member of Alpha Delta Pi, has served as vice-president and recording secretary for that organization. She has acted as vice-president for Phi Kappa Phi, the Future Teachers of America, as well as belonging to the Vice-President's Council, the concert band, the Biemic Society, the Women's Athletic Association, Tau Kappa, the Women's Student Council and the Women's Judiciary Committee. She has served as proofreader and news editor on The Susquehanna staff, and at present she is editor-in-chief. She served as assitant editor on the Lanthorn last year. Also last year Carole was a counselor in Hassinger Hall. She has belonged to the Student Christian Association for four years. A liberal arts student, Carole is planning to be a teacher. Carole received the Charles E. Covert memorial award at commencement exercises last year.

News In Brief

Campus Club . . .

The Campus Club, a social group composed of faculty women and wives, will hold its monthly meeting on November 14 at three p. m. in the social rooms. The president is Mrs. Robert Amy and this month's committee consists of: Mrs. Anna Humphrey, chairman; Mrs. Howard DeMott, Mrs. John Houtz, Miss Betsy McDowell, Mrs. Charles Aikens, Miss Margaret Scharf.

Meader Speaks . . .

Phi Kappa Phi held its monthly meeting on November 8. President Don Trimmer called the meeting to order and after a short business meeting, Mr. Robert Meader spoke about the Bay of Naples. Colorful slides of various points of interest were shown with Mr. Meader's own impressions of the countryside. There will be no meeting for December.

S.C.A. Plans . . .

The S.C.A. has planned a very interesting Campus Night for November. At this meeting a panel composed of a Protestant minister, a Catholic priest and a Jewish rabbi will discuss the topic; Interfaith Marriages. Our own campus pastor, Dr. Turnbach, will represent the Protestant faith. This should prove to be an interesting and profitable discussion for all.

creased in frenzy until the performer dropped from exhaustion. The idea has intrigued many composers; this Tarantella from Rachmaninoff's Suite No. 2, ranks as the most exciting in modern literature.

Scaramouche Suite — Milhaud

Milhaud's saucy Scaramouche Suite cleverly combines ideas of both popular and classical music.

Five Etudes — Chopin

G-sharp Major
G-flat Major
B minor
F minor

Mephisto Waltz — Liszt

Liszt's spectacular Mephisto Waltz sets to music an episode, "The Dance in the Inn," from Lenau's Faust.

As you can see the program offered a variety of entertainment. Especially enjoyable were their encores —"Malaguena", "Hungarian Dance" by Brahms, and Yankee Doodle as if it had been composed by Gershwin or Beethoven. Many comments of praise were heard from the audience —their applause calling for seven encores is proof enough of their fine talent and reception on our campus.

The truck in which Nelson and Neal travel always attracts bystanders. If there is time, the hospitable Neals proudly invite them to look over this compact little machine, six feet by twelve feet, where a productive family cooks, eats, types, reads, launders, sews, sleeps and travels. It represents a triumph of ingenuity and careful planning—plus the $650 they spent to outfit it. Their pair of pianos is valued at $15,000.

Freshmen Enjoy "Harvest Hop"

Among pumpkins encircled by fall leaves, orange and black streamers looped around the poles and doors, and a large harvest moon hanging from the ceiling, the freshmen danced at their Harvest Hop on Saturday, November 10. The party in the lounge was sponsored by the freshman girls.

Stephanie Haase, chairman of the dance, had the able assistance of Elinda Seimars, refreshment chairman; Liz Martens, decorations chairman; Cindy Smith and Sandy Risser, invitations co-chairmen; Nettie Freidberg, record chairman; and Sue Apgar, clean-up chairman. The chapeones included: Dr. and Mrs. T. T. Smith, Miss Betsy McDowell, Miss Joanne Heinly, Dr. George Robinson, and Dr. Thomas Armstrong. The chairmen and their committees planned a successful evening of merry-making underneath the smiling Man in the Moon.

Honor Crusaders at Banquet Tonight

The annual football banquet will be held this evening at 6 p. m. at the Dutch Pantry. Since the band and the cheerleaders were disappointed in not being able to go to the Wagner game, the Athletic Committee has decided to honor them at this time also.

Those present will be the team, the band, the cheerleaders, Dr. John Leach and Miss Betsy McDowell. The toastmaster for the occasion will be Dick Horn. Dr. Russell Gilbert will represent the Athletic Committee and Dr. G. Morris Smith will also speak. Mr. Bill Tolan, sports editor of the Sunbury Daily Item will also be a guest.

The speaker for the evening will be Mr. George Myerly, principal of the Danville High School. He has coached athletics and was in the Special Services Division of the U. S. Army. The entertainment has been booked as "straight from the Stork Club, New York City." Coach "Whitey" Keil is chairman of the program committee.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Any reference to the 1956 Susquehanna football season must now be delivered in the past-tense, because Saturday's game with Haverford was the unhappy exit from which a great team departed. Saturday's game was not illustrative of the season's favorable exhibition. The brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha wish to thank the whole team and Coaches Whitey Keil and Bob Pitello for their efforts; and to congratulate them for their success. The brothers (in the stands) would like to mention again and thank each of the following brothers (on the field) for their labors: Dick Purnell, Duke Bartlow, Veryl Milroy, Lenny Quick, Jim Keiser, Rube Forster, Lanny Thomas, and Bob Lewis. The managers are recognized for their assistance also; and particular mention is made of brother Ed Rhodes.

Optimism is the theme of the intramural football picture for Lambda Chi Alpha. Beating Theta Chi 26-6 on Wednesday, the "Bunders" finished the week by returning a defeat to Phi Mu Delta 13-12.

The brothers who attended the Alpha Delta Pi party Saturday night report that it was a success, and that they had a wonderful time. Thanks, girls.

Under the flood of tests this week, the only glimmer of hope still "glimmering" is some rumor of a Thanksgiving vacation in the near future.

S

PHI MU DELTA NEWS

The presidential election is over and the best man has won, so it's "back to normalcy" at Susquehanna. And speaking of the best man winning, Phi Mu Delta held a party last Tuesday night to watch the victory of President Eisenhower over television. Light refreshments were served during the televising of the election results. Our guests were the Reverend Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lotz, Miss Ruth Meister, Dr. and Mrs. T. Townsend Smith, Mr. Axel Kleinsorg, Dr. Lyder Unstad, and Mr. Lavan Robinson.

Mu Alpha chapter is extremely proud to congratulate Coach "Whitey" Keil and his fighting Crusaders for chalking up a winning gridiron schedule. All the boys deserve the highest commendations for their outstanding play during the season. Phi Mu Delta is especially proud to congratulate brothers Walt Benham, our candidate for Little All-American honors, and Gordie Thompson and Joe Osinchak for their tremendous performances as members of the Cruders squad. There is no doubt that the Crusaders will be on top of the heap next year at this time, and so we wish them the best of luck for the future.

Last week in intramural sports, the Black and Orange triumphed over a strong G. A. Hall aggregate, in a protested game, by the score of 7-6. The TD was scored on the last play of the game on a pass from Jim White to Milan Kratzer. In the other games, the Mu Alphs dropped an 18-7 contest to Theta Chi, and a 13-12 squeaker to Lambda Chi. However, we are still in the running for the first-half title.

Congratulations are in order for brother Bill Hand, who last week pinned Ann Ambromovage of Alpha Delta Pi.

Mu Alpha expresses its appreciation for the fine Star Course presentation last Friday evening. The music of "Nelson and Neal" was artistically presented and extremely well-received.

The brothers who attended the ADPi panty in Seibert social rooms on Saturday night wish to thank the girls for a very nice affair.

THETA CHI NEWS

The brothers became accurate prophets. Ike swept Connecticut and avalanched the country. Well Vox populi, vox Dei, let us so pray.

The accent this week is on football. The Crusaders ended their first winning season in many a long year. Against one of their toughest opponents, Haverford, the team played a hard, determined game. Haverford got some breaks and downed S. U. 12-6. The team is to be congratulated (nay, hailed) for their sparkling play not only in this game, but throughout the season. Praises go to coaches Keil and Pitello for their spirited leadership. We wish them and the team many more seasons of success. Congratulations again on the great season! The brothers are proud to salute brother Jack Anthony for his outstanding play this season.

In the intramural league last week the Big Red knocked off Phi Mu Delta 18-7 and then succumbed to a 26-12 loss to Lambda Chi Alpha. Both games saw some excellent play by the Thetians. Brother Bishop scored three touchdowns in the two games, making a great diving catch in the end zone in the Lambda Chi game. The hard-charging line of Schroeder, Bishop and Lytle broke through the Phi Mu defenses several times. Dick Kisslak was instrumental in throwing several yard-gaining passes. Let's keep up the good work!

The brothers of Theta Chi would like to thank Professor and Mrs. Frederick Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. E. Brungart, Mrs. Alice Giauque, Miss Mary Potteiger, Mr. Lavan Robinson, and Professor Frederick Billman for the honor of their presence at dinner last week. It was a sincere honor and a genuine pleasure to have them.

The brothers have several of their men working in the entertainment world. The rich, resonant tones of Don James can be heard over WKOK Saturday as he spins many a fine record. . . Randy Fox sings at the Trade Winds in Williamsport. . . also Fred Mursch, Bill Woelkers and Buck Clark have numerous playing jobs.

Congratulations go to brother Gary Crum for his direction and planning of the fire drill executions by the band at the football game. A really polished and expertly performed job.

The brothers enjoyed mightily the duo piano performance of Nelson and Neal.

Congratulations to all the freshmen in their battle with the sophomores. As the old saying goes "The score doesn't tell the story." (Coach Whitey Bishop speaking). And Friday's score doesn't tell the story. It isn't often that the coach feels proud of his team in the face of the loss. When a team is rated a thirty-point underdog and then proceeds to outplay their opponents, they also have a right to be proud. That's just what the freshmen did on Friday. Outweighed and outmanned, they made up for it in spirit and teamwork. It was truly a pleasure to work with wonderful group of men. Thanks also to co-coach George Pospisil for his invaluable pointers. Special thanks to the freshmen who turned out to cheer their team. Keep up the good spirit. S. U. is what you make it!

The brothers were pleased to welcome back alumni Jerry Wilson and Clayton Leach. Come back to see us often.

Also noted with pleasure was the appearance of alumnus Maux Feldman with the U. S. Army Band on the Ed Sullivan show.

Fat thought for the week: Oh, those mid-semester exams!

The brothers who attended ADPi's Party wish to thank them for a really terrific time.

A student president is designated at the beginning of the year. He is responsible for the Homecoming Dance and any other inter-fraternity dances. The president is usually the president of that fraternity which is first on the smoker list. This year he is Arthur Zimmerman, president of Lambda Chi Alpha. As chairman of the recent Homecoming Dance he reported a profit of $182.76 which was distributed equally to the Fraternity Senate and Panhellenic Council. This year the rotation of fraternity smoker during rush week is as follows: Lambda Chi Alpha, Tuesday; Phi Mu Delta, Wednesday; and Theta Chi, Thursday.

KD NEWS

Hi there, everybody! Here I am again with the latest up-to-date news. After a week of football games, recitals, concerts and parties, we're all ready to face those mid-semester exams now, aren't we? ? ? Now that football season is over we can settle down and . . . . go to basketball games. I mean studying really. We must never forget school work, you know.

Congratulations to Coach "Whitey" Keil, Assistant Coach Bob Pitello, the team and its managers for the great season of football. Your enthusiasm has given Susquehanna the spirit that makes a school not only average, but good. You have our many thanks.

On Friday night the second Star Course for the year was held. The Nelson and Neal piano duo is to be congratulated for their excellent program. The Kappa Delta sisters are for more Star Courses like that. What do you say?

From all reports, it seems that the ADPi party was a big success. The KD sisters who attended enjoyed the entertainment and the food (naturally). The keg of beer (root beer, that is) was especially good. Hmm . . . . back to school work.

Did all of you listen to the SAI broadcast last night at 10:30? It sure makes a person feel good to know that such fine music comes from our alma mater. Congratulations to you, SAI girls, and motet choir for a job well done.

This week the freshman class deserves praise. For those of you who couldn't get to the sophomore-freshmen football game, the frosh really played a good game. Don't worry about losing, freshmen. Next year you have a chance to beat the incoming freshmen.

Time to close now. Don't forget the Bloodmobile visit and let's see you at those basketball games!

S

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA NEWS

Sigma Omega hopes that all of you tuned in to their WKOK broadcast last evening. If you did, you heard the Sigma Omega chorus singing contemporary American choral music and sorority songs; four-hand piano selections; and the motet choir. We will have another such broadcast sometime in March.

Football season ended on Saturday as the Fords edged the Crusaders 12-6. On the whole, the season was a good one and the prospects are even brighter for next year.

We were glad to welcome alumni sisters Liz Ford and Anna Dorward for a week-end visit.

The Chamber Music concert originally scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 17 has been cancelled. Further news about Chamber Music Society later.

The marching band made their last appearance for the season at the game on Saturday as they performed a drill originated by Gary Crum. Sisters Barbara Boob and Linda Youhon made thei rlast appearance with the band. Tonight the band will be dining at the Dutch Pantry as guests of the Athletic Council with the football team, managers, and cheerleaders.

Many thanks to ADPi from the SAI sisters who attended and enjoyed their very fine party in Seibert social rooms on Saturday evening. Mutual Sister Arlene Roberts served as mistress of ceremonies.

ALPHA DELTA PI NEWS

The sisters of ADPi have settled down to some studying of mid-semesters after their big party on Saturday night. We wish to thank all who helped and those who attended for making the party the success we hope it was. The theme of a German Rathskeller was carried out by decorations, menu, frauleins and "drinks". Sister Jeanette Cooley, social chairman, is to be congratulated for her excellent job in presenting all of us with such an enjoyable evening. Thanks and our praise to Sister Jan Smith for her choice of menu. While we are expressing gratitude we must mention the decorations, the work of Sister Arlene Roberts and her committee. We enjoyed giving it and planning for it. If possible we would like to make this a "habit". The sisters serenaded those sisters who were pinned or engaged with the "Alpha Delta Pi Sweetheart Serenade".

Best wishes are in order for the recent pinning of Sister Ann Ambromovage to one of the brothers of Phi Mu Delta, Bill Hand.

Two big bouquets of violets are ready for the sisters who gained the respected position of being chosen to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities". We wish to express our heartiest congratulations to Sister Thiry Reamer and Sister Carole Sadosuk for being recipients of this high honor.

Congratulations to our great team, and Coach "Whitey" Keil for this season's fine record of victories. S. U. is very proud of all of you.

If per chance any of you were listening to S.A.I.'s program on Monday evening at 10:30 p. m., you will know what we mean when we say "well-done girls." We all enjoyed your program immensely!

The Alpha Delt's wish to thank the brothers of Theta Chi who never failed to lead a pep-rally before every home football game this season. We especially enjoyed the one this past Thursday evening.

The administration is to be commended on its choice of the star course that was held on Friday evening. We enjoyed the program presented by the Neals.

Gamma Omicron would like to announce that the "Clowns", Sister Pat Walker and Sister Janet Cole, "clowned" at their last game!! I should say, that is the last time they will be "in uniform". Seriously, girls, you did a tremendous job this year!

Fraternity Rushing
1. All freshmen men are eligible to sign up for rushing.
2. Dean Galt will meet all prospective rushees in the chapel after chapel service on Tuesday, November 27.
3. Each rushee must pay a pledging registration fee of $3.00 before 11 a. m. December 1. This fee entitles him to all rushing activities.

MUSIC NOTES

Officers were elected last Thursday for the Student Recital Class for this year. Paul Rogers and Wally Kutz are president and vice-president respectively. Denece Newhard will act as secretary and David Diehl will serve as monitor.

Nancy Kendall, violinist, and Richard Kisslak, bass will perform for the Women's Club of Selinsgrove tonight at the home of Mrs. Charles Ebert.

Mrs. Alice Giauque of the music faculty will be in the Lackawanna Trail Joint School System this Thursday. The consolidated school near Scranton is inaugurating a new music program.

A large and appreciative audience was on hand last Friday evening for the duo-piano concert by Nelson and Neal. The team has traveled extensively throughout the United States and they proved to be as well-received here as they were in other concerts. The fact that they performed for two hours assured the audience that they considered music a "way of life" and that they appreciated the applause.

Fighting Crusaders Record Winning Season with Impressive 4-3 Slate

The fighting Crusader football team recorded the first winning season since 1952 with a 4-3 slate. Coach "Whitey" Keil, in his second year at the helm, put together the winning combination made up of underclassmen, with the exception of one senior, Lenny Quick.

Saturday added a rather sour note to the finish of the season when the Orange and Maroon lost to archrivals Haverford by the score of 12-6.

Injuries, bad breaks, and penalties plaqued the Crusaders throughout the hard fought contest.

Susquehanna kicked off and Haverford put together a pair of first downs to penetrate into S. U. territory. Bob Lewis recovered a Ford fumble and the Crusaders had the first chance at the ball. Dick Purnell promptly passed to Lewis for 20 yards and the Maroon were on the march. Haverford end, Dan Nauman recovered a fumble to end the march on the Ford 25 yard line. On the next play Walt Benham jumped on a loose ball and the Crusaders were off on another drive.

The turning point of the game occurred at this point, when Dick Purnell re-injured his ribs and was forced to leave the game.

The first quarter ended with a pass from Lewis to Ray Richie on the Ford 11 yard line. The visitors line held and the second Crusader drive was halted. Gordie Thompson recovered another Haverford fumble, but the Keilmen could not ignite the spark necessary for the T.D.

The scarlet and black began their own offensive, but an interception by Ralph Ferraro stopped the Fords deep in S. U. territory. The Randall-coached team then got possession of the ball after S. U. punted; and with one minute 14 seconds left in the first half Randall hit Maddock in the end zone for a touchdown. Thompson and Benham blocked the try for the extra point and the half ended with Haverford in front 6-0.

The third period saw the Purnellless Crusaders handed one heartbreaking penalty after another. Bob Lewis got a beautiful 58 yard punt off which rolled dead on the Ford four yard line. The play was called back, and on the second try Nauman blocked the punt, picked it up and stepped into paydirt. Dan Marvin blocked the try for the extra point.

Pass interceptions by Lewis and Benham, and an exchange of punts highlighted the start of the fourth period. With 4 minutes remaining in the game, Dick Purnell, who should have been in a doctors office, entered the game. He was all the Crusaders needed to start the old fire. John Yanuklis, who thrilled the crowd with his hard running, carried to the Ford 20 yard line. Purnell worked the ball, on a series of handoffs and keepers, to the one yard line. With 2 minutes left, Purnell knifed into the promised land. Lewis' kick was wide and the score was 12-6.

Haverford desperately hung on to the ball and lost yardage, but time ran out on the Keilmen.

The Crusaders played the same fighting style of football as they had displayed all season. Even in defeat, the Orange & Maroon made everyone tremendously proud of them. The cry springs up "Next year. . .undefeated!"

WOMEN'S SPORTS

The intramural hockey tournament ended this past week. Champions for this year were the members of sophomore team 2, headed by Janet Smith as captain. The junior-senior team, with Marion Drumheller as captain, finished in second place.

This coming Saturday morning, November 17, the varsity hockey team will travel to Carlisle to compete with the Dickinson team.

Lists have been posted for intramural volleyball. Teams will be chosen soon, so don't forget to sign up if you are interested in participating.

W.A.A. would like to thank all those girls who gave so generously of their time to help sell refreshments at our home football games. It was a job well done.

Tau Kappa and W.A.A. will work together in preparing and selling sandwiches each Sunday evening in both girls' dorms. The time—between 10:00 and 10:30 p. m.

Sophs Down Frosh In Annual Clash

An excited crowd turned out to witness the Freshman - Sophomore game, despite the bitter cold fall breeze, and saw a well-coached, well-quarterbacked sophomore team keep the winning tradition with a 7-0 victory.

The first half got under way with Clyde Wood returning the kick off to the sophomore 20. Four plays later, after a short drive, the outweighed, unexperienced freshman line, led by Ken James and Jim Hayward, forced the soph's to punt.

Unable to get moving, the frosh quickly were forced to punt back. The sophomore gears begun to move as Wood picked up 7 yards in two tries and Ray Yeingst ran a dive off left tackle for 6 yards and a first down. The frosh quickly "threw a monkey wrench into the gears" and jarred the ball loose on the next play. Larry Updegrove recovered on the 50. The cold air took its toll, and the freshmen were unable to hold on to the ball.

The highly favored sophomore team was being pushed back at will by the fired-up freshmen line, and Bill Weichett was directing his team with the skill of an artist, but the half halted a fine drive which was climaxed by a 5 yard run by Jim Maurer.

Coaches Carl Shoemaker and Joe Scully must have really gone to work on the sophomore team during the half time. Mike Miller sent a towering kick-off deep into the freshman territory which was returned by Marv Bonawitz to the 32. The inspired line play of Wally Smith, Joe Yocum, Bob Kenyon, and Roger Holtzapple forced the frosh to punt once more.

With darkness beginning to become more prominent, quarterback Clyde Wood decided to move on the ground. Hard running Mike Tobias crashed for 5 yards. Woodie was smothered, trying to run an option, by Fred Quinas and Jack Clark. Once more Tobias crashed the frosh line and carried his tacklers to pick up another 5 yards. Now that Woodie had set up the situation desired, fading back, he uncorked a tremendous pass to Gene Witiak who eluded the freshmen defenders and skirted for pay dirt. Mike Tobias drove over for the PAT.

Fighting against time, Bill Weichelt hit Jim Maurer for 23 yards bringing the ball to the sophomore 40 yard line. He then connected with Lee Frank on a screen play which brought the ball to the 26. It looked like the frosh had begun to move, but as quickly as the drive had begun it was stopped when Joe Barlow intercepted a pass.

Congratulations to a fine freshmen team, coached by Jack Bishop, which gave the crowd a real run for their money. Remember, your turn comes next year, let's follow tradition and beat the freshmen.

Important Games on Tap This Week To Determine Intramural Champions

The second half of the intramural football season came to an exciting end last Thursday as the "Bunders" from Lambda Chi edged Phi Mu Delta 13-12, thus tying Theta Chi for second half honors. The final standings for the second half are:

Lambda Chi Alpha	4	1	37
Theta Chi	4	1	37
Phi Mu Delta	3	2	31
G. A. Hall	3	2	31
Sel. North	1	4	25
Sel. South	0	5	21

On Tuesday Nov. 6, in a struggle from the opening kickoff, Phi Mu squeaked past G. A. Hall on the strength of an all-important extra-point. The score was 7-6. G. A. had clung to a 6-0 lead until the last play of the game when Jim White tossed a desperation pass to Milan Kratzer in the end zone for the T.D. that tied the score; White tossed to Fiscus for the victorious E.P.

In the other game of the afternoon Lambda Chi Alpha, operating smoothly behind the running of Jim Bortle and passing of Gerry Herbster rolled to a 26-6 decision over Theta Chi. Neff, Bortle, Vinc, and Stone tallied for the "Bunders" while Bishop notched the only score for the "Big Red" on a very neat pass from Frank Romano.

Theta Chi bounced back strong on Wednesday afternoon upsetting Phi Mu by the score of 18-7. Romano threw two touchdown passes, one to Bishop and one to Kisslak; the other "Big Red" score came as Kisslak fell on the pigskin in the Phi Mu end zone following a kickoff.

Clyde Wood tossed a beautiful pass to Jim White in the end zone for the only "Black and Orange" T.D. White threw to Fiscus for the E.P.

G. A. Hall won by forfeit over Selinsgrove South on Thursday afternoon.

The "Bunders" spotting Phi Mu an early T.D., surged back with only ninety seconds left in the first half to knot the score at 6-6. Gene Witiak made a tremendous catch of a White pass early in the game giving Phi Mu a 6 pt. bulge. Not to be denied, however, the sextet from Lambda Chi fought back and tied the score on a beautiful pass from Jim Bortle to Joe Barlow who was waiting in the end zone .With only four minutes gone in the half Bortle passed once again, this time to George (midget) Vinc for a touchdown. The extra point proved the important factor again as Bortle threw to Herbster giving them a 13-6 bulge. Late in the second half Schlucterer threw a long pass intended for Witiak, which carromed off his fingers into the hands of an alert Milan Kratzer who raced for the T. D. The try for the E. P. was broken up and the game was over with Lambda Chi on top by the score of 13-12.

The three-way first half tie will be played off this week when Theta Chi meets Lambda Chi on Tuesday Nov. 13, on the East Field located at the far end of the athletic grounds. Phi Mu Delta will meet the winner of this game on Wednesday for the championship of the first half. On Thursday, Theta Chi again tangles with Lambda Chi to decide the second half crown. Then the final championship round will be played Nov. 19, 20, 21 if necessary.

F. T. A. Sponsores Area Program

This is AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK. In connection with it the chapter of F.T.A. of Susquehanna University is sponsoring a program in area schools.

The program will consist of musical selections by Mrs. Mary Ellen Harrington, Miss Elizabeth Stradling, and Miss Linda Youhon. Also a science demonstration under the direction of Clarence Lorah. Ken Zimmerman will serve as master of ceremonies.

The program will be given in the following schools on Wednesday, November 14; Selinsgrove High, Middleburg High, and West Snyder High Schools. On December 6, in the Junior and Senior High Schools of Sunbury.

Radio station WKOK is sponsoring programs throughout the week.

IFS Announces Rushing Regulations

The week of December 3, 1956, will prove to be one of the most important in the college career of the average freshman man. The week of December 3, is known as "Fraternity Rush Week". All freshmen are eligible to sign up for rushing. The actual beginning of this important event will take place on November 27. At this time, Dean Galt will meet with all prospective rushees in the chapel immediately after the service. The purpose of the meeting will be disclosed at this time. Rushees will register for rushing before 11:00 a. m. on December 1. A registration fee of $3.00 will be due at this time. The purpose of the fee will be to defray the cost of rushing and will entitle the rushee to all rushing activities.

The most significant part of rush week is the fraternity smoker. The smoker is designed for your benefit and the purpose of the smoker is for you to become more familiar with the various fraternities. During the course of the evening you will learn pertinent facts of the fraternity, witness and unusual form of entertainment, and eat and smoke until your heart is content. In general, you'll have a ball! All rushees are urged to attend all the smokers and really get your money's worth. The first smoker will be held at Lambda Chi Alpha on Tuesday, December 4. The

MSC DISCUSSES PROBLEMS

The bimonthly meeting of the Men's Students Council was held on Tuesday, November 13. During the meeting it was announced that the College Administration Committee decided that the purchasing of a television set for the lounge was not advisable at the present time. Although the decision on this matter was negative, the committee will continue the project by making inquiries at other schools.

George Schlucterer reported the change in laundry deliveries from Wednesday to Tuesday nights.

It was decided that all students attending the Swarthmore and Wagner away football games would be excused from their Saturday classes.

President Pospisil announced that Dean Russell Galt was pleased to see that the lounge rules were being enforced during the past month.

The next meeting of the Men's Student Council will be held on the second Tuesday of December because Rush Week is being held during the first week.

Future Teachers Plan White Elephant Sale

Would you like to get rid of that horrible looking vase in the living room? Does your mother have a ridiculous hat that you would like to have disappear someday?

Bring them back to the F.T.A. White Elephant Sale.

The F.T.A. is planning to have a White Elephant Sale after Thanksgiving vacation. Any objects, large or small, new or not so new, will be appreciated. Please give the articles to Joyce Spigelmyer.

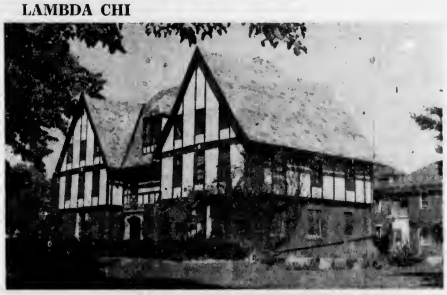
S.C.A. Panel Discusses Interfaith Marriage

The first thing on the agenda following Thanksgiving vacation will be a campus night sponsored by the S.C.A. The topic for discussion will be "Interfaith Marriages". The discussion will be led by a panel consisting of a Jewish rabbi, a Catholic priest, and a Protestant minister. Be sure to come to hear the religious views of this timely subject. The place to come to is Seibert social rooms on November 27 at 7:00 p. m.

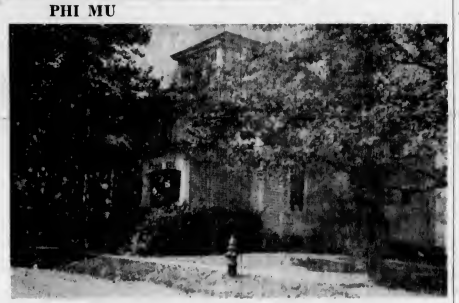
Because of the importance of the subject of marriage is would be well to hear and compare the different views on this subject. See you all on the 27th. By the way, refreshments will be served.

TRADITIONAL "RUSH WEEK" TO BEGIN DECEMBER 3; ACTIVITIES HIGHLIGHTED BY FRATERNITY SMOKERS

LAMBDA CHI



PHI MU



THETA CHI

The week of December 3 has been set aside for the traditional "Rush Week" activities here on Susquehanna's campus. In an effort to acquaint the student body with pertinent facts concerning the fraternities represented The Susquehanna takes this opportunity to present a brief resume of the history of Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Mu Delta, and Theta Chi.

LAMBDA CHI

The hitory of the large, white-stucco house at 309 West Walnut Street extends beyond its present status, as a Lambda Chi Alpha colony. Its past is two-fold, a history of Lambda Chi and a history of the Bond and Key Club. Recently, the two met, but both possess individual heritage and proud development.

Bond and Key was organized in 1914, one nineteen years after Missionary Institute became Susquehanna University. The club, the oldest on campus, was incorporated in 1917 a sthe Bond and Key Club. So initiated, the brotherhood withstood the passage of years and accepted the spirit of tradition. The brothers became known as the "Bunders"; the fireplace mantle became adorned with shiny athletic cups; many of the Crusader football stars were from among its clan; organizations on campus and college activities often reflected its leadership. These developments revealed the Bond and Key pride.

The fraternity's historical counterpart, Lambda Chi Alpha, was established in 1909, five years before Bond and Key's birth. Its progress has been steady. The names of Jimmy Doolittle and Senator Alan Bible of Nevada are only two of a long list of distinguished personages. Many state and federal officials, past and present, adorn Lambda Chi's roster. The national organization has grown to become the largest general fraternity in existence.

It was not by coincidence that Bond and Key and Lambda Chi discovered each other. Recend Bond and Key presidents, Bill Doney and Ralph Shel-

PHI MU

In 1918, the Phi Mu Delta National Fraternity was established in New England. Six years later, on December 20, 1924, Mu Alpha chapter was duly installed into membership, therewith paving the way for the local fraternities on the Susquehanna campus to go national. As Mu Alpha provided the initial impetus for the establishment of national fraternities at S. U., it consequently takes great pride in this accomplishment. It is now the largest fraternity on campus.

Mu Alpha was almost solely instrumental in establishing the present Penn State chapter of Phi Mu Delta.

There were 23 charter members at the time of installation into the national ranks. They elected George S. Bullock a sthe first president. Included in the original membership was Roger M. Blough, now Chairman of the Board of United States Steel Corp. At present there are fifty-five active members of Mu Alpha chapter, with thirty-four residing in the house.

In 1928, the present old-English style high-gabled chapter house was completed and dedicated to the Rev. Myron Cole, one of the presidents of Alpha Sigma Omega Association of Phi Mu Delta. The current president of the house is Frank Chango.

During its years of activity as a member of the national fraternity, the local Mu Alpha chapter has attained a first place position among its fellow chapters, by virtue of its outstanding educational and social program. Because of the high caliber of this educational program, Mu Al-

THETA CHI

Theta Chi Fraternity is one of the oldest fraternities in the United States now consisting of over 45,000 members. From its beginning in Vermont in 1856, Theta Chi has spread across the land from the Universities of Maine to Southern California, from Universities of Miami to Washington to a total of 120 chapters.

Theta Chi was one of the first fraternities to set up a definite series of objectives, the now famous twenty-two "Objectives of Theta Chi Fraternity."

Theta Chi's long-standing policy of maintaining a balance between scholastic attainments and campus activities is expressed by our motto "Alma Mater first, Theta Chi for Alma Mater".

A pledge training program has been developed to teach the new member about his college and fraternity. This takes the place of humiliating and course public initiation.

Conventions, bringing closer together the brotherhood of Theta Chi are held each year. Beta Omega Chapter from Susquehanna takes an active part in all of these. We believe that an important part of our fraternity life is the association with our brothers in Theta Chi.

In every profession, in every business, in very part of the country, Theta Chi men prosper. A few of these are Crawford H. Greenewalt, President of DuPont Company; Warren Magnuson, U. S. Senator from Washington; Louis A. Petri, President of Petri Wine Co.; H. Bruce Palmer, President of Mutual Benefit Life

Dean Galt Presents Academic Awards

On Tuesday, November 13, the annual Academic Recognition Day was held. Dean Russell Galt made the cup presentations in chapel that morning.

The Business Society Award went to Roger Holtzapple for attaining the highest freshman average in the Business curriculum. Roger was the first male student to win this cup, which has been in circulation for three years. Previous winners were Lillian Troutman and Janis Quigley.

This year, Phi Mu Delta Fraternity won the Fraternity Scholarship Cup for the third year in succession. They now have the cup permanently and a new one will go into competition next year. Frank Chango, president of Phi Mu Delta, received the cup from Dean Galt for his fraternity.

Nancy Marek, president of Alpha Delta Pi received the Sorority Scholarship Cup for her sorority. This is their fourth win in succession after having retired a cup last year.

Congratulations to all concerned for your fine work. Who will it be next year?

STUDENTS VIEW JAPANESE PRINTS

This week there opened at Susquehanna University's Bogar Hall the University's fourth biennial exhibition of Japanese prints. These prints, which may also be purchased, are by some of Japan's most distinguished woodblock artists, both contemporary and of the 17th, 18th and 19th centuries.

The history of the woodblock Oriental print is a long and interesting one stretching back some 300 years, from the earliest "line cuts" in black through hand-colored prints familiar to Westerners. The modern Japanese print will employ as many as 15 separate blocks, and perhaps as many over-prints, even the simplest seldom use fewer than four of the cherry wood blocks. The paper, too, is a special type, usually made of mulberry pulp, although occasionally a particular grade of rice paper is used.

The artist is seldom either the block cutter or the printer, as each of these functions is a separate calling, jealously guarded. Each block is separately printed by hand, by laying a sheet of dampened paper on the inked black and rubbing the back of the sheet with a pad called a "baren." Once the sheet is dry, the second printing is made of a different color. Owing to the coaking of the wood block by the water-ink, an edition of over 200 is rare. As each print is made by hand,

S. C. A. Sponsors Advent Wreath

The S.C.A. will sponsor the Advent wreath again this year. Beginning with the first Wednesday chapel after Thankgiving and continuing up until Christmas vacation, one candle on the wreath will be lit, following the reading of the prophesy.

The wreath will be constructed by a committee that has been appointed by Don Trimmer, president of the S.C.A. Let's all give our support to this tradition, which prepares for the birth of our Lord.

Thanksgivnig Dinner At Horton Dining Hall

Students and faculty attended the Thanksgiving Dinner in Horton Dining Hall on Thursday evening, November 15.

The menu consisted of turkey, mashed potatoes ,cranberry sauce, olives, sherbert, string beans, celery, bread and butter, candy, and last but not least pumpkin pie.

President G. Morris Smith offered the prayer. Candles, adorning each table, lent atmosphere to the meal. The dress was formal; girls wearing evening gowns, men wearing dress suits.

ESTABLISHED 1894

Published weekly throughout the school year, with the exception of Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter and Semester holidays, at a subscription rate of $2.50 a year.

Reentered as second-class matter February 21, 1947, at the post office at Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania, under the act of March 3, 1879.

Denken Ist Zu Danken

"To think is to thank"is a literal translation of an old German proverb. At first these words seem to have little relationship to each other. Is every period of thought a time of gratitude? Of course not, yet there is a good deal of meaning in the short phrase. Every time one considers all that he has, all he has received out of God's boundless store, how can he help but give thanks for even the least gift?

Thursday is Thanksgiving Day, a time when everyone in America takes time out to count his blessings. But we should not wait for a special day for giving thanks. That person who waits for Thanksgiving Day to be thankful, will not be thankful when it comes. Yes, denken ist zu danken, all through the year.

I.F.S. ANNOUNCES From P. 1

second smoker will be on Wednesday, December 5, at Phi Mu Delta. The final smoker will be on Thursday, December 6, at Theta Chi. During the week you will be invited to lunch and dinner at the various houses, a practice designed so that you might become better acquainted with your prospective brothers. Other events which will take place during the week will be announced by the fraternities at a later date.

At this point you might ask the question, "What good is a fraternity?" To begin, let us consider the fraternity in general. You will find that a fraternity consists of a group of individuals composed of carefully selected men who have common interests and personalities. The group is intimate because a member is chosen because the fraternity likes him. Belonging to a fraternity teaches a man one important aspect of life, that is how to get along with other people. In the chapter house you learn how to adjust to one another and you witness a high degree of cooperation. When living in a fraternity you are surrounded by all the comforts of home. This pleasant atmosphere affords better study habits and helps to create a sincere interest in your work. The friends you make as a fraternity brother will be life long friends, and where ever you go you will meet someone whom you can call "brother".

The Fraternity Senate asks you to make your choice wisely and only after you have given the matter full consideration. Consider the ideals and principles of the fraternity. Be sure the men of the fraternity are the type of men you want as intimate friends. Think of the social life in which the chapter engages and consider the scholastic record of the fraternity. Another important item in choosing the fraternity is the cost. Here at Susquehanna you will find it relatively inexpensive and all fraternities will average about the same in regard to this item. These are only a few suggestions concerning rushing and the Fraternity Senate sincerely hopes you will consider this move carefully because of the extremely important part it will play in your college life.

each will differ from its neighbors in detail, and thus shares with paintings the quality of individuality.

Represented in the exhibition is the work of some of Japan's most famous artists, Hokusai and Hirosihge of the "classical" or traditional school (active a hundred years ago), and Hasui, a "modern" artist, whose work shows Western influence, and who is among Japan's "greats." There are three prints by the famous Korin, a contemporary of the English Shakespeare, whose work is so modern that only the initiated can date him accurately. Landscapes, Japan's most famous subject, are seen in prints from both schools; bird, animal, flower, and genre themes are also represented. The exhibition of small prints is found in the basement of the University Library.

The exhibition will remain until December 8, thus affording as many people as possible the opportunity to see and, perchance, to buy these beautiful pictures. Prices range from 75c to $12.00 a print.

Was it a Nightmare?

A blood-curdling noise suddenly penetrates the consciousness of sleeping beauties with a non-diminishing, piercing shriek; doors fling open, windows go down, and moments later, the building appears to spew forth its inhabitants as a bevy of sleep-ridden belles clamors madly down the steps out into the cold, cold air of the night (or morning as it so often happens.) Voices call and laugh over the stillness, and more merriment is heard when the girls disappear once more, from whence they came, and discover the various attires each has to present—some with creams slapped greasily on their faces, most with bobby-pins, and all with towels, whether wet or dry, thrown around their necks. To an outsider, it might appear as though a raving maniac's worst nightmare has come to life. The alarm stops, leaving voices suspended in air as everyone realizes they have been screaming to be heard over it. A few words of instructions for the future, and the weary hoarde trudges back to its now cold, but soon warm, beds. All is still, and the stars once more look over a darkened building, quiet night, and silent world. Thus, ends a firedrill.

OPEN LETTER

Dear Ma,

Well only a few more days and I'll be home with you and the rest of the folks. College life is fun, but it sure is for humans. One thing though, I haven't come into contact with much book learning because I've been too busy dashing around doing other necessary things.

Susquehanna had a pretty good football team this year and, not to be smug or anything, I'm sure it was because of my support. Who else ran up and down the field, at practices as well as games, and barked encouragement till his throat was sore?

Right now everybody is just waiting for vacation so they can go home and rest up for the weeks before Christmas. I don't think I'll get much studying done since I have to look up an Irish Setter friend of mine and compare a few bones. I may bring some books home for effect, but don't worry, I won't tear into them.

Oh yes, Ma, one more thing before I close. I may decide to become a comedian. The other day I walked up on the Chapel stage and everybody just laughed and laughed. I guess it's just an inborn talent in me.

I think I'll saunter down to the lounge after while and see if "Marcy" has any stray (excuse the expression) hot dogs. Don't forget to get some big bones for Thanksgiving, and I'll help dig some up when I get home.

Your loving pup,
Elvis Hound Dog

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

The "Bunders" rallied in intramurals last week. Wednesday Lambda Chi defeated the "Big Red" 33-0. On the following day, a well functioning combination of brothers received the upper hand of a 53-7 score against Phi Mu Delta. The game was smoothly played, but how about some glue on those fingers, "Neffer".

The brotherhood would like to thank Elinda Siemers for her contribution of apple cider. It was fully appreciated by a thirsty household. Thanks, Elinda.

To all the guests of the "Bowery" —a sincere appreciation for your attendance. The "Bowery" in mention refers to the theme of the dance Saturday night at the Lambda Chi home. The dance was preceded by a turkey dinner, attended by the brothers and their dates. We should like to thank the chaperones; Dr. and Mrs. Robert Amy, Dr. George Robinson, and Dr. and Mrs. John Houtz. Their presence was enjoyed by the house.

Now that some of the brothers seem to have raised their heads from a landslide of tests, there seems to be some kind of conflict of optimism and pessimism. Thanksgiving dinner is the target of optimism, a fear of test results are the targets of pessimism.

In closing, Lambda Chi Alpha hopes that everyone enjoys a pleasant Thanksgiving and hope that everyone returns with enthusiastic vigor. (what's that?)

—S—

PHI MU DELTA NEWS

This week at Phi Mu Delta the big news was the party held on Saturday night for the brothers and their dates as a relaxing climax to the mid-semester testing period. The party was very nice, with an atmosphere especially conducive for dancing. During the course of the evening, light and very tasteful refreshments were served for the enjoyment of everyone. We're sure everyone present enjoyed themselves immensely. Our guests for the evening were the Reverend Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lotz, Dr. and Mrs. T. Townsend Smith, Miss Jean Beamenderfer, Miss Ruth Meister, and Mr. Axel Kleinsorg. Many thanks to all the brothers who had a hand in making the party a success.

Mu Alpha chapter is extremely proud to have received the Interfraternity Scholarship Cup for the third year in succession, thereby giving us permanent possession of this coveted trophy.

Congratulations are in order for Brothers Pete Nunn and Clarence Lorah for being selected to represent Susquehanna in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

As you read this column, the brothers of Phi Mu Delta are probably devouring the annual "Turkey Day" dinner at the chapter house. After wining and dining, the brothers will relax for the remainder of the evening in order to get in shape for the coming Thanksgiving vacation.

Mu Alpha chapter congratulates Lambda Chi Alpha on clinching the first-half intramural grid title. After the Thanksgiving vacation, the Mu Alphs will begin practices for the rapidly approaching intramural basketball season. With five starters returned from last year, the brothers anticipate a good court season.

Until next Monday, when the grind starts again, Phi Mu Delta wishes the faculty and students a very happy Thanksgiving!

Half the semester is over; hard to believe isn't it? What's more the mid-semester test are ended! To celebrate this "glorious event" Theta Chi held an Open House on Saturday. Everything was simple and rather casual. The decoration mostly saw an intermingling of corn stalks and orange crepe paper. Light but appropriate for this season, refreshments of cider, cookies and dates were served. We would like to thank our chaperons, Mr. Howard DeMott and Dr. Thomas Armstrong, for their presence.

In the intramural league the Big Red tied Lambda Chi Alpha at 7-7. The following day the Red playing without three of its ablest men fell to the same Lambda Chi.

Congratulations and applause to Brother Romano upon being elected to Who' Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities".

The brothers would like to thank our faculty advisors for their gift of two new tables.

The basketball team looked very good in their first exhibition with Pine Grove. Brother's Romano and Huseman are on their way to another big season. Frank scored 39 points in this game and is headed straight at breaking his own S. U. record. Our best wishes to the entire team for a successful season.

We understand Brother John Renshaw is having international troubles. Our advice to John is: take it to the United Nations; that is the place to settle disputes.

Fat Thought for the Week: Lots of turkey to everyone!

don, labored admirably toward the accomplishment. Also instrumental were the alumni and enthusiastic members.

On a warm, sunny April twenty eighth, 1956, the old Bond and Key Club was initiated into the brotherhood of Lambda Chi Alpha as a colony. The colorful ceremony at Trinity Lutheran Church in Selinsgrove was a proud period, for its participants. A number of alumni traveled to Selinsgrove to become newly intiated members of the national fraternity. Among the alumni three generations of the Bogar family, of Harrisburg were to accept membership here. (Jerry Bogar, class of 1899; Guy Bogar, class of 1921; and Marsh Bogar, class of 1951.) The day was one of celebration. A luncheon preceded the ceremony, and a banquet at the club home was held in the evening. Several chapters of Lambda Chi, from the state of Pennsylvania, were present for the festivities.

President of the local colony, Arthur Zimmerman, has been an important part of the transition. But, never let it be misunderstood: Bond and Key "ne'er has broken". The same enthusiasm and pride that fostered and nurtured Bond and Key's success is ever present; the old traditions have not faltered. It is the same combination that shall mold the future of the "Bunders".

THANKSGIVING VESPERS

Thanksgiving vespers were held on Thursday evening following the formal dinner. The liturgist was Foster McCurley and the speaker was the Rev Mr. Bernard Krapf. The hymns used were "Now Thank We All Our God", "Come, Ye Thankful People, Come" and "Praise to the Lord". The scripture was Chapter 8 of the Deuteronomy. Mr. Krapf's message consisted of three major points: "Should we be thankful, what should we be thankful for, and to whom should we be thankful?" The organist was Ray Stiller.

ALPHA DELTA PI NEWS

The sisters have completed their annual Thansgiving caroling. Thanks to our gracious alumnae who served us refresments after the cold "junket". We were pleased to have as our song director, Sister Thelma Rosetti, who did a fine job substiuting for regular song director, Sister Joan Raudenbush Wendell.

All the Alpha Delt's wish only the best of luck and martial bliss to Sister Joan Raudenbush, who is now Mrs. Robert Wendell, Jr., of Selinsgrove. We all enjoyed planning her shower and attending her wedding ceremony and reception. Best wishes, Joanie.

Congratulations to Phi Mu Delta for winning the Fraternity Scholarship cup. Alpha Delta Phi received the cup again for the fourth consecutive year. Keep up with the books, Sisters.

Plans for the annual Christmas party for the underprivileged children are well under way. The sisters are looking forward to this affair as it is one of our favorite parties of the year. Games, refeshments and gifts are being readied for the little ones for the party on Saturday, December 1.

The girl' varsity hockey team is to be commended for its fine play on Saturday against Dickinson. Special plaudits go to Sister Jan Smith, captain and Sister Nancy Altland, Gladys Ransom, Sandy Meyer, Anne Reynolds, Joan Shetterly and Po Nelson. Nice playing, team.

ADPI was in charge of vespers on Sunday night in the Seibert chapel. Sister Sue Wahl was liturgist and Sister Eleanor Pourron was speaker. The theme of the service was "You and Your Belief".

We wish to thank the sisters of Kappa Delta Sorority for their unusual invitations to "come as you are". The Green and White certainly caught us off guard with their "timely" invitations. Be seeing you tonight, Kappa Delts.

Our chapter is working toward the construction of a new fraternity house. Four beautiful lots on Susquehanna Avenue have already been purchased and a campaign for funds is in progress. Though Beta Omega looks toward the future, we are ever mindful that we are living in the present as we do our best for our Alma Mater and Fraternity.

Coaches Present Football Awards

About one hundred people, members of the band, football and cheerleading teams, and the athletic council, attended the football banquet on Tuesday night, November 13, 1956 at the Dutch Pantry.

The principal speaker of the evening, Mr. George Mierly, principal of the Danville High School, spoke about "Oddities in Sports".

President Smith and Dr. Russell Gilbert talked about the success of the season with our four wins and three losses. Both also talked about the favorable prospects of next year's team.

Dick Horn was master of ceremonies. Bill Woelkers and "Bucky" Clark entertained the group with several musical numbers.

The team presented Coaches "Whitey" Keil and Bob Pittello with leather brief cases.

Aunt Ethel: "Well, Beatrice, were you brave at the dentist's?"

Beatrice: "Yes, auntie, I was."

Aunt Ethel: "Then here's the dollar I promised you. And now tell me what the dentist did to you."

Beatrice: "He pulled out two of Willie's teeth."

KD NEWS

Hi! All finished your tests? I think you'll all agree that this Thanksgiving vacation will be one well deserved by everyone. Of course we always have something to look forward to, such as coming back and getting all those A's. Oh well. . . .

The Kappa Delta sisters want to thank Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Mu Delta and Theta Chi for the wonderful time at the parties on Saturday night. Lambda Chi Alpha brothers and their dates dressed according to the theme of the party, "The Bowery". Both Phi Mu Delta and Theta Chi had open houses in which the guys and gals danced and then were served refreshments.

Hats off to the Alpha Delta Pi sisters for their fine serenade last night. The KD sisters really enjoyed it, and hope to hear more in the future.

Here are almost ready to begin another season of basketball. Congratulations to the basketball team for the victory at Pine Grove. Don't forget you have the support of each and everyone of S. U. students, especially KD.

Congratulations also to the girls' varsity hockey team, who played a good game at Carlisle on Saturday.

Well gang, not too much to say except have a good time over Thanksgiving vacation, and we'll be looking forward to seeing you next Monday.

Don't foget to get your permissions for the bloodmobile and see you, "come-as-you-are ADPi's" at the party.

pha has recently become the proud and permanent possessor of the Inter-Fraternity Scholarship Cup.

Over the years, the brothers of Phi Mu Delta have worked together to produce men of character and ability who hold high the ideals of brotherhood, democracy, and service in the college community and in modern society.

Administration News

The administration has been exceedingly busy throughout the last three weeks. Dr. Russell Gilbert was campus representative at the Lehigh Valley district alumni meeting held at the American Hotel, in Allentown, on November 3. He told his audience of the success of the Centennial Fund, in addition to entertaining them with amusing stories and a talk on the Pennsylvania Dutch.

Mr. Dan MacCuish has been kept busy representing Susquehanna at college-night programs. He has attended such programs at Carlisle, Harrisburg, Chambersburg, Upper Darby, Doylestown, Willow Grove, Easton and Reading. He was a member of a panel discussion sponsored by the guidance department of Williamsport High School, when four college representatives discussed problems of going to college.

Coach "Whitey" Keil was the speaker of a sports dinner given by the Lions Club of Herndon for the football players of Mahoney Joint High School, on Monday night, November 12. He left campus Thursday for his home in Cliffside Park, New Jersey, where he expects to be very active catching up with his business.

President G. Morris Smith had an important part in the dedication of the new Selinsgrove High School building, on Friday evening, November 16.

"1956 CRUSADERS"

SPORTS SHORTS

By GEORGE POSPISIL

Here are a few statistics from the football season. The total offense leader was Dick Purnell with 1072 yards. The teams total was 1893 yards, so you can see that Purnell was responsible for well over half of the Crusader's yardage. Purnell carried 102 times for 422 yards gained rushing. He passed 64 times and completed 36 for 650 yards, including four touchdowns. . . Average-wise Purnell gained 6.4 yards everytime he handled the ball. Bob Lewis was the runner-up with 329 yards gained for an average of almost four yards per carry. In the scoring department, the Crusaders racked up 126 points against opponents 85. Purnell had nine T.D.'s and three extra points for 57 points. Lewis scored twice and converted three times for 15 points.

Jack Anthony proved to be the best pass-receiver as he gathered in eight passes for 169 yards and one touchdown. Rube Forster was second with six passes good for 116 yards and a T.D. Purnell punted 16 times for an average of 33.3 yards per boot. Lewis kicked 10 times for 28.7 yards per punt. All in all it was a very successful season. Dick Purnell, who at last report was ranked fifth among the small college scorers, should be a candidate for Little All-American honors. The only thing that holds him back is the lack of publicity in the metropolitan papers.

Next year the Crusaders of Coach "Whitey" Keil should really be ready for big things. The only loss to the team is Lenny Quick. "Tonto" or "Cochise" as his fraternity brothers, the Bunders, call him, was the only senior on the team. He played three years of good hard football. His intercollegiate career is over, but now the intramural scene will provide action for Lenny. He is the clean-up hitting catcher, and all-around tack man for Lambda Chi. "Good Luck in the future, Lenny." . . . .

To acquaint the freshmen with our basketball team, here are a few facts about last year's cagers. Their record was 10 wins and 8 losses. It was the first winning season in several years. In fact the last winning squad had Ed Pfeiffer, the Crusader mentor, as its first string guard. . . . The point producers were as follows:

Romano	29.0
Purnell	12.4
Witiak	10.9
Herbster	10.6
Huseman	9.5

The above are the pre-game averages. The Crusaders averaged 74.2 points each game. This year Susquehanna will have a Jay-Vee team, made up of players who don't play in the varsity game. The first game is with Dickinson on the first Saturday fater Thanksgiving vacation. Dickinson is located in Carlisle, Pa., that is only a 50 mile drive, so let's plan on being there and getting the Crusaders off to a good start. . .

The followers of the intramural league have been treated to some exciting touch football. I don't remember ever seeing a race so closely contested and tied-up. The victory by Lambda Chi over Phi Mu by the score of 53-7 is the widest margin in this writer's memory.

If any one has seen Oklahoma's football team in action this fall you may wonder, as I do, how in the world could the so-called experts omit the Sooners from the top spot in the nation. . .

Things to watch in the next two weeks: Navy to knock off Army. . . Notre Dame losing a couple more. . . and the Crusaders to come back from Carlisle victorious.

The 1956 "Pigskin Parade" is now past history but Susquehanna University, duly proud of the excellent record compiled by this year's hard hitting Crusaders, presents this tribute to the coaches, the players, and managers of the Maroon and Orange.

Awards for outstanding gridiron display were presented to the following team members at the Annual Football Banquet.

A Major "S" was awarded to: John Anthony, Chalmers Bartlow, Walter Benham, Gerald Bernstein, Ralph Ferraro, Ronald Forster, James Keiser, Robert Lewis, Daniel Marvin, Veryl Milroy, Richard Purnell, Leonard Quick, Ray Richie, Ted Shilling, Gordon Thompson, John Yanuklis, Richard Zabriskie.

A Minor "S" was presented to: Frank DelNero, Vance Maneval, Joseph Osinchak, George Swann, Mike Edwards, Alan Shaw, Lanny Thomas, Dan Ward.

Managers presented with awards were: Richard Frank—Major "S"; Ed Rhoads—Major "S"; Kenneth James—Numerals; Paul Olbrich—Numerals.

Lambda Chi Annexes First Half Crown

Displaying an unstoppable offense and an equally strong defense, the "Bunders" rolled to two playoff victories and one tie, sufficient to win first half honors in the intramural football league.

On Tuesday afternoon Theta Chi locked horns with the "Bunders" and managed a 7-7 tie. Lambda Chi drew first blood as Jim Bortle flipped a short pass to Wood Cox for a T.D. late in the first half. These same two combined to make good the extra point.

With only minutes remaining in the game, Jack Bishop recovered a "Bunder" fumble in the end zone for a touchdown. Dick Kisslak made the E.P. which tied the game, thus forcing a replay of the game next day.

Jim Bortle and Joe Barlow provided the offense as the "Bunders" sank the "Big Red" 32-0 on Wednesday afternoon, thus eliminating Theta Chi from first half competition. Jim Bortle, talented back for the "Bunders" threw no less than four T.D. passes to sticky fingered Joe Barlow. Barlow also accounted for the fifth T.D. by making a beautiful interception of a pass, intended for Dick Kisslak, and racing into the end zone. Barlow accounted for one E.P. and Jim Stone the other.

Thursday afternoon found Phi Mu Delta meeting Lambda Chi for the first half title. For the first 17 minutes, it was a defensive battle as neither team could build up an offense. Then it happened; in the last three minutes of the first half four touchdowns were reeled off, three by the "Bunders" and one by the "Black and Orange". Bortle started the fireworks by tossing a fifty yard pass to George Vinc for a T.D. The E.P. was broken up. Phi Mu, not to be outdone, took the following kick-off and marched the length of the field for the tying T.D. Jim White passed to Milan Kratzer for the P.A.T. and Phi Mu had a short lived lead, 7-6. With 45 seconds remaining in the half Barlow threw to Stone for another "Bunder" score. Vinc made the P.A.T. On the ensuing kick, White fumbled the ball in the end zone and Stone recovered for the third "Bunder" score, and he also recorded the P.A.T. Thus ended the first half with Lambda Chi on top 20-7.

In the second half Phi Mu was completely snowed under by an avalanche of "Bunder" touchdowns. Bortle and Barlow took turns throwing T.D. passes to: Woody Cox, George Vinc, "Doc" Boyer, and Dick Cahn. Stone intercepted a Phi Mu pass and ran into the end zone for another T.D. When tshe final whistle had blown the score read Lambda Chi 53, Phi Mu 7. What started as a tremendous defensive fray turned into a complete rout.

Theta Chi and Lambda Chi battle it out for the second half laurels on Monday afternoon at 4:30.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

Hockey sticks were swinging at Carlisle this past Saturday when S. U.'s varsity girls' hockey team clashed with Dickinson. The girls from S.U. put up a strong fight, but they were knocked for a 3-1 defeat.

Dickinson scored two goals in the first half and one in the second half. Liz Gage scored S.U.'s only goal in the second half.

It was S.U.'s only game of the season, and the gals came up with some nice rushing and good team work.

The experienced Dickinson girls had previous clashes with Penn State, Lock Haven, Lycoming and Elizabethtown. They were victorious in all the games except Lock Haven who triumphed over them 4-0.

This is the first varsity hockey team that S.U. has seen for a long time. Miss Betsy McDowell, girls' physical education instructor, hopes to continue the program next year.

The team is captained by Jan Smith It is composed of eleven sophomores; Nancy Altland, Sandy Crothers, Liz Gage, Jan Hiddeman; Sandy Meyer, Posey Nelson, Gladys Ransom, Anne Reynolds, Joan Shetterly, Fran Wirt ,and also of five freshmen; Elberta Close, Mary Ann Crawford, Carol Duncan, Judy Poulette, and Sandy Risser.

ADPi Sponsors Visit From Santa

Seibert social rooms was the scene of the annual Christmas party given December 1st by Gamma Omicron Chapter of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority for the underprivileged children in the Selinsgrove area.

The little tots were treated to ice cream, traditional Christmas fare of candy canes, popcorn balls and cookies. Carol Daily, chairman of the refreshments committee saw that all the wee guests were filled with good things to eat. Amid all the goodies were the usual holiday treats of presents and surprises. There were mittens and toys for each child. The highlight of the gift-giving was the appearance of Santa Claus in the person of none other than our own Ralph Ferraro.

Games were played by the children and their hosts. Stories, singing and games were provided for all by Dawn Douglas and her entertainment committee. The games and treats were given a real Christmastide atmosphere, complete with trees and decorated table and stocking-filled mantle. All the trimming was done by Gail Muller and her aides.

Beginning at two in the afternoon the party sped along until five. The spirited children were anxious to stay but the weary hosts bundled their little charges up and off into cars which carried them home. Thanks to Sue Bates and her "sleigh-drivers" all were delivered safe and sound after an afternoon of fun.

Notice

Those who are interested in obtaining Japanese prints for Christmas presents or for themselves are reminded that they have until December 8 to do so. See Mr. Robert Meader. A series of small prints are at the library, and may be obtained through Miss Hilda Kolpin.

Foreign Students Guests For Panel

Do you know what it would be like to attend school in Germany, France, Spain or Formosa? Here is your chance to get first-hand information. This Thursday, December 6, at 7 p. m. in Bogar Hall, Room 103, the Future Teachers of America are sponsoring a panel discussion by several foreign students who will be guests on the campus.

Topics to be discussed will include grading systems, extra-curricular activities, social life, provisions for the exceptional and retarded students, and a comparison of impressions of American schools with the schools of France, Germany, Spain and Formosa. Have any questions? Bring them along to ask the guest speakers.

Our speakers will include Miss Tordis Sopp-Schrade from Germany, Miss Edith Lepelley from France, Miss Maria Ibanez-Garcia from Spain and Miss Shein Niu from Formosa. These people are all graduates of universities in their home countries and are graduate students at a nearby university where they also serve as language tutors.

Everyone is welcome, so bring all your friends and questions, and we will see you in Bogar 103 on Thursday night at 7 p. m.

WSC Christmas At SU Dormitories

A meeting of Women's Student Council was held Tuesday, November 27, at 6:30 p. m. A report from the projects committee was heard. Several items were discussed in connection with a project for the Student Council for this school year.

The ways and means committee reported that they are working on several plans for raising money to be used by the Council. Student Council Keys were distributed to the new members of the council.

Christmas decorations in the dormitories will be completed this week. The traditional Christmas parties will be held sometime later in the week.

Chapel Choir to Present Yuletide Program

The members of the Chapel Choir will present their annual evening of Christmas music on Sunday, December 9, at 7:00 p. m. in Seibert Chapel. Mr. Lavan R. Robinson will lead the group in songs praising the Saviour's birth. The Motet Choir, under the direction of David Boltz, will also participate in the program.

Students and friends of Susquehanna University are cordially invited to attend the Christmas song festival.

S.C.A. Discusses Mixed Marriages

Campus Night, on Tuesday night, December 27, consisted of a discussion on "Mixed Marriages" and it was highlighted by three important speakers, a Lutheran minister, a Jewish rabbi, and a Catholic priest. Each of these three speakers gave the point of view toward mixed marriages that his faith maintains. All three faiths maintain the same point of view which is that mixed marriages are not condoned.

A very lively discussion followed the presentations by the speakers. Many interesting and thought-provoking questions were directed to the speakers, after which refreshments were served.

Mr. Benjamin Lotz, in chapel on the Thursday morning after the discussion, summed up the question of mixed marriages very thoroughly. He stated that although each faith prefers to have marriages take place within its own boundaries, mixed marriages are possible, but only if God is the center of them, through His Son and the Holy Ghost.

BOOK NOOK

When you think of the library, books are the first thing to enter your mind, but there are other things connected with the library.

The school has purchased a beautiful piece of machinery for the library. This phonograph is also known as a Caliphone. The Caliphone is for all of the students of the campus. Records are being purchased to assure enjoyment for the variety of interests of the entire student body. These records will include such things as well-known speeches, Shakesperian plays, and music.

The Caliphone is supplied with earphones for the individual's use, or the sound can be amplified for a group by the use of a loud speaker. The phonograph will not be in use until after Christmas. Don't forget to take advantage of our opportunities at Susquehanna.

Many new books have been purchased for your enjoyment and culture. When you are at a loss as to what to do in your leisure moments, drop in at the library.

A few of the many new books recently purchased which are of the greatest interest to the student body as a whole are listed. One of the newest books in the library is "A Thing of Beauty" by A. F. Cronin. This book deals with a particular inspirational painting of an artist.

A book of particular interest to our actors, actresses, and all of those interested in dramatics is a book called "The Best Plays of 1955-1956". This book includes such plays as "The Lark", "My Fair Lady", and many other outstanding plays. Another book that has been greatly successful from the reports of magazines and newspapers is the life story of Victor Hugo in the book called "Olympio" by Andre Maurois.

Support Kappa Delta Bloodmobile, Dec. 5

Tomorrow is the Day! The American Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit Susquehanna's campus sponsored by Kappa Delta. Faculty members, students and other citizens are expected to donate blood. These bloodmobile visits are more important than many people think. Each pint donated is used to help save everyone's life. In an emergency one pint won't do much good, but if everyone were to donate these emergencies could be met more easily. The campaign will be carried out in the Seibert Social Rooms between 10:00 a. m. and 4 p. m. Let's see if we can reach and top that quota of 50 pints.

A LOST WEEKEND

College life is great, they say;
The work is just a snap—
A couple hours of class each day,
Between each hour a nap.

You sleep in late, you eat your fill,
From milkshakes blow the foam;
You spend your weekends on the town,
Or, in a pinch, at home.

There are dances, football games,
Riots—lots of fun;
That old saying must be true:
"College broadens one!"

Ha! Here is a true report
Directly from the field!
A college student's weekend grim
Is faithfully revealed.

German ends at ten past three
On Friday afternoon,
But do not think my work stops then;
No, that is far too soon.

Yes, I must study hist'ry for
A wicked test next day,
But Friday night a star course will Take three more hours away.

On Saturday's a football game—
The team we have to cheer,
And now there comes the rub that makes
College life so dear.

The paper wants an article
For Sunday afternoon;

SAI Holds Annual Tea and Musicale

Sigma Alpha Iota held its annual Incorporation Day Musicale and Tea on Sunday, December 2 at 3:00 p. m. in Seibert Parlors to which everyone was cordially invited.

First on the program was a talk given by President Linda Youhon on the purposes and accomplishments of SAI's Foundation. Next on the program was the Musicale which included the following: "Ballet" from the Petite Suite by Debussy, a four-hand piano selection by Carolyn Gillaspie and Mary Moore. Vocal selections by Arlene Roberts included "And There Were Shepherds Abiding in the Fields" by Frank LaForge, "St. Nicholas Day in the Morning" by Easthop Martin, and "Around the Manger" by Mrs. H. H. A. Beach. Miss Roberts was accompanied by Ray Stiller.

After the Musicale refreshments and informal chatting were enjoyed by all who attended. Thanks to all who helped in any way.

MENC Members At State Convention

Approximately thirty-three S. U. music education students attended the Annual Conference of the Pennsylvania Music Educators Association from November 29 to December 1, in Harrisburg. The conference was held in the Penn Harris Hotel, the Y.W.C.A., and the Forum—Education Building. The Susquehanna students were accompanied by Mrs. Alice Giauque.

The students attended several conferences of their choice plus some special sessions each day. Each session was conducted by instructors from different schools and colleges from Pennsylvania and other states.

Some of the highlights were the Mount Lebanon High School Orchestra, the Rittenhouse String Quartet, the Mansfield State Teachers College Renaissance Singers, the Duquesne University Brass Choir, and the Park Terrace Junior High School Band. Friday noon, the Annual Conference Luncheon and College Reunions were held. The Trombone Quartet of Duquesne University entertained, and Dr. William D. McBride of Ohio State University and President of the Educators National Conference was the guest speaker. His topic was "Our Golden Anniversary—A Report to the Profession".

Friday evening at 8:00, the students and instructors attended a concert presented by the United States Air Force Band with the Singing Sergeants. The program, which ranged from classical selections to "Nothin' But A Hound Dog" was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone. Saturday morning, the convention was adjourned after three sessions. Our students were very enthusiastic about the convention upon their return to Susquehanna and are looking forward to next year when they can again attend the conference.

Attention, Students

A twenty-five dollar cash prize will be given for the script chosen for use in the May Day program. All students who are interested in writing a script, please see Miss Betsy McDowell concerning contest rules by Wednesday December 12th!

At a lecture the speaker orated fervently: "He drove straight to his goal. He looked neither to the right nor to the left, but pressed forward, moved by a definite purpose. Neither friend nor foe could delay him or turn him from his course. All who crossed his path did so at their own peril. What would you call such a man?"

"A taxi driver," shouted a voice from the audience.

America: The wonderful land where it's trashy to sit on the back step in your undershirt but gracious living if you've got nothing on but your shorts.

AMY TO DISCUSS PARASITIC WASP

Because of rush week, the Biemic Society will hold its regular meeting on Monday, December 10, 1956. Immediately following the meeting, Dr. Robert Amy will give a talk on "The Effects of Ultra-violet Light on the Habrobracon Vuglandis Egg."

Dr. Amy received his B. S. degree in biology from Thiel College in 1941. From the period of 1942-1946 his college career was interrupted by a tour of duty in the Air Force. Upon discharge from the service, Dr. Amy proceeded toward his M. S. He received his M. S. in zoology from the University of Pittsburgh in 1949. In 1955 Dr. Amy received his Ph.D. from the University of Virginia. During his course of study, Dr. Amy received the National Scientific Foundation Pre-Doctoral Research Award and the Andrew Fleming Graduate Student Award in Biology from the University of Virginia. He is also a member of Sigma Xi, Honorary Scientific Society, American Society of Zoologists, and The Pennsylvania Academy of Science. Dr. Amy has been teaching at Susquehanna since 1949. During the past summers Dr. Amy has been connected with the biology division of the Oak Ridge Laboratory, Oak Ridge, Tenn., doing research on the effect of radiation in the development of the parasitic wasp. Everyone is welcome to attend this talk which should prove to be very interetsing.

A few weeks ago Dr. Kirk, dean of the Graduate School of Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute, was on our campus. A letter was received from Dr. Kirk which reads in part: "I have very pleasant memories of the day which I spent at Susquehanna and of the pleasant associations with you and your colleagues as well as with your fine students. Please accept my warmest thanks for many courtesies shown me." This is the kind of impression we would like everyone to have when they leave our campus. We would like to extend our sincere thanks for your cooperation.

VESPERS

The Pre-Theological Association had charge of vespers on Sunday evening, November 11th. Carol Daily was the liturgist and Sister Bessie Trate was the speaker. The hymns were "God Himself is Present" and "One There is Above All Others". The scripture was Colossians 1:9-14. The theme of Sister Bessie's meditation was "Christian Witnessing". The organist was Mary Moore.

S. U. Represented At Conferences

During the past few weeks a number of the Susquehanna faculty and staff members represented the college at various College Nights and conferences.

Mr. Howard DeMott and Mr. Axel Kleinsorg participated in College Night programs at Bloomsburg and Bensalem High Schools respectively. Mr. Frederic Billman accompanied Mr. Dan MacCuish to Milton High School for a College Night which covered all the high schools in the Susquehanna Valley. Mr. MacCuish also went to Scranton for a College Night.

Coach Stagg attended, on November 20, the meeting of the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Conference, which was held at Bucknell.

Over the holidays, Dean Galt attended sessions at the annual conference of the Middle Association of Colleges at Atlantic City. He attended the sessions for the Deans of Colleges.

Also over the Thanksgiving holidays, Dr. Zimmer attended a conference of higher education at the United Lutheran Church of America at Cincinnati, Ohio.

Every year it takes less time to fly across the ocean and longer to drive to the office.

SO YOU WANT TO JOIN A FRATERNITY

Before you take the big step, let's first do a little thinking. You probably are asking what is a fraternity and what good can it do for me? First of all, a fraternity is a brotherhood. The universal concept of brotherhood has a significant contribution to make to this war torn world. In the universal sense brotherhood is merely love for one another. Applying this concept to our present surroundings we can say that within the brotherhood of a fraternity you can find fellowship; you can make your closest and most significant friends; you can belong to something greater than yourself. Thus you can find a sense of fulfillment. Belonging to a fraternity is something of which to be proud.

You ask what good it can do for you? Exactly as you give so will you receive. The intensity with which you project yourself and the type of character that you project will determine what you will get out of a fraternity. If you project all of the best that is within you into your fraternity you will get back much more good in the form of friends, fellowship and fulfillment than you gave. It's all up to you.

Am I Normal?

I'm normal. What ever gave you the idea that I wasn't? I'm just like any other student on this campus or any other campus in the country. There is only one thing wrong with me. I haven't found the basis of it yet, but I'm working on it. Maybe you can help me out.

Why is that I feel worse in the morning than I did when I went to bed at 2:30 a. m. Four and one half hours sleep are good for you when you go to college. Anyway, who goes to bed early around here?

Beside the tremendous amount of sleep I get, I can't see straight. My eyes are the most beautiful bloodshot eyes on campus. I don't mind that though, because everyone I see looks the same way. I decided not to use suitcases to take my things home for vacation since I have two beautiful built in bags under my eyes. Oh, this headache is getting me down. I can't even think straight anymore. Could I ever?

You'd think this was the morning after the night before. Well, it is. This wouldn't be bad if it was just the night before, but it's the week before. Won't I ever be able to stop? I'm going broke buying black coffee. I do wish my head would stop spinning. This condition must stop, cease, end, quit, discontinue, desist. I can't take very much more of it.

It will soon be over, I hope, but only for a few days. Mother would never let me live like this. I can't complain, though, since it's all part of college life. You must take it. You must suffer for the fun you have sometimes. There the better days ahead. That's what I was told anyway.

Do you think I'm cracking up? You're not far from being absolutely right. Some people do go completely mad, but not I. I'm as sane now as I was the day I came to college. That was the day I was crazy. Oh well, at least I'm getting an education?

Tell me why do people stare at me when I walk to classes? I know I can't stay on the sidewalks. It's no fault of mine. They just have the sidewalk too straight on this campus. They should have them so I could follow them. Do you have an aspirin? My head is killing me. It's probably killing everyone else too. Do I really look that bad? The answer? Mid-semester tests!

I think I'll take the next canoe
For some remote lagoon!

Sunday morning's spent at church;
No class to teach? That's rare!
A German test to study yet,
An ethics theme prepare.

The rest of Sunday they'll use up,
And now the weekend's beat!
Yes, college life is great, they say;
Now, ain't that pure deceit?

Campus Spotlights
Pete Nunn

The Susquehanna spotlight this week is turned on Peter Nunn a senior in the business administration course. Pete hails from Newark, New York, where he was graduated from high school in 1953 as an honor student. While in high school, Pete served on the Student Council, played varsity football, and was a member of Hi-Y and the Varsity Club.

On Susquehanna's campus, Pete continues his very active ways. He now serves as the capable secretary of Phi Mu Delta Fraternity, and held the office of vice-president in his junior year. Pete is the president of Pi Gamma Mu and the Business Society, and has held other offices in these organizations during his years at S. U. He has also been a class officer every year. Pete is a member of the Student Christian Association, has served on the orientation committees, and has participated enthusiastically in intramural sports.

Perhaps the greatest achievement at Susquehanna for Pete has been his selection as one of S. U.'s representatives to the ranks of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. Pete has attained this enviable position for his contributions to Susquehanna by virtue of his consistently high academic aerage and his many activities.

After graduation, Pete plans to enter the field of industrial accounting. The best of luck to Pete in his future work; we know he'll do extremely well.

My Pet Peeve

Aren't you just dying to know what my pet peeve is? You will be surprised (quit snickering). First I'll describe it: it is very aggravating; it gets you up at what seems to be the middle of the night, and thus disturbs your pleasant dreams about this past or coming week-end; it makes you bump into things and people which you would ordinarily see; it makes you grumpy, grouchy, droopy-eyed, bitter, angry, resentful, indignant, wrathful, sulky, fuming, furious—for the rest of that day and part of the next when you have to do the same thing all over. (This could go on all day).

In this process (this terrible process), you become very sleepy so you think to yourself, "I'll just close my eyes and listen," but in the end you get it (usually from the person behind you). This intollerable process is especially aggravating and infuriating when a professor walks into the room and says (bellows) "Good morning, kiddies,—my, my, my how bright and cheerful you look?" and you have to reply (with, of all things) a smile upon your tired face.

Then there's your room-mate who at any other time seems like an alright kid, but when you have to go through this ordeal and she doesn't, it makes her look like a party pooper —an unsympathetic dead-head who grins at you from her upper bunk and says "Have a nice time" while you stumble out the door and head for a wastecan which looks like a doorway at this time of day.

Yes, friends and professors, (grapevine reports say some of this species of Homo sapiens do not appreciate this either), I am talking about those 8 o'clock classes which make you grumpy, grouchy, droopy-eyed, bitter, angry, (sometimes mad!), resentful, indignant, wrathful, sulky, fuming, furious, etcetera, etcetera, etcetera, etcetera, etcetera, for the remainder of the day.

PHI MU DELTA NEWS

On Saturday night, December 1, Mu Alpha chapter of Phi Mu Delta observed the annual Faculty Card Party. Social Chairman Alan Hazen was in charge of preparations, and deserves to be congratulated for his tremendous work, as well as all the brothers who had a hand in making the party a success.

The living room of the house was decorated cleverly and tastefully in a Christmas motif with the traditional red and green colors. Tables for card-playing, seating four, were set up throughout the room. Each group was supplied with the card game of their choice and candy and cigarettes for their enjoyment while playing. Appropriate background music added to the festive party mood.

After everyone had played cards for a while, refreshments were served in the dining room. While our guests were getting refreshments, the tables in the living room were set up for their convenience in eating. Two of the brothers, acting as waiters, moved in and out among the tables serving coffee. The serving was clever and well-executed.

The brothers of Phi Mu Delta sincerely hope that all of the faculty members who honored us with their presence on Saturday had a very nice evening. We invite you back to visit with us any time at all. Thank you very much for coming, we enjoyed welcoming you.

This week, as everyone knows, is fraternity Rush Week. Mu Alpha chapter of Phi Mu Delta takes this opportunity to invite the freshmen men to the chapter house any time during the week, at your convenience. You are always cordially welcome.

—S—

THETA CHI NEWS

The brothers returned rested and full of turkey after the Thanksgiving vacation: Rested they were, but not for long as they immediately swung into the laborious process of painting the downstairs room. Under the fine direction of Brother Bill Shepherd the rooms were painted a bright new grey with a pale green trim. Dick Kisslak and Ed Simonds were also of special assistance. Also helping at various times were many of the other brothers. We would especially like to thank Bill without whose guidance, expert help and long hours of effort could not have produced such a fine job. Thanks to everyone!

We would like to extend our congratulations and best wishes to Brother Bill Shepherd on his recent marriage.

The brothers of Theta Chi are pleased to welcome as a pledge Mr. Edgar Simonds.

This for the freshmen is the Big Week! The week when the freshmen are treated royally. We of Theta Chi extend an open door of friendship and hospitality to all freshmen. Under the capable direction of brother Jack Anthony this year's rushing program is planned as the finest in our long history. Every night during rush week the "old homestead" will be "rock'en", and then on Thursday the big Theta Chi Smoker will be the main attraction. Again we would like to say the brothers hope to welcome all the freshmen men. It is our hope that you, the freshmen, will look sincerely at the kind of men that make up a fraternity for this is the most important part of any fraternity. Finally we hope that each man, no matter what his choice may be, will be happy with it.

The brothers congratulate Lambda Chi Alpha on winning the football cup. "We gave you a hard fight, and we can only say congratulations and wait until next year."

Fat Thought for the Week: Freshmen—have the biggest and best time in your life.

—S—

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

The S. U. basketball season has begun. The heartbreaking defeat by Dickinson shall soon be buried under a landslide of Crusader rallies. At all home games, let's fill the gym to capacity—and then some.

The brothers are still cheering about the intramural championship, which they secured before Thanksgiving vacation. It would be impossible to give credit to the whole team, without overflowing the pages of the Susquehanna; but this paragraph would not be complete until mention of that fearless combination, the Coal-dust Twins, be made.

The brothers of Lambda Chi returned from vacation to find the rooms of the fraternity home adorned by fresh, new colors. Those who exercised their labor are to be thanked.

Sandwiched between Thanksgiving and Christmas are a group of days completely devoid of study. These days have become known collectively as Rush Week. Over this period of time the whole face of Susquehanna will alter. At present we are in the midst of this "confused week".

If any poor soul had wandered into the Lambda Chi house on Saturday afternoon, he would have encountered a mob of figures hovering around some unseen object, all yelling "Go Navy" (except for one rather overpowered individual yelling "Go Army") The object of attraction, of course, was the Army-Navy game which was being played on a television screen.

Keep up the studying—it won't be long until Christmas vacation.

—S—

R.S.V.P.

Dear Mom,

It was doggone good to be home for awhile but now it's back to the old "collar and chain" for a few more weeks.

I thought I saw "old" Clem Bassett the other day, but it was just another student with a long face. It seems mid-semester grades were being passed out and I guess the professors made a lot of mistakes (?). I always wondered why Clem had such a long face; I thought it was just because he was so nosey, but now I know the real reason. He probably went to S. U., too.

Just to start the week off right, I decided to attend some classes for a change. I wandered into a class that seemed pretty lively and sat down to enjoy the lecture. Very shortly I discovered that they were discussing this philosophy business from the human's point of view, so I wasn't too interested. However, I sat up in a hurry when someone stepped on me. Since a part of me, other than my pride, had been hurt I thought it would be best if I cut the rest of the classes.

I've been delegated the "official mouse catcher" in the girl's dormitory and I've been very busy, but after I catch them they always put them in wastebaskets and keep them for pets. Humans are an odd race, aren't they?

Whoops! There goes another one across the floor. I'd better get busy or I won't get any goodies from the dining-hall.

Will write again soon.

Your loving pup,
Elvis

ALPHA DELTA PI NEWS

All the Alpha Delts were pleased with the serenade by the brothers of Phi Mu Delta Fraternity on the eve of Thanksgiving vacation. The Black and Orange did themselves proud. We all enjoyed it very much, Mu Alpha.

A great big thank you for all the Kappa Delts for planning a "come as you are party" that held fun and surprises for both the KD and ADPi sisters. Some of the ADPi sisters who were standouts in the "come as you are" field are Miss Sex Appeal (Sister Bobbie Hewitt), Miss "Hair-do" (Sister Ruth Ann Ulsh), Miss "College Girl" (Sister Thelma Rosetti) and "Miss Placed" (Sister Janet Snyder). Thanks again, Kappa Delta. We hope you won't forget to do your part for the K.D. Bloodmobile that will be on campus December 5.

Little children are lots of fun. That's the opinion of all the ADPi's after their annual Christmas party given by Gamma Omicron Chapter for the underpriviliged children. The party was held on Saturday in the Seibert Social Rooms. Christmas decorations, candy canes and other things so good to eat were in abundance. The surprise of the afternoon was visit from Santa (Ralph Ferraro) Claus, bearing gifts of mittens and toys for each child. We had a grand time, thanks to all of our very wonderful little guests.

The sisters of the Blue and White are happy to welcome back Sister Joan Raudenbush Wendel. The recently-wed Joanie honeymooned in Washington, D. C. and is now making her home in Selinsgrove.

Let's all get out to the basketball court to watch our team in action. Excitement and good basketball are in store as we all watch the Crusaders GO.

—S—

KD NEWS

Flash! Important news! Tomorrow the KD sponsored Bloodmobile will visit S. U.'s campus. The quota is 50 pints, but let's make our goal 100. Do yourself a favor, donate blood and help save someone else's life. What say?

Last Monday several of our KD sisters entertained the Selinsgrove Parents-Teachers Association with a comedy skit. Sister Judi Anderson narrated the story while Sister Muriel Behrens acted as teacher trying to control a group of "devilish little brats." Sister Carol Zacharias took the part of Denny Dimwit, who just couldn't learn his schoolwork and had to sit in the corner with a dunce cap on his head. Toughy Malone was played by Sister Susie Carmint. Sister Janis Adams played Silly Sally who did nothing but sit around and laugh and giggle to her heart's content. Sister Bert Hays enacted the role of Perciville Pennington, III. This little boy was the scholarly type who never got into trouble. Sister Liz Gage fit perfectly into the role of Mary Jane, a pretty little girl who always obeyed the teacher. Sister Carolyn Birkhimer played Susie Mae, a nice girl to the teacher's face, but behind her back, look out! Pledge Susie Lehman took the part of Johnny, the boy who loved sports.

The sisters of Kappa Delta want to thank Phi Mu Delta for the beautiful serenade before vacation. We enjoyed it very much and hope to hear you soon again.

Congratulations to the basketball team for a well fought game. Now that the season is underway, let's get out there and support our team.

It was good to see that so many of our ADPi friends came to our "come-as-you-are" party. We enjoyed having you, and I must say that those outfits you wore were original.

Time to go—good luck to Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Mu Delta, and Theta Chi in your rushing.

SAI NEWS

Bouquets of roses to sister Mary Ellen Harrington who recently was elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Sigma Omega is very proud of this honor for Mary Ellen!

Thanks are extended belatedly to ADPi for their very fine pre-Thanksgiving serenade. We all enjoyed it.

Sunday afternoon Sigma Omega held its annual Incorporation Day tea and musicale in Seibert parlors. Sisters Mary Moore and Carolyn Gillespie presented a four-hand piano selection and Sister Arlene Roberts sang a soprano solo.

This coming Saturday, December 8, Sigma Omega will present a Christmas program for the Women's Auxiliary. The chapter chorus will sing a carol medley and present the Waring arrangement of the well-known poem, "T'was the Night Before Christmas". Sister Janet Gordon will be in charge of the devotional part of the program and Sister Linda Youhon will direct the chorus.

Don't forget the Chapel Choir Christmas program in Seibert Chapel on Sunday evening, December 9—motet choir will also sing.

New Diet Solves Weight Problem

In an effort to improve The Susquehanna, the staff agreed that an integral part of any successful newspaper was missing from the columns of our newspaper. Who among our readers is not familiar with Phoebe Goodheart, Sheila Graham ,and Dorothy Dix? Since our campus is a cross-section of the country, we feel that there may be some one here who is starving for such advice, yet is reticent to consult his roommate, proctor or faculty advisor. Full confidence can be placed in Elberta Einstein, who through family tradition is richly endowed with an abundance of insight in solving problems.

Our column this week is one which concerns quite a few of the students—dieting. It is especially dedicated to the brother of Theta Chi who eats a box of chocolate covered cherries every night to keep his appetite within bounds. The following diet is guaranteed to help you lose weight. Mrs. Ifumparey, the dietitian in Horton Dining Hall, has been contacted, and she is willing to cooperate to the utmost of her ability.

Monday

Breakfast—Weak tea.
Lunch—One bullion cube in one-half cup diluted water.
Dinner—One pigeon thigh and 3 ounces prune juice (gargle only).

Tuesday

Breakfast—Scraped crumbs from burnt toast.
Lunch—Doughnut hole (without sugar) and 1 glass dehydrated water.
Dinner—Canary eyebrows stewed (fat removed)

Wednesday

Breakfast—Boiled out stains of table cover.
Lunch—One-half dozen poppy seeds.
Dinner—Bees knees and mosquito knuckles salted in vinegar.

Thursday

Breakfast—Shredded eggshell skins.
Lunch—Button from naval orange
Dinner—Three eyes from Irish potatoes (diced).

Friday

Breakfast—Four chopped banana seeds.
Lunch—Broiled butterfly liver.
Dinner—Filet of soft shell crab claw.

Saturday

Breakfast—No. 2 lobster antennae.
Lunch—One guppy fin.
Dinner—Jellyfish vertebrae a la bookbinder.

Sunday

Breakfast—Pickled humming - bird tongue.
Lunch—Prime ribs of tadpole.
Dinner—Tossed paprika and clover leaf (one) salad.

Note: All meals eaten under microscope to avoid extra portions. Second week reversed.

In case you would like to pass this menu on to a friend, or enemy, it is called "Elberta's Ten Calorie Diet".

Pre-Season Jitters Jar Pfeiffer-men; Meet Ursinus for Home Opener Saturday

Making their 1956 debut on unfamiliar hardwoods, the Crusader cagers dropped a close contest to Dickinson College by the score of 77-71.

The Pfeiffer-coached quintet started slowly but fought uphill to knot the score with seven minutes to play. With the score 61-60 in favor of Dickinson, Frank Romano fouled out. Dwight Huseman followed his teammates two minutes later, and the Crusaders chances gradually faded.

Romano, who had an off night, was still the best performer on the court as he racked up 26 points to lead both teams. Freshman Bob Probert, played very sparingly, hit the nets for 13 points. Gene Witiak and Gerry Herbster chalked up double figures with 12 and 11 respectively.

Dickinson jumped off to a quick 25-15 lead. The Maroon repeatedly missed layup shots and peepers, and continued to trail the winners by 36-33 at halftime.

Midway through the second half the Crusaders tied the count at 57 apiece. Minutes later Romano and Huseman left the game. The lead jumped back and forth and Dickinson pulled away with about three minutes remaining on the scoreboard clock.

The big guns for the Red Devils were Weaver and Wiley with 19 and 18 points. Dickinson hit 25 field goals and 27 for 39 from the foul line. The Crusaders notched 23 field goals and attempts.

JACK BISHOP

J-is for jolly, A-is for athletic, C-is for clever, and K-is for knucklehead. Put them together, and you have Jack. Add Bishop, and that is on whom the Susquehanna spotlight shines this week. Jack was a typical "hot-rodder" (white jacket and leather boots) from Harrisburg's William Penn High School. Despite the fact that it was a hard job, he graduated—after eight years. (His father, a teacher at the school, knew that he would do it!) While in school, Jack divided his time between women and books (comic books). Pulling himself from these refined arts, "Bish" participated in athletics, starring on the track team as well as proving himself a superb cross-country runner, scampering to California in 2.4 days. He was associate editor of the newspaper. His jovial personality and crafty brain built this newspaper into a fairly large circulation paper called the Patriot-News.

From this simple beginning Jack came to Susquehanna (by canoe). He is a business student majoring in economics. S.C.A. and the Biemic Society also claim his membership. Being a happy fellow, he immediately joined the (monkey) Business Society.

As a member of last year's Orientation Committee, Bish was instrumental in persuading several freshmen to transfer to some other college. Also last year he was one of the fine Orange and Maroon Keilmen. After losing one of his heads, his eleventh toe and third eye, Bish decided he had had enough of football. However, he carries on in the intramural athletic league very well despite these handicaps.

Elected to the Men's Student Council, he serves this organization as its treasurer. He has sponsored a wide program of legislation. This New Bishopian Program includes (1) a coffee break in each class (2) a secret unlocked entrance to Hassinger and Seibert Halls (3) a pillow and blanket for students in the more prosaic classes (4) Dodger and Adlai buttons for all students and (5) abolition of clothes on the campus. Unfortunately, none of this program has yet been adopted.

Jack has carried his accounting talents over to Theta Chi Fraternity. Last year he served as treasurer; he was fired for playing the horses! (Horses, did I say? I mean the chance wheels at fairs.) This is a carry-over from a fascinating childhood habit. Anyway, fired. This year he wields the gavel as president.

The freshmen recognized Jack as their coach in the freshmen-sophomore game. If the freshmen won, he was supposed to get thrown into the fish pond. This is most excellent, as it would have dampened his pyromaniac (fire-bug) tendencies. This impulse ran away with him in adolescence.

After college Jack has one of his "longer dates" (with a rifle). After loafing for two years with Sam, he will probably get married, have seventeen children, and a long miserable life.

As these are the last words written about him, I should like to say: "Words are only chatter, A friend is all that matters."

Turn down that spotlight!

"In this fog?" his father exclaimed.

"Oh," explained the son, "we've already seen the movie."

WOMEN'S SPORTS

On Thursday night, November 29, the first four girls' intramural volleyball games were played in our gymnasium. The results were as follows: freshman team 1, captained by Isabell Carroll, defeated freshman team 2; Carol Daily's sophomore team 6 overcame sophomore team 7, led by Muriel Behrens; sophomore team 4, led by Judi Anderson, beat sophomore team 5, whose captain is Sandy Crothers; and, in the fourth game, the juniors of team 8, headed by Terry Feliciano, defeated the seniors of team 9, captained by Ruth Ann Ulsh. More games will be played this coming Tuesday and Thursday nights. The schedule for Tuesday night is: 7:00 p. m.—teams 1 and 7; 7:40—teams 4 and 3; and 8:20—teams 6 and 8.

The members of Tau Kappa are busy with the preparations for the Christmas party which they will hold for the patronesses. This event is scheduled for Friday evening, December 7.

"What happened, dear? Did you breathe on it after you got it built?"

SPORTS SHORTS

By GEORGE POSPISIL

The Crusaders got off to a bad start against Dickinson, but don't let that fool you. There's a long home stand on the schedule beginning with Ursinus on Saturday. This will prove extremely valuable to the cagers. They will be on a familiar court, and playing before a home crowd which should mold a winning combination.

Susquehanna was well represented at Dickinson on Saturday night. I hope this keeps up throughout the season. The school spirit has improved tremendously in the last year. Last year's basketball team started it, and our wonderful football team kept the fire burning with their sparkling performances on the gridiron. The Pfeiffer-men will keep it alive, I'm sure. . .

Congratulations go to Lambda Chi Alpha on winning the Intramural Football Trophy for the second straight year. The Bunders have now captured eight consecutive athletic trophies which is something of a modern record. . . .

Intramural basketball is next on tap. The season will get underway after the Christmas vacation. Lambda Chi is the defending champion, and with the addition of an ex-varsity man and some good new players the Big Green must once again be considered the team to beat. Theta Chi has their team of last year intact with the addition of several new men, and Phi Mu Delta should be vastly improved with the addition of some ex-Selinsgrove North & South players. I hope the freshmen dorms can come up with a couple of good squads and upset my predictions. . . but not completely.

How to Make a Bag of Peanuts Pay Off

• Ever thought how much the cost of a bag of peanuts saved each day can mean to your future? Did you know, for example, that for those "peanuts" you can own an endowment policy of $2,200?

Let's say you want money for retirement at age 65. Here's how those "peanuts"—20¢ a day—pay off for you . . .

After only 20 years you're all paid up — then at age 65 you get back all you've paid in — plus a gain of $2,000 in interest and dividends (per present rate of dividends). And you've been protected for the full amount of the policy during the entire time!

This kind of pay-off is why hundreds of students start their insurance program with Lutheran Brotherhood right while they're in school. Interested? Write . . .

GRADUATE STUDY? SEE DR. AMY

The Danforth Foundation invites applications for Danforth Graduate Fellows from college senior men and recent graduates who are preparing themselves for a career of college teaching and are planning to enter graduate school in September, 1957, for their first year of graduate study. The Foundation welcomes applications from the areas of Natural and Biological Sciences, Social Sciences, Humanities and all fields of specialization to be found in the undergraduate college.

Dr. Robert L. Amy is the Liason Officer who will nominate to the Danforth Foundation two or possibly three candidates for these fellowships. The maximum annual grant for single fellows is $1800, for married fellows it is $2400 with an additional stipend for children.

All Danforth Fellows will participate in the annual Danforth Foundation Conference on Teaching to be held at Camp Miniwanca in Michigan next September.

The qualifications of the candidates as listed in the announcement from the Foundation are: men of outstanding academic ability, personality congenial to the classroom and integrity and character, including serious inquiry within the Christian tradition.

All applications, including the recommendations, must be completed by January 31, 1957. Any student wishing further information should get in touch with Dr. Amy in the near future.

Annual Frosh Party Provides Surprise

Throughout the years, a tradition that has been faithfully followed at SU is that of the Christmas Party given the girls in the freshman dorm by their counselors. Last Thursday night, this same exalted event took place, this time with the added help of the upperclass women residing in Hassinger.

Preparations started in the early afternoon, and all doors leading to the parlor were carefully blocked by keys, paper, and other convenient materials. Thereupon ensued the decoration of the tree intermingled with arguments as to which string of tinsel should go where. Every now and then, the paper covering the doors would give forth a suspicious rattle, and from within the parlor would come orders for that sneaky person to be on her way.

The party was scheduled for 10:30, but unfortunately, the affair had to be postponed for an hour. Another tradition is to always have a fire-drill preceding the event, and as the supposed surprise (?) was much too well-known, all precautions were taken to find an inconvenient hour. Finally, at 11:30, everything took place. The fire alarm went off, and the dorm quickly emptied. When the girls returned to the building via the front door, they were greeted by a glorious tree decked out in blue lights and shimmering with tinsel. Entertainment started immediately with the counselors doing their version of "Santa Claus Is Coming To Town." This was followed by a hilarious pantomine skit of "Twas the Night Before Christmas" complete with quiet mice (Ha!) and "rain dears". Delicious refreshments were served, and as they were happily devoured, "The Pine Tree" was read and intently listened to. Then followed the singing of carols, and as the strains of "Silent Night" were softly hummed, everyone tip-toed off to bed.

BLOODMOBILE IS BIG SUCCESS

On Wednesday, December 5, the social rooms of Seibert Hall were the scene of the Kappa Delta sponsored Bloodmobile. A total of sixty-one pints of blood was given by students, faculty and townspeople. Although this amount did not approach the goal of one hundred pints, it did exceed by nine pints the amount given last year.

Those students who gave are Mary Lou Ernst, Kermit Ritter, Edward Rhodes, Barbara Brown, C. James Smith, Walt Benham, Jan Gadomski, Donald Abel, Robert Clark, Lorraine Kelly, Matthew Waters, Donald Coleman, Marty McNitt, Carolyn Birkheimer, Frances MacCuish, Betty Lou Hubler, Joe Scully, Terry Feliciano, SEE BLOODMOBILE—P. 3

Dec. Meeting of Women's Auxiliary Includes Christmas Presentation by SAI

The Women's Auxiliary held their monthly meeting on Saturday, December 8 in Seibert Hall.

SAI provided the entertainment in the form of a Christmas program which began the auxiliary's meeting starting with a religious presentation of the birth of Christ. Included in this portion of the program was a narration taken from Luke 2: 1-20, read by Martha Flood interspersed by the SAI Chorus, directed by Linda Youhon, singing "O Come, O Come Emanuel", sung in unison; "Mary Had a Baby", a Negro spiritual which the chorus also sang in unison; "Away in the Manger", the chorus providing a soft backgound for the pretty voice of Arlene Roberts; "O Holy Night", beautifully sung as a solo by Mary Ellen Harrington accompanied by Mary Moore; and last of all the chorus sang the carol "Angels We Have Heard on High".

President G. Morris Smith then addressed the Auxiliary and expressed his wishes for a Merry Christmas as well as expressing his gratitude for the wonderful work they have done in raising money through the Synod and the College for our new Conservatory. He gave an inspiring talk on Christmas as taken from Luke 1, and spoke about Benedictus of Zacharias, father of John the Baptist.

Next the program again featured the SAI chorus doing "Twas The Night Before Christmas" in the form of a musical skit wth piano accompaniment for which the gils made a quick change of sceney as well as of dress, from choir robes to bathrobes (some in flannel pajamas and nightles like Grandma used to wear!) and did the usual "bang-up" job for which SAI is noted.

Following the program, the Auxiliary had its business meeting. Two Blue Book entries, one given by the November Social Committee and the other by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nicely of Watsontown, and one Children's Book entry, given by Mrs. G. Morris SEE DEC. MEETING — P 4

FTA HEARS FOREIGN PANEL

On Thursday evening, December 5, a very enlightening and informative discussion was held at the meeting of the Future Teachers of America. Miss Edith Lepelley from France, Miss Maria Ibanez-Garcia from Spain, Miss Shein Neu from Formosa and Miss Tordis Sopp-Schrade from Germany were the members of the panel moderated by Marilyn Wrigley.

The first of the topics to be discussed was the educational systems in the respective countries. Next the panel discussion such questions as the grading systems, extra-curricular activities, social life in the high schools and colleges, special education for retarded and exceptional students, and salary for teachers.

The S. U. chapter of F. T. A. is planning to hold a white elephant sale at the Plaza Market sometime after vacation. A visit to the new Middleburg Elementary School is planned for January 3.

At the close of the meeting refreshments of hot chocolate and cookies were served.

CONTRIBUTE TO CENTENNIAL

The members of Phi Mu Delta fraternity, Frank Chango, President, and the members of the Alpha Sigma Omega Association, Warren Pirie, President, have each presented to President Smith a contribution for the Susquehanna University Centennial Appeal. This gesture on the part of students and alumni is very much appreciated by the administration as an addition to the $200,000 portion raised by the directors, faculty, alumni and friends toward the over-all $700,000 Appeal goal.

Impressive Pledging Ceremonies Climax Successful Week of Fraternity Rushing

It took quite a while girls, but believe it or not, Rush Week is over and once again the campus is back to normal. The boy friends are back and now your only competition is a "little brother". Rushing activities began on Monday evening, when all the fraternity houses had open house. On Tuesday evening, Lambda Chi Alpha had their smoker, followed by Phi Mu Delta and Theta Chi on Wednesday and Thursday evenings respectively.

On Friday evening pledge banquets were held for the pledges and actives of the various fraternities. Lambda Chi Alpha held their banquet at The Pine Barn Inn in Danville, Phi Mu Delta at The Blue Hill Restaurant, and Theta Chi at The Governor Snyder Hotel. Pledging ceremonies were held on Saturday afternoon at the respective houses. The highlight of the week was Saturday evening when each house celebrated the weeks efforts with music and dancing for the brotherhoods. The following men were pledged on Saturday afternoon:

MRS. ALTERMAN PRESENTS FIRST FACULTY RECITAL

On Friday evening January 4, in Seibert Chapel, Mrs. Frances Alterman, soprano, of the music faculty, will present a voice recital.

Mrs. Alterman, who comes to us from Asheville, North Carolina, is in her first year of teaching at S. U. She holds her bachelor of music degree from the Eastman School of Music of the University of Rochester and her M. A. in Music Education from Columbia University. She also studied for one year at the Julliard School of Music, New York.

While in New York, Mrs. Alterman studied with vocal coach Maggie Teyte, who is a great exponent of the French art song. She also sang extensively in churches and on radio, and taught at the Metropolitan Music School.

Mrs. Alterman's accompanist will be assistant professor Frederic Billman of the music faculty.

Let's all keep this date in mind for after the Christmas holidays. We are looking forward to an outstanding recital by an accomplished performer. The progam for Mrs. Alterman's recital is as follows:

PRE-THEO CLUB PLANS PROGRAMS

Attention! Attention, all pre-theological students, deaconess students, parish worker students, and other interested persons. On Thursday, January 3, 1957, at 7:00 p. m. the Rev. Mr. James Singer, well-known pastor from Bloomsburg, will address the Pre-Theological Association on the subject of "Divorce". He will approach this touchy and serious subject with regard to the responsibilities of a minister as a result of a divorce situation, including the problem of the children involved. Refreshments and informal discussion will follow. This presentation will be very helpful to you. Mark the date, the day after we return from Christmas vacation, on your calendar.

Future meetings, if interest is shown, will include a discussion by a deaconess or parish worker of what students in that field may expect in their work, the presentation by a missionary of his experiences, a panel of pastors and church council men to discuss practical parish problems, and SEE PRE THEO CLUB—P. 2

TAU KAPPA GIVES PATRONESS PARTY

A version of "Pantomine Quiz" provided part of the entertainment for the Tau Kappa Patroness Party last Friday evening. The guests were also entertained by Mary Ann Heck who gave two readings appropriate for this season of the year.

The evening was begun with the initiation of an honorary member, Miss Joanne Heinly. The patronesses present were Mrs. A. A. Stagg, Mrs. Dan McCuish, and Mrs. Rishel.

In the Social Rooms, amid holiday decorations, the Tau Kappa girls presented gifts to their guests, and exchanged gifts among themselves. Following the singing of Christmas carols, refreshments were served. The members of Tau Kappa wish to thank the patronesses for their gift to the sorority.

Jumping the Gun?

A little child can't wait for Santa Claus to come. The shopping days before Christmas are endless. The closer Christmas approaches, the longer each day becomes.

Are we still like children? The four weeks before Christmas are called Advent. During this time our churches use violet hangings on the altar and pulpit. Advent is a time of waiting for the Coming of Christ, and it should be a period of self-examination and preparation.

Christmas is that time when we rejoice because Christ has come. Does it seem proper to celebrate Christmas ahead of time? Do we have anything left to celebrate on Christmas Day? Can anything be deader than Christmas Day if we have jumped the gun?

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Rush Week "is all", and now that the brothers are beginning to catch their breath, they reflect upon a very pleasant week of smokers, dances, cigars, cigarettes, pizzas, etc. The exhausting week pulled to a close with the Friday night banquet at Danville and dancing to the music of Joey Marnarchick Saturday night ata the fraternity home. The parlors were decorated in Christmas attire. Much of the credit for dance preparations deservingly goes to Brother Ed Rhodes. We wish to thank our guests, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lotz, Miss Leatrice Voorhees, and Mr. Louis Dougherty for attending. The dance was highlighted by the crowning of Maureen Ball, as the "Crescent Queen".

Saturday afternoon, in the home gym, the Crusaders showed their teeth, beating the Ursinus team. The home squad is to be congratulated for their victory. Keep up the good work!

The brothers of Lambda Chi wish to extend Christmas greetings to each person, and hope he enjoys a happy New Year.

PHI MU DELTA NEWS

The brothers of Mu Alpha chapter of Phi Mu Delta are very proud and pleased to have experienced what we consider one of the most successful Rush Weeks in the history of the fraternity on Susquehanna's campus.

On Wednesday evening the brothers, under the able leadership of Don Trimmer, presented the annual Rush Week Smoker. The presentation was varied, with a well-balanced combination of both humorous and serious acts. The program was culminated with comments by president Frank Changa on life at Mu Alpha chapter, after which the brotherhood sang fraternity songs. Everyone who participated deserves the highest commendations on making the smoker a recognized success. The other nights during the week were spent in having the brothers and rushees acquainting themselves with each other. There were informal "jam sessions", and refreshments were served every night for the enjoyment of everyone present. The highly successful activities were culminated with a banquet for prospective pledges at the Blue Hill restaurant.

On Saturday night, Mu Alpha presented a party for all the pledges at the fraternity home. Music for dancing was provided by the Temp Tones, and very tasteful refreshments were served. Our guests for the evening were Miss Ruth Meister, Mrs. Alice Giauque, Miss Athalia Kline, Miss Mary Potteiger and brother and sister, Mr. Albert Potteiger and Miss Mildred Potteiger, Mr. Lavan Robinson, Dr. Lyder Unstad, Mr. Robert Meader, and Mr. Axel Kleinsorg, whom we were very happy to welcome and share our hospitality once more. Congratulations are due to everyone who helped make the party a huge success. We're sure everyone had a wonderful time.

On Saturday afternoon at 1:15 p. m., Mu Alpha chapter observed the solemn ceremony of pledging, and welcomed 24 men as pledges of Phi Mu Delta. The following men were initiated into pledgeship: Denny Shank, James Middleswarth, Mike Fahey, Joe Aleknavage, Wes Hunt, George Swann, Dawson Frock, Jim Maurer, Ron Smith, Don Abel, Jim Straussser, Bob Wallace, Dick Reichard, Jack Clarke, Dan Marvin, Vince Maneval, Jim Hayward, Larry Updegrove, Jerry Bernstein, Bill Clements, Al Rowe, Ralph Wagoner, John Brokenshire, and Willi Weichelt. Again, the brothers welcome you men, and certainly hope your plegeship will be as enlightening and rewarding as ours was in the past.

The brothers are also happy to welcome as social pledges Dan Ward, Dick Horn, George Schulman, and John Klus.

Congratulations to Coach Ed Pfeiffers court team in rolling up the first victory of the season over Ursinus by a 79-48 score. Commendations to all the brothers who had a part in leading the Crusaders to this victory.

THETA CHI

"Red Tie Week" proved to be a great success for the Big Red of Theta Chi. Climaxed by the annual pledge dance, the rushees and brothers started the week with an informal get-together Monday night. Various programs were presented throughout the week highlighted by the Smoker. Various talent and skits, unde the capable direction of Jack Anthony entertained the rushees. The following night featured the annual pledge banquet at the Hotel Governor Snyder.

Thanks go to Mrs. Tharp for the wonderful meals that were served during this week.

The pledge party had as its motif, "Christmas in the Country". Beginning with the sleigh outside, the theme was carried inside to the skating rink where dancing took place. The scene was set with a shimmering cascade of silver amid falling snowglakes. The tree was glowing with blue lights and angel hair. The "Reck Room" was decorated with greens and an old-fashioned tree. Refreshments were served on a pin-covered bar: They consisted of pinwheel sandwiches, flaming fruit cake, and traditional egg nog. Thanks go to Chester Hall and Stanley DeCamp who headed the committees; also all those who greatly assisted them.

The Brothers wish the faculty and everyone a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. See you next year.

ALPHA DELTA PI NEWS

There's nothing like a party weekend to make us feel in the Christmas spirit. The sisters of the blue and white were treated to parties, pleasure, presents and surprises. We all extend our congratulations to the brothers of Phi Mu Delta, Theta Chi and Lambda Chi Alpha. A special congratulations to those men who became the pledges of the "frats" on Saturday.

Congratulations are in order for those sisters who became members of W.A.A. at the last meeting. New members wearing the maroon and white of W.A.A. are Sisters Kate Henry, Janet Rohrbach, Jan Snyder and Julie Stauffer. We are also proud to congratulate those sisters who were awarded their class numerals for the year 1959. The sisters receiving them were Sandy Meyer, Posey Nelson, Gladys Ranson and Anne Reynolds.

The sisters of the green and white are to be commended on their fine job of sponsoring the Bloodmobile that was on campus last week. Nice work, Kappa Delts.

Plans for the annual Christmas caroling by Gamma Omicron and the party for the sisters are well under way. Under the guidance of Sister Joan Wendel, we are hoping to present a pleasing serenade on Wednesday night.

Congratulations, team, for a fine showing on Saturday, lots a luck this week!

To all of you, the sisters of the blue and white extend best wishes for the holidays and we hope to see you all safe and sound after a pleasant Christmas tide vacation.

KD NEWS

Hi, people! It sure is good to see our men students back on campus this week. S.U. was beginning to look like a school for girls only this past week. Any way we're glad to see that your rushing was successful.

A bouquet of white roses to Sister Maureen Ball who was crowned "Crescent Queen of Lambda Chi" at their party on Saturday night. Maureen beamed as she was presented with her crown, scepter, and a bouquet of white roses. The queen's duties will include reigning over all the rest of the Lambda Chi parties and acting as hostess for the rest of the year. Her picture will be sent into National headquarters where a National Lambda Chi Alpha Queen will be chosen.

Hats off to the basketball team for the victory over Ursinus on Saturday. S. U. is behind you to get a long string of wins such as that.

A basket full of praises go to Mr. Lavan Robinson for the excellent work he has done with Chapel Choir. It is had to say how much we really enjoyed the program on Sunday night. KD also wants to congratulate Dave Boltz for his fine job with the Motet Singers. Let's not forget to give praise to the students who made up these groups, and the soloists.

Thanks to the students of Susquehanna and the people from Selinsgrove for making the KD Bloodmobile successful. We especially want to thank the ADPi girls for helping with registration. We appreciate your interest.

Congratulations to Sigma Alpha Iota for the beautiful serenade last night .Your singing was just what we needed to put us in the Christmas spirit.

KD has a bit of good news to report this week. One of our alumni, Sister Carol Kogel, has become engaged. Congratulations and best wishes to you, Carol.

Since this is the last issue before vacation, Kappa Delta wants to wish you all a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Have a good time and enjoy your presents, but don't forget what we're really celebrating.

Bye, gang, see you January 2.

SAI NEWS

Bouquets of roses to sisters Mary Ellen Harrington, Gloria Myers, and Barbara Boob who appeared as soloists with the Chapel Choir at its Christmas program Sunday evening. The whole program was very well presented and Bob Haswell presented a fitting narration.

Last evening the Sigma Omega chorus serenaded the campus and the State School with Christmas carols. Sister Linda Youhon directed the chorus.

Tonight sisters Gloria Myers, Mary Louise Neal, Denece Newhard, Barbara Boob, Arlene Roberts, and Alice Ann Patterson will appear as soloists in the first Evening Recital in Seibert Chapel at 8:00 p. m.

Saturday afternoon Sigma Omega presented a Christmas program for the Women's Auxiliary. We sang a carol medley featuring soloists Mary Ellen Harrington and Arlene Roberts and presented the musical novelty "Twas The Night Before Christmas."

All the sisters wish to thank the fraternities for their lovely parties on Saturday evening and wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Betty Flood, Gail Woolbert, Denny Shank, Charlene Gruner, Wally Smith, Muriel Behrens, Judi Anderson, Sandy Crothers, Betsy Walker, Sandy Locke, Jan Hiddemen, Ruth Coleman and Nancy Zimmerman. Thanks to all of the blood donors.

Mention must also be made of those who helped with the registration, canteen, etc. These jobs were an integral part in the smooth functioning of the Bloodmobile. To those of you who participated in this capacity go the most sincere thanks of Kappa Delta, the American Red Cross, and the entire student body.

Congratulations on making this blood drive a success!

Dear Ma,

Dear Ma,

The last week certainly has been a hectic one. All the freshmen men got "rushed" into fraternities but I just got rushed out of doors. I still have my membership in the S. P. C. A. though, and they've got a pretty good bunch of hounds down at the kennels.

I was very saddened the other day because I lost two of my old friend evergeens. The used to stand outside Seibet Hall in the sun and wind and rain (and cary on photosynthesis) for almost seventeen years (if I counted xylem rings correctly). But now they grace the girls dormitories with gaudy ornaments all over them. (I must admit though they do look sort of pretty.)

Well, Christmas is really sneaking up on me; just think only eleven more shopping days till the big day. I guess I'd better start thinking about doing some shopping myself. If it's like previous years then I won't get it done till Christmas Eve but I don't panic easily.

Christmas is gay for almost everyone
But what about dogs, we like to have fun!
Just like you humans and maybe much more
But we dogs can't go down and buy out a store.
You take us for granted and we can't even speak
All we ask is some bones and a warm place to sleep.
So not just at Christmas but all through the year
Remember your dog friends and give them some cheer.

Time is fleeting so I'll close for now but I'll see you all in a few days.

Your (poetic?) loving pup,
Elvis

Crusaders Go Bear Hunting; Bag the Ursinus "Grizzlies"

The Susquehanna Crusaders made their home debut a successful one by completely outclassing the "Grizzlies" from Ursinus College, 79-48.

Sparked by Frankie Romano's 17 points in the first half, the Crusaders rolled to a 42-14 half time advantage which they never relinquished.

The game was never in doubt from the starting moments as Jerry Herbster opened the scoring with two quick baskets. Before the game ended Coach Pfeiffer cleaned the bench. Gene Witiak and Jerry Herbster were brilliant on rebounding, while frosh Bob Probert, Dick Purnell and Frankie Romano passed the ball beautifully and set up plays.

Rider College provides the opposition for the Crusader's next home game on Monday Dec. 10th at 8:00 P. M.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

Six more games of intramural volleyball were played this week. On Tuesday, December 4, team 7 defeated team 1, team 3 defeated team 4, and team 8 defeated team 6. Then on Thursday night team 3 beat team 2, team 4 overcame team 5, and team 6 was victorious over team 9. The captains of the teams are as follows; team 1—Isabelle Carroll; team 2—Nancy Bricker; team 3—Posey Nelson; team 4—Judi Anderson; team 5—Sandy Crothes; team 6—Carol Daily; team 7—Muriel Behrens; team 8—Terry Feliciano; and team 9—Ruth Ann Ulsh. The volleyball schedule for Tuesday night, December 11, will be teams 4 and 7 at 7:40, and teams 3 and 8 at 8:15.

On Monday evening, December 3, 11 new members were taken into the W.A.A. These girls are Marian Bowman, Molly Hassenplug, Catherine Henry, Kathy Keener, Nancy Kendall, Sara Lee McCahan, Eleanor McKim, Janet Rohrbach, Janet Snyder, Julie Stauffer, and Gracia Thomas. Following the regular business meeting a Christmas party was held.

Tau Kappa also held its regular monthly meeting as well as a Christmas party for the patronesses of the organization.

SPORTS SHORTS

By GEORGE POSPISIL

The Crusaders are off and running. They really played together as a team against Ursinus. Gene Witiak, Bob Probert, and Jerry Herbster did a fine rebounding job in the absence of Dwight Huseman. Witiak looks as though he's got the range this season on his over-the-head set shot. Dick Purnell keeps things rolling along with his play-making and ballhawking. Frank Romano has yet to have a real good day. When he starts hitting, (not that 30 points is hay), the Crusaders will be hard to stop. Keith Tyler looks like the best of a good bench. . .

Washington College has only two seniors on their squad. They have eight freshmen, one of them towers at 6'7". . . A preliminary game between Lambda Chi Alpha of Bucknell University and our own Bunders will be played before the Washington game. . . The S. U. gridders are still in the spotlight. The Keilmen were ranked 16th in the nation for small-college defensive laurels in '56 with a 97.4 yards per game yied to seven opponents. . . Congratulations go to the Crusaders' field general and captain, Dick Purnell. Dick was given honorable mention on the Little All-America team. We're anxiously awaiting the All-State selections, Dick should make first or second team. . .

Campus Spotlights

ELEANOR HINKLE

The spotlight this week is on Eleanor Hinkle, a talented clarinetist, who hails from Sunbury, Pa. A senior in the music education curriculum, Eleanor graduated from Sunbury High School in 1953. During her high school years she was very active in band work and represented SHS at several district and state band festivals.

During her time at Susquehanna, Eleanor has also continued her keen interest in instrumental music. She has been active in band and orchestra and for the past three years attended the Pennsylvania Inter-Collegiate Band Festival. Last year she was the featued soloist with the SU Concert Band, playing a Mozart clarient concerto. She is also a member of the Future Teachers of America, Music Educators National Conference and the Women Day Students Organization, having served as treasurer during her sophomore year.

At the present time Eleanor is student teaching in the elementary schools of Sunbury. After graduation Eleanor is planning to teach music in the public schools.

How to Make a Bag of Peanuts Pay Off

• Ever thought how much the cost of a bag of peanuts saved each day can mean to your future? Did you know, for example, that for those "peanuts" you can own an endowment policy of $2,200?

Let's say you want money for retirement at age 65. Here's how those "peanuts"—20¢ a day—pay off for you . . .

After only 20 years you're all paid up—then at age 65 you get back all you've paid in—plus a gain of $2,000 in interest and dividends (per present rate of dividends). And you've been protected for the full amount of the policy during the entire time!

This kind of pay-off is why hundreds of students start their insurance program with Lutheran Brotherhood right while they're in school. Interested? Write . . .

STEVENS EXHIBITS OPENS IN BOGAR

Susquehanna University takes pleasure in announcing the opening of an exhibition of thirty-five photographs taken and processed by Frederick C. Stevens, assistant professor of sociology at Susquehanna. Professor Stevens, well-known in the area for his musical accomplishments, is also a photographer of many years' standing. He does much of the fine work needed at the university, as well as taking salon prints for his own amusement.

The pictures currently on exhibit at Bogar Hall represent work done over many years. One section deals with buildings and scenes in France and Norway; others were taken in the American Southwest, as well as many made in the more immediate vicinity. They include several splendid portraits, a number of excellent animal studies and portraits of children and marine views and landscapes. One in particular, taken at Williamsburg, Virginia, is decidedly reminiscent of the intimate Dutch genre pictures of Pieter der Hooch and Vermeer. Those who feel that the camera is a mechanical tool, ill-suited or not suited at all for picture making, should see Professor Stevens' work, with its splendid composition and use of surface textures, and the discriminating use made by the artist of the elements presented to him.

Many of the pictures were made with a Leica 35 mm. camera; others with a Plaeubel, a Graflex, or a Speed Graphic, thus illustrating the quality of work which can be expected both of a miniature and of a standard-size camera.

The exhibition, which opened on January 6, will remain until the 24th of this month. It will be succeeded on February 17 with an exhibition of prints by the Studio Guild.

Dr. T. Nunheimer To Address Biemic

The regular meeting of Biemic Society will be held on January 21, 1957, in Steele Science 100. The guest speaker for this meeting will be Dr. Thomas D. Nunheimer, head of the microbiology group at the Cherokee Research Department of Merck and Co., Inc. The topic to be discussed will be "The Present Status of Antibiotics".

Dr. Nunheimer received his B. S. from Penn State University and did his graduate work at Michigan State University. He majored in microbiology and minored in biochemistry. For the past eleven years, Dr. Nunheimer has been connected with the research department at Merck and Co., Inc.

Immediately following the discussion, there will be a question and answer period for people who are interested in working in industry and desire to know what industry expects from them.

Everyone is invited to attend.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I would like to pass along to the student body all of the fine compliments I received from the members of the Central Pennsylvania Association for Student Teaching. During their recent meeting on our campus, many remarked that they felt a spirit of friendship here at Susquehanna that they cannot find at their colleges. These faculty members from 15 other colleges were particularly impressed by the manner in which students conducted themselves during lunch and dinner.

I feel certain their praise for you was genuine and will carry beyond the limits of our campus. I have never hesitated to invite groups to our campus, because our student body has always demonstrated fine examples of courtesy and friendliness. This is one of the many little things that make Susquehanna stand by itself.

Sincerely yours,
Dr. Albert Zimmer

State Authority Speaks to FTA

The monthly meeting of the Susquehanna University chapter of the Future Teachers of America was held on the evening of January 3, 1957. Mr. Raymond C. Webster, assistant executive secretary of PSEA and State FTA Consultant, gave an interesting and enlightening dissertation revealing the importance of FTA clubs and chapters in Pennsylvania. Mr. Webster also spoke on the teacher shortage and proposed possible means of eliminating this situation.

The White Elephant sale which will be sponsored by the FTA at the Plaza Market will be held in the near future.

SUMMER SERVICE OPPORTUNITIES

Unusual opportunities for unique experiences are open to college students through participation in the Summer Service Program of the United Lutheran Church. Over one hundred students are needed to work as aids in homes for children, the aging and the handicapped; in hospitals and city settlement houses; in rural and urban congregations and in welfare, leadership training and recreational camps. Last summer over 125 students from 42 colleges and universities served in 27 different centers.

The majority of these centers are located in the Middle Atlantic states with a number of situations in the Middle and far West. The period of service in July and August. Students will receive a minimum of $150.00 for the summer plus room and board. They are expected to pay their own travel expenses.

There will be a stimulating and helpful Orientation Conference at the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania June 15-22, 1957. There is no charge to the student for this conference.

Application should be made during January and February. For further information consult faculty advisers and write to Mildred E. Winston, Director of the Summer Service Program, the Board of Higher Education, ULCA, 2633-16th Street, N. W., Washington 9, D. C.

ARLENE ROBERTS, BILL ASPRAY TO PRESENT VOICE RECITAL

This Friday evening a joint student recital will be given by Arlene Roberts and William Aspray in Seibert Chapel. Arlene and Bill, soprano and tenor, will present individual and duo selections. The program will begin at 8:15.

Arlene came to Susquehanna from Franklin High School, Johnstown, where she was quite active in music, dramatics, and student government. She sang with the Sacred Choir, Girls' Chorus, and served as soloist for the mixed choir. She also was a member of the Y-Teens and editor of the yearbook. In 1954 she was elected Cambria County Ice Queen.

Here at S. U. Arlene is a junior, majoring in English literature. She is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota, Alpha Delta Pi, and the Chapel Choir. In Mozart's opera, The Impressario, presented last year, Arlene sang the part of Madame Goldentrill. She served last year also as a proofreader for the Susquehanna, and was a member of the Motet Choir for two years. This year she was co-director for the coronation of the Homecoming Queen.

Arlene continued her voice study at Susquehanna for two years under Miss Margaret Kommel. She is now studying with Mrs. Frances Alterman. Arlene plans to continue her study following graduation.

Bill comes to Susquehanna from Liberty Corner, New Jersey. He is a junior in the Music Education course. While in high school he participated in the New Jersey All-State Chorus for two years, and was a member of his high school chorus, octet, and quartet.

Bill's activities at Susquehanna include membership in Phi Mu Delta, the Chapel Choir, Susquehanna Singers, and motet choir. He was a member of the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Chorus his sophomore year, and last year Bill sang in the opera, The Impressario, by Mozart. He has also been a member of the choir at Trinity Church.

In continuing his voice study at Susquehanna, Bill has worked with Mr. Lavan Robinson.

Ray Stiller, sophomore music education students will accompany Bill and Arlene.

Drs. Smith and Amy Represent College

Dr. G. Morris Smith and Dr. Robert Amy represented Susquehanna at two meetings this past week. Dr. Smith attended meetings of the National Lutheran Education Conference and the Association of American Colleges held last week in Philadelphia.

Topics for discussion at the National Lutheran Education Conference were submitted by various college administrators and bear on academic and administrative problems. The theme of the association of American Colleges was "The Education of Free Men in a Free Society for a Free World".

On Wednesday, January 9, Dr. Robert Amy spoke at Bucknell University to a combined meeting of Phi Sigma and the Pre-Medical group. Dr. Amy spoke on the work he has done at Oak Ridge, the title of his address being "Effects of Radiation on Living Material".

Semester Solutions

Screams are heard echoing among the ivy-covered buildings; bodies are seen hurtling from dormitory windows; and professors are observed trying frantically to defend themselves against maddened hordes of erstwhile students. Why this frenzied, lunatic action? The answer is that the most feared and dreaded time of any year has returned once more to college campuses—the period of semester testing.

Why should such a reaction occur to as simple a matter as testing? Well, for four months students have been enjoying themselves—attending dances, parties and sports activities. Now that these erstwhile intellectuals are confronted with an unpleasant situation, they react as any sane person would (I refer you to sentence 1).

Can this situation be remedied or alleviated? We certainly hope so, because the mortality rate among college students is increasing by leaps and bounds and may eventually eliminate the species. What can be done to soften the effects of testing? We give you a few ideas to chose from.

(1) Tests can be reduced in length and difficulty, thereby reducing the

Read for Enjoyment In College Library

Many of us go to the library solely because we must go. How many of us ever go for the sake of enjoyment? The library is really a source of recreation which many of us overlook. There are many books in the library which are both interesting and informative.

Among the new books in the library is a full-length account of an American ambassador to Moscow, which is entitled "My Three Years in Moscow". We use a dictionary daily, but do we ever wonder about the man who is responsible for this useful book? To find out, we might read "Letters to Noah Webster". It also notes his patriotic services in shaping the new American Republic after the Revolution. "Paperbound Books in Print" is a fine index available to paper books: classic, fiction, travel, and many others. For those interested in music and dramatics, "A Short History of Opera", and "Directing the Play" may provide useful information.

So you see, books can provide a good deal more than just research material. Next time you have some leisure time, think of the library as a place to spend it.

AttentionJobSeekers

As is customary, especially during the second semester of every year, business concerns of various types send interviewing representatives to colleges and universities in order to find possible employees for supervising and managerial positions. Last year about thirty such interviewers visited our campus.

In order to make arrangements for such interviews it will be necessary for job-seeking seniors to let me know, as soon as possible, whether or not they are interested in being interviewed for possible positions after graduation. I must know their names, scholastic standing, and the jobs in which they are interested. Most of the business students have done so already.

But so many business firms are also interested in Liberal Arts students with good scholastic records and who are interested in a position with a business firm. These students in particular must let me know immediately, if they are interested.

NEW VOICE COACH DISPLAYS SKILL IN SUSQUEHANNA DEBUT - JAN. 4

The first of the 1956-57 Susquehanna University faculty recitals was given on Friday evening, January 4, at 8:15 p. m. in Seibert Chapel by the very charming and vivacious Frances Alterman, soprano, who joined the faculty this fall.

MRS. FRANCES ALTERMAN
She was assisted at the piano by Professor Frederic Billman, well-known in this area as an outstanding pianist.

Mrs. Alterman holds a Bachelor of Music degree from the Eastman School of Music of the University of Rochester, and an M. A. in Music Education from Columbia University.

After receiving her Bachelor's Degree at Eastman, she continued her studies in New York for ten years, where she was a member of the Lehman Engel Singers, a group that performed in and around New York and recorded for Columbia Records. In addition to this full schedule, Mrs. Alterman taught ten years in New York City at the Metropolitan Music School where Wallinford Riegger, Carroll Hollister, then accompanist for John Charles Thomas; and Teddy Wilson, serving in the jazz department, also taught.

Her musical life was interrupted by a two and one half tour of duty in the European theater of war. Upon her return to New York she studied at the Julliard School of Music where her coaches were Maggie Teyte, well-known exponent of the French art song, and Viola Peters, who was at one time accompanist for Marcella Sembrich. She also coached with Sergius Kagen who is currently voice teacher at Julliard.

Before accepting her present position, Mrs. Alterman was located in Asheville, North Carolina, where she taught and directed the Grace Methodist Church Choir, and presented concerts at colleges such as Montreat and Western Carolina.

We Susquehanna students are proud to claim Mrs. Alterman as a native Pennsylvanian, as she was reared near Erie.

The program on Friday evening was as follows:

Bel piacere (Air di Poppea from the opera "Agrippina") Handel
O Sleep, why dost thou leave me? (from the opera "Semele") Handel

Student Tradition Riding High

Many of the editorials which you have been reading in past issues of The Susquehanna have virtually "torn apart" some group of people or some S. U. tradition. Now, let's turn the tide. Congratulations are in order for the entire student body. Why? Because recently, in fact all this year, Susquehanna student have shown a marked degree of school spirit. Much of the credit goes to the "blazing five" who have been leading S. U. through a welcomed series of victories on the basketball court. On the whole, the student body has backed the team to the limit. Sure, there have been times when the referees felt their lives were in danger, but then that's basketball.

Remember the five minutes of constant applauding near the close of the Dickinson game? That was for Frank Romano who left the game after scoring 35 points. Certainly, this was school spirit.

One of the most important factors behind the team is the student body and friends who attend the games. Most people don't realize how much goes into one evening of basketball. How many students would be willing to give up two hours a day just so there could be a game once or twice a week? Its a well known fact that Susquehanna students aren't paid for playing basketball. Their only reward is your support. To them, it's pay. So for the rest of the season, let's raise their salary!

Tonight, the team journeys to Lycoming for one of the roughest battles of the season. Why not borrow a car and follow the team to another victory? They'll need support; let's give it to them!

Office Announces Registration Program Success of Endeavor Depends on You

Wednesday, January 30, 1957, is the official Registration Day. Students will return to campus on that day in time for payment of bills and purchase of books according to the following schedule:

Freshmen—A to K inclusive	11 a. m. to noon
Freshmen—L to Z inclusive	1 p. m. to 2 p. m.
Sophomores	2 p. m. to 3 p. m.
Juniors	3 p. m. to 4 p. m.
Seniors	4 p. m. to 5 p. m.

Bills for the second semester will be sent out in advance and students may mail in checks or money orders before returning on January 30 or may pay their bills at the Bursar's Office according to the above schedule when they return.

It is exceedingly important that every student observe the above hours on Wednesday, January 30, or the new registration system now being followed will not be successful.

Congestion and waiting lines at the Bursar's Office and the Book Store on Wednesday late afternoon or large numbers without books in classes on Thursday morning due to students not observing the above schedule will indicate that the new registration system is not working.

Since the new arrangement gives 1½ days more vacation than the former registration system, is to the advantage of the student to make it work.

amount of studying required, and thereby reducing the time in attending college. This may prove a solution for those who like long summer vacations.

(2) Tests can be eliminated altogether, thereby reducing the number of professors who are employed specifically to give exams, thereby reducing the number of students who attend college. One drawback of this method is the elimination of fun the students experience from cribbing.

(3) A third method would be to coldly and efficiently remove all professors from this earthly sphere. This would result in the annihilation of students, and thereby eliminate all colleges.

But for those who prefer final and complete destruction, I refer you, to the recent personality dazzing New York. His fiendish, diabolical plan involves the use of dynamite, a lead pipe, and —(get the idea?) Should all else fail, let us in the proletariat remind the faculties of all colleges —"comes the revolution. . . ." and testing is no more. Meanwhile—eat, drink, and be merry, friends, for tomorrow we may—AIEEEE! ! ! !

CANINE WISDOM

Dear Ma,

Just thought I'd drop you a few lines to let you know I'm still existing. Believe me it's a wonder after all the tests I've had this week and it isn't even test week. But then I think the professors felt they needed some homework too so they gave us tests just so they could keep busy.

In between tests I've been going down to Little Norway to try out those nifty skates you got me for Christmas. My legs aren't too steady yet, but I'm sure if all those people would get off the ice and give me a chance to try, I'd probably be as good as Sonja Chihuahua.

I'm also getting a lot of use out of another present. The one I got from Uncle C. Spaniel. It's very cold up here and the mink earwarmers come in very handy. The only trouble is I can't even hear myself bark when I have them on.

My New Year's resolutions are really coming along just grand and I'm very happy to say that I haven't thought of passing off a single wooden dog biscuit to some unsuspecting pup. I'm having a little trouble with my second resolution though, cause with all these fate hours I've been keeping (studying for tests of course) it's a little hard not to fall asleep in some of my classes. However, I'm buying the large economy size box of toothpicks and I should do fairly well.

Well, I'm a little tired so I'll close for now.

Your loving pup,
Elvis

FRATERNITY ROW

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Now that all New Year's resolutions have been broken, and the remnants of holiday feasts have long since been devoured, the brothers of Lambda Chi hope that everyone had an enjoyable vacation and they express a belated wish for a good year.

The brotherhood dashed into the new year (and into the intra-mural basketball picture) by defeating Selinsgrove South and Selinsgrove North. In three pre-season games the "Bunders" handed defeats to Milton "Y", a Selinsgrove team, and the Bucknell chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha. The intramural squad is "looking good".

Saturday, the twelfth, the local brothers visited their Bucknell brothers at the chapter home on B. U.'s campus, where nine of our "old fold" were initiated into active membership of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. We wish to congrateulate the new actives: Bob Lewis and Joe Barlow, who were formerly active members of Bond and Key; Bob Anderson, Ron Fouche, Tony Grigalunas, Herb Daniels, Lanny Thomas, Carl Shoemaker, Dick Cahn and Don Middlesworth.

The Crusaders also entered the year in good order. In a game that offered an exciting atmosphere, the Susquehanna squad fashioned a last minute rally to whip a sad National Aggies team. Last week both Juniata and Dickinson fell beneath the hoofs of S. U.'s power. The hope is that the Crusader victory march continues. We think that it will.

Saturday night the Lambda Chi home became a ski lodge, and the brothers became hosts to their dates. Indications are that the evening was enjoyable.

—S—

PHI MU DELTA NEWS

On Saturday night Mu Alpha of Phi Mu Delta held its annual Winter Formal dance. Social Chairman Al Hazen was in charge of preparations for the affair. The theme of the dance was "Winter Wonderland," and depicted a huge picture window looking out on a winter scene, complete with skaters and a ski slide. A large snowman caught the attention of everyone as they came through the door, and snowflakes were hung throughout the house to simulate a storm. Music for the dance was supplied by the King Kole orchestra. Tasteful and attractive refreshments were served by the Feifer Catering Service of Mount Carmel.

We were happy to have as our guests for the evening Dr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. T. Townsend Smith, Miss Ruth Meister, Dr. Lyder Unstad, Mr. Robert Meader, and Mr. Axel Kleinsorg. Many thanks to everyone who had a hand in making the party a success. We're certain everyone present had a most wonderful time.

On the sports scene last week Phi Mu Delta opened the intramural basketball season, losing to G. A. Hall in the first game and trouncing the Day Students in the second. Brother Jim White netted 28 points to lead the Black and Orange over the Day Students.

Friday evening Brother Bill Aspray will present a joint vocal recital with Arlene Roberts in Seibert chapel. Following the recital the brothers of Phi Mu Delta will hold a reception in Bill's honor.

Newly elected officers of the Phi Mu Delta pledge class are Jerry Bernstein, president; Ralph Wagoner, vice president; Vance Maneval, secretary; Jim Maurer, treasurer; Dan Marvin, sergeant-at-ams; and Dick Reichard, chaplain.

—S—

THETA CHI NEWS

Hi! Back again at the start of a new year. The brothers returned to S. U. to rest up after their long winter's night of gaiety. Over the holidays two engagements took place. The brothers are pleased to announce the engagement of Mr. Frank Romano to Miss Gail Muller and of Mr. James Seasholtz to Miss Pat Sipe. From all of the brothers of Theta Chi go sincere congratulations.

Basketball is the "Fat" word around here now. Congratulations are in order to the entire Crusader team. Their three wins in the past week and a half have set them well along the winning trail. Special applause goes to Brother Frank Romano, for his superb play, looking even better (if that is possible and it is) than last year; to Brother Dwight Huseman, (Crusader's faithful rebounder); and to pledges Bob Probert, (his handsome shooting was eye-catching) and tall Harry Powers (Middleburg's gift to S. U.). We wish the entire team continued success. Let's get out and really back them.

Speaking of basketball the intramural league is starting out with a bang. The Big Red, with their new secret weapon, in the person of their young,handsome coach racked up a heavy victory over Selinsgrove Hall (South). The victory was a team effort, as every victory is. Keep up the good work!

Saturday night Theta Chi held its annual Esquire Party. An atmosphere of fun, frolic, and light-heartedness prevailed. Decorations were exclusively provided by Esquire Magazine, along with ballons and "feminine forms." Refreshments included ham, potato salad, and AWOL punch. Brothers presented Theta Chi paddles to the delight of their girls. "Watch out fellas". Thanks to all the brothers for their help. Everyone had an enjoyable time. We would like to thank our chaperones: Mrs. Margaret Miller, Miss Leatrice Voorhees, and Mr. Louis Dougherty. Adding a dash of spice to the party were the words of WKOK'S announcer, Brother Don James, who though missing in person was there in voice.

The pledges, bless their little bloodshot eyes, elected officers. Bucky Clark, last year's pledge president, turned over the gravel to Bill Furjanic. Other members of the administration are Don Coleman, president in charge of vice; Mel Finkelstein, secretary-treasurer; and "Chief" Smith, chaplain. Congratulations.

Some of the brothers were pleased to note Pastor Turnbach's sermon on Sunday.

Fat Thought for the Week. Back the Crusaders! (Cheer up F. M. C. and others.)

CLARENCE LORAH

The orb of the Susquehanna spotlight this week falls on Clarence Lorah, a senior from Gordon, Pennsylvania. Clarence attended Ashland High School, and was active in the chorus, the school newspaper, the "Black Diamond," and also served on the yearbook staff.

Here at Susquehanna Clarence is enrolled in the Liberal Arts curriculum, majoring in chemistry and biology. He is a member of Phi Mu Delta fraternity and is very active in various other campus activities. He is a member of Bienic Society, which he served as chairman of the publicity committee in his junior year, and the Student Christian Association. Last year Clarence was editor of the Lanthorn, and has been active on the Susquehanna staff as photography editor and a reporter. He has also helped with the orientation programs in past years.

Perhaps Clarence's greatest accomplishment at Susquehanna has been his selection as a representative to "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities."

After graduation, Clarence plans to go to graduate school and pursue further a career in bio-chemistry. We, at S. U., wish him the best of luck in whatever he may do.

Professor, professor, why can you not see
The class is confused! Confused as can be!
You're talking in Greek with your alphas and tau,
Your sines and your cosines, and please tell me how
You expect us to understand all that you say?
The long integrations you show us each day,
And Taylor's reminder, the theories by Rolle,
And implicit functions take terrible toll.
We fall by the wayside, confused—in a daze.
Whene'er we leave class, we leave in a haze

ALPHA DELTA PI NEWS

It was a busy social weekend for SU students. The sisters of the blue and white wish to thank all the fraternities for their parties. We really enjoyed the Phi Mu Delta winter carnival where the sisters danced to the music of the King Kole combo, the annual Esquire Party of the big red of Theta Chi and the fun of winter in the out-of-doors at Lambda Chi Alpha. We had a grand time. Thank you.

Sister Gail Muller is the object of besh wishes and admiring glances these days. The reason is her recent engagement to senior member of Theta Chi, Frank Romano. Our very best to you and Frank, Gail.

Congratulations to Sigma Alpha Iota on their enjoyable vespers last Sunday evening. Nice work, girls.

S. U.'s basketball team is to be commended for their excellent season. With much new material and the performances of the regulars we are in for a big winning season. Let's all get out and cheer the team on to victory.

A pat on the back to the junior sisters who won the girl's intra-mural volleyball tournament. The sisters paticiparting were Sisters Jeannette Cooley, Nancy Ridinger, Thelma Rosetti, Ann Ambrovage, Joy Klinger and Jill Fuller.

Let's not forget the boy's intra-mural basketball. They play games just as exciting and fast-moving as the varsity.

KD NEWS

Hi kids! I see you're back to the old grind of studying and socializing. It's a sure bet we better get used to the studying with almost two weeks of testing coming up. Heaven forbid!

The Kappa Dela sisters all had wonderful vacations. Sister Helen Frereichs, Beta Upsilon's president, became engaged to Lew Post, a brother in Phi Mu Delta, and Corinne Seebold, a KD alumni also became engaged. A bouquet of white roses to each of you, Helen and Corinne, and much happiness to both of you.

Last weekend KD had the honor of entertaining Mrs. Elizabeth Higbee, province president for the Beta Upsilon chapter. Sister Elizabeth arrived on Friday evening and after meeting all the girls, returned to Philadelphia on Sunday evening.

Special congratulations to Sister Betty Ann Ormond who was elected third national vice president of Tau Kappa. You're a fine example of a KD, Betty Ann. Good luck in the future!

Kappa Delta is loaded with good news this week. Sister Doris Schumacher has had the honor of becoming pledged to Sigma Alpha Iota, national professional music fraternity for women, just before vacation. Best wishes Doris, and we'll all be watching for your initiation.

Hats off to the basketball team for the three victories this past week. Let's keep up the good work!

Signing off for now. Hot tip—tests will be hard, so study accordingly. Roger and out.

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA NEWS

Sigma Omega is very happy to welcome our Eta Province President, Mrs. Grace Cameron for a three day visit. This evening the active chapter will have a meeting with Mrs. Cameron followed by a musicale at the home of Mrs. Russell Hatz. During her visit Mrs. Cameron will have interviews with the officers of the active and alumni chapters.

Sisters Mary Moore and Gloria Myers will perform at the musicale for Mrs. Cameron in addition to the singing by the chapter chorus.

We were all glad to welcome alumnae sisters Liz Ford and Anna Dorward for week-end visits.

Friady evening at 8:30 p. m. in Seibert Chapel sister Arlene Roberts, soprano, will present a joint recital with Bill Aspray, tenor. The recital will consist of French, Italian, and English art songs as well as operatic duets. Keep the date in mind—we'll see everyone at the recital!

We are very happy to welcome Nancy Kendall and Doris Schumaker as pledges of Sigma Omega. Congratulations, girls!

Congratulations also to Coach Pfeiffer and the team for the very successful season so far. Keep up the good work, fellows!

Congratulations to Mrs. Frances Alterman for her fine voice recital last Friday evening! Her stage presence and vocal presentation of the selections were of the highest calibre. Mr. Frederic Billman was her fine accompanist and Eleanor Hinkle did an admirable job with the clarinet obbligato for the Spohr Leider.

Sunday evening SAI had charge of vespers in the chapel. Gloria Myers was speaker, Mary Moore was liturgist, and Mary Louise Neal was organist.

SPORTS SHORTS

By GEORGE POSPISIL

The latest statistics from the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau have the Crusaders' brilliant Frank Romano in third place among the small-college scorers with an average of just under 30 points per game.

The Pfeiffer-men have a four-game winning streak going, and the Lycoming College Warriors will be out to snap it tonight. The Lyco's are nearly unbeatable on their home court. They own a win over Rider College, and thus will loom as favorites. If the Crusaders can come home victorious, it will be a real feather in their caps. Thursday night the cagers play host to Elizabethtown, probably the strongest team on the schedule. Romano and company will have to be red-hot to throttle the Blue Jays. It should be a tremendous game to watch.

Here are some statistics after seven games: Record 5 wins 2 losses; team offense 78.1 points per game; team defense 70.3 points per game; individually they stand thusly;

	Pt.	FTA	FTM	Avg.
Romano	208	88	70	29.7
Witiak	77	34	20	11.0
Purnell	68	30	16	9.7
Herbster	63	24	15	9.0
Probert	61	38	27	8.7
Huseman	35	23	11	5.8
Tyler	27	12	7	4.5
Powers	10	2	0	2.0

Romano leads in the percentage of free throws made with .795, Probert and Herbster are next with .711 and .625 respectively.

STRONG DEFENSE STAGGERS AGGIES

The Susquehanna Crusaders started the New Year off on the right foot by disposing of the National Aggies in a nip and tuck affair 71-65.

The Aggies entered the game ranked in the top ten among small colleges in the nation in defense. They also were in the top five in the nation in foul-shooting accuracy.

Frankie Romano, usually consistent in scoring 20 or more points per game, was held to just 14, one of the lowest of his college career. Scoring honors for the night went to Dick Purnell with 17. Dick Prins tallied 21 for the losers.

The game was close all the way, with the Aggies leading at the half by the score of 35-29. It wasn't until the closing minutes of the game that the Crusaders managed to move in front to stay. Harry Powers and Jerry Herbster put the Crusades into the lead and Purnell and Keith Tyler iced the game with some timely foul shooting.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

Following our victorious game with the National Aggies last Saturday night, the W.A.A. sponsored a record dance in the lounge. The turn out was grand, and more dances of this type are planned for the future. Admission will be the same—ten cents per person. Thanks to everyone who helped to make this first dance such a success.

Volleyball champions for this year are the members of the junior team, which was captained by Terry Feliciano. Runners-up were the girls of sophomore team 3, who had Posey Nelson for their captain.

Now that the volleyball tournament has been completed, intramural basketball has begun. Eleven teams have been chosen and the games will begin on Thursday evening.

Don't forget to buy cokes and candy at our home basketball games! The W.A.A. sponsors a concession stand at all the games. And the members of both W.A.A. and Tau Kappa nre still selling sandwiches in the girls' dormitories on Sunday evenings from ten to ten-thirty.

Intramural Quintets Swing into Action

On the intramural front the action was fast and furious. Lambda Chi Alpha, the defending champions, played according to expectations by notching wins in their first two outings. The Big Red Red of Theta Chi also turned in a victory which was according to form. The surprise, however, came from G. A. Hall as they upended a usually strong Phi Mu team. The dorm five are big and have balance, they must be considered the dark horse to unseat the Bunders.

Frank DelNero, of Selinsgrove North gave the best individual performance with a 35 point spree against the Day Students.

The Amos Alonzo Stagg trophy standings:

	football	basketball	tot.
Lambda Chi Alpha	84	24	108
Theta Chi	74	17	91
Phi Mu Delta	68	20	88
G. A. Hall	56	17	73
Selinsgrove N.	50	20	70
Selinsgrove S.	42	16	58
Day Students	—	16	16

SWAMP DICKINSON IN RETURN MATCH

Our Susquehanna basketeers, now with five wins and two losses, gained revenge Wednesday evening for an earlier season loss and smacked down the Red Devils from Dickinson College to the tune of 91-72, before a highly partisan crowd.

An amazing 27 point performance in the first half by Frankie Romano, the Crusaders ace, set the stage as the Orange and Maroon stretched its winning ways to four in a row. Romano added 7 more points in the second half before fouling out.

Dick Purnell, Bob Probert, Jerry Herbster, and Gene Witiak all hit in the double figures for coach Ed Pfeiffer's quintet.

Romano, hitting from all angles, scored the first 10 points for S. U. and the home team never lost the advantage.

The next engagement for the Crusaders will be Tuesday evening at Lycoming College at Williamsport. Let's make it a point, if at all possible, to attend the Lycoming game and give our boys the moral support they deserve.

	F.G.	F	Tot.
Romano	14	6-8	34
Herbster	4	3-4	11
Huseman	1	1-3	3
Witiak	5	1-4	11
Purnell	5	4-7	14
Probert	3	6-7	12

Sorority Rush Week Begins February 3

Panhellenic Council will hold a tea for all non-sorority women Sunday, February 3, from 2-4 p. m. in Seibert Parlors. Formal rushing will begin Monday when those girls who wish to rush will sign up in Miss Ruth Meister's office.

The following is the schedule for sorority rushing:

Monday 12:30-1:10—Informal open house in the sorority rooms; the upperclass women of the new group will meet with the freshmen in the social room.

Monday 10:00 p. m.—The presidents of the sororities will visit Hassinger Hall and answer any questions which the girls may have.

Tuesday 8:00 p. m.—Open house in the sorority rooms; the girls may visit all three groups.

Wednesday 12:30-1:00—Open house in the sorority rooms.

Thursday 7:30-11:00 p. m.—ADPi party in the social room.

Friday 7:30-11:00 p. m.—KD party in the social room.

From Friday at 11:00 p. m. until Saturday noon there will be a period of silence during which the girls are not supposed to talk about rushing. On Saturday morning the girls who wish to pledge will sign up in Miss Meister's office. The bids will be sent out in the afternoon. Parties for the pledges will be held at 4 p. m. in the sorority rooms.

The Panhellenic Dance, in honor of the pledges, will be held February 23. ADPi and KD have invited SAI to participate in this dance. Members of the new group have been invited as guests.

Classical Club Enjoys Movie on Moslem World

Bogar 103 was the scene of the monthly meeting of Phi Kappa Phi. Over hot chocolate and doughnuts the business of the meeting was discussed with the announcement of future meetings and the encouraging news of a full treasury highlighting the agenda. The group, faculty guests, Dean Russell Galt and Mr. Robert F. W. Meader and the advisor, Dr. Jane Barlow, enjoyed a movie on the contributions of the Moslem world on mankind.

Campus Club Meets at Seibert

The local organization of campus wives and faculty women met on Wednesday January 16 from three o'clock to five. The members of the Campus Club met in Seibert Social Rooms.

Chairman and hostess in charge was Mrs. Lamar Inners. The committee was composed of Mrs. Albert Zimmer, Miss Hilda Kolpin, Mrs. Nancy Hatz, and Miss Jean Beamenderfer.

The centerpiece consisted of a winter scene of snowmen.

The members all enjoyed the fine decorations and tea.

Need a Summer Job? See New Directory

The Advancement And Placement Institute announces publication of The World-Wide Summer Placement Directory. This has been prepared as an aid to educators and students who wish new ideas for ways to earn while they vacation.

The Directory gives descriptions of the type of work available with names and addresses of employers regularly needing additional summer employees. Included are summer theaters, dude ranches, travel tour agencies abroad, work camps, study awards all over the world, national parks, summer camps and resorts, and many others.

Additional information can be secured from The Institute at Box 99B, Greenpoint Station, Brooklyn 22, New York.

ALL THE WORLD LOVES A "PATSY"

SU PRESS PRINTS "HILL DOCTOR"

This week saw the appearance of a new book published by the Susquehanna University Press, entitled Hill Doctor, written by Dr. Frederic Brush. Dr. Arthur H. Wilson, chaiman of the Press, edited the book of 150 pages and also contributed the introduction.

Dr. Brush, who is now 86 years old, lives at White Plains, New York, where in earlier years he was chief of the Burke Foundation for Heart Convalescents, located there. He was born and grew up in Susquehanna County, near the great bend of the Susquehanna River, and his book draws its material largely from recollections of life in the Northern Tier of Pennsylvania: the pioneering days, the logging, stone-cutting, frontier hardships, feuds and social life. Dr. Brush has made a name for himself not only as a leader in the field of modern medicine but also as one of the best balladists and storytellers in twentieth-century Pennsylvania.

The present book, Hill Doctor, marks the tenth volume issuing from the Susquehanna University Press in the last twenty-one years. Currently on the press is the Centennial history, due in 1958.

Appearing in the forthcoming monthly issue of the "Physical Therapy Review" of New York is an article by Frances Dunlop Alterman, M. A., entitled "Pott's Paraplegia: A Case Study in Total Treatment."

Mrs. Alterman, now an instructor in voice on the faculty at Susquehanna, is also a qualified physical therapist, and the case study which she reports in her article was the result of her observations while serving as Chief of Physical Therapy at the Veterans Administration Hospital at Oteen, North Carolina, in recent years.

All the World Loves A "Patsy"

The class of 1960 will present a three-act comedy, "The Patsy" on Saturday, February 2. This play, written by Barry Conners, has a cast made up entirely of freshmen.

The nine cast members, under the direction of Mr. Axel Kleinsorg, will dramatize the story of a nineteen-year old girl, who takes love lessons from a real estate dealer. Tony, the real estate dealer, is interested in psychology and gets Patsy to help him prove an experiment. Believing that every woman can catch the man of her dreams, he gives her lessons on how to catch her man. Patsy's father, Mr. Harrington, is sympathetic to her cause, but her mother and sister, Grace, are not even aware of her lessons. Billy Caldwell, Grace's fiancee; Sadie Buchanan, a "close" friend of Billy's family; Francis Patrick O'Flaherty, a lawyer; and Trip Busty, a typical cab-driver, are part of this amusing situation.

Members of the cast are Bill Harrington, Ralph Ferraro; Mrs. William Harrington, Patty Bodle; Grace Harrington, Charlene Gruner; Patricia Harrington, Joan Heslop; Billy Caldwell, Ralph Wagoner; Tony Anderson, Dick Reichard; Sadie Buchanan, Sandy Risser; Francis Patrick O'Flaherty, Jack Clarke; and Trip Busty, John Yanuklis.

Following the play the freshmen are sponsoring a reception in the lounge to honor the play cast. Ginny Alexander and Ralph Wagoner are co-chairmen for the reception, which is opened to all who attend the performance of "The Patsy".

Pre-Theos Announce

The program of the next meeting of the Pre-Theological Association will consist of the various positions held by women in the church. This discussion is general toward the complete understanding by the minister of the work of these valuable groups.

A very important business meeting will be held before this program. All members are urged to be present.

Invite Campers To Workshop

College students looking ahead to summer jobs are invited to attend the "Camping in Action" workshops to be conducted by the Association of Private Camps at its annual convention next month.

The workshops are scheduled for Saturday morning, February 9, at the Hotel New Yorker. They will be a feature of the final day of the convention, which begins February 6.

For both the novice and the seasoned counselor this is an opportunity to be introduced to major phases of the camping program. At the same time interested college students (male and female) will have a chance to register with the APC's Counselor Placement Bureau, which will have a special booth at the convention. The bureau's trained personnel advisors will be on hand to advise students of the range of opportunities in the APC's 350 member camps and to accept applications for summer employment as counselors.

Free tickets for the workshops can be obtained through the placement office of your college, which has been advised of the program.

SOPHOMORE HOP DATED MARCH 23

Announced as March 23, by the president of the sophomore class, Don Boyer, at a class meeting last Friday the Sophomore Hop will again ride high in the minds of the second-year students. At a previous meeting of the class officers, chairmen of the various committees were decided upon. They are: decorations; Betsy Walker and Glenn Showalter; set up, Carl Catherman; clean up, Lester Rudisill; entertainment, Bill Woelkers and Andy Melnick; tickets and programs, Lois Kohl; refreshments, Judi Anderson. The entire sophomore class was asked to cooperate.

—S—

Cash for Books

Would you want to sell your books for cash now? You will have that chance on February 4. At that time the salesman from the second hand book company will be on campus to buy your books. Remember, cash for your books on February 4!

Try Your Hand At Script Writing

May Day is coming in February—well, the planning of it anyway! ! You may be able to win $25 just by putting your creative and imaginative mind to work. Try your hand at writing a script for this beautiful pageant and, if your script wins, you'll have the thrill of seeing it come to life before you.

All entries are due no later than February 4, and may be submitted to Miss Betsy McDowell.

MUSIC NOTES

This Thursday evening, January 24, at the Trinity Lutheran Church the Motet Singers will participate in the Epiphany pageant "The Feast of the Star" by Freidell. This pageant is being presented for the January Guild meeting and is under the direction of Mr. Robert Willauer. The student body is invited to the program.

The joint recital presented by Arlene Roberts and William Aspray was of professional calibre from beginning to end. They performed to a large and enthused audience of relatives, fellow students, and faculty members.

Last Wednesday members of the junior and senior classes in the music department attended a music educator's convention at Northumberland. Activities of the day-long program were under the direction of prominent music educators. Mrs. Alice Glauque, instructor in music education here at Susquehanna, aided in organizing the convention.

Enthused Audience Attends Recital; Vocalists Present Varied Program

On Friday evening, January 18 at 8:15 p. m., Arlene Roberts a junior majoring in English literature and William Aspray, a junior majoring in Music Education, accompanied at the piano by Ray Stiller, a sophomore in Music Education gave a joint student recital in Seibert Chapel to a very responsive and enthusiastic audience.

ARLENE ROBERTS

First on the program was Arlene who sang: "Revenex" (Air de Venus) by Lully, a sad and beautiful aria where the singer begs her lover to return; "Il neige" by Bemberg; "Apres un reve" by Faure, another sad but pretty piece which Arlene sang beautifully; "il est doux, il est bon" (from the opera "Herodiade") by Massnet in which Arlene portrays Salome and Herod very professionally.

The next portion of the program was presented by Bill singing: "Star Vicino' by Salvatore Rosa; "Serenade—Columbine" (from the familiar opera "Pagliacci") by Leoncavallo which Bill expressed professionally; "Zueignung" by Richard Strauss where Bill sang about the tender devotion of man and wife; "Die Post" (from the "Winterreise") by Schubert, one of Schubert's most difficult but purely beautiful songs, in which Bill succeeded in sending "duck bumps" up our spines.

Arlene again appeared in her lovely white gown with the beautiful corsage which Dr. Thomas Armstrong had given her for the occasion, and sang four English songs: "Sing Again" by Prothore in which Arlene's true lyric soprano voice expressed the deep emotion needed for the song; "There was a Little Girl" by John Klein where Arlene did a good job of acting as well as of singing; "Silent Moon" by Vaughn Williams, this song Arlene delivered with grace and ease; "Expectation" by Catherine Croker where Arlene expressed the message of anxiety very well.

After the intermission, Bill very musically presented the fourth section of the program with; "Be Still My Heart" by Glannine; "When I Think Upon the Maidens", a nice and rather humorous piece which was very effective; "Velvet Shoes", a msot charming number; "Lift Thine Eyes" by Logan, which Bill presented especially well.

Last on the program was a series of duets rendered by Arlene and Bill which included "La ce Clarem la mano" (from "Don Giovanni") a fluent and melodious piece by Mozart; "Thine Alone" by Victor Herbert; and "If I Loved You" by Rodgers and Hammerstein.

Before the encore, Nancy Marek, of ADPi presented a spray of white carnations to Arlene from her sisters of Alpha Delta Pi; and after the performance an enjoyable reception was held at Phi Mu Delta Fraternity.

Third Sorority to Form on Campus

The Board of Trustees has approved the formation of a third sorority on campus. This group will be organized on a local basis at first, but later it may become national.

The new group will not participate in rushing because final action of the board was delayed, but any freshman woman may sign up for the new group. The upperclass women and freshman women will become chartered members after the group is formally organized .

Several national sororities have been been interested in coming on campus.

Dr. T. D. Nunheimer Speaks to Biemic

Biemic Society held its regular meeting Monday, January 21, 1957. The guest speaker for this meeting was Dr. T. D. Nunheimer head of the microbiology group at the Cherokee Research Department of Merck & Co., Inc. The topic discussed was "The Present Status of Antibiotics." It was enlightening to know the amount that could be done with antibiotics. It was indeed a pleasure to have Dr. Nunheimer speak on a subject that concerns each and everyone today.

The next meeting of Biemic will be held February 11, 1957.

MEDITATION

Twelve o'clock and all is not well. Lights still burn in my windows, a sure sign that many heads are trying to absorb facts and data in perparation for the inevitable tests. It's fairly quiet except for a few scattered voices who mutter: "How can he expect us to learn this stuff?" But minds soon return to concentration on "the stuff" and he minutes tick by unrelentlessly.

This is hardly my first experience with those somewhat "necessary evils", semester tests, and although I have changed, just as the tests have changed, the attitudes of youth toward them have not changed. I should know, for after all I hear things told in strictest confidence. Those words not to be told "to a single soul." I haven't divulged the least little iota of information but sometimes I do wish I too could get things "off my chest." But then who would listen to me since I'm considered one of the "older generation."

Understand now, I'm not bitter about anything that's happened to me. I think I've got quite a lot to be proud of and even though I may be a little tarnished around the edges I still present a prominent figure around here. When you come right down to it I'm the center of social life and there are always young people around to help pass the time. It's only at times like this, in the middle of the night, that I start to feel my age and the chilly winds seem to penetrate to the very heart of me just as if my heating system were shut off for the night.

Ah! The last light is finally out and now perhaps I too may find some rest. But, in a few hours dawn will come and I will, once again, be only a girl's dormitory.

ESTABLISHED 1894

Published weekly throughout the school year, with the exception of Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter and Semester holidays, at a subscription rate of $2.50 a year.

Reentered as second-class matter February 21, 1947, at the post office at Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania, under the act of March 3, 1879.

HERE WE GO AGAIN!

The week after we come back from semester vacation will be sorority rush week. All of the freshmen girls with a 1.0 average will be eligible to rush. A lot of time is spent by both sororities to have an enjoyable program set up for the girls. A lot of energy is spent getting all the details of the parties and open houses just right. But these are not the most important parts of rush week. This is the week when the upperclass girls are trying to decide which of the girls they really like; at the same time the feshmen girls are trying to decide which of the groups they feel they could belong to with the most enthusiasm. There are a few rushing rules, as set out by Pan-Hellenic Council which both sororities are honor bound to follow, and what is a sorority without honor?

Rush week is to be held only during the week set by the council for rush week; this doesn't mean from the first day of school, the day before Thanksgiving or starting a week before rush week. Of course the upperclass girls want to know the new girls without mention of sorority. No favors are to be given during the open houses that open rush week, these include matches, napkins, pencils or other items with the sorority name on them.

Freshmen girls, rushing is the beginning of a new part of your college life, enjoy it. If you decide to pledge, enjoy your pledgeship and vow that you will be true to the principles of rushing that make honest sorority life possible.

How to Make a Bag of Peanuts Pay Off

• Ever thought how much the cost of a bag of peanuts saved each day can mean to your future? Did you know, for example, that for those "peanuts" you can own an endowment policy of $2,200?

Let's say you want money for retirement at age 65. Here's how those "peanuts"—20¢ a day—pay off for you . . .

After only 20 years you're all paid up—then at age 65 you get back all you've paid in—plus a gain of $2,000 in interest and dividends (per present rate of dividends). And you've been protected for the full amount of the policy during the entire time!

This kind of pay-off is why hundreds of students start their insurance program with Lutheran Brotherhood right while they're in school. Interested? Write . . .

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

With the semester finally grinding to a halt, there is gleeful anticipation of another semester yet to conquer. So in the spirit of the season the brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha wish all a "Happy New Semester".

Both at home and away the S. U. basketball squad proved its worth. In Williamsport the Crusaders defeated Lycoming. Thursday, on the home court, in a hard fought battle, the local team lowered the lid on the Elizabethtown coffin. The S. U. team certainly deserves credit for their valor which will continue, according to the wishes of Susquehanna fans.

Congratulations to Arlene Roberts and Bill Aspray for their fine voice recital on Friday evening.

The intramural light still shines bright on the brothers of Lambda Chi. In the early part of last week the day-students failed to deter the brother's "victory march". Again on Wednesday Lambda Chi pulled through beating Theta Chi. The latter game was won, incidentally, despite the threat of the Big Red's new secret weapon: that handsome, young coach Frank Romano (as reported in last week's column from Theta Chi in the Susquehanna).

A formal congratulation is in order for the newly elected and initiated major officers of the local colony of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity: president, Don Boyer; vice-president, Dick Purnell; secretary, Vern Hoover; treasurer, Roger Holtzapple; steward, Dick Neff; ritualist, Les Rudisill; social chairman, Ray Yeingst; pledge trainer, Veryl Milroy; and rush-chairman, Carl Schumaker.

PHI MU DELTA NEWS

Mu Alpha of the Phi Mu Delta is proud and happy to congratulate Miss Arlene Roberts and Brother Bill Aspray for their wonderful performances in their combined vocal recital on Friday evening. Everyone present agreed the presentation was one of the finest they have ever heard. Congratulations, also, to Ray Stiller for his very capable accompaniment.

After the recital a reception was held at the chapter house for Arlene and Bill. Al Hazen was in charge of arrangements for the affair. We were happy to entertain for the evening Arlene and her family, Bill and his family, members of the faculty and their guests, and also the brothers and their dates.

Congratulations to Coach Ed Pfeiffer and his Crusaders for their tremendous double victories this past week over Lycoming College and Elizabethtown College. The best of luck in the remainder of the season; we'll all be behind you and cheering you on to still more victories. Special plaudits to Brother Gene Witiak for his outstanding performances in these games.

In intramural sports last week the Black and Orange downed a strong Selinsgrove North team by the score of 51-46. Brothers Jim White and Sid Richard scored in the double figures with 20 and 16 points respectively.

Good luck to brothers Pete Nunn and George Schlucterer, who will journey from the S. U. campus after semester vacation to work for a four-weeks period with the accounting firm of Price, Waterhouse and Co.

Co-ed—"Jeepers! Another amateur!"

THETA CHI NEWS

Importance and value should never be solely determined by length. This is true in this column this week. There are two main items this week, both of importance.

First—Congratulations to Arlene Roberts and Bill Aspray on their recital. Their singing was excellent and the brothers enjoyed it mightily. Good work, Ray!

Secondly — Congratulations! Hip-Hip-Hooray! For whom? Why S. U.'s great basketball team for their magnificent upset victory over E-Town! This was a fine team effort. The added "spice" to the game was spirited and lively. Again, congratulations! Here is hoping for continued success in the second half. Let's everyone get out and back them. Also along the basketball line our own Big Red is now in second place in intramurals.

Fat Thought for the week: Concerns examinations and a line from one of Tennyson's poems—"more things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

THE S. U. LOOK

You! Hey you! You with your nose in a book! Tell me, why the sudden change? Why just yesterday you were so carefree and gay that one would have thought that you didn't have a care in the world. But now! Now, you look worried, haggard, tired and miserable! Did you have a fight with your girl and are you now reading a book on winning friends and influencing people? That would be a good possibility but it still should't make you look so pale and haggard. I can't understand it!

What's that? You say that you didn't have a fight with your girl. I am certainly glad to hear that, because you two kids really make a nice looking couple. But if that isn't it, what is it that has been disturbing you? Oh! I bet I can guess! You have been staying up and watching late T. V. shows during this past week and it has finally caught up with you. It that it? There were some really good ones on during this past week as I understand it. Huh! You say you haven't watched T. V. in two weeks. Why that is unbelievable. Well! If you haven't been watching T. V. then just what have you been doing? Wha-what-what's that you say? Did I really hear you right? You must be kidding. But are you certain? You say that you are. Oh! Oh! I really pity you. That is really some schedule of exams that you have coming up next week. Reviewing for them will consume just a bit of your time.

Now you tell me that reviewing won't really take up much of your time. You say that if you can study over it the first time you won't bother with the review. Wow! Do you think that you can cover all of that material in such a short time? You can at least glance over it you say. How in the world do you expect to pass by just glancing over it? Now you ask me who expects to pass. pass.

Well, I'll tell you if you don't study any more than that, you may as well expect not to pass. But you do want to pass! Well! Well! If that is the case, you better get on the ball but fast kid; but all the same time that you are on the ball, be careful that it doesn't roll out from under you. Roll with it!

Campus Spotlights

JOAN WENDEL

The spotlight this week is on the latest efficient housewife in the senior class, Mrs. Robert Wendel nee Joan Raudenbush. Joan is a senior in the four-year Medical Secretarial curriculum, majoring in biology.

While at Susquehanna Joan has always been active in many organizations. This year she is serving as president of the Women's Day Student Organization. She is a member of the Biemic and Business Society and is serving as song chairman of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority. Being interested in music, Joan has also been a member of the Susquehanna Singers and the Chapel Choir.

During her high school days at Selinsgrove High, Joan could usually be found accompanying the chorus or singing with the girls ensemble. Upon graduation she received the music award for her efforts. Joan was also the assistant editor of the yearbook and participated in the senior class play.

After graduation Joan plans to join her husband in Pittsburgh where he is employed as a dairy inspector.

Our best wishes go with you in your future.

ADPi NEWS

We, the sisters of ADPi are bursting with pride for our sister, Arlene Roberts, whose recital on Friday night has been acclaimed as one of the best student recitals ever presented. Of course we all know "Lena" is a terrific actress, but she employed all her talents so well in the presentation of each number that we want to give her an extra special bouquet of violets. Also congratulations to Bill Aspray of Phi Mu Delta for his fine performance. Ray Stiller was a fine accompanist. The reception for Arlene and Bill at Phi Mu Delta after the recital was very successful, an easy feeling of hospitality was felt by all.

The victory over E-Town is another achievement for SU. We are really proud of our team. Good work, fellas!

Of our basketball playing sisters who went to the game at Misercordia College in Dallas, Penna., we can only say great going, gals. Sisters Jan Smith, Posey Nelson, Anne Reynolds, Sandy Meyer, Joan Shetterly, Gladys Ransom and Bobbie Hewitt walked into a gym filled with spectators, cheerleaders, and a tip top varsity team. Again—great work, kids.

Hope that the short semester vacation, completely full of freedom from studies, is enjoyed by everyone. Just think, no more tests until mid-semesters! Have fun!

—S—

KD NEWS

Hello there! How are you kids doing with your tests? It's easy to tell when tests are being given on this campus—nobody in the snack bar, people studying, and not many activities. Well, anyhow, good luck!

I'm going to open on a sad note this week. Two of our Kappa Delta sisters are leaving us at semester vacation. Sister Susie Carmint is going to enter the Pierce School of Business Administration and will study to be a private secretary. Sister Joyce Hancock will begin working as a secretary. We're sorry to see you leave Joyce and Susie, but best wishes in whatever you chose to do. Kappa Delta will miss your enthusiasm, hard work and most of all, you yourselves.

Congratulations to Arlene Roberts (Alpha Delta Pi) and Bill Aspray (Phi Mu Delta) for an excellent performance on Friday night. Each performer displayed much skill in singing difficult passages, with a fine quality of tone. Thanks go to Phi Mu Delta for the reception held afterwards in Arlene and Bill's honor. Ray Stiller is to be complimented on his fine job of accompanying.

On Saturday night many of the KD's made a trip to the Bucknell campus and saw As You Like It performed by the Cap and Dagger society. Province President, Sister Elizabeth Higbee also attended the performance.

Special congratulations to the basketball team for the sixth straight victory, this time against Elizabethtown. I think everybody will agree that that game was one of the most exciting games.

See you after vacation. Have fun!

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA NEWS

A big bouquet of roses to Sister Arlene Roberts for her wonderful performance in the joint-student recital with Bill Aspray on Friday evening. Both performers are to be greatly commended!

Last evening the active and alumnae chapters were entertained at a musicale and tea at the home of Mrs. Bahner Portzline, one of the active chapter's patronesses. Sister Barbara Boob and pledge Nancy Kendall performed.

We were very happy to entertain our Province president, Mrs. Grayce Cameron, for two days last week. Tuesday evening Mrs. Russell Hatz entertained the active and alumnae chapters and the patroness group at a musicale-tea at her home. Wednesday Mrs. Cameron held interviews with officers of the active chapter.

Thursday evening Sisters Carolann Zust, Carolyn Gillaspie, Gloria Myers, Denece Newhard, and Alice Ann Patterson will perform with the Motet Singers in an Epiphany pageant "The Feast of the Star" by Freidell being presented at Trinity Lutheran church.

Crusaders Clip Blue Jay's Wings

The Crusaders, sparked by their Captain Frankie Romano who netted 33 points, pulled a major upset by whipping the Blue-Jays from Elizabethtown 79-74 here on the Susquehanna University hardwoods.

The Blue Jays, sporting a 6-2 log before the game, are one of the top small college teams in the state.

A heated argument between E-town's Sal Paone, Al Goudie, and the officials added spice to a game which was hotly contested right down to the final whistle.

Although Captain Frank walked off with individual scoring honors, it was strictly a team victory. Every performer for the Crusaders shared in the victory Bob Probert contributed 8 points in the final 3 minutes of the game.

As usual Dick Purnell came through with 16 timely counters, and played brilliantly on defense as did Gene Witiak, Jerry Herbster, and Dwight Huseman.

The Crusaders starting slow built up a 12 point lead midway through the first half only to have E-town tie the game 31-31 at halftime. In the second half it was nip and tuck until the last 8 minutes when the Maroon and Orange finally pulled away to an eleven point lead. The Blue Jays rallied but could not quite catch up to the Crusaders who were not to be denied their seventh victory.

The next game for the Crusaders will be at Huntingdon on February 2 against the strong Juniata "Indians".

The philosophy student had cornered a very pretty co-ed at a party and was, naturally enough, trying to impress her with his views on love, life, death, history, civilization and what not.

"For instance," he was saying, "one trouble with modern society is that we are too specialized. Now, I happen to have a good background in the liberal arts, but I must confess that I haven't the faintest idea of how the radio works."

"My goodness", exclaimed the wide-eyed co-ed. "It's awful easy. You just turn the knobs and it plays."

SPORTS SHORTS

By GEORGE POSPISIL

With victories over two powerful clubs like Lycoming and Elizabethtown, the Crusaders are really rolling. The Maroon has a streak of six wins; that betters last years longest string of five.

The near riot at the gym during the E-Town game just points up the fact that the Blue Jays are not ideal opponents. This writer has watched and played against Elizabethtown teams for four years, and not one game has been played without some sort of rhubard. Last year many of you might recall the game played at E-town. The officiating was nothing short of ridiculous, and a few players were toosed out of that one also. From where I sit, the boys from Elizabethtown should be dropped from our schedule like a bad habit.

The biggest stumbling blocks in the path of the Crusaders are Franklin & Marshall and Lebanon Valley. With lady luck riding with them, the Pfeiffer-coached cagers could end up with a 14-5 slate.

The Northumberland Jaycees are trying to arrange a charity game between the Bucknell Bisons and our own Crusaders to be played at the spacious Selinsgrove High School gymnasium. The team from Lewisburg is the best that Bucknell has had in years, and is, of course, out of our class. But on the other hand, what do we have to lose? A win or even a close game could add tremendously to Susquehanna's prestige. Being the red-blooded sports enthusiast that I am, a battle between the Bisons and Romano & Company would be an irresistible morsel. I'm sure there are many who feel the same way and charity would be the victor in the long run.

Lambda Chi Alpha turned back Theta Chi last week and thus disposed of their strongest. The game on February 8 between the Bunders and G. A. Hall should decide the first half championship.

The standings of the Amos Alonzo Stagg trophy:

Lambda Chi Alpha	122
Theta Chi	101
Phi Mu Delta	95
G. A. Hall	81
Selinsgrove North	80
Selinsgrove South	61
Day Students	20

SU Edges Warriors, 59-57, in Overtime

Susquehanna's hard-fighting basketeers invaded Williamsport last Lycoming's Warriors, and when the smoke of battle had died away, the Crusaders had win number 6 tucked neatly under their belts.

A capacity crowd saw the Pfeiffer-coached Crusaders capture their fifth consecutive victory and sixth in eight starts. It was also the first S.U. victory over a Lycoming basketball team since basketball relations were started between the two schools.

The game was touch and go for the entire game and the overtime period. The Maroon and Orange held a 27-25 half time advantage only to have the Warriors tie it up at the end of the regulation game 57-57.

Frankie Romano, who finished the game with 18 points, and Dick Purnell accounted for 6 and 4 points respectively in the overtime period.

Sophomore guard Gene Witiak connecting with his specialty, the overhead set shot, held the Crusaders together in the clutches with his accuracy. Dwight Huseman played a fine game holding big 6 ft. 6 inch Ron Kitt to three field goals. Dwight also grabbed his share of rebounds. Dick Purnell, always harrasing the opposition in the backcourt with his excellent defensive play garnered 10 points while Bob Probert who hits when the chips are down netted 5 field goals in the second half. Keith Tyler, frosh from Weatherly, playing only briefly in the latter moments of the game made his presence known by canning one field goal and one foul.

Scoring honors for the night went to Lycoming's ace forward, Al Wilson, who scored the nets for 27 points.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

Round one of the girls' intramural basketball tournament has been completed. Here are the results: Team 1 defeated Team 12 by a score of 20-12; Team 3 downed Team 10 by 8-5; Team 9 defeated Team 4 by 13-8; Team 5 overcame Team 8, 17-12; and Team 7 won over Team 6, 30-11. The next round of games will not be played until Thursday, January 31, as soon as semester vacation is over.

Thursday night ten girls from S. U. traveled to Miseracordia College in Dallas, Pennsylvania, where they competed with a varsity team from that college. Although the S. U.'ers fought hard, they were defeated. However, Miseracordia has had a regularly-playing vasity team since early in October. The girls who made the trip were Jan Smith, Posey Nelson, Sandy Mayer, Anne Reynolds, Bobbie Hewitt, Joan Shetterly, Gladys Ransom, Mary Ann Crawford, Carol Duncan, and Judy Poulette. Miss Betsy McDowell and Miss Joanne Heinly accompanied them.

SOCIETY TO SEE RUSSIAN SLIDES

Monday evening, February 11, at 6:45 p. m. Dr. Thomas Armstrong will show slides, taken last summer in the U.S.S.R., at the monthly meeting of the Business Society.

These slides will be shown in Bogar Hall, and any members of the faculty and student body who are interested are invited to attend this showing.

In order to permit time for the showing of these slides, there will be no regular business session that night and the entire time will be given to seeing the slides.

The Critic Speaks

On last Saturday evening Alpha Psi Omega presented the Freshman Class in Barry Conners' play of "The Patsy" to a crowded and enthusiastic house. Mr. Axel Kleinsorg served as the very capable director of the production.

By popular opinion, Ralph Ferraro in the role of Bill Harrington, the father, stole the show. He produced a varied and highly successful interpretation of his role. Likewise, Joan Heslop as his daughter, Patricia Harrington, won her way into the heart of her audience with the great buoyancy of her presentation, plus the very winning curl that she wore at the back of her neck. (There was a little girl who wore a little curl right at the back of her neck; and when she was good, she was very very good, but when she was bad it was heck. Or maybe you remember and like the version in the nursery rhyme.) Anyway, Joan's performance was excellent.

Pat Bodle took the part of Mrs. Harrington, the mother, and Charlene Grunner enacted the role of Grace Harrington, the sister of Patricia. Both of these were meant to create unsympathetic reactions from the audi-

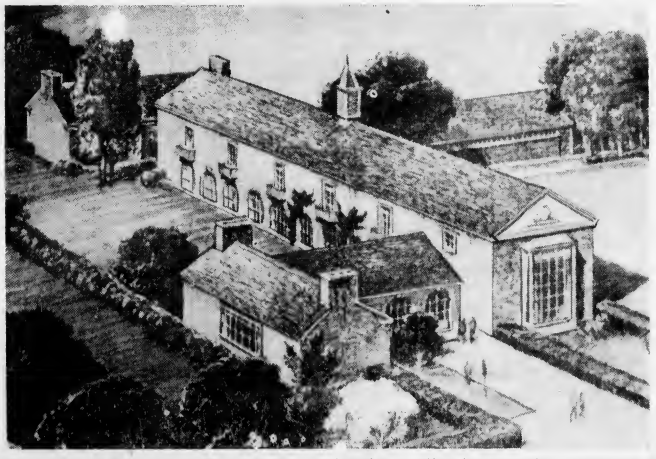
Board of Directors Awards Contracts for New Conservatory; Listening Room and Rehearsal Room are Included in Plans



The Board of Directors of Susquehanna University meeting in Executive Committee Thursday, January 24, awarded contracts for the forthcoming construction of a new conservatory of music. Upon the recommendation of S. U. architects, Lawrie and Green in Harrisburg, the board awarded the general contract to C. F. King, Sunbury, the plumbing and heating contract to B. O. Daubert, Lewisburg, and the electrical contract to Joseph Lerce, Williamsport.

The construction of the $300,000 edifice will begin without delay. The new conservatory will include a library for reference work, a listening room, ten studios, four large class rooms, a rehearsal room, and twenty practice cubicles. The building will be so constructed that any sound annoyances which may now be evident in the present building will be eliminated. In architectural design the conservatory will blend with the present building on he campus.

The recent construction plans are the result of preparation for Susquehanna's centennial celebration in 1958. Funds for the new buildings were solicited in a campaign for $700,000, $200,000 was raised by alumni and friends of the school while the other $500,000 was the object of a synod-wide appeal.

"I can't believe that this great synod with 165,000 members and 625 churches cannot achieve this goal." This was the statement made to 400 pastors and laymen attending the United Lutheran Church in America's convention by Susquehanna's president, Dr. G. Morris Smith. Dr. Smith's confidence in the people of the synod was justified since they pledged better than $500,000 during a synod-wide solicitation, November 4-11.

Susquehanna is also planning the construction of a $150,000 addition to the present library which will double the present facilities. The library was recently awarded a $500 sub-grant from the U. S. Steel Foundation made to the Association of College and Reference Libraries. This money makes possible the purchase of additional years of the New York Times on microfilm.

All new construtcion will be completed for the centennial celebration in 1958.

Plans for Carnival, Fastnacht Underway

There will be an S.C.A. cabinet meeting on Tuesday night, February 12 at 7:00 p. m. in the S.C.A. room, Hassinger Hall. All members are urged to attend.

Under current plans, are the annual Fastnacht dance and revival of the S.C.A. Carnival. Watch The Susquehanna for the exact dates of these affairs.

The Pre-Theo club had charge of vespers on Sunday evening in the chapel. Doug Smith was the speaker and Dick Reichard was the liturgist. The theme was "Sportsmanship with God". The scripture was taken from Matthew 6:15, and the hymns were "The Church's One Foundation", and "Day is Dying in the West". The organist was Dick Horne.

Attention Job Seekers

As is customary, especially during the second semester of every year, business concerns of various types are interviewing representatives to colleges and universities in order to find possible employees for supervising and managerial positions. Last year about thirty such interviewers visited our campus.

In order to make arrangements for such interviews it will be necessary for job-seeking seniors to let me know, as soon as possible, whether or not they are interested in being interviewed for possible positions after graduation. I must know their names, scholastic standing and the jobs in which they are interested. Most of the business students have done so already.

But so many business firms are also interested in Liberal Arts students with good scholastic records and who are interested in a position with a business firm. These students in particular must let me know immediately, if they are interested.

Panhellenic Tea Officialy Opens Sorority Rush Week Activity on Campus

Sorority Rushing began this past Sunday, February 3, with the annual Panhellenic Rush Tea given for all non-sorority women, which was held in Seibert Parlor from 2 to 4 P. M.

Rushing for women students, here at Susquehanna University, has been sponsored in previous years by the social sororities, Kappa Delta and Alpha Delta Pi, but this year there is the addition of a "third sorority" which plans to become nationally affiliated in the near future.

KAPPA DELTA

Freshmen and upperclassmen alike can be chartered members; no major decisions have been made pending freshman participation. Of course, the third sorority, being so new, has no permanent meeting room, and so the members will temporarily use the Seibert Social Rooms. Then during the summer the basement of Seibert Hall will be remodeled and a sorority room will be provided there. Upperclass girls interested in this group will wear gold ribbons through-out the week.

Gamma Omicron Chapter of Alpha Delta Pi, one of Susquehanna's social sororities, received its national charter on April 29, 1950 and was Omega Delta Sigma a group such as the third sorority, until this date. Alpha Delta Pi, both locally and nationally, strive for intelectual and moral worth, dignity of character and propriety of deportment. Alpha Delta Pi has been active in many events and occasions both on and off campus. Its colors are powder blue and white; its flower, the purple violet. The sorority is proud to claim Nancy Marek as its president and Nancy Ridinger as its vice-president.

Susquehanna's other social sorority, Beta Upsilon Chapter of Kappa Delta, attained its national charter in May, 1950. This sorority stresses good scholarship, general participation in campus activities and gracious living. The girls of Kappa Delta have made many accomplishments here at Susquehanna and in the surrounding areas and certainly have lived up to their motto. Kappa Delta's colors are green and white; their flower, the white rose. Helen Frerichs is the charming president of Kappa Delta and Martha Jane McNitt its vice-president.

The schedule for this week's events, concerning Rushing for women, is as follows:

February 3—The Panhellenic Rush Tea

February 4—those girls who wish to rush, with the exception of those who are on probation, sign up from 9 to 11 A. M.

February 4, 5,6—the Sororities have open houses from 12:30 to 1:00

February 7&8—the Sororities have their Rush Parties for the Rushees

February 9—the Rushees sign up for their preference of the Sororities and at 4:00 p. m. there are informal parties for the new pledges.

PROF. STEVENS ATTENDS SESSION

On February 1, Mr. Frederick Stevens, assistant professor of sociology at Susquehanna, attended the afternoon session of a two-day conference held at Harrisburg. This annual conference was the "Pennsylvania Association for the Preparation of Public Social Welfare." Those in attendance were from colleges and universities, graduate schools, and various welfare agencies throughout Pennsylvania.

Mr. Stevens moderated a panel which discussed the subject of recruitment curriculum and new projects, on the undergraduate and graduate level. The panel members were from liberal arts schools and the three graduate schools in Pennsylvania. The three graduate schools for Social Work in the Commonwealth are: the University of Pittsburgh, the University of Pennsylvania, and Byrn Mawr. Gettysburg represented the small liberal arts colleges, and Penn State University the large universities on the undergraduate level.

Prints on Display

Susquehanna University is honored to present a distinguished exhibition of prints by four talented and well-known artists. The show opened on Monday the 4th, and will continue until the 18th of February at Bogar Hall.

An oustanding group of lithographs and etchings is the Texas Centennial Series by Dr. Frank Calleott of New York. A native Texan, Dr. Calleott did his graduate work at Columbia, and currently teaches oil painting in the Arts and Crafts Program of the Riverside Church in New York. The Texas Centennial Series, limited to 20 complete sets, one of which is in the Metropolitan Museum and another in the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts, has received nation-wide publicity, and has been shown in over 100 exhibitions throughout the country. Dr. Calleott's line is crisp and incisive, his lighing dramatic, and his compositon superb. For all interesed in the history and architecture of the Southwest, this series will have a special appeal. As a sidelight on Dr. Calleott's many-sided interests, it is of interest to note that he was a member of the Spanish Department at Columbia University for some time.

A second exhibitor is the late Dr. Warren Mack, holder of five academic degrees, a member of Phi Beta Kappa, a noted horticulturist and for many years head of the Department of Agriculture at Pennsylvania Sate University. A native Pennsylvanian, Dr. Mack was born in Bangor of Revolutionary stock. Wood engraving was an avocation which really amounted to a second career, for he began in 1926. Of the four prints exhibited, three are of Pennsylvania landscapes and one of Puerto Rico. His work is seasoned and mature and shows a sympathy with nature that is unusual. Dr. Mack exhibited in many museums, including those of New York, Boston, London, Stockholm, Edinburgh, and Venice, and is represented in the purchase collection of the Library of Congress.

The third artist is Elizabeth Saltonstall, of the well-known family of Boston to which Senator Saltonstall also belongs. She has exhibited in many major shows, and her prints are owned by important museums. The Saltonstall lithographs are mostly of flowers, with two marine still lifes and one landscape, the old stone mill near the famous Wayside Inn at Sudbury, Massachusetts. Miss Saltonstall's mastery of form is sure, and her handling of textures and sur-

As I sit at my desk, there stands in front of me a mug. It is an ordinary mug, such as can be bought in the book store. The thing that makes it worthy of note is the fact that it bears on its front the seal of Susquehanna University.

At the very center of the seal there is a globe, supported by a stand. The globe is a curious thing, for it contains no continents, no oceans, no islands. There is nothing but parallels and meridians. This blank globe presents a challenge to the beholder: it demands to be filled. In just that same way the world appears to a college student. His life is before him like a blank space to be filled in. His duty is to provide the contents. The beginning of a new semester brings the same sort of challenge, demanding the consideration of every student at S. U.

What should be our method of filling the blank globe? The seal of the college contains the Latin motto, Ad Gloriam Maiorem Dei, to the greater glory of God. This statement of purpose must be the guide of every student during this and all succeeding semesters at Susquehanna. Increased personal development, continued prestige for a fraternity or a sorority, loyalty to one's Alma Mater—all these are praiseworthy aims. But in living our lives, filling out our patterns, we must place these aims secondary to the primary goal of God's greater glory.

Ein Poem

(Mit apologies to Dr. Gilbert).

Der schnee ist gefallen,
Der sun ist nicht scheinen.
Der rain ist gekommen
Und all ist nicht feinen.

Mit bookers und pencils
(Wir habt ein grosz masse)
In bootses und storm coats
Wir klompin to klasses.

Wir slippin und schliden
Right up to das tur
To be late for professors
Wir haben grosz fear.

Wir sitz in der seats
Fur almost ein hour
While professors ist talkin
Mit plenty of power.

Finally der klasse
Zu ende ist kommen
Wir uppen und stretchin
Und to der tur ist gerunnen

Wir open der tur
Und get der surprise
Fur der sun ist gescheinen
Right in our eyes.

Wir sind nicht gestoppen
(Wir put on sunglasses)
Und off wir ist klompin
Vunce more to der klasses.

The Dragon's Claw

If one should go to a certain Ivy League school, and telephone a certain Sam Schmidlapp, he would get the following reply.

Q. "Hello. Is this LExington 6-5000?"

A. "That's right, Dad. You are speaking to the Grand Mogul of the Federation for Conquering and Preserving Dragons. What can I do for you?"

Q. "Mr. Schmidlapp, I understand you are quite instrumental in supplying the Bronx Zoo with fire-breathing dragons. Is that correct?"

A. "Precisely. However, my wife is the one who does all the work. At present, she is in northern Pakistan attempting to snare a particularly vicious species. We plan on keeping it for a house pet since our beloved Australian vulture recently passed away."

Q. "Is it correct that you are at-those who see her work will agree that these subtle prints are superbly executed.

The last person represented in the exhibition is also a college professor, a member of the staff of Davis and Elkins College at Elkins, West Virginia, a state of which he is a native. Jesse Reed works in the aquatint technique, one of the less common media. His prints are rather impressionistic, and done with a breadth of stroke faces is almost voluptuous. Surely and with a strength which gives great power and dignity to his work.

All of these prints may be purchased very reasonably. Any who are interested are asked to get in touch with Professor Robert Meader at the University. The exhibition comes to Susquehanna through the Studio Club of West Reading, Connecticut.

The last exhibition in the current series at Susquehanna will open on March 24, when Hilda Garniol, of Sunbury will open her fifth one-man show at the University. She, too, is a member of the Studio Guild, and is currently exhibiting with them.

ence because the mother was a screaming, weeping shrew and the sister was a whining and selfish clotheshorse. They played their parts well and made the audience dislike them thoroughly.

Supporting roles were acted very adequately by Ralph Wagoner as Billy Caldwell, Grace's young man; Richard Reichert as Tony Anderson, Patricia's young man; Sandy Risser as Sadie Buchanan, who suppied temporary interference between Grace and Billy; Jack Clarke as Francis Patrick O'Flaherty, an Irishman who liked a joke; and John Yanuklis as "Trip" Busty, the taxicab driver.

During a ten-minute intermission, three songs were sung in fine manner by James Maurer, accompanied at the piano by Jean Harner.

"The Patsy" will long be remembered as an evening of most enjoyable entertainment.

How to Make a Bag of Peanuts Pay Off

• Ever thought how much the cost of a bag of peanuts saved each day can mean to your future? Did you know, for example, that for those "peanuts" you can own an endowment policy of $2,200?

Let's say you want money for retirement at age 65. Here's how those "peanuts"—20¢ a day—pay off for you . . .

After only 20 years you're all paid up — then at age 65 you get back all you've paid in — plus a gain of $2,000 in interest and dividends (per present rate of dividends). And you've been protected for the full amount of the policy during the entire time!

This kind of pay-off is why hundreds of students start their insurance program with Lutheran Brotherhood right while they're in school. Interested? Write . . .

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Welcome back (if you are back), and now prepare yourselves for the "long grind". Vacation is out of fashion for the present, and by all indications it will be a lengthy stretch until V-day.

Formal apology is in order to brother Carl SHOEmaker for the misspelling of his name in a recent Susquehanna column. A reliable source (brother Carl SHOEmaker) informs me that his name is spelled as SHOE as in shoe rather than as SCHU as in schu. (?)

The brothers of Lambda Chi wish to announce and to congratulate the recently elected officers of their pledge class: president, John O'Malley; vice president, Charles Baylor; secretary, Don Lehmer; and treasurer, Tony Pupo. Congratulations.

Congratulations, also, to Mr. Axel Kleinsorg and the all freshmen cast of "The Patsy". A fine job was done by all, and the brothers would like to acknowledge their appreciation for the excellent Friday and Saturday night performances. Particular mention is made of pledge brothers Ralph Ferraro and John Yanuklis for their contribution to the play's success.

The Crusaders had a little trouble Saturday night at Huntingdon; the les said, the more easily forgotten. There are more games and more victories in sight.

Intramural play has been stagnant for a while, but the "Bunders" resum eaction when they meet Phi Mu Delta this week. The brothers are still unbeaten. Good luck.

—S—

PHI MU DELTA NEWS

Congratulations are in order this week for Mr. Axel Kleinsorg and his fine freshman cast for their presentation of the three-act play, "The Patsy." All performed their roles most admirably, and provided a very pleasant evening for the overflow audience. Special plaudits for pledges Dick Reichard and Ralph Wagoner and Jack Clarke. Indications are that Susquehanna has garnered an extremely talented group of actors to tinue its highly enjoyable theatrical successes.

After the play, Mu Alpha chapter of Phi Mu Delta held a reception for the members of the cast and stage crew. There was dancing to appropriate recordings, and light refreshments were served during the course of the evening. We were happy to welcome as our guests Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hatz, Miss Jean Beamenderfer, Dr. Lyder Unstad, Miss Ruth Meister, Mr. Lavan Robinson, Mr. Axel Kleinsorg, parents and friends of the cast, and the brothers and their dates.

On the intramural scene last week, the Black and Orange of Mu Alpha trampled an undermanned Selinsgrove South team by a 67-49 score. Jim White and Sid Richards hit in double figures, with 24 and 12 points, respectively. Our record now stands at three won and one lost, and the team anticipates a shot at the inramural trophy. The brotherhood wishes them the best of luck in the remaining games.

The second semester has started, the moans have subsided somewhat, and everyone has settled down to serious study. But all is not well. Dire threats are being muttered everywhere, and there are contemplations of liquidation on certain fronts. To these we say—"good luck!"

THETA CHI NEWS

Back for another semester! Only one more to go. All the brothers returned happy.

The second half of the intramural basketball league is well under way. The Big Red swished to an easy victory over the Day Students. This game saw some good shooting as well as acrobatic antics. Brother Jack Anthony providing most of the stunts. (Speaking of Brother Jack, it looks like the smiling Anthony Clan has doubled its invasion of S. U.)

When the semester grades came out on Friday, there were some surprises along with shocks. The brothers are wondering, what is the cause of so many low grades? Can it be that lack of study is the sole reason?

Theta Chi would like to salute some of its many versatile men. Bucky Clark, that fine vaudevillian and raconteur of show biz was recently interviewed by WKBX. The Nu-Tones were heard wailing several tunes last Saturday night over WKOK. This assemblage is made up of Fred Mursch, Bill Woelkers, Larry Wingard and Joe Aleknavage (the latter a welcome import from Phi Mu Delta). They appeared on Don James' 10:30 to 12 p. m. show, playing assorted numbers. Mentioning Brother Don, we might also suggest that you tune in any Saturday night for enjoyable late evening music as well as whimsical comments.

There is one other man that should be noted not for his versatility so much, but for his GUIDING ability. This upstanding young man took himself and retinue on a chase for wild goose—a chase high into the mountains of Williamsport. See Carl Catherman for the name of this great guide.

Congratulations to Brother Wayne Rutz on pinning Miss Janet Gordon of Sigma Alpha Iota.

Congratulations to the freshmen for their production of The Patsy.

Let's get out and back the Crusaders!

FRANK ROMANO

Once upon a time there was a little baby named Frank who used to DRIBBBLE all over himself. Goo! Goo! Grown to manhood, Baby Frank is still dribbling. This week the Susquehanna Spotlight ties its bib around Frank Romano.

Bounding into youth, Baby Frank attended Weatherly (Pa.) High School. There he played basketball and was elected All-State. He also played shortstop for the baseball team. They let him pitch once, but after he gave up 26½ home runs for a new world record, they switched him back to short. Unfortunately, this accomplishment was not put into he record books because he didn't complete an inning. (Other records would come later.) Elected president of his class four years in a row, he had the other candidates angry for stealing the girls' votes. With his smile, how could he miss? He concluded his high school career as salutatorian of his class.

Sobering into monhood, Frank attended George Washington University for his first college year. There he became the outstanding player of the freshman basketball team, being chosen captain.

Dribbling his way to S. U., Frank showed us what a gentleman and a magnificent player really is. He has broken almost all existing S. U. basketball scoring records. Last year aone he piled up an amazing 522 points, and was ranked the ninth small college basketball player in the United States. Frank also payed baseba1 is his sophomore year(at short only!) After a wild pitch took off one of his five arms and a thrown but removed one of his heads, he decided he had had enough.

A member of Theta Chi, he plays intramural sports and "wails" a hot trombone for the Theata Betata Band. (This is a carry-over from high school, where he was offered a position in the Philadelphia Symphony, but turned it down to play basketball.) This year Frank is the popular senior class president. He is also vice-president of Pi Ganma Mu. It was serving in this latter capacity that he presented an historic plan for reconstruction. The salient points of this plan are free copies of Esquire for all male students, removal of all busy work college and high school curricula, a private entrance to Seibert Hall, permanently opened, and free tickets to all Yankee baseball games. Frank is a liberal arts student majoring in math and plans to teach same.

One of Frank's highest honors came when he was chosen a member of Who's Who In American Colleges and Universities.

Among his hobbies, interests and diversions, in addition to his first love, basketball (excuse me, Gail, I mean second love) are loungology and reading Playboy. One thing especially that Frank likes to do is cut pictures out of magazines and newspapers and make collections of them. During the summer Frank could be seen traveling to New Jersey. He says the scenery is "especially beautiful" there. Frank spells scenery with a G and ends it with an L. After college Frank has a permanent date with New Jersey scenery. He'll probably have ten children (aiming to build his own team) and a long, miserable life.

Facts and accomplishments cannot tell the whole story. Frank is one whose body has been trained to be the ready servant of his mind. A stellar athlete, popular, handsome, yes—but these are only words; there is something more. . . There is somehow a mark of greatness about him, yet there is a simple modesty and homespun sincerity that reaches out to everyone. The inner strength of a tiger and the grace of an antelope reflect within him. There is a feeling of magnetism drawing all people to him. The elements so mixed in him that nature might stand up and say to all the world, "This is a man!"

Sorority News

ALPHA DELTA PI NEWS

Many plaudits to all those members of the freshman class who were responsible for the delightful romp, The Patsy. Mr. Axel Kleinsorg is to be congratulated once more for his successful directing.

The sisters of the blue and white greeted the new semester a little disheartened by the absence of Sister Arlene Roberts. Before she left, the sisters feted her to a surprise bridal shower. All our very best wishes to our sister Arlene who is to become Mrs. Gary Evans on Saturday.

The sisters have been very busy with rush plans. Parties, open houses, games, food, girls, and lots of fun have filled a busy week to overflowing. Sister Thelma Rossetti is in charge of rush week with Sister Jeanette Cooley assisting her as social chairman. Alpha Delta Pi will hold the big rush party on Thursday evening in Seibert Social Rooms for the girls who have signed up.

Elections of officers was held on Friday night. The results of the elections will be announced at the rush party on Wednesday evening.

The patronesses of Gamma Omicron Chapter of Alpha Delta Pi will fete the sisters to a banquet on February 18 at the Blue Hill. All the sisters are looking forward to the dinner when we shall meet our new patronesses.

There are only a few games left on the basketball schedule so let's try to get out and support our team.

—S—

KD NEWS

Hope you had fun over semester vacation. Well, after a semester of not doing as much work as we should have done (as can be seen from semester grades) we'll all have to buckle down and work harder. Goal from now on—Dean's List Or Bust! Agree?

A special "welcome back" to Sister Twila Wolfe. Twila left us temporarily last year and has just returned this semester. It's good to have you back, Twila!

Did you get to see the play, "The Patsy?" Mr. Axel Kleinsorg is to be complimented on his excellent job of casting and directing. Each player portrayed his role in a manner convincing to everyone. The KD sisters congratulate the freshmen for a job well done on the reception held afterward as well as the play.

We received the happy news that KD alumna, Sister Ann Lacock became engaged. KD is sorry to report that Sister Carol Marshall has not returned to Susquehanna for the second semester. She is now enrolled as a student in Trenton State Teachers College.

'Bye for now.

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA NEWS

Congratulations and a big bouquet of red roses to Sister Janet Gordon who was pinned Saturday evening to Wayne Rutz of Theta Chi. All the sisters wish you every happiness, Janet!

Congratulations also to all the cast of "The Patsy" for a very fine dramatic production. Per usual, Mr. Kleinsorg directed another successful production.

SAI is very proud to be holding its meetings and chorus rehearsals in a newly painted room. Over semester vacation the room was repainted—fern green paneling on the walls and ivory upper walls and ceiling. Tae floors were varnished and sometime in the near future the sisters plan to hold a "work party" and repair and refinish the furniture. Any volunteers.

Sister Gloria Myers has been invited to sing at the wedding of Sister Arlene Roberts to Mr. Gary Evans on Saturday, February 9 in Johnstown, Pa. All the sisters wish Arlene and Gary a very happy married life!

Don't forget the SAI American Musicale on Thursday evening, February 21! Sisters Mary Ellen Harrington, soprano; Mary Moore-Carolyn Gillaspie, 4-hand piano team; Alice Ann Patterson, flutist; alumni sister Mrs. Edward Turnbach, organist; and the chapter chorus will be featured on the program. Do plan to attend!

SPORTS SHORTS

By GEORGE POSPISIL

An old Crusader nemisis called Juniata snapped the six-game winning streak and made amends for a previous loss at the hands of the Pfeiffer-men.

Lycoming will be out for revenge tomorrow night. The overtime defeat handed to them by the Maroon is still fresh in their minds. Let's turn out and really rock the foundations of our dear old Alumni Gym. If we can pack the court to overflowing maybe the powers that be can arrange a game or two in the new Selinsgrove High School gym. . . Speaking of the local high school hardwoods the Harlem Globe Trotters will make an appearance there on February 11. If you have the necessary two-ruble note required for admission it will be well worth it. . . A real toughy awaits the Crusaders this Friday night in Lancaster. The F&M Diplomats have a record of 9 and 1 including wins over some good team such as Gettysburg, Juniata and Lebanon Valley.

Let's look over the intramural scene. The big question is: Who will stop the rampaging Bunders? They have now won five games in succession without a defeat. The job of putting the skids to the defending champions now falls to G. A. Hall. G. A. was my darkhorse candidate, but Selinsgrove North upset them last week and knocked them out of the challenge role.

There may not be any doubt as to the order of finish among the top teams, but the hottest race is for las place. Selinsgrove South and the Day Students have gone through five games each without a victory. These two teams will clash on Friday night. To the loser will go the booby prize. Incidentally the rumor circulating about the average age of the Day Student team being 30 is enirely unfounded.

Here are the standings for the first half and points for the Amos Alonzo Stagg trophy as of February 1.

ROCK AND ROLL VS. LONG HAIR

Many of you may think that Elvis Presley, singing "Love Me Tender", is the coolest thing to hit this planet in ages! Then some of you may really detest the guy.

What about Beethoven? Maybe he was the 18th century version of a "real gone" musician. At any rate, his music still seems to frequent many a musical concert.

Maybe your musical tastes don't run to either extremes. Maybe you like a nice, "easy to listen to" piece by Leroy Anderson.

No matter what your taste, I'll bet you'll find something that you'll enjoy lisening to on the Sigma Alpha Iota American Musicale, to be held on Thursday evening, February 21. (Don't stop here!)

The name American Musicale tells you exactly what it is. The music to be performed is by American composers many of whom are, right now, in the midst of brilliant composing careers. You may think that all this modern stuff is away over your head —it's for the musicians. Music, like everything else in our world, is changing to keep up with the times. We wouldn't think of wearing the clothes our grandparents wore! We want modern, stylish, up-to-date things. Why should we be satisfied with "old-fashioned" music? Everyone, but everyone, keeps up with the latest styles in hats; the newest bonus baby for their favorite baseball team! Why not keep up with the very latest thing in music?

But you say, I can't make any sense out of this modern stuff—it's all just a jumble of sounds. Not everyone liked the new 1956-57 styles in automobiles at first either. They were new and different. But after awhile they were the common, and not the unusual thing. People didn't just look at the new cars and say, "I don't like that car", and forget about it. They looked over the selection of new models, tried them out, talked about them, and soon considered them the latest thing . . . something they themselves must have!

As we have said before, music is changing. For it to be accepted and understood, it needs people to look it over, try it out, and talk about it. Ten maybe you'll amaze yourself by discovering that you do like modern music — — just a little bit!

INDIANS JOLT CRUSADERS, 73-59; ROMANO DOMINATES SCENE WITH 25

The Crusaders of coach Ed Pfeiffer seeking their seventh consecutive win journeyed to Huntingdon, Pa. to tangle with the Indians from Juniata College on Saturday. When the final whistle had sounded Juniata had the victory by the score of 73-59.

This loss was a severe jolt to the Crusaders who had previously been in the running for the division laurels of the NCAA basketball playoffs.

For the first half of the game the lead changed hands several times and when the half ended, the Crusaders had a slim one point margin, 31-30. The second half was a different story as the Indians moved in front and did not ease up for the remainder of the contest.

Frank Romano led all scorers with 25 points on the strength of 7 field goals and 11 foul conversions. Burchfield tallied 21 markers for the victors.

	FG	FT	Pts.
Romano	7	11-13	25
Herbster	5	2-3	12
Huseman	1	0-2	2
Witiak	3	2-2	8
Purnell	1	2-3	4
Probert	0	3-4	3
Tyler	2	1-2	5

Susquehanna's next game is Wednesday evening February 6 here at Susquehanna when the "Warriors" from Lycoming College will furnish the opposition.

Campus Spotlights

GEORGE POSPISIL

This week's spotlight shines on George Pospisil, native of Union, New Jersey. George's high school days were highlighted by four years of varsity football, basketball, and track.

Upon graduation George enlisted in the U. S. Coast Guard, where for three years he served as a radio operator on a Tir-Sea Rescue Cutter. He was discharged in 1952 after rising to the rank of Petty Officer 2nd class.

After working for one year, George realized the need for a college education in the attainment of his goals, and like the rest of us, he chose Susquehanna. His talents are many and varied, as can easily be seen by a list of a few of his more prominent contributions to campus activities. As a major in economics, George has been able to find time to actively participate of president of the Men's Student Council, vice-president of Alpha Psi Omega, and a member of the Susquehanna Players, with major roles in such fine productions as: "Macbeth", "Sun up", "Mr. Roberts", "The Late George Apley", and "Time out for Ginger".

As a brother of Lambda Chi Alpha and a former "Bunder" of the old Bond & Key, George served as social chairman, athletic director, pledge class president, and correspondent. Among his other activities George has been a member of Varsity football, Varsity basketball, the Susquehanna Staff, the Lauthorn, and various intramural squads where he has served as a member of the intramural board. Last year George reached the pinnacle of a college student's career when he became a member of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

In 1954 George married his high school sweetheart, Barbara Zucker, and just five short months ago they were blessed with a daughter, Joanne.

George is going to enter the business field in his native New Jersey, and is planning to go on for his masters degree at night school.

JOHN NEVER READ

"Johnny can't read—at least as well as in the good old days" is a refrain of critics of the schools going back at least 100 years, according to Dr. Edgar B. Wesley who is writing a history of the National Education Association for its Centennial anniversary in 1957.

An Illinois Teacher's Journal of 1864 complained that "readers and speakers admitted into the grammar schools within the past two years, or since this reading furor has existed are not equal to those of former years."

Before the NEA convention in 1879, A. J. Rickoff, superintendent of schools of Cleveland, lamented that reading, "about which the public critics have been lately so articulate, was too often word-calling and not sense-getting."

The method of teaching and learning to read has elicited streams of admonition and deplorations which have continued for 100 years and show no signs of drying up, says Wesley, pointing out that the phonetic method, recently endorsed by the auhor of Why Johnny Can't Read, has been agrued pro and con thruout the century.

KLEINSORG CASTS "TIME LIMIT"

"Time Limit", the story of an American major who is about to be officially charged with treason and of a zealous judge advocate of a homeside Army post who is not satisfied with the plea or the evidence, has been chosen as the next campus production by the Susquehanna Players. Mr. Axel Kleinsorg will direct this mystery melodrama which will appear on the Little Theater stage February 28, and March 1 and 2.

The role of Lt. Col. William F. Edwards, the judge advocate, will be taken by John Hendricks, and Don Trimmer will portray Major Harry Cargill. Other major roles will be enacted by Jack Anthony as T/Sgt. Charles Baker, Martha Jane McNitt as WAC Cpl. Jean Evans, John Biber as 2nd Lt. George Miller, Don Boyer as Maj. General Joseph Connors, and Noretta Sheesley as Mrs. Mary Cargill.

ACRL GRANTS LIBRARY $500

The Susquehanna University Library has received a sub-grant of $500 from the U. S. Steel Foundation, made to the association of College and Reference Libraries, a division of the American Library Association, which has for its purpose improvement of college library collections, equipment, and programs of library service.

Miss Hilda G. Kolpin said that the sub-grant would be used for the purchase of New York Times on microfilm.

This is the second year of the ACRL program, financed by three grants from private industry totaling $40,000. The Susquehanna University Library is one of 118 college and university libraries throughout the country which were awarded subgrants. The United States Steel Foundation gave $30,000 "to strengthen or modernize library, teaching or learning tools;" $5,000 was granted by the New York Times for library purchase of microfilmed back copies of the newspaper; and $5,000 came from Remington Rand Division of Sperry Rand Corporation for library equipment.

ACRL President Robert W. Orr, director of Iowa State College Library, Ames, Ia., said:

"The information received from The Susquehanna University Library in making application for a sub-grant will be used in building a broader program of grants next year. These grants reflect the growing concern of business leaders for development of broader reading interests and habits among students. The sub-grants are made principally to libraries in non-tax-supported, four-year institutions and junior colleges planning a four-year program. They are modest sums, ranging largely from $300 to $500—none exceed $1,000. However, the aim is to place the money widely where it will make direct contributions to higher education through the library function. We look forward to expansion of the program as the value and importance of this kind of ssistance to the college library received wider recognition."

MEN ARE NOT ALL-IMPORTANT

Men are not the only ones who can serve Christ in His Church. During a vigorous discussion at the latest Pre-Theological meeting, members and friends discovered that there will be a need for four thousand new deaconesses during the next five years. Contrasted to the ministry of word of the clergy, the deaconess has a tradition of the ministry of mercy. Today a deaconess may serve as church secretaries, ministers of music, directors of religious education, youth leaders, teachers, nurses, and missionaries.

Does the deaconess have to wear the uniform (garb)? Is she paid a salary? Can she choose the assignment she wants, or is she delegated to a position by some superior? Changed conditions in recent years have led to the development of three types of workers: the regular deaconess, the non-garbed deaconess, and the parish worker. The regular deaconess must wear the garb, receives only room, board, and a small personal allowance, and may return to the Deconess House when ill or aged. The non-garbed deaconess wears the garb only when she desires, and may return to the Deaconess House only if she does not receive a salary. The parish worker may not wear the garb or return to the Deaconess House; however, she is salaried. All receive five years of training and may choose their own assignments.

In addition, women with a high school or professional training, such as nursing, may become AIDs (Assistants In Deaconess Work). There is even a one-year course for pastor's wives.

Do deaconesses feel slighted because they are not ordained ministers? No, most of them do not. They are doing an equally important work, serving as the hands of Christ.

And . . . oh, yes! Deaconesses may marry any time they want to!

SU Breaks Ground For Music Building

Ground-breaking for the new music building took place yesterday at 12:50 p. m. immediately following the Directors' luncheon in Horton Dining Hall.

The Rev. Dr. John F. Harkins, of State College, President of the Board of Directors presided. A brief musical selection was given by the Chapel Choir, followed by Scripture and prayer. The ground-breaking followed, and was performed by a member of the building committee. Singing of the Doxology closed the brief ceremony.

The meeting was attended by students, faculty, directors, alumni, members of the Women's Auxiliary and local friends.

The general contractor for the new building is C. F. King of Sunbury. The completed building is promised by May 1, 1958.

Susquehanna University Introduces The Julliard Music Foundation, Quartet

Susquehanna University will present as second in its series of concerts, The Julliard String Quartet, on Wednesday evening, February 13. Hailed as "America's greatest contribution to quartet history", the Julliard Quartet was founded after World War II with the aid of the Julliard Music Foundation.

The ensemble's members, all of whom have distinguished themselves as solo performers, are on the faculty of the Julliard School of Music, New York City.

Since its inception, the Quartet has played hundreds of concerts and has had many triumphs in the United States, Canada and Europe. Their Columbia recordings have become an integral part of every record collector's library.

The members of the Quartet are Robert Mann and Robert Koff, violinists, Raphael Hillyer, violist and Claus Adam, cellist.

S. U. Students Teach In Local Schools

Senior education students are student teaching in Sunbury, Selinsgrove, Middleburg, Mifflinburg, and West Snyder High Schools this semester. Lillian Troutman is teaching typing and sales in Selinsgrove, while Nancy Marek is teaching typing and busines smath at Selinsgrove High. Frank Romano is also at Selinsgrove, teaching math.

Janet Swenson and Gloria Masteller are in Sunbury. Janet is teaching typing and business law, while Gloria is teaching typing and bookkeeping. Carletta Chubb is teaching math and science at Middleburg High. Marion Drumheller and Doris Wittes are teaching business subjects at the same school.

Nat Wilhour and Bonnie Miller are teaching in the business department at Mifflinburg High. One of the master teachers at Mifflinburg is Mrs. eGnevieve Thomas Waters, a 1956 graduate of Susquehanna U. Larry Romig is doing his work at West Snyder High School in general business, typing, and bookkeeping.

These students will teach in the high schools for the entire second semester. They are under the direction of Dr. Albert A. Zimmer.

Breakfast Menu

Fried Eggs (sunnyside up)
Bacon
Hot or cold cereal
Toast and/or Buns
Bananas
Coffee, Tea or Milk

This was the menu on Sunday, February 10. Lots of kids surprisingly pass up this dee-licious meal—and look at all the advantages. If you're speedy, you don't have to get up until 7:50; if you concentrate of feeding your face instead of talking, you're finished at 8:15; you don't have to leave for church until 10:00—look at all the studying you can do now that you are bright-eyed and bushy tailed, or, if you're normal—go back to bed! Sounds like a winner, doesn't it? If you get there before I do next Sunday, save me five eggs, okay?

ALUMNI FOLLOW NEW CAREERS

Not too long ago we published a list of some of last year's seniors at Susquehanna, telling where they are now and what they are doing. Those who knew these men and women are still wondering about the rest of them, and also the two-year students who completed their courses last year. Here are some of the answers to the questions in people's minds.

Janet Gerner: Janet is teaching music at Lower Penns Neck, Pennsville, New Jersey.

Helene A. Nestler: Pennsaucken High School, New Jersey, claims Helene as an able teacher.

Donald Rook: Donald is a management trainer at U. S. Electrical Motors Company.

The following are the X'58 students.

Patricia Lee Dawn: Pat is now the wife of Alan Bortle, one of the favorite brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha, class of 1958. She is employed as a secretary at State Farm Insurance Company, Springfield, Pa.

Barbara Ann Enck: Barbara is a medical secretary at the Lancaster General Hospital.

Getell Friedman: Getell is a secretary in the alumni office at the Jefferson Medical College, in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Kay Kline: Now Mrs. Frank Koch of Selinsgrove, Kay is also a secretary at the Snyder County Trust Company.

Carol Lee Kogel: Employed as a medical secretary, Carol Lee is working in Philadelphia.

Nancy Lockett: The Pennsylvania Hospital in Philadelphia claims Nancy as an able secretary.

Barbara A. Mottern: We all know Barb as the secretary in the Public Relations Office here at S. U.

Janice Paul: Janice is now a nursing student.

Janis Elaine Quigley: Janis is a secretary for the Dana Corporation in Pottstown, Pa.

Corinne Seebold: Corinne is a medical secretary at the Evangelical Community Hospital, Lewisburg, Pa.

Flo Troutman: Employed as a stenographer in Wilmington, Delaware, Flo is working for the E. I. DuPont de Nemuers & Co.

Sara Troutman: Sara is working with her twin in Delaware, making it just as difficult to tell the two girls apart as it was when they attended Susquehanna.

Annual Sorority Rush Week Agenda Sees Success and Formation of Third Group

For the past week our campus has been the scene of sorority rushing. More than 40 girls participated in the rushing activities which began last Sunday with the Panhellenic Tea.

Rushing this year took on added interest because of the formation of another social group, Nu Sigma Tau. Although this group did not actively participate in rushing, 14 freshmen girls signed up to become members of the new sorority.

Those girls who signed up to rush were entertained during the rest of the week by the sorority girls. Open house was held in the Social Rooms and in the sorority rooms after lunch and dinner.

The highlights of the week were the rush parties of Thursday and Friday nights.

On Thursday, Alpha Delta Pi entertained the girls with a visit "To Gay Paree". The Social Rooms took on a Parisian atmosphere with the Eiffel Tower and a typical French artist. The ADPi girls, dressed in true French style, entertained. The traditional Wishing Well ceremony was also held during the evening.

Kappa Delta's rush party was held Friday night. Part of the evenings entertainment consisted of Goopy Dancers, a Time Machine, and social singing. The highlight of the evening was the traditional White Rose Ceremony. The Social Rooms were attractively decorated with fresh flowers and ivy.

The rush chairman for Kappa Delta was Suzie Tharp, and for Alpha Delta Pi, Thelma Rosetti.

ADPi's Pledges:

Ginny Alexander, Nancy Bricker, Izzy Carroll, Bonnie Gilfillin, Stephie Haase and Janet Zortman.

KD's Pledges

Beverly Anderson, Mary Alice Crawford, Charlene Gruner, Joan Heslop, Ella Jane Koch, Maxine James, Carol Mackel, June Nonnemacher, Janet Paluck, Gwen Park, Sandy Risser, Nancy Sierer, and Helene Schumacher.

Nu Sigma Tau's Pledges:

Count Your Blessings Instead of Complaining

One hundred forty-eight years ago today, there was born in a log cabin in Kentucky a boy named Abraham Lincoln. His story is familiar to every American. Reared amid the rigors of life on the frontier, handicapped by humble origin and lack of formal training, ridiculed for his ungainly appearance, "Honest Abe" eventually became President of the United States.

Yesterday marked the passage of the one hundred tenth year since the birth of Thomas Alva Edison. The story of his life is almost as familiar as that of the Great Rail-Splitter. Harrassed in childhood by an inability to learn in school, and plagued in later life by the deafness inflicted upon him by an irate railroad conductor, Edison became the man who invented the incandescent lamp, the phonograph, and motion pictures, as well as the discoverer of the principle upon which the operation of radio tubes depends.

We students at Susquehanna are much better off than was either Lincoln or Edison as a young man. We possess advantages never even dreamed of by these two gentlemen. Yet the cry is heard on this campus that we are handicapped by the fact that Susquehanna is such a small school.

Conceding (for the moment) the extremely dubious argument that the alumnus of a big-name school has the edge over a small-college graduate, we must remind the critics of their failure to realize that one must overcome the handicaps imposed by his enviroment. Men like Edison and Lincoln became great in spite of—not because of—their background.

It is easy for students of any college to rationalize their personal failings by shifting the blame to their alma mater. Careful study of the lives of Lincoln, Edison and countless others will do much to maintain perspective whenever such temptation arises.

Scrounging for Food In the Dining Hall

It is a recognized fact that the inside of every college student's head is stuffed with knowledge. It is likewise common knowledge that the rest of the college student is totally, completely, and utterly empty at all times. I am writing this series of articles in the interest of keeping the student body from dropping dead of hunger.

There are two ways of facing this problem: scrounging food in the dining hall or scrouning food in the dormitory. The former is easier but the latter is more satisfying, especially right after vacation or Parents' Day.

Girls are somewhat at a disadvantge in the dining hall, for boys have a reputation for eating more and they therefore feel that they have the right to larger and more frequent helpings of food. Then too, if you have a slight tendency toward plumpness, it is much nicer to hear people say, "It must be her glands, she eats like a bird!" rather than, "No wonder she's fat, she eats like a horse!"

Here are a few hints for getting food more subtly in the dining hall: (1) Bread is always filling. If you really stretch your butter you can make it last for three or four slices. (2) Always send all your serving dishes back for seconds. Who knows, you might even get meat some day! (3) If any cookies and fruit happen to be left on the table, reach your left hand for the food, hold the right hand ready to slap any other fingers that reach out, and say, "Does anyone else want these?" (Don't forget to emphasize else.) (4) All else failing, take up a collection of food for your sick roommate. Remember first to check whether or not your roommate is sitting within viewing distance.

I'll be back next week wth lesson no. 2 on getting food in the dormitory.

VESPERS

On Sunday evening Alpha Delta Pi sorority was in charge of vespers. The liturgist, Gladys Ransom read verses from the 8th and 12th chapters of John. The speaker was Carole Sadosuk who used Light as the theme of her inspiring message. The hymns were: My God, How Wonderful Thou Art, Take My Life and Let It Be. Mary Davis was the organist.

Attention musclemen! A wrestling club has been formed on campus. The members meet three times a week at the Selinsgrove High School gym. They mix it up under the watchful eye of Mr. Smoker of the high school's athletic staff. It is hoped to have wrestling on an intramural scale and eventually, if the interest mounts, a varsity wrestling team can be organized. Anyone interested in joining may contact Alan Shaw or Ed Simonds.

THE CINEMA IN RETROSPECT

If you weren't one of the lucky (?) few who went to the movies sometime over the weekend you really didn't miss much.

Take for instance that thrilling saga of ZARAK. It had all the elements needed for a great picture: a bad guy ,a good guy, lots of extras and their horses, color, Cinemascope, and Anita Ekberg thrown in at the slower parts. Then there were the usual large battles, etc., etc. About the only interesting part of the movie were the many varied colors of the soldiers' uniforms.

Next on the agenda was the really touching story of "Marty" being accused of Communist tendencies. Well, a trial and a few hearings later the actors on the screen found out what the viewer knew all along, that "Marty" was just a victim of some malicious script writer.

The last of the triangle was completed with a touching episode in the lives of todays teenagers. The theme was the ever popular misunderstood boy wanting to be in a band which by the way wasn't too bad. Sal Mineo managed to get in a few good drum beats and everything wound up in "peaches and cream" fashion. To top that off Buster Crabbe was chasing around on the high seas again, and another chapter of the "Sea Hound" went down the drain.

Then there are the "coming attractions" which always seem better than the movie you've just seen. There's just one thing though, when are these good "coming attractions" going to get here?

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

The brothers would like to wish Abe (Lincoln) a very happy birthday, not that Abe really cares; and this is St. Valentine's big week, too. We understand that St. Valentine and his crew will be in full force.

Lambda Chi has already acknowledged Val's presence; the brothers dedicated their Saturday night dance to him. With plenty of hearts and clever (?) verses decorating the parlors, and under the influence of colored lights, the brothers entertained. Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Stagg, Dr. and Mrs. John Houtz, Miss Leatrice Voorhees, and Mr. Lavan Robinson were among the welcome guests.

Well, the Crusaders placed the week in balance by winning over Lycoming in the week's early hours, and by losing to Franklin and Marshall in the week's closing hours. The latter game was played on F. and M.'s floor.

The intra-mural picture: Lambda Chi's undefeated team added two more victories to its record. Neither Phi Mu Delta nor G. A. Hall were able to deter the Bunder's victory march. Let's keep up the rally.

A number of brothers, seen mumbling to themselves as they wander about the campus, are actually trying to memorize their lines for the play, Time Limit, which is to be presented soon. The posted list of those who "made the cast" includes several of the brothers: John Hendricks, Don Boyer, Dick Neff, Nelson Bailey, Tony Grigalunas, Ray Yeingst, Bob Kenyon, pledge-brother Tony Pupo.

Back to your studies (or whatever).

PHI MU DELTA NEWS

Waving palm trees, monkeys, and a huge gorilla to keep order—these set the scene for the Phi Mu Delta "Shipwreck Party." Informality reigned as the brothers, pledges, and their dates emulated modern Robinson Crusoes, and enjoyed a most happy evening on board the "S. S. Desert Island." There was dancing to "native" music, and very tasteful refreshments were served. Our thanks to all the brothers and pledges who helped make this affair the huge success it was. Mu Alpha was very happy to welcome as guests for the evening Dr. and Mrs. T. Townsend Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Dan MacCuish, Dr. Lyder Unstad, Mr. Robert Meader, and the Rev. Mr. Benjamin Lotz.

Congratulations to Coach Ed Pfeiffer and his Crusaders court team for dumping Lycoming College, on Wednesday night, by a 63-57 score and running the win column up to eight games.

The record now stands at 8 wins and 4 defeats, the team suffering a loss on Friday night to a strong F&M aggregate. But the season is far from over, so let's cheer the Crusaders on to victories for the remainder of the schedule.

On the intramural scene last week, the Black and Orange were defeated by Lambda Chi Alpha after a nip-and-tuck battle for most of the game. On Friday night, however, the squad notched its fourth victory with a win over the Big Red of Theta Chi by a score of 42-34. The team has posted a 4 and 2 record in the first half of play, and now is aiming for a perfect second half slate. Good luck to them in the last half of play.

The brothers note that John Biber, Harry Haney, Jim White, Don Trimmer and pledge Jim Middleswarth will soon be seen in the S. U. Player's next production, "Time Limit".

Congratulations to all the new pledges of Alpha Delta Pi and Kappa Delta. Phi Mu Delta is pleased to welcome the new sorority, Nu Sigma Tau, to the campus and to the Fraternity-Sorority column of the Susquehanna. Good luck girls!

THETA CHI NEWS

Valentine's Day came early to Theta Chi. Saturday night a gala party celebrated the Good Saints' birthday. Despite the foul weather an atmosphere of romance and light-hearted gaity prevailed. The theme motif of "Hearts and Lace" was charmingly carried out. Tasty refreshments of onion-dip and assorted cheeses were spread on a candled and heart-bedecked buffet. The happy evening ended with each couple seeking their own inscribed valentine. We should like especially to thank our chaperones, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Amy and Mr. and Mrs. Howard DeMott. Thanks also to all the brothers who helped make the dance a success. Pledge Dave Diehl deserves a valentine as the portly, behind-the-buffet host.

After the dance the pledges, those misguided, bungling neophytes, staged a clean-up. Did I say "clean-up"? I should have said wreck-up. Such insolence! Such empty-headedness! Such disobedience! Such disrespect for their elders! Leaders in this shambles included Jim Rhodes (that Great Questioner) and Bill Elmer (the "where is this kept?" kid). Then, to add insult to injury, who should put his smiling "kisser" into this muddle but the Child Anthony? Boy! It is the considered opinion of Brother Frank Romano and this writer that what these pledges need is more Decalogical instruction!

Elsewhere, a good win over Lycoming College on Wednesday set the Crusaders back on the winning path. Congratulations! Tough luck, team, on the Franklin and Marshall game, but we can rise again to fight anew. It was good to see a number of students down to the game. Let's everyone get out to the remaining games and back the team. Let's go, gang!

On our way out this week, birthday congratulations are sent to St. Valentine's boy himself, Brother Romano.

Campus Spotlights

MARY ELLEN HARRINGTON

This week the spotlight falls on Mary Ellen Harrington, a native of Benton, Pa. and a senior in the Conservatory. Mary Ellen's high school days were very busy ones as she was very active in many musical activities —band, orchestra, and chorus. The Junior Historical Club also claimed her as a member.

Here at S. U. Mary Ellen has led a very active college career. She is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota and is currently serving as sergeant-at-arms. Mary Ellen is a voice pupil of Mrs. Frances Alterman and is appearing as a soloist in the SAI American Musicale on Feb. 21, as well as presenting her own voice recital on May 3. She will also appear as soloist with the college orchestra this year and will present two arias from La Boheme, "Michiamins Mimi" and "Addio."

Mary Ellen's talents are very much in evidence as we list her many contributions to campus life at S. U. She was Homecoming representative her freshman and sophomore years, freshman counselor, Hassinger House president, literary editor of the Lanthorn, member of Chapel Choir, concert band, orchestra, and marching band where she served capably as head majorette for 3 years. She is also a member of SCA and FTA.

This year Mary Ellen was one of the seniors to be named to Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

This past summer Mary Ellen became the bride of John Harrington, a Penn State grad who is a metallurgist. At present they are living in Selinsgrove where Mary Ellen is doing her student teaching.

Our best wishes go with you, Mary Ellen, as you graduate from S. U.

NU SIGMA TAU NEWS

Congratulations to all the newly selected pledges of Alpha Delta Pi and Kappa Deta. Lots of luck to all of you.

Charter members and new sisters of Nu Sigma Tau have also been selected. They include: Joyce Arnold, Millie Barabas, Pat Bodle, Nancy Boyer, Barbara Brown, Marilyn Faiss, Lynn Hassinger, Lorarine Kelly, Lois Kohl, Sally Myers, Bonnie Miller, Edith Parr, Nancy Phillips, Judy Poulette, Carol Royer, Caroline Shrycock, Cindy Smith, Janet Swenson, Gracia Thomas, Gail Troxell and Fran Wirt.

Nu Sigma Tau is planning a meeting on Wednesday night for the election of officers.

The sisters that attended the house parties on Saturday night wish to thank the fraternities for a very enjoyable evening.

We hope that everyone will attend Star Course on Wednesday night. The Julliard String Quartet will be featured and it promises to be a very worthwhile affair.

A big step toward the building of the new Conservatory of Music was taken with the ground breaking ceremonies on Monday. We hope to see signs of progression on the new building within a very short time.

One last thought: Don't forget to support the Crusaders!

—S—

ADPi NEWS

Bouquets of violets to the new pledges of Alpha Delta Pi. The sisters are glad to once more have their quota filled by Pledges Ginny Alexander, Nancy Bricker, Bonnie Gilfillan, Isabel Carrol, Stephanie Haase and Jan Zortman. On Saturday afternoon these pledges were guests of honor at a party in the sorority room. Sisters "Squirt" Pourron and Carol Dailey had some really cut games, but gee they were brain teasers for the end of rush week. We, the Sisters of Alpha Delta Pi, want to congratulate all the new sorority pledges of Kappa Delta and the new sorority Nu Sigma Tau. Welcome to Greek life.

New officers have been announced for the coming year. Handling the president's gavel will be Sister Nancy Ridenger and as vice president, Sister Betsy Walker, Sister Sandy Meyer is treasurer; Sister Robin Palmer is recording secretary; Sister Joy Klinger is corresponding secretary, Dawn Douglas is guard, Sister Gladys Ransome is historian and Sister Eleanor Pourron is chaplain and Sister Joan Shetterly is register.

Vespers on Sunday were held by ADPi in the chapel with Sister Carole Sadosuk as speaker and Sister Gladys Ransom as liturgist.

Wednesday night Star Course will feature the Julliard String Quartet. We have heard that they present a terrific performance. Hope the students won't miss this outstanding program.

This weekend Sisters Nancy Ridinger and Thelma Rosetti were members of the wedding party of Sister Arlene Roberts when she became Mrs. Gary Evans in Johnstown, Pa. Sister Arlene will be living in Houston, Texas, near A.D.Pi's Gamma Psi chapter. We all wish her the best of everything in the sunny South and all through life.

Yesterday at noon the ground breaking for the new conservatory of music was a welcomed sight to all SU students. The new building will be an asset to our campus and great for the music department.

That's all for now. . . back to study and normal life!

SAI NEWS

Tomorrow evening, one of the finest string quartets in the country will present a very fine program in the Seibert Chapel. This group is the well-known Julliard String Quartet which is in residence at the Julliard School of Music in New York City. The prospects are for a very fine evening, so do plan to attend!

All the sisters were greatly pleased to see the ground-breaking ceremonies for the new conservatory yesterday afternoon!

Also congrats to the basketball team for their Lycoming win and keep up the good spirit.

Don't forget Feb. 21 at 8:15 p. m.—the SAI American Musicale!

KD NEWS

First and foremost, Kappa Delta wants to extend a warm welcome to the thirteen girls who were pledged to KD on Sunday afternoon. The new pledges are: Bev Anderson, Mary Alice Crawford, Charlene Gruner, Joan Heslop, Maxine James, Ella Jane Koch, Carol Mackel, June Nonnemacher, Janet Paluck, Gwen Park, Helene Schumaker, Sandra Risser, and Nancy Sierer. Congratulations girls, KD is proud to have you.

The climax of KD's "rushing season" came on Friday night when both actives and rushees gathered in Seibert social rooms, where the KD party was held. After the group greeted the rushees with the "Welcome Song", three strange little fraternity men? ? ? called "Goopy Dancers" meandered onto the stage and danced a crazy-mixed-up step. After tasting the delicious hors d'eurves, the girls sat down to a supper of shrimp cocktail, lobster a la neuberg, broccoli, olives, pickels, chips, rolls, and lime sherbert. The group was then entertained by nine of the KD's singing "A KD Is An Angel In Disguise." "The Time Machine" followed, complete with Lady Macbeth, Cleopatra, Queen Elizabeth, Scarlet O'Hara, and a Modern KD. Concluding that section of the entertainment was a dance to "Me And My Shadow." The group then sung "Remembering" and brought the program to a close with the White Rose Ceremony. The rushees were then escorted to the dorm where KD serenaded them with "One Little Candle". So that the girls would remember the party, they were given little stuffed green and white "KD worms" made to look just like the homecoming float. And so ended an evening of enjoyment for all. Thanks to Sister Suzy Tharp for a job well done as rushing chairman.

On February 23rd a pledge danee will be held for the new pledges and will be sponsored by Alpha Delta Pi, Kappa Deta, Nu Sigma Tau and Sigma Alpha Iota. At that time the pledges will be given their pledge paddles.

KD also has other good news to bring to you. The newly elected officers of Beta Upsilon are as follows: president, Sister Betty Ann Ormond; vice president, Sister Judi Anderson; secretary, Sister Lois Andren; treasurer, Sister Mary Lou Ernst; editor, Sister Mimi Overly; and membership chairman, Sister Sandy Locke.

SPORTS SHORTS

By GEORGE POSPISIL

It seems that Frank Romano is appreciated at other campi and not ony by the Crusaders followers. The Juniata College paper ran a three-column head line on the sports page prior to the Susquehanna game which read, "S. U.'s ROMANO HERE TOMORROW". The lead paragraph read, "Tomorrow evening is one which has been anticipated for a long time by many Juniata basketball fans. It is the night when Susquehanna University led by renowned Frank Romano makes its annual appearance at Memorial Gymnasium.". . . .

The Crusaders are one of four teams in this area being considered for the NIAA tournament in Kansas City.

Let me restate an analogy that was made by Wilt "The Stilt" Chamberlain's high school coach. He once asked his team what they would do if they were surrounded by the enemy during a war. They had only one machine gun and one of the men knew how to fire it better than any one else. The team answered, that they would let this man fire the machine gun and they would feed him the amunition. The coach then said that Chamberlain was their machine-gunner because he could make baskets better than anyone else on the team, and that they should feed him just as they would the machine-gunner. From that time on the team won most of their games. This writer believes that this principle could be applied with tremendous success. . . .

MUSIC NOTES

Mary Ellen Harrington, soprano, and David Diehl, bass, will perform for the Women's Club of Selinsgrove tonight at Trinity Lutheran Church. Richard Horne will be the accompanist.

Wednesday, February 13, the Julliard String quartet will present a concert in Seibert Chapel at 8:15 p. m. The program contains some of the best written music for string quartets and you will hear interesting and contrasting styles for strings.

The February recital class will be held this afternoon in Seibert Chapel.

quiet please

A man's thinking about his future. Perhaps he's thinking about military service or marriage or a business career—they're all pretty important.

Maybe this man is you. If so, you'll want to know about the careers available at Connecticut General.

Why? Because we're growing at an exceptional rate. In ten years the combined assets of all life insurance companies have doubled. Ours have tripled.

You might well ask what can our growth mean to you. It means young men with executive potential can rise rapidly. You might reason correctly that you can grow faster with us.

See your Placement Director for further information about a career with Connecticut General. When you do, make a date to discuss your future with our representative. He'll be on campus soon. Connecticut General Life Insurance Company, Hartford.

P. S. Job offers are made to qualified college men regardless of their military status.

LAMBDA CHI COPS FIRST DIVISON

Lambda Chi Alpha continued to dominate the intramural scene with a victory over G. A. Hall, therby copping the first half championship. The Bunders were pressed for the first half as Ron Aller's quintet gave it all they had. The Big Green pulled away in the second half and won by a comfortable 12 point margin.

Theta Chi and Phi Mu Delta hooked up in a battle for runner-up position. The Orange and Black came away victorious and thus tied the Romano-coached team for second place.

G. A. Hall and Selinsgrove North finished the first half with 3 and 3 records for third place.

Selinsgrove South overcame a six-point Day Student lead in the final two minutes of play and won the battle of the nonvictorious with a basket in the last 30 seconds.

The second half gets underway this week with nine games being played. Once again Lambda Chi will be the team to stop. Each team is vastly improved and on a hot night could put the skids to the Bunders. There should be plenty of excitement at the gym in the next few weeks.

Here are the final standings for the first half with points for the Amos Alonzo Stagg trophy.

	W	L	Pts.
Lambda Chi Alpha	6	0	136
Theta Chi	4	2	118
Phi Mu Delta	4	2	112
G. A. Hall	3	3	92

SU DOWNS LYCO LOSE TO F & M

The Crusaders lost a tough game to a classy Franklin & Marshall College quintet by a score of 76-54, only two days after dumping Lycoming for the second time this season.

Lycoming trailed most of the game and never really made a serious threat. Frank Romano led the scoring with 22 points, and Dick Purnell dropped in 16. The capacity crowd watched as the Crusaders took a comfortable lead and then traded baskets with the Warriors. The comparatively colorless game ended with S. U. on top by 64-57.

Lancaster, Pa. was the setting of the Orange & Maroon undoing. The Diplomats grabbed a 19-2 lead before the losers could work up a sweat. The Crusaders could not recover from this early deficit, although they played on even terms in the second half. Once again "The Pisan" paved the way with 24 markers. Romano hit 7 of 13 shots taken in the second half including 6 hook shots. Frank, who should be getting at least 20 shots a half, got only 5 attempts the first half.

The next home game is with Lebanon Valley on Monday night. A preliminary fray will pit the Intramural All-Stars against the J. V.'s.

—S—

Intramural Coaches Choose Dream Team

Dick Cahn of the championship team of Lambda Chi Alpha was voted as the top player of the intramural league. Ballots were cast by the coaches of each of the seven teams. The voting was conducted on a point basis, with 10 points going to the top player and then working back with 9, 8, 7, etc. being awarded to the other nominees.

Along with Cahn, who registered 65 votes, the All-Star team includes; Jim White, of Phi Mu Delta with 61 votes, Frank DelNero of Selinsgrove North 50 votes, Jim Maurer of G. A. Hall 49 votes and Alan Bortle of Lambda Chi 32 votes.

The second team lines up in this manner; Jim Stone of Lambda Chi 30 votes, Gary Schroeder of Theta Chi 25 votes, Sid Richard of Phi Mu 22 votes, Jack Anthony of Theta Chi 19 votes and George Pospisil of the Day Students also 19 votes.

The Intramural All-Stars will engage the Susquehanna J. V.'s in a preliminary contest before the Lebanon Valley game on February 18.

Receiving honorable mention were; Dan Marvin, Selinsgrove North, Paul Hayward, George Swan, Selinsgrove South, Gordie Thompson, Phi Mu Delta, Rube Forster, Day Students, Dick Frank, G. A. Hall, and Stan Shilling, Theta Chi.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

Tau Kappa held its regular monthly meeting this past week. Two important coming events were discussed. They are the dance which Tau Kappa will sponsor on Saturday, March 9, and the bowling party which the organization's patronesses are giving for the girls. There will be more details about both of these events in a later issue of the paper.

The W.A.A. is busy making plans for a sports' day to be held in our gymnasium in the near future. Several other colleges will be invited to participate.

The results of this week's basketball games are as follows: team 1 defeated team 10, 19 to 4; team 2 won over team 9, 23 to 14; team 12 won over team 10 by a forfeit; and team 13 defeated team 11, 15 to 12. Captains for these teams are: team 1, Judy Poulette; team 10, Nancy Zimmerman; team 2, Nancy Bricker; team 9, Lois Andren; team 12, Betty Ann Ormond; team 13, Marion Drumheller; and team 11, Nancy Bumbarger.

Famed String Quartet Displays Skill In Performing Controversial Program

On Wednesday evening, February 13, 1957, Susquehanna University was especially privileged to present the Juilliard String Quartet in a truly great performance. Their technical mastery and brilliant interpretations were as near to perfection as any performance could possibly be. It was indeed a perfect performance with the art of chamber music at its truest and highest.

The ensemble's members, Robert Mann, voilin; Robert Koff, violin; Raphael Hillyer, viola; and Claus Adam, cello; are on the faculty of the Julliard School of Music. They have combined their inspiring talents to produce a quartet hailed as "America's greatest contribution to quartet history". Not only have they traveled to many parts of the globe to perform, but they have recorded many of their works with Columbia Masterworks.

The Wednesday evening program consisted of the following numbers:

1. Quartet in C major, K 465, "The Dissonance—Mozart
   - Adagio - Allegro
   - Andante cantabile
   - Menuetto: Allegro
   - Molto Allegro
2. Second Quartet in A minor, Opus 17 (1917) - Bartok
   - Moderato
   - Allegro molto capriccioso
   - Lento
3. Quartet in G. minor, Opus 10 - Dubussy
   - Anime et tres decide
   - Assez vif et bien rhythme
   - Andantino doucement expressif
   - Tres modere - Tres mouvemente et avec passion

"DISNEYLAND" IS MAY DAY THEME

On May 11, the students of Susquehanna University will witness the annual May Day festivities. The script for the coming production was chosen by a faculty committee composed of Miss Ruth Meister, Dr. John Leach, Mrs. Alice Giaque, Mr. Bernard Krapf, Mrs. Sara Stephens, and Miss Betsy McDowell. Its theme is "Maytime in Disneyland" and it was written by Lynn Hassinger, a senior in Business Education. Since her script is being used, Lynn will receive $25 cash prize given by the Women's Auxiliary.

Included in the cast will be Donald Duck as Master of Ceremonies, Cinderella, the Seven Dwarfs, Jiminy Cricket, Pinocchio, Siamese Cats, Lady and Tramp, Alice in Wonderland who is an old friend from last year, Peter Pan, Wendy, Michael, and John, the Three Pigs, Sleeping Beauty Snow White, and many other Disneyland citizens. Their activities will be viewed in front of the majestic palace of Sleeping Beauty.

Miss McDowell, director, has already begun preliminary preparations for the pageant, but the cooperation of every member of the student body will be necessary to make this one of the best May Day celebrations yet. If you can't sing, dance or act, you will have an opportunity to help construct the scenery.

BusinessDepartment Opens Doors to FTA

Did you see the century old typewriter? Could you work an idiot machine or a mimeograph? Those of you who attended the Future Teachers of America sponsored open house in the business department could answer yes to the first question and possibly yes to the second.

Besides the century old typewriter and the idiot machine, the mimeograph, the stenotype machine, the paper folder, an electric typewriter and many other machines were on display. The guided tour through the business department ended in Bogar 205 where punch and cookies were being served.

The F. T. A. would like to thank all the students of the business department who helped make the open house a success.

PI GAMMA MU HEARS COUNTY DA

We at Susquehanna have the Pennsylvania Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu. This is the honorary Social Science Society. A "B" average and 24 hours of Social Studies are necessary to qualify. The present officers are: Pete Nunn-President; Frank Romano-Vice President and Mr. Stevens-Acting Secretary. The meetings are held the second Thursday of each month from October to May. Each meeting includes a speaker from some allied field of Social Studies or a Student Forum discussion.

Members initiated this year, in January, were:

Thiry Reamer, Susan Tharp, Lillian Troutman, Wade Hoffman, Galen Schlichter, Franklin Stugart, Edward Rhodes, William Hand, John Hendricks.

On Wednesday, February 14th, Pi Gamma Mu had a regular meeting, at which time all present heard an entertaining talk. Mr. Vernon Graybill, Esq., recently elected District Attorney of Snyder County, spoke on "Running for Public Office."

There will be an open meeting on March 14th to which everyone on campus is invited. A member of the Pennsylvania State Police will address the group at this time. On May 9, Dr. Charles Karraker, Professor of History, Bucknell University, will speak on "The Child Migrant Worker."

The main purpose of Pi Gamma Mu is to help develop an interest in Citizenship and Social Affairs.

Panhell Pledge Dance Saturday in School Gym

The Panhellenic Pledge Dance in honor of the pledges of Alpha Delta Pi, Kappa Delta, Nu Sigma Tau and Sigma Alpha Iota, will be held Saturday, February 23 from 9:00 p. m. to 12:00 p. m., with 1:00 a. m. permissions for all those who attend. The theme is being kept secret (we hope) from the pledges. The following girls are making big plans, and so don't forget to ask your favorite guy to escort you to this gala affair!

Nancy Ridinger, Maureen Ball and Carolann Zust are co-chairmen of decorations. Their committee consists of Liz Gage, Betty Lou Hubler, Gail Muller, Jan Smith, Janet Gordon, Carolyn Gillaspie, Peg Pattyson, Mary Davis, and Robin Palmer. Martha Flood heads the refreshment committee with Doris Wittes, Marion Drumheller, Joan Shetterly and Eleanor Paurron. Jeanette Cooley is in charge of publicity and boosters with Judi Anderson and Alice Ann Patterson. Lois Andrien and Janet Snyder are inviting the chaperones, and Thelma Rosetti engaged an orchestra.

LEWIS ACCLAIMED SPORTSMAN IN '56

BOB LEWIS

Monday night at halftime of the Lebanon Valley—Susquehanna University basketball game, Robert Lewis was presented the Football Sportsmanship Trophy by the Student Council of Susquehanna University. George Pospisil, president of the Council, made the presentation.

Bob was the recipient of the award as a result of the balloting by the football team. He was chosen for showing outstanding play and sportsmanship throughout the successful season. Known for his hard, clean play, Lewis has made a name for himself by playing regular quarterback his freshman and sophomore years; this year he made the successful switch to fullback.

A versatile backfield man, Bob is a fine defensive player, excellent blocker and runner, and even passes and punts when called upon. Much of his football know-how was learned at the hands of Blair Heaton, Susquehanna University alumnus and former Selinsgrove High School football coach.

At Selinsgrove High School, Lewis put his abilities to work in three sports. Captaining the football team his senior year, he also held down regular positions on the basketball and baseball teams. Bob received the Outstanding Athlete Award upon graduation.

On the University campus the modest junior is active in intramural sports and is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha. This spring Louie looks to his third year as regular catcher on the S. U. baseball team.

Girl Scout Camps Seek Employees

Both college girls and women graduate students looking for summer jobs which combine scholastic values with opportunities for outdoor living will be interested in the thousands of openings awaiting them in Girl Scout camps. Operated by nearly 650 Girl Scout councils throughout the country, these camps give 150,000 girls 7 through 17 years old a chance to live, work and play with girls of differing backgrounds, in the relaxed, informal atmosphere of the out-of-doors.

Moreover, work at a Girl Scout camp furnishes a practical background for future participation in the growing school camp program. And school systems regard it as a most desirable type of experience in candidates for all teaching jobs. It is practically a "must" for girls preparing for professional careers in Girl Scouting or in similar youth movements.

Particularly needed are counselors to live and work with girls in the wholesome partnership which marks Girl Scout adult-child relationships. Of course, previous camping experience is helpful. Among the basic requirements are good health, enthusiasm, patience, adaptability, and love of children. Candidates also must be in sympathy with the objectives and philosophy of Girl Scouting.

Salaries vary with the assignment and with the candidate's expreience, qualifications and training. Depending on the length of the camp season and the location of the camp, such incidentals as laundry and travel expenses may be included. A basic precamp training session of about five day's duration is provided for all staff members.

SAI Presents American Musicale Feb. 21; Program to Feature Various Soloists

The Susquehanna University chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota is presenting its annual American Musicale this Thursday, February 21, at 8:15 P. M. in Seibert Chapel.

This annual event is to present an opportunity for the public to hear music by modern American composers, a classification in the field of music of which many people are not aware. When you think of a concert or recital you expect to hear from such "greats" as Beethoven, Mozart, and Debussy. The general public is not aware that such modern American composers as Samuel Barber, Paul Hindemith, and Olive Duncan have written equally good, listenable music. All American music needs a chance to be heard and accepted by the people. Giving music this chance is one of the main objectives of Sigma Alpha Iota, and is done mainly by an American Musicalep resented annually by each of the 105 national chapters.

This year's program by Sigma Omega is a varied one and should prove quite interesting to the audience.

The program will open with four fraternity songs, including the "SAI Chorale", "A Song for SAI", "The Rose Song", (the Sigma Omega chapter song, written by Annie Boyer of Sunbury), and "Musical Pipes of Pan".

Mrs. Edward Turnbach, an alumna of Sigma Omega chapter will present an organ number, "Pascallia", by Garth Edmundson.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Harrington, a senior in the conservatory of music, will sing three vocal numbers. . . . "The Piper", by John Duke, "Pale Blue Slippers", by Olive Dungan, and "American Lullaby", by Gladys Rich.

BACKSTAGE CREW IS HIDDEN ASSET

The month of February is very busy for many, while the nesessary preparations are being made in order to successfully present the production of "Time Limit".

When a play is finally presented everyone is concerned about the way in which the cast portrayed their characters. This naturally is important but what about those individuals who spent many hours to produce the necessary environment, simply for your enjoyment.

At Susquehanna our appreciation and thanks go to Walt Benham, Gil Bannerman, and Doug Smith. This year they have been a great asset to all of our productions but too often these individuals are overlooked.

In "Time Limit", at one instant the set will represent an office scene and with the proper lighting effects the sets of our previous plays so This set will be quite different from the sets of our pevious plays sro the only way to understand the situation is to come and see for yourself.

When the production of "Time Limit" is presented just remember that it isn't always the cast that is responsible for a successful play but without those backstage, the play would be practically imposible.

S.U. Group Sees Slides Of Russia and Germany

The Business Society met last week in Bogar Hall. Betty Ann Ormond introduced the program for the evening because of the absence of President Peter Nunn.

The program consisted of Dr. Thomas Armstrong's slides of his trip through Russia, and alo Eat and West Germany. Sue Wahl worked the projector as Dr. Armstrong offered an interesting and thorough explanation of each slide.

VESPERS

On Sunday evening, January 17, Vespers were conducted by Theta Chi in the chapel. The liturgist was Ed Strayer and the speaker was Charlton Smith. The title of the address was "All Out Christians". The hymns, chosen along these lines, were "Holy Spirit, Truth Divine" and "Take My Life, and Let It Be". Raymond Stiller was the organist. She will be accompanied by Mary Moore.

Alice Ann Patterson, a junior in the Conservatory, will perform two flute numbers. . . . "Echo", by Paul Hindemith and "The Piping Faun", by Felix Borowski. She will be accompanied by Carolyn Gillaspie.

Mary Moore and Carolyn Gillaspie, 4-hand piano team, and juniors in the music eduction department will present "Solvenirs" from a ballet suite by Samuel Barber. The four "Souvenirs" being presented are entitled "Schottische", "Hesitation - Tango", "Pas de deux" and "Galop".

The program will close with the fraternity chorus singing "Loveliness", by Walter Hendl, "What Will Love Do", by Barnill Phillips, two "Songs of Nature", by Richard Donovan (Dawn and the Yellow Lily), and "Sweet Lovers Love the Spring", by Mel Powell.

The chorus is under the capable direction of chapter president, Linda Youhon, a senior in the conservatory, and is accompanied by Mary Moore.

Sigma Alpha Iota is a professional music fraternity for women. It was founded, nationally, in 1903 at the University School of Music, Ann Arbor, Michigan. SAI has a national membership, college and alumnae, of 25,425 women. It promotes the cause of good music in many ways, such as T. V. awards, scholarships, (including one in muic therapy), awards for music compositions through SAI's Modern Music Series, gifts in the musical field to hospitals and overseas relief, as well as the promotion of American music through each chapter's American Musicale.

This Thursday's program should provide enjoyment for a variety of musical tastes. There is no admission charge. Following the Musicale there will be a reception given by the patronesses and aluminae of Sigma Omega. This reception will be held in Seibert Social Rooms and will be open to the public.

SU Student Body Has Role of Parents

Did you know you are a foster parent? In fact, all of us here at Susquehanna University are foster parents. For again this year we are supporting Kim Tong Kum, our Korean orphan.

For the past few years various organizations on our campus have contributed towards Kim's support. But our interest in Kim should not end by merely sending him money.

Kim expresses his feelings this way in a recent letter. "I am wondering what you are doing these days. I wish strongly to meet you in person and miss you so much."

As is customary for a child, Kim attends school. "Right now we are having the mid-term examinations at school. As I sudied until late last night, I felt drowsy during the exam hour today. We shall have a wholemonth vacation this winter. During the vacation, I will spend most of my time for studying in several subjects in which I am behind at class."

But school isn't his only pastime. "The water in the river is frozen over and the ice is now strong enough to skate upon. I make it a rule to go down for skating for a while every afternoon when I get back home from school."

We can only imagine how much our support and interest can mean to a child in Korea. Kim says, "thanks to your love, I am just fine."

ALTER THE AFTERMATH!!

One of the best things to be found at a small college, and especially Susquehanna, is the informality that cannot be found at a big univesity. But nfomality can be carried too far—and here you are referred to the miserable condition of the student lounge. This place consistently looks like everyone of S. U.'s 500-odd students had been in a mass brawl and forgot to clear the wreckage.

Since the administration has been kind enough to give the students a place to relax between classes, and at night, let's do just that, instead of having the place looking like the aftermath of the Battle of Gettysburg.

The lounge is one of he first things visitors see on our campus, and so please try to keep it neat and most of all—clean! !

A PIECE OF ROPE

by Ae Rum

At last! It was the big day we had all been waiting for! We'd dreamed and planned for the event for days. Oh, to get back to school after semester! I was packed and anxiously waiting long before Stew arrived with his car.

When Stew came in the front door, he joyfully shouted, "Back to work, Abe"! (That's me, Abe Rum.) Then after a pause, "Bring a piece of rope".

No, Stew wasn't going to hang himself from the chandelier in the living room. He actually likes studying. Mrs. Dious, his mother, wanted him to be an intellectual, but even if he doesn't study, he'll always be Stew Dious.

When I got out to the car I was glad to see many of my old college mates. I was especially happy to see Zeke, who, unbelievably, is a red-headed Frenchman. We just call him Zeke for short. His real name being Ze Qualite Fraternite, he claims to have been named for Lambda Chi Alpha. And there in the back seat were two bosom friends of mine, Dee Sorority, who says she was named after Alpha Delta Pi, and Gail.

As I threw my suitcase into the car, I asked Stew why he wanted the rope. He replied, "Just wait! We still have to pick up Sue U. Niversity, and then your suitcase will be on top of the car". Well, I liked the idea of picking up Sue U. Niversity (S. U. for short,) but I didn't relish the idea of tying my suitcase on the roof. Deep in my heart, though, I felt that Fate would be on my side. And so she was.

When Sue came out of the house she congratulated me on my old carduroy hat. Then, while Stew, Zeke and I tried to pack all the luggage in the trunk, the three girls instinctively climbed into the back seat. When everything but my suitcase was in the trunk, Fate struck! As Zeke and I sat in the lid, Stew pushed it into place with a mighty heave, and . . . the handle broke! Ha, Ha! Now my rope would have to be used to tie the trunk shut, and my suitcase, along with some boxes, bags, and miscellaneous books, was thrown into the back of the car. Then we tied the rope around the trunk, bumper, and back-door handles, unwittingly (?) imprisoning the girls.

Then we pulled out headed for school. Gaily we sang our college songs: "Shall We Gather At the Snack Bar"? and "When the Roll Is Called In History I'll Be There". And others.

About half-way to school we stopped at a small restaurant for a bite to eat. 'Twas there that I discovered the real value of the rope. Since we three fellows had unintentionally tied very good nots (Boy Scout training does come in handy!), the girls had to climb over the front seat to get out. Since we guys are gentlemen, we either turned our backs or covered our eyes with our hands. I chose to cover my eyes.

But, that restaurant didn't have any place where we could make room for the food, so the fellows covered their eyes again and the girls reembarked. We traveled a few miles to another restaurant and repeated the

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Congratulations to Brothers Bob Anderson, Dave Harris, John Hendricks, Roger Holtzapple, Vern Hoover, and Mike Tobias. Praise is bestowed upon the above gentlemen for having acquired "Dean's List" mention. For that matter, congratulations to everyone equally fortunate. Don't despair, however, if you happen to be a member of the "other Dean's List". You have plenty of company.

"Intramuralwise", Lambda Chi still remains the unbeaten champion on the b.b. court. Brother Dick Cahn, of the Lambda Chi team, received sixty-five votes, "Intramural Coaches Choose Dream Team" (Susquehanna, Feb. 12) more than any other player. Pledge Frank Del Nero, representing Selinsgrove North, and Brother Jim Bortle, of the house team, also help compose the first team of the of the intramural "all-stars". Among the second team, Brothers Jim Stone (Lambda Chi team) and George Pospisil (Day Students) shared the honors. Brother Rube Forster (Day Students) was given honorable mention. Congratulations.

The brotherhood wishes to give credit to Brother Larry Romig (or his students) who has been teaching at West Snyder High School.

Well, he Crusaders had some very bad luck in the "Old South", and their luck seems not to have returned by Saturday night at Wilkes-Barre.

Events worth honorable mention: the ground breaking ceremony, and last week's Star Course.

PHI MU DELTA NEWS

Saturday afternoon Phi Mu Delta was the scene of a meeting of the board of trustees of Mu Alpha chapter. Past and current business was discussed. Those present were Charles Morris, chairman; Warren Pirie, George Small, Professor Robert Meader, Edward Pfeiffer, and Henry Geiss. We were extremely happy to entertain these members of our alumni for lunch, and hope to see them soon again.

Mu Alpha was very pleased to note the appearance of the Juilliard String Quartet in an S. U. Star Course presentation. Those who attended found themselves enjoying an evening of fine music by one of the top groups in the string quartet field.

In the varsity sports scene last week the Crusaders of Ed Pfeiffer were unfortunate to drop two hard-played decisions to Western Maryland and Wilkes College. But Frankie Romano kept up his scoring ways by dropping in 40 counters against the Wilkes-men on Saturday night. The next game will be decided by the time this sheet hits the newsstands, but we hope everyone was on hand to cheer the team.

Second-half play started for intramural contestants last week, and the Black and Ornge of Phi Mu Delta opened it with a bang by winning two games straight, and then dropping a very close decision to a "fighting" Selinsgrove North squad. The team is still aiming for the trophy, and the chances look more than good. The season's not over yet!

Several of the brothers journeyed to New York over the weekend with Alpha Psi Omega to view a number of the recent hit shows now playing on Broadway.

Last, but by no means least, congratulations and applause to the Phi Mu Delts who captured Dean's List honors this past semester. The 12 men (and note that number—12) are: Pete Nunn, Gene Witiak, Don Trimmer, Doug Smith, Dave Wise, Bob White, Clarence Lorah, Joe Osinchak, Guy Frisk, Frank Stugart, Nick Kloap, and Pledge Jim Strausser.

—S—

THETA CHI

The ground breaking for Heilman Music Hall took place last Monday. That isn't news, exactly, but the brothers were particularly happy to see the work begun. Our hope is that it will be as beautiful as its picture and completed as quickly as possible.

The brothers enjoyed mightily the Julliard String Quartet on Wednesday night. Also noted with interest was George Pospisil's column last week.

The rich resonant voice of brother Foster McCurley was heard singing on Station WKOK last Saturday night. Foster was accompanied by a fine group which included Ray Stiller (on the keys), Larry Wingard (on the double bass), Ron Anthony (clarinet), and Joe Aleknavage (drums). They appeared on Don James Show. The brothers send their salutations to all of them on a job well done.

The Crusaders ran into a little trouble at Wilkes. But we know this was a fine team effort to which we can only say "let's keep fighting". Special congratulations go to Frank Romano upon scoring an amazing 40 points! We have five more games to play, let's make them count. And then who knows—just maybe.

ALPHA DELTA PI NEWS

The concert given on Wednesday evening in the chapel by the Julliard String Quartet was excellent. This was one of the better star courses for the classical music lovers. S.U. is very fortunate to have concerts by such renowned and capable performers.

The alumnae of Gamma Omicron Chapter gave the sisters a special treat on Monday night. The evening was a complete success for both the sisters and the alumnae because of the dinner given by the alumnae at the Blue Hill Restaurant. Thank you again, alums.

Special congratulations to those sisters who have once again secured those honored spots on Dean's List. The sisters accomplishing their goal are Jeanette Cooley, Thiry Reamer, Carole Sadosuk, Noretta Sheesley and Janet Snyder. Congratulations also to Pledge Ginny Alexander.

Thespian Sisters Thiry Reamer and Noretta Sheesley have returned from their sojurn to New York City with Alpha Psi Omega, praising the current Broadway shows which they attended. Sister Noretta is to be congraulated for beign chosen for the role of Mrs. Mary Cargill in Mr. Axel Kleinsorg's next production, "Time Limit".

The pledges are busy attending their meeting and deciding on a pledge project. This year with a pledge class of only six we have a unique situation. Pledge Ginny Alexander is president, Jan Zortman is secretary, Stephanie Haase is treasurer and Bonnie Gilfillan, Isabel Carrol and Nancy Bricker are vice-presidents. Congratulations on your offices, pledges.

One more thing, the last few games on this year's basketball schedule are coming this month. Let's get out and support the team and get our last look at Frank Romano wearing S. U. colors.

NU SIGMA TAU NEWS

Now that Cupid has pierced the hearts of all young lovers for another year, let's all really dig in and study like we never thought was possible. Remember, there's another Dean's List coming up at the end of the year. Maybe. . . . if we study hard enough. . . .

Congratulations are in order for Sisters Mildred Barabas, Edith Parr, Nancy Phillips and Francis Wirt for making the semester Dean's List. All of you are to be commended for your fine work. Keep it up.

A perfect ending to a wonderful Valentine's Day was the serenading by Theta Chi on Thursday night. This, along with the falling snow put all us girls in real dreamy moods for the rest of the night.

At our last meeting, Nu Sigma Tau elected the following officers for the coming year: president, Lynn Hassinger; vice-president, Lois Kohl; recording secretary, Carol Royer; corresponding secretary, Lorraine Kelly; treasurer, Edith Parr; sergeant-at-arms, Marilyn Faiss; chaplain, Millie Barabas; and Panhellenic representative, Fran Wirt. Also at this meeting the members were formally initiated into Nu Sigma Tau Sorority. This occasion was signified by the wearing of daffodils by all the Sisters.

Those of you who didn't go to the Open House of the Business Department on Thursday really missed seeing some worthwhile things. There were many interesting displays concerning practically all the different phases of business work.

As the end of this week draws to a close, all the Nu Sigma Taus will be anxiously awaiting the big pledge formal on Saturday night. We know it will be a huge success.

process. For some minutes interested faces could be seen peering from the restaurant windows. One man, with his back to the window, used a mirror to look rearward! The manager later announced that it was the first time in seven years that not a bite had been eaten for one full minute at the lunch hour.

At last we were back in school! But there was still a twang of remorse in our hearts.

Green and Gold Top Intramural Picture

Lambda Chi Alpha quickly knocked-off three "would be" contenders to the intramural basketball crown, and thus held their iron grip on first place. Selinsgrove North, South and the Day Students proved no match for the smooth working Bunders.

There were some upsets that will shake up the standings a bit. The Day Students pulled the first surprise as hey won their first game of the season. The "Old Men" defeated Selinsgrove North in the last two seconds of play. Then the quintet from the North side of Selinsgrove turned the tables on Phi Mu Delta to hand the Orange and Black their first loss of the second half.

The last upset involved second place Theta Chi and up and down G. A. Hall. The dorm five eked out a close victory, and by doing so they made Lambda Chi the only team without a loss in the second half of league action.

The Big Red get their last chance to stop the Bunders tomorrow night. Phi Mu Delta will try their luck on Monday night.

Here are the standings of the second half with Amos Alonzo Stagg trophy points as of February 15.

FRANK ROMANO

Romano Buckets 40; Alters S.U. History

Frank Romano, the greatest basketball player in Susquehanna history, broke the single game record when he scored 40 points against Wilkes College.

The Crusaders lost the game by the score of 95-72. The game was decided from the free throw line. Wilkes connected on 37 of 43 foul shots. The Maroon hit on only 22 of 33.

SU Yankees Falter On Mason-Dixon Line

A 51 point second half comeback powered the Green Terriors of Western Maryland to an 89-75 victory over the Crusaders of Susquehanna University at Westminister, Maryland last Tuesday night.

The Crusaders stayed in contention throughout the first half and through most of the second half. In the final four minutes of the game The Green Terriors caught fire and with Norm Stewart finding the range poured in a barrage of baskets which was too much for the Pfeiffer-coached quintet to cope with.

Frank Romano, the Crusader's prolific scorer, led the Susquehanna attack with 21 points, followed closely by the 18 markers of Dwight Huseman and the 14 tallies of Dick Purnell and Gerry Herbster.

Stewart led all scorers for the evening pouring 30 points through the hoops.

Crusaderettes Drop Selinsgrove Sextet

Saturday, February 23, will be a busy day for some twenty-five girls from S. U. On that day our girls will travel to Lycoming College in Williamsport where they will participate with girls from several other colleges in a "Sport's Day". Competition will be keen in the various sports, which will include basketball, volleyball, bowling, ping pong, and swimming.

This past Wednesday night a group of girls from S. U. played the girls' varsity basketball team from Selinsgrove High School. Our girls won by a score of 35 to 30. Those participating were: Carole Sadosuk, Joan Shetterly, Jan Smith, Bobby Hewitt, Nancy Altland, Bev Hofecker, Sandy Meyer, Anne Reynolds, Gladys Ransom, and Carole Duncan. The girls played an excellent game and we would like to congratulate them.

Eleven games of intramural basketball were played this week. These are the results: team 8 over team 1, 12 to 8; team 7 over team 2, 13 to 11; team 5 over team 2, 26 to 9; team 6 over team 3, 18 to 4; team 5 over team 4, 24 to 6; team 12 over team 6, 16 to 9; team 7 over team 13, 25 to 20; team 8 over team 12, 14 to 8; team 13 over team 9, 26 to 6; team 12 over team 10 by forfeit; and team 11 over team 9 by forfeit.

By GEORGE POSPISIL

Congratulations are in order for Bob Lewis on winning the Men's Student Council Sportsmanship Trophy for Football and to Frankie Romano for cracking 40 points for the first time in an intercollegiate game. Frank's performance also goes into the Susquehanna record books as the single game high.

Let's back the Crusaders Thursday night at at E-town. Sit near the S. U. bench and as we say in the Boy Scouts, "Be Prepared".

Here are the varsity averages as of the Wilkes game. Team offense 72.8, team defense 72.9.

A man's thinking about his future. Perhaps he's thinking about military service or marriage or a business career—they're all pretty important.

Maybe this man is you. If so, you'll want to know about the careers available at Connecticut General.

Why? Because we're growing at an exceptional rate. In ten years the combined assets of all life insurance companies have doubled. Ours have tripled.

You might well ask what can our growth mean to you. It means young men with executive potential can rise rapidly. You might reason correctly that you can grow faster with us.

See your Placement Director for further information about a career with Connecticut General. When you do, make a date to discuss your future with our representative. He'll be on campus soon. Connecticut General Life Insurance Company, Hartford.

P. S. Job offers are made to qualified college men regardless of their military status.

Time Out for "Time Limit"

HONOR PLEDGES AT ANNUAL DANCE

On a dance floor encircled with gaily-colored lanterns and topped with a ceiling of blue streamers, the sororities of Susquehanna University held their annual Pledge Dance. "Tea House of the August Moon" was the decorative theme for the Saturday night formal dance. In the center of the floor a fish pond was created, and at one end of the floor a small tea table was set up—Japanese, of course.

With gaiety prevailing over the occasion, the sisters of Alpha Delta Pi, Kappa Delta, and Sigma Alpha Iota honored their pledges. Each pledge and her escort walked through the double line of active members toward her sorority president to receive her pledge paddle and flower. Nancy Forrest, president of Panhellenic Council, introduced the president of Alpha Delta Pi, Nancy Ridinger; of Kappa Delta, Betty Ann Ormond; and of the new sorority on S. U.'s campus, Lynn Hassinger, and presented Lynn with a President's gavel.

After the ceremonies the girls and their escorts continued dancing to the music of Victor Martiello. It was a night each pledge will long remember as one of the most prominent events in her sorority life.

National Magazine Honors Susquehanna

The center page spread of the February issue of the Lutheran Brotherhoon Bond featured Susquehanna University. This magazine is widely distributed in the United States and Canada. The article consisted of nine pictures showing some of the buildings on campus, the new music building, and informal pictures of campus life. A brief history of the university is given, and the plans for the centennial were also mentioned.

During the past week, two groups of high school students were on campus to look over the school. On Saturday, February 23, thirty students from Dalmatia and on Monday, February 25, thirty students from Towanda visited the campus with their advisors.

MUSIC NOTES

Tomorrow, February 27, the Chapel Choir will leave for a two-day visit to Easton, Pennsylvania, where they will present concerts in the St. John's Lutheran Church and in the local high school. Included in the program will be several two-choir numbers sung by the regular choir and the Motet Singers; the motet group will also perform several numbers. Soloists for the sacred concert will be Mary Ellen Harrington and Gloria Myers, sopranos, and Nancy Kendall, violinist. The choir is under the direction of Mr. Lavan Robinson and the organist is Robert Willauer.

The Susquehanna Concert Band will present a program of band music to the students of Lewisburg High School, Friday, March 1. This is the first of several concerts the band will give to various communities prior to the concert here on campus March 15. Dr. John Leach is director of the organization.

This Saturday, March 2 at 8 P. M., the United States Army Band will be at the Selinsgrove High School under the auspices of the Selinsgrove Rotary Club. This well known group fram Washington D. C., made up of 120 band members and a 30 voice choir is under the direction of Maj. Chester E. Whiting. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Everyone in the conservatory is happy to see the progress on the new music building, Heilman Music Hall. If anyone has a free minute during the day, drop over to the site and give the workers moral support.

WSC to Purchase Sewing Machine

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Student Council was held Tuesday, February 19, 1957, in the Women Day Students Room. At this meeting the group decided to purchase a sewing machine for the use of the women on the campus. This machine will be placed in the basement of Seibert Hall. A lamp was also purchased to be placed in the room with the machine.

A special project for fund-raising was discussed. This will be announced at a later date. So—watch the bulletin boards and the newspapers for the big news.

Contemporary Music In Annual Musicale

Last Thursday evening, February 21, Sigma Alpha Iota presented their annual American Musicale in Seibert Chapel. The entire program consisted of musical numbers by American composers. It was quite a varied program and was well-received by a very attentive audience.

The Sigma Alpha Iota chorus was under the very capable direction of Miss Linda Youhon, Chapter president, and accompanied by Miss Mary Moore.

The program opened with the chorus singing four farternity songs, the "SAI Chorale", "A Song for SAI", "The Rose Song", and "Musical Pipes of Pan." Following these were several solo and duo numbers. Mrs. Edward Turnbach, an alumna of Sigma Omega Chapter, presented an organ selection, "Pascallia" by Garth Edmundson. Mary Ellen Harrington sang "The Piper," by John Duke, "Pale Blue Slippers," by Olive Dungan, and "American Lullaby," by Gladys Rich. Alice Ann Patterson played two flute numbers, "Echo," by Paul Hindemuth and "The Piping Faun," by Felix Borowski.

Mary Moore and Carolyn Gillaspie, 4-hand piano duo, played four sections of "Souvenirs" from a ballet suite by Samuel Barber.

The program closed with the chorus singing several contemporary works, "Loneliness", "What Will Love Do?", two "Songs of Nature" (Dawn and The Yellow Lily), and "Sweet Lovers Love the Spring".

Following the program, the chorus and guests enjoyed a reception in Seibert Social rooms, given by the patronesses and alumnae of Sigma Alpha Iota in honor of the Susquehanna Chapter.

S. C. A. News

Plans are being made for a very enjoyable evening on March 5. The event is the Fastnacht Social and the place is Seibert Social rooms. Be sure to leave that date open, March 5, and we'll see your shining face come next Tuesday night.

The ten peole who have decided that they would like to go to the Buck Hill Falls Conference on March 1, 2, and 3 are June Nonnemacher, Sara Lee McCahan, Nancy Zimmerman, Carol Daily, Nancy Bumbarger, Mary Moore, Doris Keener, Carlton Smith, Ed Strayer and Al Roshon.

The next cabinet meeting will be held March 12.

Campus Club Observes Washington's Birthday

The Campus Club of Susquehanna held their monthly meeting last Wednesday in the Seibert social rooms. The motif of the afternoon affair was George Washington's birthday.

Mrs. Anna Humphreys poured while Mrs. Daniel McCuish and Mrs. Bernard Krapf received.

The committee for the well-attended meeting was composed of Mrs. Margaret Miller, Mrs. Percy Linebaugh, Miss Joanne Heinly, and Mrs. Ernestine Connor.

RECORD PLAYER NOW IN LIBRARY

The university library now has a new recording system. It can be used as an educational aid or just for the listening pleasure of the students and faculty.

Beginning on Monday, February 25, the following hours have been set aside for use of the machine: 3:10-5:00 on Mondays and 3:15-5:00 on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

The recordings are listed in the card catalogue—the last drawer on the bottom row. If you want to listen to a particular piece, just select the record number after looking through the file, and ask for it at the desk.

The machine is located in the class room downstairs. Everyone is welcome to relax and listen to his favorite selections. There are only 25 recordings at the persent time, but more will be added from time to time. There are selections in the fields of jazz, classical, and popular music as well as recordings of poems and plays.

The idea of having a system such as this is a relatively new one. It is for the listening enjoyment of every student. Miss Kolpin welcomes any suggestions that you might have towards making the collection as complete as possible. Let's all cooperate and make this new project worhwhile and successful.

Dance to the Nu-Tones At T. K.'s "Moonglow"

Girls, here's your chance for a date with that certain guy! It's the Tau Kappa dance to be held on March 9, and you ask him.

The theme of the dance is "Moonglow," and the music will be by the Nu-Tones.

The dance is open to everyone, and at the very reasonable rate of 75c per couple.

So girls, ask that guy, don a party dress, and we'll see you in the gym on March 9.

BOOK NOOK

Why are you going to the library Thursday evening? "To do a report," most students answer. Why don't you take a few minutes out and look over the new books which have been received recently.

Samson Raphaelson, author of The Human Nature of Playwriting, has has a varied career as a playwrite, author, and scenarist and as a professor at the University of Illinois. His book is written in dialogue—the spoken words of thirty American college students and their teacher. The author, through the lives of his students, gives concrete examples of how to express the feelings that are in us; he shows us dynamically what character is and how to make it grow.

A man with the heart of a Mohawk, yet with the spirit of a Christian missionary—Joseph Brant: Mohawk by Harvey Chalmers reveals a struggle for inward unity. Educated by the White Man in a school which was later molded into Dartmouth College, Joseph Brant knew the merits of the Indians and the dynamism of the white civilization. He strove to help the White Man understand the Indian.

Growing into Reading by Marion Monroe relates how readiness for reading develops at home and at school. A case of a college student, who was overly careful and very intelligent, but who was a slow reader, is discussed. Analysis of the student's problem revealed that his difficulty went back to early training in reading.

Browse through the new books. You're sure to find some you like.

VESPERS

On Sunday evening, February 24, vespers were conducted by Kappa Delta in Seibert Chapel. The liturgist was Lois Andren and the speaker was June Nonnemacher. The title of her address was "Friendship". The hymns were "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" and "Abide With Me". The scripture reading was from St. John 15, verses 12-17. Mary Davis was the organist.

Trimmer Stars in Role of Major; Actors Present Korean War Drama

From February 28, to March 2, inclusive, the Susquehanna Players under the capable direction of Mr. Axel Kleinsorg, will present one of Broadway's most outsanding plays, "Time Limit". The cast, headed by a number of "veteran actors", also boasts a large number of newcomers to the Susquehanna stage as well as a number of freshmen.

"Time Limit!" is the story of an American major who is about to be officially charged with treason. It is a matter of record that he went over to the enemy, made propaganda broadcasts for them and complied with all their requirements. He admits that he is guilty and offers no defense.

But "Time Limit!" is also the story of a zealous judge advocate of a homeside Army post who is not satisfied with the plea or the evidence. He insists on finding the motive. Since "Time Limit!" is in many respects a mystery melodrama, it is not fair to report the story in detail. But before the final curtain comes down on a shattering scene, it is plain that the defendant's motive is creditable if not magnammimous. After seeing the play, you are sure to agree.

DON TRIMMER

The all important role of Major Cargill is in the capable hands of Don Trimmer, a junior who is majoring in English and Latin. Don is a resident of the proud city of York, Pa., and has made several appearances with the Susquehanna Players. "The Late George Apley" and Hamlet are among Don's most recent accomplishments.

No trail is complete without a competent lawyer, and this is exactly what is found when John Hendricks appears in Cargill's defense as Col. Edwards. John is a Business Administration student from Sunbury, Pa., and will graduate in June of this year. John was previously seen in "The Heiress" and "The Caine Mutiny".

John Biber, a junior Business Administration student from Johnstown, Pa., appears as Lieutenant Miller. John has been active in the Susquehanna Players for some time and also appeared in Hamlet and "The Caine Mutiny".

Donald "Doc" Boyer, is certainly no new face to Susquehanna audiences. Although only a sophomore, Doc has appeared in three of Susquehanna's outstanding plays, namely, "The Late George Apley", Hamlet, and "The Heiress". "Doc" is majoring in psychology and comes to S. U. from

JOHN HENDRICKS

Point Pleasant, New Jersey.

Jack Anthony, plays the role of Sergeant Baker. Jack is a Business Education student from East Stroudsburg, Pa., and previously appeared in "Time Out for Ginger".

Jim Middleswarth, a freshman from Laurelton, Pa., is making his first appearance with the Susquehanna Players as a prisoner of war. Jim is a Business Administration student.

Nelson Bailey, Selinsgrove, Pa., plays the fatal role of Captain Joseph Connors, Jr. Nelson also appeared in "The Late George Apley". Nelson is a Liberal Arts student majoring in science.

Tony Grigalunas, a Liberal Arts student from New Philadelphia, Pa., plays the role of a prisoner of war. Tony is making his first appearance on the Susquehanna stage.

Bob Kenyon, a sophomore from Genesse, Pa., will be seen as the sentry at Camp Geegee. Bob is a Business Administration student at S. U. and previously appeared in "Time Out For Ginger", and Hamlet.

JOHN BIBER

Jim White, a junior from Ashland, Pa., will make his first appearance with the Players as a prisoner of war. Jim is a Liberal Arts student majoring in history.

WORLD FREEDOM; AMERICA'S TRUST

I have just finished reading a story by the world-famous author James Michener, "The Bridge at Andau." In it Mr. Michener told of a small bridge that linked a land of oppression with a land of freedom. It was the story of the escape route for Hungarians who were fleeing from Red tyranny.

But the story did not only concern the formerly insignificant little bridge; it also told of many of the episodes in Hungary's fight for freedom. It told of the young intellectuals who rebelled against the Marxist philosophies of their Soviet overlords; it told of the workers who forsook their machines to strike a blow for freedom in a land where freedom had long since been gone; it told of young Hungarian soldiers who rose up against the dictators they had pledged to help; but, most of all, it told of a people who still had the fires of a free

Death in White

He stumbled along. All about him stretched the blinding white snow. He didn't know where he was going, but he knew that he must keep moving if he were to stay alive.

The sun on the snow transformed it into a shiny silverwhite mirror which intensified the light and struck the eyes a deadening blow. Here and there could be seen footprints of others who had passed.

He had fallen behind, and he knew that he could never overtake the main force. As he raised his weary head and surveyed the icy landscape with squinting eyes, he spotted a clump of trees far in the distance.

"To the trees and then rest," he muttered through blue lips as he proceeded to trudge in their direction.

The trees grew nearer and nearer. Soon he could distinguish them quite clearly. Like an oasis in the snow they stood bluck and beckoning against the chilling blue sky. The ground beneath them was covered by a thinner layer of snow, and at several spots rocks

Can You Follow Directions?

It is said that cleanliness is next to Godliness. If this statement is true, the students on the Susquehanna University campus don't have much of a chance. Specific reference can be made to the problem of washing clothes. There is one washing machine in Hassinger Hall for approximately ninety girls and the remainder of the student body have access to the two washers in the laundry. On some days even if a student gets up before breakfast to do his washing, he finds that the machines are in use already. From 6:30 a. m. until 5:00 p. m. they are being used constantly and there is invariably a waiting line.

Who is to blame for this situation? Of course the administration may be accused on the basis that three washing machines seem hardly adequate for over five hundred students. On the other hand, the students must share in the blame. Their negligence in the care and use of the machines is so great that it is not uncommon to see an "out of order" sign on one of them. Surely college men and women can learn to turn the dial in the direction of the arrows. Or is that asking too much of you?

Perhaps there is some method whereby we can learn to make three washers sufficient. Last year an attempt was made to provide a schedule for the use of the machines. Unfortunately, the system was a failure because of the lack of cooperation of the student body.

Although all attempts of organization have met with failure, some improvement of the situation might be effected if the following suggestions are taken to heart.

1. Follow the directions given for the machines.
2. Try to be at the laundry to take your clothes out of the washer when the cycle is completed.
3. Don't leave your clothes in the laundry after they have been washed and dried. Such an action merely prolongs the "agony" of washing and delays others in their use of the laundry facilities.

Don't Say It . . . You Might be Sorry

Have you ever had the experience of having words backfire on you, particularly when you say something which you believe is entirely true in your case, at the time, but it somehow just seems to boomerang right back at you, the complete opposite of your quote?

Anyhow, that usually happens to me about 99 and 44/100 per cent of the time. For instance, here are some of the things I wish I'd never said, or heard. Maybe you've said them too.

"English Lit.? Snap course!"

"I don't want to brag or anything but I really "bombed" that test."

"You'll never catch me in the snack bar wasting my time."

"I've never been called into the Dean's office."

"They won't get me in the fishpond!"

"Don't bother to study; the test was a snap."

"He'll never give us a quiz in Ed. Psych. today."

jutted forth as though to welcome the stranger.

His pace quickened, and the trees grew larger and larger until at last he collapsed at the foot of the nearest one.

The sun set with the reluctance of a prima donna departing from an appreciative audience, and the snow came from the black night smothering the oasis of trees in the cold white desert.

The sun rose with a fanfare of color to begin the day with an overture of splendor. Silence prevailed upon the snowy world, and except for an occasional flurry of white, stillness had conquered the wintry vista.

All was white. No longer were the trees black against the sky; no longer did the tracks of man mar Nature's perfect picture. All was peaceful perfection.

Beneath a tree lay a body covered by a blanket of Nature's own design. There it lay, stiff and silent: the world quietly dying at the foot of Nature's throne.

Ray Yeingst, a sophomore Business Administartion student from Harrisburg, Pa., is also a newcomer to the Susquehanna Stage. Ray will play the role of Colonel Kim, comamndant of Camp Geegee.

Dick Neff, a sophomore Business Administartion student from Maplewood, New Jersey, is also making his first appearance with the Players. Dick will play the role of Lieutenant Livingston.

Ron Roseberg, a Business Administration student from Claymont, Delaware, will appear as a prisoner of war. Ron is a sophomore and also appeared in Shakespeare's Hamlet.

Another newcomer to the S. U. Stage is Harry Haney, a history major from Mifflinburg, Penna. Harry is a sophomore here at Susquehanna.

Tony Pupo, another of the many prisoners of war is a freshman Business Administration student from Mt. Carmel, Penna. This is Tony's first play at Susquehanna.

Judging from the fine cast, "Time Limit!" should be another howling success for Mr. Kleinsorg. Don't miss it! you'll be sorry if you do.

Marty McNitt, plays the role of Corporal Evans. Marty is a senior and claims Reedsville as her home. She is enrolled in the secretarial course here at Susquehanna, and this is her first appearance on the Susquehanna stage.

Noretta Sheesley, a sophomore from Selinsgrove, Pa., portrays the defendant's wife, Mrs. Mary Cargill. Noretta is a history and science major and was seen previously in such plays as: "So Wonderful in White" and "The Heiress".

Jest for Fun

Two young collegians were parked along a country lane. The moon was shining beautifully.

She—"You remind me of Don Juan."

He—"What do you know about him? He's dead."

She—"Yeah, I know!"

"What are you studying in college now?" asked the fond mother of her son, who was a freshman.

"We have just taken up molecules."

"That's fine. I hope you will like them. I always tried to get your father to wear one, but he could not keep it in his eye."

It was an attractive coed's first big fraternity dance, and she and her mother were anxiously awaiting her escort. "Are you sure that he's a safe driver?" the mother asked anxiously.

"Oh yes, Mother," the girl assured her. "He has to be. He has only one more arrest before he loses his license."

—S—

"I had the girls running in circles when I was in college!

"I never knew you were such a shiek."

"I wasn't. I was women's track coach."

FRATERNITY ROW

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

The tones of bulldozers and steamshovels have invaded the Susquehanna silence; it is a welcome noise. Incidentally, if anyone is looking for a diversion to occupy his study hours, the bulldozer operation can be quite entertaining—but enough for that.

The brothers wish to extend formal congratulations to Brother Bob Lewis for having won the sportsman trophy.

Well the chain of basketball losses was finally snapped at Haverford, Saturday night. Earlier in the week Lebanon Valley, in a closing-minute rally, slapped defeat onto the S. U. squad. Thursday night at E-town, the Blue Jays shook the Crusaders' foundations. The less said about the latter game, the better.

The sorority pledge dance, Saturday night, was certainly enjoyed by all who attended. The sororities are to be congratulated for their efforts. Also, the pledges of the sororities deserve special congratulations—so congratulations!

It has been said that "no news is good news", and so the remainder of this column (if not the whole column) shall be dedicated to "good news".

—S—

PHI MU DELTA NEWS

Susquehanna's fraternities were relegated to a poor second this week in favor of the four sororities—Alpha Delta Pi, Kappa Delta, Sigma Alpha Iota, and our new sorority, Nu Sigma Tau. The girls occupied the limelight on Saturday night, and really "had a ball" at the annual Pledge Dance. "The Teahouse of the August Moon" set the motiff for the affair and, although it wasn't August, everyone present wishes to thank the girls for a tremendous evening. Music, decoration,—everything was great!

Mu Alpha chapter was happy to welcome Alumni President Warren Pirie back again for one of his frequent visits. But something new has been added this time; Warren is the proud father of a "spanking-new" baby girl. Congratulations, Warren, and may you have many more bundles of joy!

The Black and Orange of Phi Mu Delta were idle last week in the intramural sports scene, but will get back in full swing this week with two games on the agenda. The team is aiming to capture the remaining contests and get a crack for the championship plum. The brothers wish them the best of luck as they go into the final stretch.

Events to plan for: Coming up on March 1 and 2 is the Susquehanna Players' production of the Broadway hit, "Time Limit." The play is directed by Mr. Axel Kleinsorg. After the Saturday night presentation, Phi Mu Delta will hold an open house for the brothers, members of the cast, and their guests.

Congratulations to Coach Ed Pfeiffer's Crusaders for snapping their losing streak at Haverford on Saturday. Now let's back the team in the remaining contests, and keep them winning! !

Woody Cox

One of New Jersey's more colorful contributions to Susquehanna University appears in the person of Elwood "Woody" Cox. The Woo-Man attended high school in Hillside where he was active in Hi-Y for which he served as a state representative, baseball, intramural sports, and served as secretary of his class for two years. While attending Susquehanna Woody has been active in S.C.A., Lanthorn staff, Susquehanna staff and Business Society.

He appears destined for success, which is clearly indicated by his rapid rise from a Chevy to a Cadillac convertible in less than a year.

While a member of Lambda Chi Alpha he served as steward, assistant treasurer, secretary and installation chairman. Woody has also upheld the Bunder tradition by participating in all intramural sports.

Woody is a senior in the Business Administration course. At the present he is working out his plans for the future as a business manager of some fortunate company.

Entertainment?

Abe Rum

One of the great advantages of living in a college dorm is the constant entertainment. Now, this amusement costs nothing and lasts twenty-four hours a day, eight days a week (See Mr. Lotz for further comment on this last point.) And furthermore, in order not to jar your nerves too much, the show includes much variety.

At six o'clock the show gloriously begins with an intellectual discussion in "The Wash Room" (a combination lounge, auditorium, and game room for the sole use of the students) on "Why Fish Die in Hot Water, But Not in Cold." The tile walls of the room perform the important function of amplifying the performance, so that all may hear. Joyfully we rise to join the argument (a purely detached term, you understand!) Aroused in much an invigorating manner, we march stalwartly into the coming day.

When our school work becomes boring (Yes, it really does sometimes.), and even before, we are invigorated by the lilting strains of assorted radios, tape recorders, and record players ,each trying to produce the most decibels.

Once in a while a tube blows or the electricity fails. But even then we are not disappointed, for our own home talents performs free of charge. I wonder if this isn't subsidized out of our thirty-dollar activities fee! This talent includes crooners and whistlers, both guests of "The Wash Room" and free lancers.

Oh, yes, then there's the popular student who always has to announce his presence in the dorm. Since doors are common objects, he likes to slam them. Or, if it's about 2:00 a. m., when door slamming isn't sufficient, he oblifies us by stampeding up and down the hall and bellowing "Quiet hours."

But finally, all good things must come to an end. Our self-sacrificing entertainers, worn out by their patriotic labors, fall asleep, filling the dorm with a strange, terrifying, hair-raising and ear-splitting silence.

Sorority News

KAPPA DELTA NEWS

Has anyone noticed the hustle and bustle of all the sorority sisters this week as they scurried around the campus in preparation for a large weekend? Wednesday evening the sisters took the night off and were honored by the presence of their pledges for a delicious banquet at the Pine Barn Inn.

To those who made the Pledge Dance possible and to those who spent hours decorating with earnest zeal, Kappa Delta extends a warm thanks and congratulations for a wonderful and successful night of enjoyment. Special congratulations for the superb performance on the part of our all American S. U. scaly hero who took the whole "show" humbly and calmly upon his graceful orange fins.

Those girls of Kappa Delta who have strained their brain cells and have made the "right" Dean's list are highly envied. They are Bev Anderson, Lois Andren, Maureen Ball, Mary Alice Crawford, Mary Lou Ernst, and June Nonnemacher.

SAI did an excellent job in bringing to us their American Musicale. Certainly our college would be "flat" without their congratulations to our happiness.

Congratulations to the Crusaders on their success on the hardboards for bringing home a win.

—S—

NU SIGMA TAU NEWS

The sisters of Nu Sigma Tau who attended the pledge dance Saturday night, wish to thank ADPi, KD and SAI for giving us such a wonderful time. A highlight of the evening was the presentation of the official gavel to our president. The decorations were just beautiful and we are sure everyone had as good a time as we did.

Sister Lynn Hassinger is to be congratulated for having her script entitled "Disneyland" chosen for the theme of May Day. Although this day is still quite a long way off, be sure to keep it in mind.

The American Musicale given by SAI on Thursday night was extremely good. We hope we will be hearing more of your music in the future.

There are three things of great importance that are coming up this week. Tuesday night is the annual Fastnacht Social sponsored by the SCA. Wednesday night is our last home basketball game of this season, against Wilkes college. Then on Taursday, Friday and Saturday nights is the play "Time Limit". We hope to see everybody out for all these events.

—S—

SAI

Many thanks to all those who helped in any way to make our American Musicale an enjoyable program. All those attending, found the soloists and chorus presentations varied and interesting.

Last night the sisters gave their annual party for the conservatory faculty. Thank you to all the sisters, and especially to the various committees who planned this entertaining evening.

The pledges and actives of Sigma Omega spent a delightful evening last Saturday in the "Teahouse of the August Moon." All those who worked so hard on the various committees for the annual pledge dance are to be congratulated. Congratulations again to the pledges who received their pledge paddles and roses on this occasion.

The sisters extend best wishes to the new sisters of Nu Sigma Tau, our new sorority, which received its gavel from Pan-Hel at the pledge dance.

Good luck to Mr. Lavan Robinson and the chapel choir, as they travel to Easton tomorrow to present two programs.

Congratulations to our basketball team on again hitting in the winning column at Haverford.

SCROUNGING FOOD

I have noticed with satisfaction that several of you have been following my advice with good results. I am surprised to see that there are even a few of you who now are able to cast a shadow providing there is a strong light. Gratified with these results I now present Part 2 of my epistle, "Scrounging Foot in the Dormitory."

There are two types of people in a college dormitory; those who have food and those who don't. The latter group is much larger, for if you have food you don't have it long. My advice is directed toward this group.

There are various methods for finding out which people have food. If you are in a girls' dorm you can check the sign-out desk to see which people have gone home for the weekend. Careful questioning will determine whether they are coming back by bus or by car. It is much more likely that people bring food back in a car, for there is too much difficulty involved in bus travel. It is much harder to find out who buys food downtown; this can be determined only by seeing people in a grocery store or by observing large paper bags being carried into the dorm.

Parents can be depended upon to bring food with them when they visit their offspring. After Parents' Day especially there is an abundance of food in practically every room. In every room, that is, but yours.

After locating food, the next step is to chisel it out of its owner. Languishing from starvation in front of the door to his room will occasionally bring some sort of sustainance from him, either out of pity or to get rid of you. Discussing the abundance of rats, mice and ants might induce the food hoarder to try to get rid of his food before it is ruined by these pests (both human and non-human). Another method that occasionally works is to stand in the hall, yell, "Does anybody want some food?", duck out of the way of the stampede and then rummage in an empty room to your heart's content.

If there are any more questions about these techniques, I suggest you call the Dep't of Health. As for me, I'm going on a no-calorie diet.

HERBSTER POURS IN 27 POINTS FOR CRUSADER WIN OVER FORDS

Jerry Herbster, playing the finest game of his career, took matters into his own hands and poured in 27 points to lead the Crusaders to a hard-earned 78-76 victory over Haverford College.

With less then a minute remaining in the game, Bob Probert hit with a jump shot that broke a 76-76 deadlock.

It was the first win over Haverford in four years of competition in football and basketball. The last time S. U. was victorious over the Fords was in 1952 when the gridders under Coach Stagg did the trick.

Frank Romano, who has been averaging 28 points a game, was covered like a blanket throughout the contest. That was what paved the way for Herbster to put on a shooting show in which he hit 13 times from the field.

The next game is tomorrow night when Wilkes makes the trip to Selinsgrove. The Orange & Maroon will be out to avenge a previous drubbing administered by the Colonels. It will be the last chance to see the cagers in action, at home, and Frank Romano's final game on the Susquehanna hardwoods.

S.U. Downs Bucknell In Sports Day Event

Twenty-five girls from S.U. journeyed to Williamsport on Saturday, February 23, to compete in a Sports Day at Lycoming College. Vying against Lycoming, Bucknell and Mansfield State Teachers' College, the S.U. cagerettes tied for first place with Lycoming in the basketball event. The bowlers placed second. The girls were third in volleyball and last in ping pong and swimming.

Basketball with Bucknell saw S.U. coming out on top with a score of 12 to 9. The second game, which was against Mansfield, went into overtime, with the score 21-21. It was tied in the overtime, 23-23, and went into the books as played, S.U.'s own Jan Smith was high scorer of all the girls from the four colleges. She displayed some fancy footwork and terrific sinkers.

Down the alleys rolled the heavy bowling balls to bring S.U. a second position with a total score of 1172 against Lycoming's 1187.

The swimming events included a candle race, backstroke relay, underwater tag, and a breast stroke relay. S.U.'s girls were at a disadvantage because of their inability to practice.

Participating were: basketball and volleyball, Nancy Altland, Nancy Bricker, Carol Duncan, Terry Feliciano Bobbie Hewitt Beverly Hofecker, Sandy Meyers, Posey Nelson, Gladys Ransom, Sandy Risser, Carole Sadosuk Joan Shetterly, and Jan Smith; bowling, Carolyn Birkheimer, Jill Fuller, Thelma Rosetti; swimming, Bert Hays, Jan Hiddeman, Lois Kohl, Betty Ann Ormond, Betsy Walker, and Fran Wirt: ping pong, Carol Daily, Kate Henry, and Betty Lou Hubler.

Six games of intramural basketball were played this week. Team 2 won over team 3, 15-12; team 4 over 3, 4-0; team 5 over 13, 21-14; team 7 over 11, 22-12; team 8 over 10, 44-8; and team 1 over 6 by forfeit.

—S—

INTRAMURALS

There was little action on the intramural front except for the news that Theta Chi had dropped from the league. Lambda Chi Alpha still maintains their firm grip on first place by way of a forfeit victory over Theta Chi.

Selinsgrove North made it two in a row over Selinsgrove South as Frank Del Nero poured in an amazing total of 53 points. This could be an intramural record; it is the high of the season. A red hot G. A. Hall team stopped an improved Day Student five in the only other action.

The intramural All-Star-J. V. game was called off. Could it be the J. V.'s are a bit reluctant to engage the All-Stars? The All-Stars have accepted a challenge made by Lambda Chi Alpha to play a post-season game. The date has not yet been set.

Romano Scores 32 Against Dutchmen

The "Flying Dutchmen" from Lebanon Valley College caught fire in the closing minutes of the game last Monday evening here in the Alumni gym, and toppled the Susquehanna Crusaders 75-65.

Coach Rinso Marquette's quintet held a slim 3 point lead, 60-57, with three minutes remaining, and the highly partisan Crusader rooters were hoping for the best, when Pete McAvoy, who had only one field goal up to this time, dumped three jump shots in succession from about twelve feet, out to virtually sew up the decision for the "Dutchmen".

Everyone in attendance agreed that the scoring duel that developed between Frank Romano and L. V.'s Dick Shover was something not often seen on the basketball floor; Frank, hitting from all angles with hooks, set-shots, and drive-in-lay-ups; grabbed off the honors for the night by scorching the nets with thirteen field goals and six fouls for 32 points. Shover went one better than Frank from the field pouring field goals through the hoops, mainly on sensational jump shots. He tallied two charity markers for a grand total of 30.

Romano	13	6-9	32
Herbster	4	2-2	10
Probert	2	6-6	10
Purnell	3	0-1	6

Hungary burning in their hearts after so many years of repression.

These people won their freedom for a few short days, and then they sacrificed themselves willingly so that a few might escape to keep the hope for freedom alive. They lacked weapons, but these people fought with anything they had—stones, clubs home-made gasoline bombs, or anything that would kill a Russian. One small boy showed how these people felt by throwing himself in front of a Russian tank with an armful of grenades, and blowing up both himself and the tank. Perhaps this was not necessary, but it told the citizens of the free world that if one Red satellite was willing to fight to overthrow oppression, so others would be too.

This is not sepcifically a book review, but I urge everyone who has a few spare minutes to sit down and read Mr. Michener's account of the Hungarian revolution and, after you have read it, just think about it for a while.

We of the United States know that we cannot send our armed forces into Hungary and risk an all-out conflict with the Soviet Union. But we can encourage the unwilling victims of Red tyranny in the satellites to follow the lead of Hungary, and thereby reduce the obstacles of the road to peace. One way of doing this is to eliminate the threat of Communism in the United States. Once we have done away with the Reds and their false Utopian ideologies, then, and only then, will peace come to this battered world. The task of elimination is up to us, and we'd better do a good job! Our future depends on it!!

SPORTS SHORTS

By GEORGE POSPISIL

Here I am atop that old soap box again. I can't help but say "I told you so". That display last Thursday at Elizabethtown may be called, by a few, a basketball game. As you may suspect, I am not one of the few. The Blue Jays acted in the worst possible way, and exhibited no sportsmanship whatsoever. When a great player like Frank Romano gets booed as soon as he steps onto the court it shows the feeblemindedness of the E-towners. Getting beat fairly is one thing, but there is no excuse for taking treatment such as taken by the Crusaders in a college game. The biggest joke of the entire affair is the fact that Frank Romano was "held" to 5 points. The Blue Jays don't own a player who could stop Frank with 5 points honestly.

Our Crusaders behaved admirably throughout the, "contest" (for lack of a better word). They did not give the E-towners the satisfaction they were after by acting as true sportsmen. Our student body and administration can be proud of the S. U. cagers; they proved to be bigger and better men then their opponents. May I drop this distasteful subject by repeating, "E-town should be dropped like a bad habit!". . . .

There were serious rumblings from the intramural league last week. Before the picture gets distorted, I would like to explain the situation in its true light.

It all started when Alan Bortle of Lambda Chi Alpha was allowed to play in a non-scheduled Junior Varsity game. Theta Chi made a protest to the Intramural Board cking, as they believed, an infraction of the following rule as stated in the Student Handbook. Article I, Section 2, a. "A student who is on the Varsity or Junior Varsity team after the first game of the season may not participate in that sport". Lambda Chi Alpha contended that Bortle was not considered as officially being a member of the J. V. team since he was not on the roster and had never been on the roster. The Intramural Board met to discuss the matter and take a vote. Theta Chi informed the Board that if they voted that Bortle was eligible, they (Theta Chi) would drop out of Intramural competition for the remainder of the year. The Board voted in favor of Bortle and Theta Chi promptly withdrew from the league. Theta Chi believes that the rules guiding the Intramural leagues are not consistent and that if Bortle is eligible than Romano, Huseman, etc. are also eligible. Theta Chi states that they are not fighting the Board's decision, but merely dropping out of Intramurals. Lambda Chi Alpha then decided, with the urging of Coach Stagg to submit the following letter:

"In consideration of the long and useful service of the intramural program here at Susquehanna, and in the interest of continuing this time-honored tradition, and upon the strong recommendation of Mr. Stagg, the brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha have decided to play the remaining games on their basketball schedule without the services of Alan Bortle.

As evidence of the true faith and sportsmanship of Lambda Chi Alpha we hereby offer to play the regularly scheduled game with Theta Chi at a time agreeable to both teams. We also highly recommend to the Intramural Board that the forfeit charged to Theta Chi be stricken from the records."

As of this writing no answer has been received from Theta Chi but the matter should be settled by the time this paper hits the campus.

PURNELL HITS 14 AS E-TOWN WINS

Thursday evening saw the "Blue Jays" from Elizabethtown College gain sweet revenge, for an earlier loss to the Crusaders, by unmercifully swamping the latter to the tune of 120-49.

Coach Ed Pfeiffer employed his second stringers freely throughout the second half, while Coach Don Smith withheld his scrubs until the "Jays" had built up a 60 point lead.

Revenge is revenge, but when a coach pulls a stunt like Smith pulled, there must be a great deal lacking in sportsmanship somewhere along the line. Also the gym at E-town is entirely too small for a college basketball game.

The above sentences are not excuses for the score of the game. The E-town quintet hit on better than 60% of their field goals, which is an excellent percentage in one game. Tony Arcurie led the scoring for the winner's parade, tossing 30 points through the nets. Sal Paone followed with 23; Don West, 21; and Jim Sarbaugh, 11.

Dick Purnell gained 14 points for the Crusaders, as Frank Romano was held to a career-low of 5 points.

S. U. Chapel Choir Presents Concerts In Easton Vicinity

The chapel choir of Susquehanna University returned to the campus Thursday afternoon following their concert trip to Easton and vicinity.

Under the direction of Mr. Lavan Robinson, the choir presented a religious concert in St. John's Lutheran Church, Easton on Wednesday evening. Traveling to Easton by bus Wednesday afternoon, the choir was honored at a banquet in St. John's Church prior to the concert. The choir was enthusiastically received by a large audiece. John Raymond, whose Lafayette College Choir is presently appearing at the M.E.N.C. Eastern Division Convention in place of Susquehanna's Sigma Alpha Iota chorus, was present at the concert and gave a very favorable comment.

An excerpt from the Easton Express had the following to say concerning the choir: The quality of fresh young voices is always appealing an dthe fine choral techniques developed by Mr. Robinson have molded the choir into a responsive, well disciplined group."

Thursday morning the choir presented selected numbers at an assembly in Easton High School. "The Co-eds" were also highlighted on this program.

Following this program, the choir traveled to Whitehall High School, near Allentown, where the choir again presented selected numbers before a senior high assmbly. Solo numbers in the lighter vein featured the following people: Denece Newhard, soprano; Nancy Kendall, violinist; Dick Kisslak, bass; Dave Diehl, bass; Mary Ellen Harrington and Bill Aspray, vocal-duo; and "The Co-eds."

Following lunch at Whitehall High School, the choir returned to S. U.

A most successful and enjoyable trip was had by each and every member of the choir. The choir members wish to extend their thanks to all those who in any way worked so hard to make this trip a success. We are looking forward to a more extended tour next year.

"GIRL ASK BOY" TO THE TK DANCE

Tau Kappa will sponsor an all-school dance in the gymnasium, Saturday, March 9. Music will be rendered by the Nu-Tones.

The dance lasts from 9-12 and dress will be informal, with girls wearing dressy outfits and men wearing suits.

Since this is a "girl ask boy" affair, girls should purchase their tickets from any Tau Kappa member. Tickets cost only 75c, a small amount indeed for an evening's entertainment. Decorations will correspond with the theme, "Moon-glo", and will add a dreamy touch to the atmosphere. Refreshments will be served.

Tau Kappa is an honorary national fraternity for college women who have excelled in athletics. The members of Susquehanna's chapter are Marion Drumheller, Carole Sadosuk, Ruth Ann Ulsh, Nancy Marek, Sue Wahl Betty Ann Ormond, Nancy Bumbarger, Terry Feliciano, and Twila Wolf.

Pi Gamma Mu to Invite Montoursville Corporal

The Pennsylvania Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu Honorary Society will hold its monthly meeting at the Phi Mu Delta Fraternity house on Thursday, March 14. A business meeting will be held at 7:00 and an open meeting at 7:30 will feature a guest speaker.

Corporal Leo G. Armbruster of the Pennsylvania State Police, Montoursville barricks, Troup D2, will speak on the subject, "The Pennsylvania State Police."

Since this is an open meeting, all students are invited to attend.

SEI NICHT SPAT FUR SCA FETE

Tonight the S.C.A. will hold the annual Fastnacht Social in Seibert social rooms. This event is an outgrowth of the ancient custom of celebrating for the last time just before the beginning of Lent.

Tomorrow is Ash Wednesday, the first day in Lent. Since Lent is one of the tempora clausa of the church year, it is only natural that people should have a celebration before the austere season begins. This celebration has taken different forms in different national cultures. French-speaking people celebrate Mardi Gras in a spirit of revelry which ends promptly at the stroke of midnight when Ash Wednesday begins.

The Germans celebrate somewhat more quietly by making and eating delicious baked goods, the fastnachts. It is in this latter way that the students of S. U. will usher in the Lenten season tonight, with an enjoyable party including the traditional fastnachts.

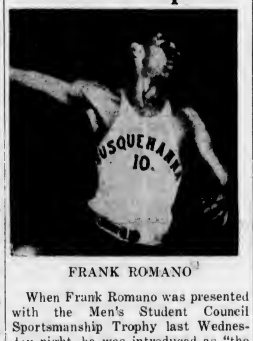
Crusaders Honor Romano's Exploits



FRANK ROMANO

When Frank Romano was presented with the Men's Student Council Sportsmanship Trophy last Wednesday night, he was introduced as "the greatest basketball player in the history of Susquehanna University". These words describe Romano perfectly.

Frank has ended his court career at Susquehanna, but he has left a mark to serve as a target for all future basketball players who wear the Orange & Maroon. The "Pisan" has smashed every record in the S. U. books. They include: most points in college career, 1386; most points single season, 522; most points single game, 40; highest single season average, 29 points per game; highest average college career, 27.72 in 50 intercollegiate games; highest foul shooting average single season, .794; highest foul shooting average career, .775.

Frank Romano's exploits will remain as a legend in the traditions of Susquehanna University. However, let it not be said that Romano was only a great basketball player. Frank is one of the nicest and most modest persons on campus. He is president

State Attorney To Address FTA

The March meeting of the Future Teachers of America will be held Thursday, March 7 at 7:00 p. m. in Bogar Hall. The guest speaker for the meeting is Mr. Louis S. Adler. Mr. Adler is the state attorney for the PSEA.

Election of officers for the 1957-1958 school year will take place. Nominations are as follows: President, Nancy Bumbarger, Dick Cahn, Carolyn Gillaspie, Jim White; Secretary, Nancy Boyer, Terry Feliciano; Treasurer, Eleanor Pourron, Betsy Walker; Historian, Betty Ann Ormond, Nancy Zimmerman; Librarian, Judy Poulette, Cindy Smith.

It is requested that every member attend this meeting since plans for an important April meeting are to be discussed.

Library Announces Recent Additions

Recently the library has added another daily newspaper to the reading table. This will now allow the student to read the views of eight newspapers.

Another recent addition to the library shelves is a three volume set entitled Battles and Leaders of the Civil War published by Thomas Yoseloff, Inc. This book describes the battles, conditions, and personalities of the war and includes many pictures and maps pertaining to the important phases of the war. Since the centenial of the Civil War is drawing nearer one will be able to find many other books about the Brother's War on the library shelves.

The Syracuse University press has recently published a book by Cruickshank and Raus called Cerebral Palsy: Its Individual and Community Problems. A number of people who have had some type of experience with cerebral palsy have helped in the writing of this informative book. The book would be helpful to anyone who has or will have contact with any phase of cerebral palsy.

Bovard of the Post-Dispatch, a biography of Oliver Kirby Bovard, by James W. Markham the life of a mnn who was the greatest influential force that made Post-Dispatch gain national influence. He was known as the greatest managing editor of his time and a man who practiced dynamic journalistic principles. This is a book that tells of one man's crusade "to make the newspaper a people's university interpreting the complex social and economic problems".

MUSIC NOTES

The Susquehanna University Concert Band will present a program to the students of Mifflinburg High School this Thursday afternoon, March 7. Also Chapel Choir will continue its spring concert season with a program in the Yeagerstown Lutheran Church, this Sunday, March 10.

Everyone on the Chapel Choir tour of Easton and vicinity enjoyed an experience seldom granted to such groups at Susquehanna. The various audiences who heard the choir commented on the fine spirit and musicianship of the group. May the choir keep this spark alive by presenting many more concerts this season and a week tour next year.

The March student recital will be presented this afternoon in Seibert Chapel. The program is as follows:

PIANO:
Dans la maison triste — Jacques Ibert
Robert Willauer

PIANO:
Rondo in C — Kuhlau
Lillian Holcomb

PIANO:
Valse sentimentale — Schubert
Joan Brenneman

SONGS:
(a) Cloths of Heaven — Thomas Dunhill
(b) The Little Shepherd's Song — Winter Watts
Jean Harner

PIANO:
Little Indian — Carpenter
Keitt Mattheson

PIANO:
Bouree and Rondo — Bach

Radioactive Fallout Is Latest Biemic Topic

A regular meeting of Biemic Society was held Monday, March 4, 1957. Following the meeting, Biemic was proud to have as its guest speaker Dr. John Houtz, associate professor of chemistry here at Susquehanna. Dr. Houtz spoke on the subject of radioactive fallout and its effects. The talk was interesting and enjoyed by all.

The next meeting of the Biemic Society will be March 18, 1957.

"TIME LIMIT"

The camera of Mr. Frederick Stevens catches one of the tense emotional highlights of the timely melodrama "Time Limit", which was presented by the Susquehanna Players last Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights. Tonight the players journey to Williamsport to present the play to the members of the Williamsport Consistory.

The Critic Speaks

The play by Henry Denker and Ralph Berkey, "Time Limit", which opened Thursday evening the 28th, was one of the most successful modern dramas which has been presented on the Susquehanna University stage in many years. Dealing as it does with the pressing problem facing modern military captives of the Red armies, that of how far human flesh and mind can endure pressure before cracking, it presents to those fortunate and wise enough to see it a very adult production. Powerfully and sharply written, its stark drama contains no soft spots, and the cast so ably directed by Mr. Axel R. Kleinsorg does it full justice. The acting is notably firm and even, without those weak characterizations which have to be bolstered by the rest of the cast.

"Time Limit" also marks a new departure in Susquehanna plays in that it uses no curtains; all scenes open and close with a total blackout. The action opens in the olive-drab and efficient office of the Judge Advocate at a state-side Army post, where Major Harry Cargill, ably played by Donald Trimmer, is being investigated on charges of treason by collaboration with his Red Korean captors. The emotional temperature and tension steadily mount throughout the play, with an only occasional comic relief provided by Sgt. Charles Baker (Jack Anthony), whose glib and brash comments, aided by a very mobile countenance, made to his superior, Lt. Col. William Edwards (John Hendricks) and the office secretary, WAC Corporal Jean Evans (Martha McNitt), drew delighted laughter from the audience. The last witness for the prosecution, Lt George Miller, powerfully played by John Biber, provided confused and false evidence which eventually broke down.

The two flashbacks to a Korean POW camp, where the Major and Lt. Miller, with eight fellow officers had been confined, provided the raw setting in which the brainwashing that resulted in murder and charges of collaboration grew to their hideous climax. Capt. Joseph Connors, Jr., poignantly and violently played by Nelson Bailey, having cracked under the strain and betrayed one of his comrades, was strangled by Lt. Miller over Maj. Cargill's frantic protests. The other prisoners, led by Lt. Mike Livingston (Richard Neff), cannot understand how any red-blooded American can fail his country under no matter what circumstances. Maj. Cargill, in order to protect as best he can his over-wrought men, deliberately "goes along with" the enemy, and in the investigation which opens Stateside refuses to defend himself, although his wife (Noretta Sheesley) eventually provides clues to his character which will aid him in his defense.

Brought face to face with Maj. Cargill, Miller breaks down when his conscience will no longer be denied; he finally screams out his confession to Col. Edwards, the Judge Advocate, and Gen. Joseph Connors, (Donald Boyer), the dead boy's father and the commanding officer of the area in which the case will be tried. The General is at last made to comprehend that it was his own son who broke in the beginning, thus setting the whole grim machinery of fate in motion, and eventually is made to understand that military codes give no time limit beyond which human flesh and endurance can stand no more.

The play called upon the considerable talents of a goodly number of new people, from whom much may be expected in future productions. The ensemble playing of the prisoners was remarkable for its uniformity of good acting and teamwork, and in especial for the extraordinary sensitive work of Nelson Bailey; the role was a short and violent one, but without it the whole play would have fallen. Trimmer, also no newcomer to the Susquehanna stage, turned in a very strong performance, as did Biber, whose understanding of his role, with its complex and violently contrasting moods, enabled him to handle a very difficult part with distinction.

Noretta Sheesley, as the worried and distraught wife of Maj. Cargill, gave a most convincing performance. Her work is another example of the truth that a small role sympathetically and sensitively played will equate itself with much larger and more ample ones. Nor is it easy for a good Aryan like Ray Yeingst to be convincing as a menacing Asiatic, yet this was done well.

Though the actors of a play usually get the lion's share of credit, too often it is forgotten how much those who are never seen contribute to the success or failure of a production. No critique of this play should overlook the long and careful work of the light crew, under the direction of Douglas Smith who has done this sort of thing for three and a half years. The simple, but most effective, set was constructed by Gil Bannerman and Walt Benham. Costumes for this miniature army were secured by Ron Bartholomew, and the handling of a rather complicated set of properties fell to Thiry Reamer. It was pleasant to see Susquehanna's newest sorority, Nu Sigma Tau, serving as hostesses at intermission, and the boys of Theta Chi as ushers.

Despite a few minor weaknesses, such as the consumption of what seemed like cartons of cigarettes to occupy the uneasy fingers of nervous officers, the frequent turning of the back toward the audience during speeches, and Lt. Miller's muffled tones when he broke in the Colonel's office, the play was one of the strongest, best

COURTESY

This matter of courtesy—what is it, and why does a person so often shun or disregard it? From Webster's definition, one can understand courtesy to be (1) courtly politeness, (2) a favor performed with politeness, and (3) an expression of respect. All of these make up the word as we know it, but to me, it seems that the last is most important. It is hard to give an older person or one of the opposite sex the respect due their respective positions? It shouldn't be. It's certainly no great hardship to hold doors open or address a person with the correct title at all times. These things are so small and yet so important for promoting goodwill and proving oneself to be a person of thoughtfulness. Can you remember the times you've been irritated and annoyed by someone rudely interrupting or pushing you aside? Often such incidents lead to sharp words, and in the much younger generation, to blows. It's plain to see that most of it can be avoided. Courtesy is present everywhere or rather, should be. While driving, studying, eating, even coughing, one can prevent distaste and displeasure by using good manners. There's no answer to the first question because there's no reason for its existence. By being courteous, one certainly doesn't harm oneself: LET'S PRACTICE IT!

SPRING ROLLS IN

March 21 is the formal opening of spring. What does spring mean to you? To me it is the most glorious time of the year. Outside in gardens around the world, flowers are stretching and yawning while taking in their first breath of the clean smelling, fresh air. Their presence lends a sweet fragrance to the air. The trees along your favorite avenue burst into bloom.

Spring is a time of the year when you're always comfortable. There is no need for heavy, winter coats and yet it's never too warm. A light jacket or sweater will do fine.

Did you ever take time to think about the changes on S. U.'s campus at the opening of spring? The campus takes on a new radiance. I'm sure all of you, at one time or another, have felt the change of atmosphere on campus when the trees are in bloom. Besides being the cause of "spring fever", it adds to the beauty of the campus. The ivy adds to the attractiveness of the building.

Figures that add up to benefits for you

Some time ago we told you in this column that "the sooner you start, the lower the premium...the greater the benefits."

To demonstrate, let's look at some actual figures for a $5,000 endowment policy which matures at age 65 —

Age	Annual Premium	Money You Get at 65*	Profit Over Premiums	Years Protected
20	$100.00	$8,408.10	$3,908.10	45
25	117.60	7,937.60	3,233.60	40
30	140.65	7,516.40	2,593.65	35
35	171.90	7,066.20	1,909.20	30
40	215.65	6,649.60	1,258.35	25

Campus Spotlights

Suddenly there's a sweet smile and a certain quiet glow begins to radiate throughout the room. From the soft voice one can tell that Thiry Reamer is present. Thiry is a senior in Liberal Arts who is majoring in psychology and sociology. The campus spotlight falls on her this week.

Thiry Reamer

Hailing from Mifflinburg Joint High School, she was active in plays, chorus, editor of the newspaper and on the yearbook staff. Thiry is very proud of being an alum of Mifflinburg Joint High where her dad is a math and science teacher.

Here at S. U. Thiry continued her active participation in school functions. As a member of the Susquehanna staff, Susquehanna Players and S.C.A. cabinet she found her schedule full. However, it was while she was a member of the Susquehanna Players that she became general "handyman", using all her cleverness in handling the props, make-up and even the costumes of plays. Thiry has also appeared on the Little Theater stage in "Macbeth", "The Late George Apley" and had the leading role in "The Heiress". Her performances have brought her membership in Alpha Psi Omega where she is secretary-treasurer of the group.

Thiry has the distinction also of being a member of Pi Gamma Mu and is listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. She is also a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority where she was the scholarship chairman and chaplain. Besides these numerous activities Thiry has time to make Dean's List and even learn about the many advantages of Orange, New Jersey.

Campus Spotlights

The Susquehanna spotlight this week is trained on Dave Wise, a senior in the Liberal Arts course.

Dave Wise

Dave graduated from Lincoln High School in Philadelphia. There he was very active in many musical organizations, including the Philadelphia High School Symphony Orchestra, the All-Philadelphia High School Band, and the Frankford Symphony where he played French horn and trumpet. Dave was also active in Hi-Y and basketball, which he played while attending high school in Ohio before moving to Philadelphia.

Here at S. U. Dave participates actively in many campus organizations. He is the current president of Biemic Society, is a member of the band, orchestra, and choir, and has been a reporter for The Susquehanna. Dave is a member of Phi Mu Delta fraternity, SCA, and serves as a very capable addition to the stage crew of the Susquehanna Players. He has also participated in intramural sports.

Dave plans upon graduation to enter graduate school, possibly Princeton University, and go on to obtain his doctorate in chemistry, which is his major at Susquehanna. He would like to teach at the university level and engage in research. We know Dave will do well in whatever he undertakes, and we wish him the best of luck for the future.

sustained, and most evenly-acted that we have seen in years. And the best of it all was that "Time Limit" was thoroughly adult, facing squarely up to the ugly questions raised by modern living, and giving the student body a chance to sink its teeth into a highly controversial problem. Such thinking is good. It is to be hoped that Mr. Kleinsorg, to whom the directing of this play must have been most rewarding, will give us more of this sort of drama.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

February has now departed until another year, and March is presently in the spotlight. (It came in "like a lion")

Once more, Mr. Kleinsorg and his cast are to be saluted—this time for the success of the play, "Time Limit", Lambda Chi is proud of its large representation on the "Time Limit" roster. Special mention for brothers, John Hendricks, Don Boyer, Dick Neff, Ray Yeingst, Tony Grigalunas, Nelson Bailey, Bob Kenyon, and pledge-brother Tony Pupo. Long will be recalled that immortal line: "How's your leg, Zip?" Brother Nelson Bailey held together rather wonderfully throughout the three performances.

No particular news on the intramural front. The "second string" of Lambda Chi's team has been challenging, on its own, several teams, in unscheduled play.

The fraternity wishes to express its congratulations to Brother George Nesbitt and his bride, the former Nancy Henderson. George transferred to Albright College in January. Nancy is a 1956 graduate of Susquehanna. The couple will reside in Reading.

We welcome two more S. U. victories, having defeated Wilkes, on our own floorboards; and then seizing top honors over Rutgers of South Jersey.

Congratulations to Frank Romano for receiving the basketball sportsmanship award.

—S—

PHI MU DELTA

"The best play in the history of dramatics at Susquehanna!" That's the opinion of the Susquehanna Players presentation of the hit play, "Time Limit." Many times the production, under the direction of Mr. Axel Kleinsorg, left the audience virtually gasping at the intensity of the scenes. The realism of action was superb, and conveyed most accurately the emotional and mental disturbances of American soldiers interned in the infamous Communist prison camps. Such a production may revolutionize dramatics at Susquehanna and, if it does, I'm sure everyone who witnessed it will wholeheartedly endorse the idea. Phi Mu Delta extends hearty congratulations to the entire cast for their great performances. Special plaudits go to Brothers Don Trimmer and John Biber, as well as Jim White and Pledge Jim Middleswarth. Congratulations also to the people on whom the heaviest burden fell—Mr. Kleinsorg and his fine backstage crew—for making the play the outstanding success it was!

After the play Mu Alpha chapter observed an open house for the members of the cast and their guests. There was dancing to recorded music and light refreshments were served. We were extremely happy to welcome as our guests Miss Athalia Kline, Dr. Jane Barlow, Mr. Lavan Robinson, Mr. Robert Meader, and Mr. Axel Kleinsorg, as well as a number of the brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha and Theta Chi. In addition we were pleased to entertain invited guests of the brothers and their dates. Brother Bob Bartels did a very capable job in arranging the affair.

The Black and Orange triumphed in their only intramural contest last week over a battling Selinsgrove South aggregate. Brothers Gordie Thompson and Sid Richards contributed 25 and 21 points, respectively, to the 66-62 win. This week winds up the intramural schedule for another hotly-contested year.

Congratulations to Coach Ed Pfeiffer's Crusaders for winding up a fabulous court season with double victories this past week over Wilkes College and Rutgers of South Jersey. Plaudits, also, to brothers Gene Witiak and Joe Osinchak, as well as Bob Fiscus and pledge Denny Shenk, for their fine performances this year. Phi Mu Delta takes this opportunity to congratulate Frank Romano and Dwight Huseman, who wound up their court careers on Saturday night.

—S—

THETA CHI

An apology for the non-appearance of this column last week is the first order of business. The writer went on a sojurn to Haverford and was unable to meet the deadline.

Congratulations are in order to the Chapel Choir and the Concert Band on their successful tours. The Chapel Choir under the skilled direction of Mr. Lavan Robinson went to Easton, and the Band, with Dr. John Leach conducting, traveled to Lewisburg, where they both received enthusiastic welcomes.

Congratulations go also to Mr. Axel Kleinsorg and the entire cast of "Time Limit" for one of the finest productions at S. U. The staging, acting, directing, and play itself met the highest criteria of fine theater. Theta Chi's special honors go to Brother Jack Anthony for his comical portrayal of Sgt. Baker.

Belated congratulations are sent to Bob Lewis on his winning of the football sportsmanship trophy.

Friday night the pledges staged a long, but thorough general inspection clean-up. After many hours of hard, but humorous work under the "whip" of Randy Fox, the neophytes retired. Applause is given on a job well done!

There is a very famous play called "A Long Day's Journey Into Night", but in the case of S. U.'s basketball team ,the words might be reversed to read "A Long Night's Journey Into Day". The team has passed through a long night's journey of pleasant memories, of outstanding accomplishments, of wins and losses and of new records. No amount of words or praise by this writer could express adequately our congratulations. Our highest salutations go to Coach Pfeiffer for his long and devoted direction and to the entire team for a successful season. Special mention with added felicitations must be made on the team's wins over Wilkes and last Saturday's win over Rutgers.

Magnificently playing their last game for S. U. were Frank Romano (the greatest basketball player in S. U.'s history) and Dwight Huseman (our faithful, fighting rebounder). We of Theta Chi are proud to salute these, our brothers, for their accomplishments and service. Theta Chi's congratulations go also to the sharpshooting, cool Bob Probert and the tall, spirited Harry Powers. It might be remarked that the trip to and from Rutgers was both literally and figuratively a humorous long night's journey into day.)

Now the season and these things have ended, and yet perhaps they have not. For they exist in the minds and in the memory. Perhaps in that form they are even more vivid.

Theta Chi's closing words are in tribute to our own Frank Romano. This writer cannot find in the convolutions of his mind fitting adjectives to pay him praise. His winnings of the Sportsmanship Trophy as the outstanding basketball player means more than just congratulations. For he has earned the respect and admiration of his fellow students. His accomplishments, sportsmanship, dignity, and personality will ever remain in our thoughts. If one sentence were enough, it would be, "This is a man, for his kind doesn't come along every day."

ALPHA DELTA PI

Many plaudits for some fine performances given by the entire cast of Mr. Axel Kleinsorg's production "Time Limit". A special bouquet of violets to Sister Noretta Sheesley for her role of Mrs. Mary Cargill. Those behind the scenes also did a fine job in making the production run smoothly. Sister Thiry Reamer lent her talents backstage, being in charge of properties for the play.

The new chairmen have been chosen for this year. Gamma Omicron will have as its new rush chairman Sister Noretta Sheesley; Social chairman, Sister Thelma Rosetti; Standards, Sister Sue Bates; scholarship chairman, Sister Jeanette Cooley; Gift Mart, Sister Bobbie Hewitt; Magazine Mart, Sister Liz Lauver; Song leader, Sister Anne Reynolds and Pan-hellenic Council representative, Sister Ann Ambromavage. With our newly elected officers and the new chairmen it looks like a successful year coming up for Gamma Omicron.

The Standards Chairman, Sue Bates presented for her first program of the new year the topic "Scholarship". Last Tuesday evening in the Seibert Social rooms the members and pledges of ADPi heard a talk on the value of good scholarship by the new scholarship chairman, Sister Jeanette Cooley. Sister Jan Snyder talked on reasons for good scholarship and Pledge Stephanie Haase gave us the pledge's point of view.

The Tau Kappa dance, to be held in the gym on Saturday evening should be a success thanks to the members of the organization who are working on it. Sisters Nancy Marek, Carole Sadosuk, Sue Wahl and Ruth Ann Ulsh are doing their share as active members of the women's national honorary fraternity.

A special congratulations to all the members of the Crusader basketball team .Sporting many outstanding victories, they more than satisfied us with this year's record. It really was a terrific season. Thanks again, team.

KAPPA DELTA

After several days of voting and revoting, meeting after meeting, we finally came up with the close-winning pledge officers. Congratulations, Sandy Risser for stealing the presidency. Congratulations also to Janet Paluck, vice-president; June Nonnemacher, secretary; Charlene Gruner, treasurer; Bev Anderson, parliamentarian. We know they'll fit the part well and do an excellent job.

It would be very difficult to explain what a tremendous success S. U.'s presentation of "Time Limit" was. We certainly are proud of our actress Sister Marty McNitt for her great accomplishment as Corporal Jean Evans. Congratulations to Alpha Delta Pi's Noretta Sheesley for her well done appearance as Mrs. Mary Cargill.

Wow, what a game. Thanks to our score pushers, we wrapped up a good ending to our '57 basketball season. Well done, Men.

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA

SAI sends many big bouquets of red roses to Mr. Kleinsorg and the excellent cast of "Time Limit"! The production was one of the very gripping suspense and emotion and surely ranks near the top of the S. U. dramatic productions. Again, congratulations!

Chapel Choir had a very successful trip to Easton and surrounding towns to present programs, and are hoping for a tour next year. Sisters Mary Ellen Harrington and Gloria Myers presented soprano solos and pledge Nancy Kendall played a violin solo. On Sunday, March 10, the Choir will present a program in the Lutheran Church in Yeagerstown, Pa.

Thursday the Concert Band will present a performance of the March 15th concert in the Mifflinburg High School. The campus concert of the band is March 15th at 8:15 p. m. in Seibert Chapel. Don't miss it!

SAI had charge of Vespers on Sunday evening. Sister Alice Ann Patterson was the speaker on the topic "Abundant Living" and Sister Denece Newhard was liturgist, with Sister Mary Davis serving as organist.

Congratulations also to Coach Pfeiffer and the team for another successful season. Nice going fellows!

All the members of the cast of "Time Limit" deserve as much credit as is opssible to be given to them for doing such an excellent job of acting. It was a fine play and very well presented. Those of you that attended it were served refreshments between acts by the sisters of Nu Sigma Tau.

Talking about exciting basketball games. I'm sure everyone agrees that last Wednesday night's game against Wilkes topped them all. And congratulations to Frankie Romano for winning the sportsmanship trophy.

Well, the news has run out already. Don't forget to keep studying hard as that is supposed to be the main reason we are all here! ! !

Crusaders Drop RCSJ Climax "56" Season

The Crusaders put the wraps on another basketball season with a lopsided victory over Rutgers of South Jersey. This capped the most successful season in modern basketball history at Susquehanna.

Four players racked up double figures in the 80-53 romp. Romano led all scorers with 19 points, followed by Dwight Huseman with 18, Dick Purnell with 17, and Gene Witiak with 10.

Huseman finished his college career playing his best game. In addition to notching 18 markers he gathered in 22 rebounds.

The Maroon cagers led at intermission by a single point, 32-31. They broke the ball game wide open in the second half with an amazing display of shooting ability. The victors hit on 74 percent of their shots.

The second team was inserted in the final minutes and everyone saw some action in the eleventh win of the season.

W. A. A. Sponsors Sportsday, March 9

Would you like to watch some keen competition in girls' basketball and volleyball? If so, come down to the gym on Saturday, March 9, at 1:00 p. m., for at that time the W.A.A. of S. U. wil sponsor a "Sportsday". Girls from Lycoming College, Dickinson College, and Mansfield State Teachers' College will be competing against our own girls of S. U.

The program for the day runs as follows: 12:00 to 12:45, registration; 1:00 to 2:30, volleyball; and 2:30 to 4:00, basketball. Following the games, refreshments and entertainment will be provided in the Seibert social rooms for all participants.

Marty McNitt, president of the W.A.A., is general chairman for the event. Her asistants are: Betty Ann Ormond, registration; Jan Cooley and Joy Klingler, programs; Ruth Ann Ulsh and Bobbie Hewitt, refreshments; and Thelma Rosetti entertainment.

The day promises to be one of fun and interest, and everyone is welcome to join the "spectators' gallery".

Also in the realm of girls' sports for this week were eight intramural basketball games. Team 1, captained by Judy Poulette, won three straight games, defeating team 4 by 24 to 7, team 2 by 14 to 13, and team 13, by 27 to 8. Other games were: team 2 over 12, 13-6; team 13 over 3, 33-9; team 5 over 11, 25-21; team 8 over 6, 23-7; and team 4 over 10 through a forfeit.

As yet there are two undefeated teams. These teams, 5 which is captained by Bev Hofecker and 7 which is captained by Nancy Eiserman, will match their skills sometime this week.

Tau Kappa's bowling party, originally scheduled for Thursday, February 28, has been postponed until Friday, March 8. A nice evening is in store for the girls.

SPRING ROLLS IN From P. 2

When I came to Susquehanna, I was very impressed by the beautiful campus; but I like it most of all during spring. So when spring arrives, take your favorite beau and stroll around the campus, or sit on one of the benches and let yourself enjoy the wonders of nature. You'd be surprised what it can do for one's spirits.

Of course, I wouldn't want you to take this advice too seriously so that it affects your ability to study, which is the real reason you're here, you know!

Congratulations, Crusaders, for racking up an 11-8 log, the best in a long time. . . .

Glad to see Romano get some token of recognition for his tremendous career. Frank may receive an added honor. The last word from Frank McGuire, basketball coach of Univ. of North Carolina and also coach of the Eastern All-Stars is that Romano does stand a chance of playing in Madison Square Garden in the annual East-West All-Star Game. The decision hinges on whether a small-college will be represented.

Dick Purnell, co-captain of the Crusader grid team, was named to the All-Lambda Chi Alpha Football Team. This is quite an honor when you stop to think that Lambda Chi Alpha is the largest national fraternity in the United States with over 150 chapters. Among Purnell's teammates on this dream team are Bob Pollack All-East tackle from Pitt, Dale Snelling All-Big Ten center from Purdue, and John Gordy, captain of the Tennessee Volunteers. . . .

There is still dissension in the Intramural League. Lambda Chi's offer to play Theta Chi without Jim Bortle and disregard the forfeit was turned down by the Big Red. Theta Chi sent the following letter to Coach Stagg and to the fraternities:

"This is to inform you that Beta Omega of Theta Chi Fraternity does not intend to re-enter the Intramural League until the rules are revised and established. Vague rules can only lead to further difficulties. We feel that in the interest of fairness and good sportsmanship the rules must be made clear and definite."

The Intramural leagues will go right on without Theta Chi. An Intramural Board meeting will probably be held to look over the rules and see what changes can be made to make them clearer and more definite. These rules which have served the intramurals for many, many years have apparently suddenly become obscure. The funny thing about the whole mess is that no rule has been broken and the clarity of the rules has not even been tested.

Meanwhile, the standings of the league are as follows with the Yankees, 1 mean Bunders, still in front.

Strategy Backfires As SU Turns Tide

A "clutch" foul shot by Dick Purnell, his only one of the game, coming with just four seconds remaining in the contest, gave Susquehanna's Crusaders an uphill victory over the "Colonels" of Wilkes College, 80-79. The game was played on the hardwoods of S. U. last Wednesday.

Purnell's foul climaxed a struggle for the Crusaders who were behind 38-31 at the half. The lead changed hands 12 times, which had the highly partisan Crusader fans on the edge of their seats from the start. Co-Captain Frank Romano, who played his last home game for the Crusaders, turned in his usual brilliant performance pouring 27 points through the hoops, and in adidtion made several beautiful assists. Co-Captain Dwight Huseman, the other senior on the team added 9 points to the cause and rebounded with his usual ability.

Both Frank and Dwight were recipients of "gold basketballs" for three years of varsity basketball. Coach Ed Pfeiffer made the awards. Frank also received the "Sportsmanship Trophy" for basketball, which was presented by George Pospisil, president of the Men's Student Council.

Dick Purnell, Susquehanna's flashy guard, played one of the finest games of his career by setting up numerous plays and contributing 21 points, mostly on his patented jump shot from all parts of the floor.

George Morgan and Dick Turley tallied 20 points each to lead the "Colonels" in a losing cause.

Campus Spotlights

This week's spotlight hits a senior from Lewistown, Pa. and a graduate from Belleville High School. "Dusty" Rhodes was born in Williamsport in 1928 and his childhood activities manifested themselves into a busy and responsible high school life. His keen sense of leadership was recognized by his fellow students who elected him to a vice-presidency and treasurership of his class, and to the role of president in the Dramatics Club. Athletics prowess was exhibited in baseball and football where he won varsity letters.

The call of the military hit Dusty after graduation and he more than fulfilled his service obligations by spending one and a half years in the Army and three and a half years in the Air Force, where he not only attained the rank of staff sergeant but also met his future wife, Shirley. The marriage took place in 1952, followed by his appearance on S. U.'s campus in the following year.

Susquehanna has seen Dusty as a four year member of the Business Society and the S.C.A., member of the Veterans Organziation, and chairman of the Sophomore Dance. He was treasurer of his class, member of Pi Gamma Mu, football trainer, and a member of the Sunbury Players in "Mr. Roberts."

The former Bond & Key Club has seen him in the light of secretary, vice-president, and an active participant of intra-mural athletics. Dusty has just fulfilled the position of social chairman of Lambda Chi Alpha, and in his usual fashion, did an excellent job. His ideas for decorations and timeless effort in performing assigned duties will assure Dusty of a full, happy, and prosperous post-graduate life. His plans lie in the salesmanship field and we at S. U. hope he can sell himself to the college.

Capt. Utley of USMC Visits S. U. Campus; Offers Students OCS

Captain E. H. Utley, USMC, the Marine Officer Procurement Officer, will visit Susquehanna University on Monday and Tuesday, March 19-20, 1957, to interview students interested in obtaining a commission in the Marine Corps. Captain Utley will be at Susquehanna from 10 a. m. till four p. m.

There are four officer training programs which the Marine Corps offers college students, which offer opportunities as ground officers or pilots. Seniors may be elegible for the Officer Candidate Course or Aviation Officer Candidate Course programs and freshmen, sophomores and juniors may be eligible for the Platoon Leaders Class (Aviation) programs.

None of these programs require specialized studies or drills during the school year. Training for members of the Platoon Leaders Class programs takes place during the summer vacation. The summer training lasts for six weeks during each of two summers. During the training, members receive $160 to $200, plus their food, uniforms, medical care, and first class transportation to and from the training camp located at Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Virginia.

Enrollees in the Platoon Leaders Class programs receive their commissions as Second Lieutenants in the Marine Corps Reserve after they have graduated from college. Under Selective Service Law, a member of the Platoon Leaders Class is deferred from induction until after the student has graduated.

Seniors who enter the Officer Candidate Course are ordered to active duty after graduation and become Second Lieutenants upon successful completion of ten weeks of officer training at Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Virginia. Seniors who are members of the Aviation Officer Candidate Course go directly to pilot training as commissioned officers upon completion of their ten week course.

S. C. A. News

"The Authority of the Bible" was the theme of the three day conference at Buckhill Falls attended by ten Susquehannans on March 1, 2, and 3. This conference was sponsored by and held in collaboration with the Student Christian Association. Students from various other colleges and universities also attended. Approximately 600 in all were there.

Administration News

Music students journeyed to the Northumberland High School for an assembly program put on for the students of the high school.

Mr. Kleinsorg and the east of "Time Limit" visited and performed in Williamsport on March 6.

On March 8, Mr. MacCuish attended a meeting at Albright College in Reading of those college officers who attended high school college night programs.

Ten or fifteen students were expected on campus on Saturday, March 9 to take S. U.'s entrance tests. The quota for girl students for next year has already been filled, and a waiting list of applicants has been started.

Coach Henry J. "Whitey" Keil represented the administration at the annual meeting of the New Jersey and New York District Alumnae Club which was held March 2.

Coach Ed Pfeiffer, during the week, was the principle speaker at two high school sport's banquets.

VESPERS

On Sunday evening Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity had charge of vespers in the chapel. Lester Rudisill was the speaker and Ray Yeingst was the liturgist. The topic was "Faith". The hymns were "Lord Keep Us Steadfast in Thy Word" and "Jesus Still Lead On". The scripture was taken from St. Luke. Virginia Steigerwalt was the pianist.

F.T.A. ELECTS GILLASPIE

The monthly meeting of F.T.A. was held in Bogar Hall on March 7, 1957. President Lynn Hassinger opened the meeting at seven o'clock. The business at hand was that of the election of offieers. The following were elected: President, Carolyn Gillaspie; Vice-President, Nancy Bumbarger; Secretary, Nancy Zimmerman; Treasurer, Eleanor Pourron; Historian, Betty Ann Ormond; and Librarian, Cindy Smith. Congratulations go to this new corp of offieers and congratulations to the outgoing offieers for a job well done.

In the afternoon of April fourth, there will be a visit by the F.T.A. members to the area high schools. The purpose of this visit is to observe the class of your choice in the particular high school which you may choose. F.T.A. members will receive further information of this by mail.

The speaker of the evening was Mr. Adler, Pennsylvania State Edueation attorney from Harrisburg. His topic of discussion was the School Law—why teachers should know something about it. He gave a very interesting and worthwhile talk.

Moonglo Enhances Tau Kappa Dance

A huge shining moon and glittering stars created the atmosphere on Saturday night for the Tau Kappa dance. The theme, "Moonglo," was carried out with abundant use of stars and moons around the gym.

The music for the evening was provided by the Nu-Tones, a combo of students Bill Woelkers, Fred Murseh, Larry Wingard, and Joe Aleknavage.

All in all, it was a very enjoyable danee. The guests at the danee were Miss Betsy McDowell, Miss Leatriee Voorhees, Miss Hilda Kolpin, Dr. and Mrs. T. T. Smith, Mr. Lavan Robinson, and Dr. George Robinson.

MUSIC NOTES

The Susquehanna University Band under the direction of Dr. John Leach will present their spring concert this Friday, March 15, in Seibert Chapel. Lynne Cramer, a junior, will be featured as soloist in a composition for band and oboe. The program is composed of a variety of music for concert band.

Sunday evening, March 17, the Chapel Choir will present a program of choral music in the Lutheran Church of Glen Rock, Pennsylvania. The program will be similar to concerts given thus far this spring and it will include the Motet Singers and soloists along with the Chapel Choir.

Mr. Fred Billman, associate professor of music, will represent the Susquehanna music department at a career day in the Sunbury High School, Wednesday, March 13.

The students' evening recital scheduled for this evening in Seibert Chapel has been cancelled by Dr. Percy Linehaugh, chairman of the music division.

WHOA, WORLD

We hustle and hurry;
We work and we worry,
And where do we get in the end?
At home on the couch with a terrible grouch
Without even solace from friends.

If we'd stop in our race;
If we'd slow down our pace,
And take stock of the world as we find it
'Twould be better by far (it scarcely would mar)
What's more, we hardly would mind it.

But onward we bustle;
We toil and tussle,
With thoughts for the almighty dollar.
Advice we "don't need" we never take heed
But when we get stung do we holler!

My moral is this,
SEE WHOA, WORLD—P. 3

McDowell Announces May Day Committees

The committees for May Day have been announced by Miss Betsy McDowell, who is in charge of the May Day program. They are as follows:

Construction of Set: Erhard Werner and Nancy Aitland. Choreography: Joan Heslop, Betty Ormond and Gracia Thomas.

Programs: Jeanette Cooley and Joy Klingler. Costumes, Carolyn Gillaspie and Sandra Locke. Publicity: Cindy Smith. Student Director: Carole Sadosuk. Assistant Director: Thelma Rosetti.

W.S.C. INSTALLS SEWING MACHINE

The Women's Student Council has placed a sewing machine in the basement of Seibert Hall for the convenience of all women students. This machine is to be used by women in both dormitories. Please be sure you know how to operate the machine before you begin to sew. Costs of repairs are extremely high. If you are not sure what you do to get a certain effect with the machine, ask questions. The following people witnessed the demonstration given by the salesman: Mrs. Thomson, Mrs. O'Connor, Nancy Bumbarger, Cindy Smith and Lynn Hassinger.

Attachments and the buttonholer may be secured from Lynn Hassinger. If you wish to use the machine over the weekends, please make arrangements for the attachments earlier in the week. The machine is a Singer Heavy-duty machine. This equipment is for your use, purchased with your money. It's up to you to get the benefit from such projects.

A Day In The Life Of A Commuting Student

I am one of that rare, odd and unique group of people who are called Day Students. Yes, I am seldom seen except in class, I am referred to as "Who's that, never saw her before."

The life of a commuter is a hard one, but it has its advantages. My day begins at seven o'clock in the morning and is worked on a tight schedule. I crawl out of bed and go downstairs for a cup of coffee. While leisurely enjoying my coffee and listening to the radio, I happen to glance at the clock. 7:45 already! An eight o'clock class to make and still not dressed! I gulp the rest of my coffee and jump into my clothes. If there is some kind of record out for getting dressed, I'm willing to bet I've beat it. At ten of eight, with a piece of toast in my hand and an armload of books I start out to school.

Because I'm unfortunate to be within walking distance of the school, my dad says the exercise is good for me and I can't have the car. On cold and windy mornings it seems that some kind soul would have pity on me and offer me a lift, but that only happens on bright, warm sunny days when I enjoy the walk. I must admit, however, that the walk wakes me up with a vengence and I don't have the slightest urge to fall asleep in my eight o'clock classes.

With an hour break for my second breakfast in the snack bar, the morning goes with its customary slowness. At noon I stand in line at the snack bar (my second home) until around 12:30, when I finally get to order my food. At one o'clock it's time for a class or a lab, which keeps me busy till late afternoon. I then race home, grab a sandwich on the fly and then it's up to school for me again, to the library, or to the gym for a game.

Sure, I'm never on campus. Just all the time, that's all. Of course I am envied by the people living in the dorm in some respects. I don't have to wait until the holidays to see my family and my boyfriend. I can watch television in my spare time. And I

ANNUAL BAND CONCERT, MARCH 15, FEATURES CRAMER AS OBOE SOLOIST

This coming Friday, March 15th, the annual concert of the Susquehanna University Concert Band will be presented in Seibert Chapel at 8:15 p. m. This concert will be the seventh annual concert under the direction of Dr. John R. Leach, associate professor of music.

The program which has been selected includes a variety of styles and types of compositions ranging from the music of Bach to the music of present day. Included in the program will be such favorites as the "Norwegian Dance No. 2" by Grieg, "Pavane" by Ravel, and "Stardust" by Hoagy Carmichael. Familiar marches to be played include "On the Mall" by Goldman and "Independentia" by Hall.

The major compositions on the program are all original works for band or wind instruments. They include the "Finale" from the "Symphony in B flat" by Paul Fauchet, the "Chorale and Alleluria" by Howard Hanson, and the "Trauersinfonie" by Richard Wagner. Other compositions to be performed are the "Mareh and Chorus" by Handel and chorales by Baeh and Wanger.

Featured soloist with the band this year will be Miss Lynne Cramer, oboist, who will play the "Sarabande" from the "Oboe Concerto" by Handel. Lynne is a junior music education student from Burlington, New Jersey. She is active in band, orchestra, chapel choir, and the Susquehanna Singers. She is also a member of Kappa Delta Sorority.

While in high school, Lynne played with both the band and orchestra and was a member of the Trenton Youth Symphony Orchestra and the Mt. Holly Community Band. She appeared in several district band festivals and was also a member of the all-state band and orchestra in New Jersey.

The members of the band have been rehearsing regularly since last December in order to present an outstanding concert to the public on this occasion. Susquehanna University students are admitted free to this concert.

Band Personnel includes:

Flute: Alice Ann Patterson, Mary Ann Heck, Nancy Boyer, Paul Rogers.

Dr. Rowland Myers To Lecture March 21 On Romance Of Words

"The Romance of Words" will be the subject of a lecture by Dr. Rowland M. Myers at 8:15 on Mareh 21 in Seibert Hall.

Dr. Myers, a native of Brooklyn, New York, and a graduate of Dartmouth College, received his Ph.D. degree in Romance languages and literature from the Johns Hopkins University. He was awarded an American Field Service Fellowship for study in French Universities by the Institute of International Education. He has also studied in Germany, Italy, Spain and Mexico.

In his unique lecture Dr. Myers presents a series of ordinary words and shows how they reflect the past history of man on this planet, his activities and his thoughts, his moments of confusion, his hopes and his fears.

According to Dr. Myers, words are like coins; the more they are used, the faster they wear down and change their form and meaning. He predicts that some day everyone in the world will speak the same tongue, using a universal language which will evolve from existing languages.

He tells stories about the origins of words and reveals how they have been formed in the past and are actually being formed today. He explains how it happens that originally knickers meant "clay marbles", seersucker meant "milk and sugar", that tuxedo is in reality a "wolf's paw" and that biceps muscle actually means a "two-headed little mouse".

Dr. Myers believes that a word can be a great power for good and evil and that words are very important weapons in life, no matter what one does for a living.

Bought your Easter outfit yet? On Saturday, March 16, at 2:00 p. m. in the Little Theater the Kappa Delta Sisters will give you a preview of the Spring's coming attraetions in fashion. Spring suits, sports clothes, formal attire, and accessories will adorn the girls as they parade through the park on the stage of the Little Theater. The Easter Sunday scene will be further enhanced by the appearance of Phi Mu Delta, Theta Chi, and Lambda Chi boys as escorts.

Silver Donations will be accepted for the Kappa Delta philanthropy, the Crippled Children's Home in Richmond, Virginia.

The clothes appearing in the preview may be purchased at stores in Selinsgrove and nearby Sunbury.

Refreshments will be served by Kappa Deltas immediately following the fashion show.

The Highway of Life

Thump thump, Thump thump, Thump thump
The monotonous beat of the concrete slabs
Mile upon mile of harled rhythm
Thump thump, thump Thump, thump Thump

I am racing toward my destination
Why do I strive for my destination?
Others are speeding the other way
Why am I going where they came from?

A Time For Improvement

The Lenten season is definitely a time for improvement. Many of us admit this fact, but then do little about it. It can be compared to church on a Sunday morning, when too many of us attend simply because, "it's the proper thing to do." We "observe" Lent, but do we really "keep" Lent?

True, many of us make our usual statements: "I'm not eating candy during Lent. I've stopped smoking during the Lenten season." This is all very admirable, but usually we miss the whole idea of Lent through resolutions such as these. Our conception of Lent often ends with these statements. We have overlooked the basis of this devotional period—the time when Christ prepared the way to everlasting life for mankind.

Lent should be a time of introspection. We should really examine ourselves, especially our character and our outlook on life.

We may ask ourselves questions like these: "Am I considerate of others. or do I put myself first? Is the speech I use the type that would be a poor influence on others? Which way am I following, the material or the spiritual?"

Depriving ourselves of a certain food or drink may have a definite value. It is not the wrong thing to do during Lent. Christ deprived himself for 40 days of food and drink. Although we cannot do this, we may compare our few sacrifices to those of Christ. However, what happens as soon as Easter arrives? We immediately revert to our original habits, probably much more anxiously than before.

Let us, instead, establish the temporal attitude which Christ taught. We may eat moderately, get more sleep, or establish the "church-going" attitude. These are habits which we can carry over much longer than 40 days. They can form the basis for a better character, that will remain with us all our lives. These weeks should be the foundation of a lasting improvement.

This do in remembrance of me. This do that ye might have everlasting life.

Figures that add up to benefits for you

Some time ago we told you in this column that "the sooner you start, the lower the premium...the greater the benefits."

To demonstrate, let's look at some actual figures for a $5,000 endowment policy which matures at age 65 —

Age	Annual Premium	Money You Get at 65*	Profit Over Premiums	Years Protected
20	$100.00	$8,408.10	$3,908.10	45
25	117.60	7,937.60	3,233.60	40
30	140.65	7,516.40	2,593.65	35
35	171.90	7,066.20	1,909.20	30
40	215.65	6,649.60	1,258.35	25

* If dividends (at present rate) are left to accumulate.

Yes, whether you consider profit, protection or premium payment, you benefit when you start young. Get a head-start today — write . . .

THE HIGHWAY OF From P. 1

On my way I catch glimpses of people
They might as well be trees
What are they? Who are they? Why?
I do not know. . . nor care

The highway runs rought or smooth
I leave the route and return
Detour, poor map, side interests
Downgrades and up and then down

Sometimes I reach the brow of a hill
Where the vista lies sunny ahead
Or I grind through the tangles of forests
The motor racing with anguish

Thump thump, now back on the high road
Pushing as hard as I can
And the weariness slowly creeps o'er me
Thump thump, Thump thump, Thump thump.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Recent evidence of facial vegetation on any of those among the brotherhood, may be interpreted as his preparation for the traditional "Hobo-Dance"; the sight may be somewhat sickening, but who's to complain?

A couple of "rah rahs" are due Lambda Chi's intramural basketball squad; who not only achieved the intramural "B-ball" championship, but did it without a single loss. Lambda Chi, so far, is beating a confident path toward the Stagg Trophy (again).

Now that the spotlight has turned away from varsity basketball, we would like to request a "curtain call"; and give another deserving round of applause to the entire Crusader cast.

The brothers wish to employ that age-old word, "congratulations"; and present it to brother Dick Purnell for being named to the All-Lambda Chi Alpha Football Team.

Speaking of dances (and who was?), those brothers who attended the Tau Kappa dance Saturday night relate that the "Moon-glo" was a very successful occasion. Thanks, girls.

With the fantastic amount of equipment being supplied by brother Ray Yeingst, and with the competent instruction of brother Vern Hoover; the "Royal Game of Chess" (as it says on the box-cover) appears to be the latest house fad. (Your move, Joe.)

Before departing, just a word (any old word?) of praise to Lambda Chi's second-string basketball team for its curt court capers.

PHI MU DELTA NEWS

The brothers of Mu Alpha chapter wish to thank Tau Kappa for their fine dance on Saturday night. Though the moon didn't glow very much outside, it did inside the gym with "Moonglo" as the theme of the affair. Everyone present enjoyed themselves immensely dancing to the music of the "Nu-Tones," and just socializing. The girls really provided a great wind-up to the weekend "Play-Day" sports events.

Mu Alpha takes this opportunity to extend heartiest congratulations to brother President Frank Chango for his outstanding performance in the lead role of "Tom" in the Harrisburg Community Theater's production of the provocative play "Tea and Sympathy." Frank has been seen here on campus in the Susquehanna Players' productions of Macbeth; as Romeo in Romeo and Juliet; and Laertes in Hamlet.

Theb rothers were pleased to note the appearance of brother Bob Artz as guest vocalist on "Nightbeat," Don James' (Theta Chi) disc jockey show over WKOK radio in Sunbury. We congratulate Bob for his fine performance, and hope to hear more of him in the future.

I will now make myself as small as possible and offer humble apologies to brother Harry Haney for neglecting to mention his fine portrayal in "Time Limit." So—belated, but most hearty, congratulations to Harry for his performance as a prisoner-of-war, which was most realistic to say the least.

Although the Black and Orange court team wound up in second position, the brotherhood offers congratulations for their great play on the hardwoods this past season. Now that the weather is warming up a bit, the crack of the bat will be heard all over the S. U. campus and the "great American pastime" will be in full swing. Phi Mu Delta looks to one of its best seasons in many a year.

THETA CHI NEWS

Since brevity is the soul of wit and tediousness the limbs and outward flourishes, the column this week will be brief.

The Moonglo dance presented by Tau Kappa provided a charming evening on Saturday last. All the brothers enjoyed it mightily.

Spring training has already begun in the Florida baseball camps. It's still a little early however for predictions. Brother Kisslak claims the team to watch this year is the Pittsburgh Pirates. Of course he has been saying this for the last ten years. Guess the only thing to do is "watch them" since it is doubtful if anyone could root for them.

Theta Chi played a basketball game last Friday with a team brought down by alumnus Carl Winey. This pleased everybody as it gave all the brothers a chance to play; of course the score pleased Carl! We hope to see them back many more times in the near future.

On our way out we want to remind everyone of the Band Concert on Friday evening. See you there.

Fut thought for the week: A thought in passing. . . what is moral is what you feel good after, what is immoral is what you feel bad after. . . if you have an immoral mind all you will see is immorality.

Campus Spotlights

CARLETTA CHUBB

The spotlight this week turns to Carletta Chubb, a liberal arts senior majoring in math and minoring in biology. Carletta calls Richfield, which is only seventeen miles from S. U., her home. She attended Greenwood Joint High School where she was editor of the yearbook and a member of mixed choruses. Upon graduation she received Amercian Chemistry Society Award along with other chemistry and math awards and graduated at the top of the class.

Carletta carried her interest in extra-curricular activities and good sportsmanship with her to S. U. In her four years here at S. U. she has been a member of the Biemic Society, S.C.A., treasurer of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority, on the F. T. A. executive committee, proofreader for the Susquehanna, Judiciary Committee, Counsellor of Hassinger Hall, Vice-president's Council, Orientation Committee, a participant and assistant in May Day for three years, and also has secured a place on Dean's List. One thing which many of us may not be aware of is that for three years Carletta has been the "cut" recorder as the dean's assistant.

As an active member in her church in Richfield it is not surprising that she recently has been chosen to serve as Deacon of the Evangelical and Reformed Church of Richfield.

Carletta is at present putting to use her interest in people and experiences in her many activities as a practice teacher of chemistry, math and biology at Middleburg Joint High School.

Sorority News

ALPH ADELTA PI NEWS

Gamma Omicron enjoyed the music of S. U.'s "Nu Tones" at the "Moon-Glo" dance, sponsored by Tau Kappa, in the gymnasium.

F.T.A. held their elections last week. Congratulations to all the new officers and especially to Sister Eeanor Pourron, who is the new treasurer.

A play-day on Saturday afternoon by the W.A.A. Dickinson and Lycoming were the opponents of S. U. in basketball and volleyball. Worth noting were some outstanding performances on the court in both sports by Sisters Nancy Altland, Bobbie Hewitt, Sandy Meyer, Gladys Ransom, Anne Reynolds, Joan Shetterly, Jan Smith and pledge Nancy Bricker. Also thanks to sisters Jeanette Cooley, Ruth Ann Ulsh, Jill Fuller, Joy Klingler and Thema Rosetti, who did the job of feeding and entertaining the guests. In a "dry bones" specialty, with Sisters Carol Daily, Sue Bates, Janet Rohrbach and Julie Stauffer supplying the musical background, Sister Kate Henry lent her terpsichorean talents to a skeleton. It was a successful day and all the sisters who took part thoroughly enjoyed it.

The Alpha Delt actives noticed something unusual when they entered the sorority room last week. It was the unique table which pledges Bonnie, Izzy, Nancy, Stephie and Jan were responsible for redoing. Pledge president Ginny Alexander added an "expensive" touch to the table after her accident with it. Thank you, pledges.

All the ADPis who attended the "Fastnacht" really enjoyed it. There should be more informal get-togethers such as this for the students.

KAPPA DELTA NEWS

You can tell it is March by the way the people hurry around campus hanging on to their coats and scarves. As the week progressed and the people scurried from building to snack bar to building, they took time out and stopped in on the notable events of the week. The intellectual minded trotted to Steele Science for an enjoyable evening of brain washing.

Others were blown to the Library to snore through the reference books in a confused state of mind. Those classified as mesomorphs tested their patience on the hardboards as the brothers against pledges and sisters against pledges enthusiastically used up their excess energy.

There is always the group having caught up with the latest of everything from gossip to movies find nothing else to do but to pound the parchment for a few hours. You've noticed also the ones who disappeared for awhile Tuesday night in the depths of Seibert Social Rooms to enjoy Doughnut Day.

In the daily trend of events the candle burned late in some of the sisters' rooms as they worked and slaved over cardboard and paint. They seemed engrossed as they produced one poster after another to warn the outsiders of the big and important spotlight in the future, the KD Fashion Show. It will be held on March 16th at 2:00 in the Little Theater.

As the week drew to a close many weary souls dropped home from the Tau Kappa Dance holding on to tiny bits of "Moonglo" to tack on their bulletin boards, in memorium.

SAI NEWS

Congratulations to Tau Kappa for their very nice "Moonglo" Saturday evening. All the sisters attending had a very enjoyable evening, dancing to the music of the Nu-Tones.

Sunday evening the Chapel Choir presented a program in the Lutheran Church in Yeagertown. Sisters Mary Ellen Harrington and Denece Newhard were soloists.

Friday evening is the Band concert under the direction of Dr. John Leach with Lynne Cramer as oboe soloist. The concert wil be in Seibert Chapel beginning at 8:15 P. M. Hope to see everyone at the annual concert!

Friday afternoon a group of music students presented an assembly program for the Northumberland High School. Sister Denece Newhard presented a soprano solo, accompanied by Mary Davis and sister Mary Moore accompanied Eleanor Hinkle.

FEMININE "PISAN" BUCKETS 14; CRUSADERETTES TIE FOR SECOND

Alumni gym was the scene of much action on Saturday afternoon, March 9, when the S. U. girls played hostess to volleyball and basketball teams from Dickinson and Lycoming Colleges.

Volleyball saw S. U. defeated by Dickinson, 26-14, and Lycoming, 18-16. Lycoming fell into the hands of Dickinson, 46-8.

S. U.'s cagerettes triumphed over Lycoming in basketball, 21-15. Carol Duncan was high-scorer with 10 of S. U.'s markers. Dickinson's challenge with S. U. saw S. U. defeated 33-24. S. U. again was aided by the help of Carol Duncan with her 14 points. Dickinson defeated Lycoming 30-13.

After the games the girls were entertained in the Seibert social rooms with hula interpretations by Terry Feliciano and a "Dry Bones" number by Catherine Henry and the octet. Refreshments were served.

Friday evening, March 8, saw the members of Tau Kappa sorority and their patronesses at Stover's Bowling Center. After rolling two games the bowlers were entertained at The Cottage, where Miss McDowell and Miss Heinly were hostesses. Delicious refreshments were served, and everyone spent a most enjoyable evening.

The latest round of girls' intramural basketball games ran as follows: team 8 over 4, 22-7; team 5 over 9, 24-12; team 8 over 6,23-7; team 11 over 3, 26-12; team 2 over 12, 13-6; and teams 1 over 11, 3 over 9, and 4 over 10, all by forfeit. This week team 7 (Nancy Eiserman, captain) and team 5 (Bev Hofecker, captain) met in a contest. Until that time both teams were undefeated. At the closing whistle, however, the score was 22-16, in favor of team 5.

Don't forget! The members of Tau Kappa and W.A.A. are still selling sandwiches in the dorms (girls') on Sunday evening at 10. Price—$.20. They're good, too! !

Lambda Chi Alpha Captures IM Loop

Lambda Chi Alpha completed an undefeated basketball campaign and annexed their ninth consecutive intramural trophy. The Bunders have won every intramural championship since the Track Meet of 1955. The Green Wave is also undefeated on the basketball court in the last two years.

The final triumph came at the expense of Phi Mu Delta last Wednesday night. The Orange & Black finished in second place.

The first string of the champions is considered to be the strongest and best balanced quintet in the Bunders' history. Jim Stone and Jim Bortle provide the necessary backboard strength and scoring punch. Dick Cahn was the team's playmaker as well as the best shot. Veryl Milroy provided the spark when the chips were down. Coach Jim Keiser and Bob Lewis alternated in rounding out the cage machine. The entire team is made up of sophomores and juniors which means the opposition will have a job cut out for themselves next year.

Here are the final standings of both halves and the points for the Amos Alonzo Stagg Trophy.

SPORTS SHORTS

By GEORGE POSPISIL

This is a bad time for a sports editor. Basketball is over and baseball has not yet started. But it won't be long till we hear the crack of the bat and the cry of "play ball". The pitchers and catchers are starting warm-up drills in the gym under the watchful eye of Coach Dick Hummel. The first game is at home against Lebanon Valley on April 6.

The draft choices for the National Basketball Association are in the offing and the St. Louis Hawks have expressed a definite interest in Frank Romano. We are all awaiting the publishing of the Little All-America team; Frank has an excellent chance of being selected.

The Intramural Volleyball League will get underway in the very near future. Lambda Chi Alpha is the defending champion. They lost only one match last year to Theta Chi for a record of 14 wins and 1 loss.

Here are the final Varsity Basketball statistics.

"Midsummer Night" Comes Early to S. U.

Spring is on its way, and the Susquehanna Players will properly welcome the season with their annual Shakespearean production from April 1-11. This year the "Players" will present what many consider "The Bard's" most beautiful play—A Midsummer Night's Dream. The cast of characters is as follows:

Thesus, duke of Athens
James Middleswarth
Egeus, father of Hermia
Charles Rovenolt
Lysander ..... Frank Chango
Demetrius ..... Ronald Anthony
Quince, a carpenter .. Vance Maneval
Bottom, a weaver .. John Brokenshire
Flute, a bellows-mender
Allan Hazen
Snout, a tinker ..... Daniel Marvin
Snug, a joiner ..... George Cawley
Starveling, a tailor .. Donald Winey
Hippolyata, bethrothed to Thesus
Judi Anderson
Herunia ..... Joan Heslop
Helena ..... Thiry Reamer
Oberon ..... William Hand
Titania ..... Betty Ann Ormond
Puck ..... Frank Stuggart
Spirit ..... Barbara Boob
Cindy Smith

We'd like to tell you a little about the play, but the four plots running through it, and connecting in spots, only complicate matters. So we urge you to see the fine cast, directed by Mr. Axel Kleinsorg, go rollicking through one of William Shakespeare's most delightful comedies.

State Agency Offers Job Opportunities

Robert L. Connolley, Manager of the Sunbury Pennsylvania State Employment Office announces that March 22, 1957 at 4:00 p. m., has been set aside at Susquehanna University in Room Bogar 103 for the recruitment of camp and resort workers.

Numerous summer job opportunities will be available and will be discussed, particularly for Camp Counselors. Dean Russell Galt urges all of the students who are interested to discuss summer jobs.

Church Workers Visit Campus

For the past two days S. U. has been host to three visiting missionaries. The purpose of their visit to our campus was to meet informally with the students and to discuss the world mission program of the church.

The Sunday evening vesper service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Gerald Currens, missionary in Liberia. Following the service, an informal reception was held in the Social Rooms, during which time students and faculty had an opportunity to speak with Pastor Currens, and also meet Miss Ruth Sigmon, missionary in India ,and the Rev. Mr. Andrew Ellis, missionary in Japan.

Each of the guests told of his work and life as a church worker in lands which are basically non-Christian. For instance, did you know that in Japan only one-half of one percent of the people are Christians?

The chapel service Monday was conducted by Pastor Ellis, who told of his work with students in Japan. A new procedure of service has been initiated in the Japanese mission field —that of any college graduate spending a special term of only two and a half years as an instructor in conversational English in the mission high school. This is a relatively new system, and provides an excellent opportunity for any young person interested in the work of the church abroad.

In addition to meeting the students in chapel, our guests were classroom visitors, and were also available in the lounge for an informal chat.

On Monday afternoon a coffee hour was held in the lounge. This was another opportunity for the students to become acquainted with our guests.

S. U. Applauds Band Concert

Friday evening, March 15, the Susquehanna University Concert Band, under the direction of Dr. John Leach, presented the annual spring concert. The program was enthusiastically received by an ample crowd. Soloist for the concert was Miss Lynne Cramer, who played the "Sarabande" from Handel's oboe concerto.

Handel's "March and Chorus" from Judas Maccabaeus was the opening number on the program. "Come, Sweet Death," by Johann Sabastian Bach followed.

There were three numbers on the program which were written specifically for a band or wind ensemble such as the Susquehanna University Band. The first of these to be performed was the "Finale" from Fauchet's Symphony in B-Flat. The second of these was the "Trauersinfonie," a work by Wagner consisting of funeral music based on vonWeber's Eurpanthe. The "Chorale and Alleluia" by Howard Hanson was the third of these three numbers. This last is a very recent work, which was included among the selections for the All-State Inter-Collegiate Band last year as well as for the All-State High School Band this year.

Other numbers on the program included Grieg's "Norwegian Dance No. II", Wagner's "Awake" from Die Meistersinger, and Ravel's "Pavane". In a lighter vein, the band presented Hoagy Carmichael's ever - popular "Star Dust".

No band concert is complete without marches, and this concert was no exception. "Independentia", by R. B. Hall was the opening number for the second half of the program. Marches of the late Edwin Franko Goldman were well represented, with the "Parade March No. 1" closing the first half on the concert. Goldman's most famous march, "On the Mall" was the closing number. The band presented as an encore the "Trombone Special" by Don Keller. Trombonists Daniel Heintzelman, William Woellkers,, Carolann Zust, and David Diehl were featured in this encore.

Following the concert there was a reception in Seibert Social Parlors for members of the band, as well as their friends and parents.

MUSIC NOTES

The band under the direction of Dr. John Leach presented one of the finest concerts heard at Susquehanna in many a year. The comments by the audience were very favorable and the only criticism was that the program was not long enough. This fact showed the interest and enthusism of the audience.

This Friday, March 22, Gloria Myers, soprano; and Mary Moore and Carolyn Gillaspie, duo-pianists, will present a joint-student recital in Seibert Chapel at 8:15 p. m. The girls are juniors in the music department and are sisters of Sigma Alpha Iota, national honorary music fraternity for women. Their program will include early English, French, Italian, and German songs for voice and classical and contemporary music for four hand piano.

Six students, Carolann Zust and Gloria Myers, sopranos; Alice Ann Patterson and Janet Gordon, altos; William Aspray, tenor; and Richard Kisslak, bass, will leave for Millersville State Teachers College Saturday morning, March 23, to participate in the annual Inter-collegiate Choral Festival. The conductor this year will be F. Melius Christiansen of the St. Olaf School of Music. After three days of continual rehearsals the chorus will present their concert Monday evening, March 25. The choral music chosen this year is a composite of sacred, folk and contemporary styles.

Mysterious Steele Opened To Public

On Monday evening, March 18, 1957, the Biomic Society sponsored an open house at Steele Science Hall. The building was open from 7:00 to 10:00 p. m. and all students and faculty members who attended had an enjoyable evening.

In the department of biology, demonstrations were given in such fields as physiology, anatomy, histology, genetics, embryology and botany. Those who attended had an opportunity to see the live embryo of a chick, the beating heart of a frog, and other physiological phenomena. Blood typing and blood counting were also demonstrated.

The chemistry department provided demonstrations in the fields of general chemistry, qualitative analysis, quantitative analysis, physical chemistry, and biochemistry. Scientific instruments and machinery of all types were open for inspection.

In the physics department, geiger counters and Wilson Cloud Chambers stole the show as interested bystanders watched the radioactive particles streak across the screen.

In addition to the above, demonstrations in other fields were also staged and everyone who attended enjoyed an exciting eucation evening.

Pi Gamma Mu Hears Policeman

Thursday evening March 14, the monthly meeting of Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary social science fraternity, was held at the Phi Mu Delta fraternity house. Prof. Robert Meader was in charge of arrangements for the meeting, which was opened to anyone interested.

The guest speaker was Corporal Leo G. Armbruster of the Pennsylvania State Police, who is stationed at the Montoursville barracks. Corporal Armbruster, who has done extensive public relations work for the State Police, spoke on the history, methods, and organization of the constabulary. After his very interesting and informative talk, Corporal Armbruster answered questions from those present, and added some interesting sidelights from his personal experience of twenty years service with the organization. Those attending the meeting were most impressed with the fact that the Pennsylvania State Police are considered the finest in the United States, and have their methods studied by police officers from many states and nations.

The next meeting of Pi Gamma Mu will be held on April 11, and will feature a student panel under the direction and moderation of Dr. Lyder Unstad. Formal initiation of students admitted to membership in the second semester will also be observed.

Summer Directory Gives Positions

To answer the needs of students and educators, The Advancement and Placement Institute announces publication of the Second 1957 Edition of The World-Wide Summer Placement Directory. The Directory, prepared as an aid to those who wish new ideas for ways to earn while they vacation, was so enthusiastically received and the demand was so great that a second edition in greatly expanded form has been prepared.

The new Directory gives descriptions of the type of work available with names and addresses of employers regularly needing additional summer employees. Included are government positions, dude ranches, travel tour agencies abroad, work camps, service projects national parks, summer camps and resorts, career trainee opportunities, study awards all over the world and many others. Opportunities are presented from all 48 states and more than 20 foreign countries.

At the request of many students, a special new section has been added to the second edition for those students wishing to use their summer in trainee programs for future career opportunities. Positions are available in hundreds of firms in more than forty fields of business, industry, government, science, recreation and education.

The World-Wide Summer Placement Directory is the result of five years of research by the staff of The Advancement and Placement Institute which is a professional advisory and advancement service in the field of education.

Additional information may be obtained by writing to the Intitute at Box 99C, Greenpoint Station, Brooklyn 22, New York.

MEYERS TO SPEAK WORDS ON WORDS

On Thursday evening at 8:15 p. m. Dr. Rowland Myers will lecture on "The Romance of Words".

With the proper use of words, one can paint a vivid, sometimes beautiful picture, but most of us do not know how these words came into use. New words are constantly coming into use as Dr. Myers will tell us.

How have words acquired their usage, their pronunciation, etc.? These questions will be answered Thursday evening.

Dr. Myers' lecture promises to be an interesting one. Will you be there?

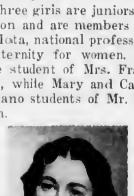
Myers, Moore, and Gillaspie to Perform In Joint Student Recital, Friday Night

This Friday evening a joint student recital will be given by Gloria Myers, soprano, and Mary Moore and Carolyn Gillaspie, a 4-hand piano team in Seibert Chapel at 8:15 p. m.

All three girls are juniors in music education and are members of Sigma Alpha Iota, national professional music fraternity for women. Gloria is a voice student of Mrs. Frances Alterman, while Mary and Carolyn are both piano students of Mr. Frederick Billman.



GLORIA MYERS

Gloria came to S. U. from York, Pa. and is a graduate of Red Lion High School where she was active in music, student government, and journalistic activities. In 1954 she was awarded a superior in the state music Forensic contests. Her voice teacher in York was Mrs. Beatrice Showalter Hess. Here at S. U. she has been active in the chapel choir, concert band, motet choir, marching band, orchestra, SCA, a reporter for the Susquehanna, and Susquehanna Singers. Last year she was a member of the Pennsylvania Inter-Collegiate Chorus, and is a member again this year.

MARY MOORE

Mary is a graduate of Chambersburg High School, and while there she accompanied all of the choral music organizations, was a member of Tri-Hi-Y, and president of the French club. Mary's piano teacher in Chambersburg was Miss Katherine Sierer. Here at S. U. she is a member of the chapel choir, concert and marching bands, SCA, Susquehanna Singers, and last year served as piano accompanist for the Mozart opera, The Impressario. Mary is also the accompanist for Gloria's portion of the recital.

Carolyn is a graduate of Altoona High School and was a very active student. She was a member of various school choral groups, FTA, and served as class executive committee member. Carolyn studied piano in Altoona with Mrs. Jeanette Charters and Mr. Robert Kelley. Here at S. U. she is a member of the chapel choir, marching band, Susquehanna Singers, motet choir, SCA, news editor of the Susquehanna FA president-elect, and a member of the Junior class executive committee. Last year she was a member of the Pennsylvania Inter-Collegiate Chorus.

ESTABLISHED 1894

Published weekly throughout the school year, with the exception of Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter and Semester holidays, at a subscription rate of $2.50 a year.

SPRING HAS SPRUNG

The students of Susquehanna have long listened to exhortations from high places about 'cutting campus,' and otherwise destroying the tender, little blades of grass which "will soon be appearing." By virtue of these words of advice the great majority of students have refrained from trampling the greenery of S. U. The 'campus-cutters,' fortunately, are in the minority.

Now, since most of the student body is kind enough to take the advice to heart, why can't the dispersers of the words also "KEEP OFF THE GRASS!". . .? There is absolutely no reason to exhort students continually to keep the campus beautiful when a little green truck can be seen rolling along over the spacious lawns of S. U., or a little red tractor "draggin' a wagon" is glimpsed digging furrows in the greensward. Then there is the wonderful little snowplow that does a tremendous job of digging "drainage ditches" alongside the walks that the students may step in should they accidentally step from the paved surface.

Last, but not least, is that marvelous little bit of inventive genius that modern man knows as the steam-shovel. This imitation of a prehistoric monster is presently engaged in digging front-line slit-trenches for a forthcoming battle, or something of the sort. This bit of construction (?) may be necessary, but it certainly does not promise a nice picture for the upcoming Inter-fraternity-sorority sing, or the most important event of the year—Commencement. This is saving the grass? ?

I maintain, therefore, that these vehicles do a hundred—nay, a thousand—times more damage than even the heaviest-footed scholars. So, if it is not asking the impossible, the students would like to be removed from their burden of blame and have action taken in the right places. We, too, like a beautiful campus!

AH, SPRING!

"Spring is sprung, the grass is riz;
Great big holes, that's all there is."

The March lion is turning into a lamb and spring is here, complete with sunshine, birds, showers and bulldozers. Bulldozers? Yes, this year the Susquehanna campus isn't complete without a bulldozer or two, for great plans for the new Heilman Hall are going into effect. In order to erect a new building you must dig holes, and with the digging of holes the inner man of every student turns into a foreman of the job.

These sidewalk supervisors come of various sizes, shapes and types. There is the physics major who tries to explain to the operator of the steam shovel that for maximum efficiency his fulcrum of leverage should be at the top of Bogar Hall. There is the girl who spends her free time making eyes at the cute guy who stands all day with a water hose spraying the ditch. There is the business major who calculates that this same cute guy earns $7.50 an hour. We mustn't forget the brilliant young genius who asks such intelligent questions as "Would it hurt if you fell down into this hole?" The music student who complains that the steam shovel is running out of key and the bulldozer is in a calypso beat when it should be waltz should be pushed into the ditch to find out whether it would hurt.

I hear that the professors are asking the constructors for the secret of how they obtain such undivided concentration of the students, inside or outside of classrooms.

These ditches lead to occupational hazards for the students. If you cut campus you run the risk of being run over by a steam shovel, a bulldozer or Mr. Krapf. If you don't cut campus you have to either plow through three feet of mud or jump over a ditch.

Even though our lovely campus is temporarily spoiled, the work that is being done is fascinating, and it will serve as a diversion to the student body for a long time to come.

Figures that add up to benefits for you

Some time ago we told you in this column that "the sooner you start, the lower the premium...the greater the benefits."

To demonstrate, let's look at some actual figures for a $5,000 endowment policy which matures at age 65 —

Age	Annual Premium	Money You Get at 65*	Profit Over Premiums	Years Protected
20	$100.00	$8,408.10	$3,908.10	45
25	117.60	7,937.60	3,233.60	40
30	140.65	7,516.40	2,593.65	35
35	171.90	7,066.20	1,909.20	30
40	215.65	6,649.60	1,258.35	25

* If dividends (at present rate) are left to accumulate.

Yes, whether you consider profit, protection or premium payment, you benefit when you start young. Get a head-start today — write . . .

FRATERNITY ROW

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Let's begin by quieting all rumors that the Susquehanna River is being re-routed through S.U.'s campus. Those of you who have already fallen into the mid-campus gorge know to what I am referring; those of you who have not are the more fortunate. It has been somewhat of a delight to club around, from classroom to classroom, with four inches of fertile Pennsylvania soil cushioning every step. There had ben some consideration, by the steam-shovel operator, to erect bleachers at Bogar steps and to charge admission fee. But he didn't (as you probably realize).

The big Hobo Dance—with Wall Street Journals decorating walls and floor, hobo attire, etc.; was held Saturday night; the theme appeared to be a popular one (particularly by the brothers, who were not obligated to shave). Our guests, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Amy, Miss Leatrice Voorhees, and Dr. George Robinson are thanked for their attendance.

Practically in Lambda Chi's own back yard, the crack of the bat has become the primary afternoon sound. Baseball practice is the omen for another sports season rolling around. (How can a sports-season roll around?) A number of the brothers have donned their caps for pre-season practice.

Kappa Delta is to be congratulated for its fashion show. Among the escorts were Pledge-brothers, Tony Pupo and Don Lehmer; and Brothers Tony Grigalunas and—some other brother, whom I can't remember. (By all means, let's forget him).

Time to start cramming for those tests.

PHI MU DELTA NEWS

A belated happy St. Patrick's Day greeting to all, and we hope the "luck of the Irish" was with you.

Congratulations this week are in order for Dr. John Leach and his fine Susquehanna Concert Band for their outstanding performance on Friday night. The music was certainly well-chosen and artfully presented, and everyone present had nothing but favorable comments to offer. It was, without a doubt, one of the finest concerts we on campus have attended in our short stay here.

Mu Alpha chapter is pleased to note that a number of the brothers have landed roles in the forthcoming Shakespearean production of the Susquehanna Players. They are Frank Chango, Al Hazen, Bill Hand, Frank Stugart, and George Cawley. Pledges also appearing are Danny Marvin, Vance Maneval, Jim Middleswarth, and John Brokenshire.

This week in intramural sports witnessed the opening of the volleyball contests. By the time this schedule ends the grounds will be dry and intramural softball will be in full swing. The team looks extremely strong this year, and will go all out in competition for the trophy.

All fraternities have a slack week this week, but the campus will jump on Saturday night when the Soph Hop will be in session. Get your dates early, and plan to really make the Hop "hop".

Congratulations to Kappa Delta on their showing of the latest feminine fashions. Many thanks to the brothers who acted as escorts.

THETA CHI NEWS

Folks came to our house on Saturday night. Commemorating St. Patrick's Day, the pledges gave their annual pledge party. It proved to be one of the best presented by any pledge group. A theme of Green Shamrocks set the decoration motif. Appropriate refreshments were also served. Midway through the evening, the brothers presented Theta Chi Puppy Dogs to their dates. Absent in body, but present in voice was Brother Don James.

Congratulations go to all the pledges who helped to make the evening such an enjoyable one. While it would be impossible to mention everyone in this space, special applause go to Dick Ditmar and Bill Elmer and their fine decoration committee; D. C. (the construction man), D. W., J. S., E. S., B. F., C. S., and L. F. Added help was provided by R. S. and R. A. Thanks also to John Rowe, Ed Bollinger and Al Shaw for their tasty refreshments. The brothers send thanks and salutations to the pledges for a most happy evening. We should like to thank our chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Stagg, Mrs. Francis Alterman, and Mr. Lavan Robinson.

Brothers of Theta Chi are pleased to welcome as brothers of the Fraternity Messrs. Lawrence Culp, Donald Coleman, David Diehl, William Elmer, Melvyn Finkelstein, William Gelnett, Kenneth James, John Rowe, Carlton Smith, Raymond Stiller, Richard Tietbohl, Donald Winey, and Larry Wingard. We hope that they will find within us the fellowship and happiness which is now extended to them.

Congratulations to Dr. John Leach and all the members of the Concert Band for their fine concert. Congratulations to Lynne Cramer for her excellent solo performance. All the brothers enjoyed it mightily.

Felicitations go to Kappa Delta for their glamourous fashion show. Also to Mr. Lavan Robinson and the Chapel Choir for another successful tour to Glen Rock.

Fat thought for the week: from Kipling. . .

And only the Master shall praise us and only the Master shall blame.
And no one shall work for money and no one shall work for fame;
But each for the joy of the working. . .

BOOK NOOK From P. 1

On by Ruth E. Moore and The Last Hunch by Edwin O'Connor. Other books found on the list are on order. Some of these are Helen Keller by Van Wyck Brooks, New Lives for Old by Margaret Mead, The Power Elite by C. Wright Mills, Gallipoli by Alan Moorehead, Long Day's Journey Into Night by Eugene O'Neill, The American Presidency by Clinton L. Rossiter, The Public Arts by Gilbert Seldes, and Segregation: The Inner Conflict in the South by Robert Penn Warren.

The library is now receiving a new pamphlet entitled "Freedom Agenda." Its main purpose is to create better understanding for the American people of the fundamental principals of individual liberty and the role that American rights play in the maintenance of our system of constitution democracy.

CHURCH WORKERS From P. 1

Sponsored by the Foreign Mission Board of the United Lutheran Church, these three young people brought to us the need of well qualified missionaries to work for world-wide Christian partnership.

Sorority News

ALPHA DELTA PI NEWS

For an outstanding performance on Friday evening in the Chapel, the S. U. Concert Band is to be commended. We are proud to have Sisters Carol Daily and Anne Reynolds as members of this fine organization.

Spring is coming, and with spring comes Easter. This year the sisters of Gamma Omicron will be entertaining the underprivileged children of the Selinsgrove area early in April. This year the tots will take part in an "Easter Egg Hunt" on the campus.

"Coach" Posey Nelson is the sister calling the signals for the A.D.Pi's touch football team. The sisters are readying for the encounter with the Kappa Delts in the "Powder Puff Derby", sponsored by the green and white. Hold that line, K. D.!

Speaking of the Kappa Delts, the sisters of the blue and white offer K. D. congratulations for the exquisite fashion show on Saturday afternoon. Nice work for a worthy cause, Kappa Delta.

—S—

KAPPA DELTA NEWS

Have you bought your pogo stick yet? If not, order your special style and color through Mrs. Miller in the bookstore. Seriously though, one almost needs something to hop over the modern construction improvements being undertaken on campus. This unnormal deviation is an immense success with the male students as they hang out the windows and over the stairs to see what is being done and to predict what the little, well-paid man in the contraption will do next.

Even though many people had exams on Saturday, which seems completely out of the ordinary, they couldn't resist coming to the Band Concert Friday night. We are proud to be the sorority sisters of the oboe soloist, Lynne Cramer.

With fraternity escorts, flowers, and strutting fidos the Kappa Delta Fashion Show scored another success on Saturday afternoon in the Little Theater.

If you were a stranger in Selinsgrove Saturday night you might have thought it was Hallowe'en, but actually it was the annual Hobo Party at Lambda Chi Alpha. As the hobos and hoboists returned home they were met by the smiling faces of those coming from Theta Chi after a wonderful time.

NU SIGMA TAU NEWS

"Spring has sprung" as the old saying goes and it certainly has done just that this past week. Wouldn't it be nice if it would stay this way from now on. Maybe it will. Anyway everybody has been taking advantage of this chance to get away from "old man winter". So you should go out and enjoy spring while it lasts.

Have you noticed how muddy the halls and buildings have been lately. I wonder why? Since when could one machine do so much toward the unbeautifying of the campus? We hope to see everything back to normal within a very short time. However, the construction did give many of us an opportunity to become sideline supervisors.

The band concert on Friday night deserves no other title but "the best." Everbody deserves much credit and special mention goes to Lynne Cramer for her solo.

KD's fashion show Saturday afternoon was enjoyed by all that attended. We were given a varied preview of the types of clothes and outfits that are expected to make news this spring and summer. Also many ideas were given for Easter outfits. Spring must surely be here to stay.

The fraternity parties on Saturday night made a big hit with all the Nu Sigma's that attended. We always welcome any chance to get away from the books for a while.

This Thursday and Friday nights promise to be big ones around here. First, on Thursday is star course when Dr. Rowland Myers will be the speaker. Then on Friday is the joint student recital with Gloria Myers, Mary Moore and Carolyn Gillaspie featured. We hope to see a good crowd out for these events.

Here's something that I bet you didn't know about before: That on this day in 720 B. C. the first eclipse of the moon, on record, took place.

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA NEWS

Monday evening Sigma Omega held election of officers for the coming year. Sister Carolyn Gillaspie is the new president; Carolann Zust, vice-president; Denece Newhard, recording secretary; Janet Gordon, corresponding secretary; treasurer, Mary Davis; sgt. at arms, Janis Adams; chaplain, Mary Louise Neal, editor, Gloria Myers; accompanist, Mary Moore; and choral director, Alice Ann Patterson. Congratulations to all of them!

Bouquets of red roses to sisters Gloria Myers, soprano, and Mary Moore and Carolyn Gillaspie, 4-hand piano team, for their forthcoming joint student recital which will be held in Seibert Chapel on Friday evening, March 22 at 8:15 p. m. Hope to see everyone at the recital!

This coming week-end is the Pennsylvania Inter-Collegiate Choral Festival which will be held at Millersville S.T.C. with Paul Christiansen, of Concordia Choir fame as guest conductor. Sisters Gloria Myers, Janet Gordon, Carolann Zust, and Alice Ann Patterson will be among those representing S. U.

Sister Gloria Myers and Pledge Nancy Kendall performed solos with the Chapel Choir at its Sunday evening appearance in Zion Lutheran church in Glen Rock, Pa. Gloria sang "Sweet Little Boy" and Nancy performed "Meditation" from Thais as her violin seletcion. Sister Mary Ellen Harrington was also soloist with the choir in Schuber's "Omnipotence".

Congratulations to Dr. John Leach and the concert Band for their very excellent concert Friday evening! Special congratulations to Lynne Cramer for her very fine rendition of the "Sarabande" from the Handel Oboe Concerto as the soloist for the concert! The instruments blended well to give a dynamic, vital interpretation of each selection.

Congratulations also to Kappa Delta for their fine fashion show on Saturday afternoon. The lovely clothes made us all wish for large bank accounts for Spring finery!

A red rose to Sister Barbara Boob who will appear as a spirit in the Shakespearean festival production of A Midsummer Night's Dream which will be held in early April.

SPORTS SHORTS

By GEORGE POSPISIL

I thought I would acquaint the freshmen with our baseball team. Also refresh the memories of the upperclassmen.

Last season the diamond men compiled a record of 4 wins and 10 defeats, not very impressive. It should be a different story this season. Coach Dick Hummel has 14 veterans from last year's team, including 6 regulars, returning. The greatest loss through graduation was Bob Gulick, the hard-hitting midget first baseman, as he was known. Bob hit .333 and played good ball at the infield sack. Bob Fiscus played behind Gulick last year and got one hit for five at bats; he will have the inside track in the battle for first base.

At the keystone sack (that's second base for you laymen) we have a three year veteran returning. George Schlueterer made the starting nine in his Freshman year and has played steadily since. George had a fine season two years ago hitting .314, but last year he slumped and could manage only .186 including a home run.

The shortstop last year was Gordie Thompson, the best hitter on the team without a doubt. Gordie hit .345 in his first year and .383 last year, which adds up to a .368 career average. Gordie can pitch when called upon, so he may be splitting mound chores with a few games in the outfield.

The third baseman is Gerry Herbster, the team's leading home run hitter. Gerry hit .294 in his Freshman year and .217 last year. He plays a steady hot corner and has a rifle arm.

Jim Stone is the centerfielder. Jim is a lefthanded power hitter. He hung up a .282 average last season. He can really fire a ball to home plate when the occasion demands it; and he has the distinction of being the only regular without an error on his record. Stone can double as a pitcher, too.

In left field, Bob Lewis claims dominion. Although Lewis is primarily a catcher he was shifted to the outfield in midseason. As a catcher in his first year, he hit .263. Last year playing mostly in left field he hit .275. Bob committed only 3 errors last year.

Stan Shilling and Jim White battle for the right field position. Shilling is a good fielder but a weak sticker. He hit .133 in his second year and .071 last year. He is one of the two seniors on the squad. Jim White's story is about the same. He hit only .074 last year, but played good defensive ball.

Squatting behind the plate we find Joe Barlow. Joe was a bench warmer when the season started, but hustled his way into the first string catching job. He couldn't find the range at the plate last year hitting .125, but he made it up in hustle and spirit. Joe has a shotgun arm to second base, and if need be he can chuck a few innings.

The returnees that will be battling to break into the starting lineup are Gene Witiak and infielder who hit .273 last year; Les Rudisill, outfielder, got one for five last season; and Lanny Thomas another infielder who had only one time-at-bat but that was a solid single.

Now we turn to the all-important pitchers. John Rodkey who was the most effective pitcher last year will not be returning. That leaves a big hole in the mound corps. Finding a pitcher or two or three is Coach Hummels biggest job.

The returning hurlers are Milan Kratzer and Ron Fleming. Kratzer pitched 27 innings last year and allowed 22 runs and 19 hits, he won one game and lost three. Fleming pitched 21 frames and gave up 17 runs and 25 hits.

The overall picture looks good, but could turn out disastrously if there is no help in the pitching department. A long range prediction shapes up like this: 5 wins 9 losses. With several of the losses by one or two runs.

Remember the first game is on April 6.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

A large number of girls' intramural basketball games were scheduled for this past week. However, very few of theme were actually played. The phrase "It's a forfeit!" was one heard frequently in the past few days. What is the point of this reminder? Just this: girls' intramurals were begun in and for the interest of the women on campus. As each sport opens the enthusiasm is fine—everyone turns out. But, as the tournament progresses, teams grow smaller and smaller, until there are not enough players for a game. The "I'm not interested" attitude crops up.

Basketball will be ending soon, and sometime this week the list will be posted for intramural badminton. This tournament will consist of doubles only. Please think twice before you sign up. If you feel you will lose interest after a game or two, why sign up in the first place? In the future girls who sign up for a sport and then do not participate actively will be dropped from the competition.

SONNET III

The wind whips clouds across the sky
tonight;
The moon rides valiantly her patch of blue;
But evil forces do not honor light;
Soon webs of vapor dark the orb subdue.

On other nights the moon supreme does shine,
Pervading all the heavens with glowing mist;
Legions of lesser lights adorn her shrine,
And all the earth is whitest balm is kissed.

You are my light, the lantern of my soul,
Whose glory brightens blissful heights
of joy;
But when the evil clouds between us roll
They all the happiness of life destroy.

If light should end, the world's hope would die;
If aught to you should happen, so would I.

Campus Spotlights

Doug Smith

The Susquehanna spotlight this week focuses on Doug Smith, a senior in the Liberal Arts curriculum, majoring in mathematics.

Doug was graduated from Irvington High School in New Jersey, and was very active in many school organizations, including the marching band and the concert band.

Here on the S. U. campus Doug divides his valuable time among many student activities. He is a member of Phi Mu Delta fraternity and serves as its very capable chaplain, as well as claiming membership in SCA, FTA, Biemic Society, Susquehanna Players, Alpha Psi Omega, Phi Kappa Phi, and the Pre-Theological Club. Doug served as business manager of the Lanthorn, on the Freshman Orientation committee, and the May Day committee in his years at Susquehanna. He also plays a fine drum in both the marching and concert bands and has played in the concert orchestra.

In addition to his major in math, Doug is also preparing for the ministry and plans to attend seminary after graduation. He hopes, too, to go on to graduate school and obtain his doctorate. Doug is almost finished at Susquehanna, and we take this opportunity to wish him the best of luck in his future life.

Campus Spotlights

Marion Drumheller

The beam of the spotlight this week is turned toward one who is the quiet admiration of many. In prelude to Marion's college life, we turn back to the first few pages where we find she originates from Rebuck, Pennsylvania. Attending Mahanoy Joint High School, she became active in varsity basketball and stole class presidency in the junior year.

Her love of athletics continued even in college, as we know. She is the president and also national treasurer of Tau Kappa. Recognizing her intense interest she was accepted in W.A.A. and served on the intramural board in her junior year.

Her spirit of "sportiness" is mingled with touches of generousity, reliability, and capability, therefore, activating her in other organizations and functions such as S.C.A., F.T.A., of which she is librarian, May Day and treasurer of the Business Society.

Marion recently completed her pledge training and was initiated into Kuppa Delta Sorority. Spending much of her time working diligently on this committee and on that committee, she always completes a well done job.

As a Business Education major her desire is in working with Senior High School students. We know she will be welcomed by them and wish her all the luck in the world.

Nancy Forrest

Brown-eyed, brown-haired Jerseyite, Nancy Forrest is the subject of the spotlight this week.

Graduate of Camden High School in Camden, New Jersey she took time out from dramatics club, glee club, and intra-mural sports and belonging to the honor society to win a competitive scholarship to the college of her choice, S. U.

Starting out as a two year secretarial student, Nancy stayed on and is now a Business Administration senior, interested in personnel management.

While attending S. U. Nancy has held an active membership in the Business Society, Biemic Society, S.C.A., W.A.A., and the Susquehanna Singers. She has been active in sorority. She held positions of guard and rush chairman in Alpha Delta Pi. As a member of ADPi she was a Pan-Hellenic Council representative and held the presidency of this organization. Nancy has also been co-chairman of the Homecoming Dance, a participant in intra-mural sports and May Day and co-chairman of the Homecoming Tea and Pledge Dance.

In the summer Nancy works as a stenographer and she wishes to keep up with it upon graduation. She even found time to advance her studies in the business field by attending the University of Pennsylvania in the evenings during the summer.

Before Nancy settles down to life in the business world she will take a trip to Nassau as a member of the Alpha Delta Pi Convention this summer.

Volume LXIII | SELINSGROVE, PENNSYLVANIA | TUESDAY, MARCH 26, 1957 | NUMBER 20

DON TRIMMER, EDITOR; CAROLYN GILLASPIE, ASSOCIATE EDITOR; BETSY WALKER, NEWS EDITOR; GERRY FLETCHER, MANAGING EDITOR; RAY YEINGST, BUSINESS MANAGER ASSUME NE WPOSITIONS

Once again it is time for new editorial and business staffs to assume the duties of publishing The Susquehanna. These persons who step into the chief positions of the newspaper, editorially and manage rially speaking, are the following: Don Trimmer, editor; Carolyn Gillaspie, associate editor; Betsy Walker, news editor; Gerry Fletcher, managing editor; and Ray Yeingst, business manager. The following students were also named to the staff: Eleanor Pourron, feature editor; Nancy Bumbarger, women's sports editor; Les Rudisill, men's sports editor; Bob Kenyon, photography editor; Bill Hand, editorial assistant; Janis Adams, Cindy Smith, Carlton Smith, and Ralph Wagoner, proofreaders; Jerry Kunkle, advertising manager; and Don Lehmer, circulation manager.

Don Trimmer

Beginning with the next issue of the Susquehanna, the editorial division will be under the supervision of Don Trimmer, who will replace Carole Sadosuk as editor. Don, a veteran in many ways, is a junior from York, Pennsylvania. During his past three years at Susquehanna, Don has been active in many campus organizations. For three years he has been a member of the Student Christian Association and is currently serving as president. He has been a brother in Phi Mu Delta since his freshman year and served as vice-president during his junior year. He was recently elected president. Don also served as president of Phi Kappa Phi, and president of Alpha Psi Omega during the past year. The Susquehanna Players claim Don as an active member for in the past three years he appeared in "The Late George Apley," Hamlet, and was recently seen in "Time Limit!" Don is majoring in English, which might explain his interest in literary fields. He is literary editor of the Lanthorn and also acted as feature editor and managing editor of the Susquehanna.

—S—

Carolyn Gillaspie

Carolyn Gillaspie, the new associate editor, was born in Altoona, Pennsylvania. She graduated from Altoona High School, where she took part in various musical organizations and school government. As a music student on our campus, much of her time is spent with the Chapel Choir, Motet Singers, and the Marching Band. Her other activities include SCA, FTA president-elect, and membership in Sigma Alpha Iota, professional music fraternity for women. As for The Susquehanna, last year Carolyn was Managing Editor and this year is News Editor. She is a Music Education student and plans to become a music teacher upon graduating.

Nancy Bumbarger

The new women's sport's editor is Nancy Bumbarger, a junior from Somerset, Pennsylvania, who is a liberal arts student majoring in history. Nancy plans to teach.

She is an active member of the following organizations on campus: S.C.A.—girl's vice president, W.A.A.—vice-president, F.T.A.—vice president-elect, Women's Student Council and Tau Kappa.

Nancy is also a counselor in Hassinger Hall.

—S—

Bill Hand

Bill Hand, a first-semester senior, from Trevorton, Pennsylvania, will act as editorial assistant to Don. Bill has been a member of Phi Mu Delta fraternity since his freshman year and served as chapter editor during his junior year. Bill is a member of Alpha Psi Omega, Pi Gamma Mu, and the Susquehanna Players. He appeared in Romeo and Juliet, Hamlet, "The Heiress," and will soon be seen in Shakespeare's Midsummer Night's Dream. During the past year, Bill served as feature editor for The Susquehanna. He is a pre-law student majoring in history.

—S—

Betsy Walker

Betsy Walker was born in Johnstown, Pennsylvania. During her childhood, she lived in thirteen different states while her father was in the service. With her family, she returned to Johnstown and graduated from Westmonth Upper Yoder High School. There she was active in the Chorus, Band, Biology Club, German Club, intramural sports, and the yearbook.

Today, Betsy is a history major working toward a future as a teacher. On campus, we find her participating in several organizations—SCA, WAA, and Orientation Committee. She is secretary of Phi Kappa Phi, and vice president of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority. As for The Susquehanna, Betsy is the new News Editor.

MAY COURT

The following girls have been elected to the 1957 May Court: Barbara Boob, Mary Ellen Harrington, Marty McNitt, Thiry Reamer, Carole Sadosuk, Liz Stradling, Pat Walker, and Linda Youtsa. Voting for May Queen will be held in the lounge on Wednesday.

Gerry Fletcher

Gerry Fletcher, the newly selected managing editor, is a sophomore from Narberth, Pennsylvania. For the past two years Gerry has been a member of Phi Kappa Phi and will serve as president next year. He is also a member of Phi Mu Delta fraternity of which he was recently elected vice-president. He is a member of the Biemic Society and served on The Susquehanna staff for the past two years. At present, he is photography editor. The Susquehanna Players proudly claim him as a lighting technician. Gerry is majoring in English Literature and Latin.

—S—

Eleanor Pourron

Eleanor Pourron, better known to most of us as "Squirt", was born in Johnstown, Pennsylvania. Here, she spent her childhood and teen years, concluding them by graduating from Westmont Upper Yoder High. Her background for her present position as Feature Editor of The Susquehanna stems from her role as reporter on her high school paper, The Yodler.

Outside of high school classwork, her time was occupied with Chorus, German Club, Y-Teens, and she was a member of the Yearbook Staff.

At present, Eleanor is majoring in English Literature and plans to become a teacher upon graduating. On our campus, besides newspaper work, she is an active participator in SCA and WAA, and she presides as treasurer of FTA. She is a member of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority and holds the office of chaplain in that organization.

Ray Yeingst

Our newly appointed Business Manager, Ray Yeingst, claims Harrisburg, Pa. as his home town. A sophomore, majoring in Business Administration, Ray is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha. "Rajah", as he was nicknamed, while he was at Susquehanna Township High School was very active in sports. He played varsity baseball as well as intramurals and was a member of the Varsity "S" Club. Ray was also elected to Student Council and the Yearbook Staff. He played a vicious snare drum in the band and also sang with the school choir. The Dramatics Club was another of his many activities in school.

Here at S. U., Ray has played varsity football and baseball besides participating in intramurals. As Colonel Kim, he recently made his stage debut in the production, "Time Limit." He belongs to the S.C.A. and the Business Society. During the past year he served as Circulation Manager for The Susquehanna. Ray is presently the social chairman at Lambda Chi Alpha.

An avid rock & roll fan, Ray really digs Fats Domino, and his imitation of Elvis at the fraternity smoker will be remembered! He likes his pizza hot and his music cool.

We are sure that Ray will be a competent Business Manager and we are proud to again have him on our staff.

WINSTON OFFERS SERVICE PROJECT

Miss Mildred E. Winston, a graduate of Susquehanna University, will be on campus Monday and Tuesday, April 1 and 2 to met with students interested in Summer Service Project

Not only is Miss Winston Director of Summer Service Project, she is assistant secretary of the Board of Higher Education of the United Lutheran Church in America. Miss Winston received Master of Arts degree in psychology from New York University and an honorary doctorate degree from Gettysburg College.

All men and women desiring interviews about Summer Service Project, or any women interested in going into full-time Christian vocation who wish interviews should contact Dean Ruth Meister concerning time and place.

Summer Service Projects gives the college student an opportunity to work for the Church through Evangelism, social welfare, and parish life. Students can serve in settlement houses, children's homes, homes for the aged, hospitals and homes for the handicapped, rural and urban parishes and camps. They are particularly able to assist in recreation, music, crafts, Daily Vacation Bible School, and in certain types of church office work and limited calling in homes. It is an excellent opportunity to be with students from all parts of the world, serve people of different regional, national and racial background. The present staff of the institution will train the students prior to their serving. The majority of the "jobs" are in institutions and parishes of the Lutheran Church along the Eastern Seaboard and in the Middle West. Students wil find a summer in this type of service stimulating to their own spiritual, intellectual, and social growth.

S. U. to Host Navy, NOCS to be Discussed

A Naval Officer will visit the campus on April 12, 1957 to provide interested students with information concerning the many and varied officer programs available in the Navy. He will be located in Bogar Hall No. 9 from 9:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m.

There is no obligation incurred by submitting an application. Obligation commences only after selection (which requires about three months time from date of initial application) after receipt of degree and then only if the applicant so chooses.

In addition, the applicant is not exempt from the draft while the application is being processed except in one instance.

In view of the above, it is strongly suggested for anyone interested in a naval commission in Line, Aviation, Supply, Engineering, etc. to apply

Vocalist and 4-Hand Piano Team Display Talents in Student Recital

On Friday evening, March 22, the joint student recital presented by Gloria Myers, soprano, and Mary Moore and Carolyn Gillaspie, 4-hand piano team, was very well received by an especially enthusiastic and responsive audience.

The program of early English, French, Italian, and German songs for voice, and classical and contemporary music for four-hand piano provided a very interesting and enjoyable evening of listening. Especially well done was "Lungi dal care bene" by Antonio Secchi, "Un bel di vedremo" (from the opera "Madame Butterfly") by Giacomo Puccini. The "Two Slavonic Dances" op. 46, numbers 10 & 11 by Dvorak, as played by Mary and Carolyn, revealed much feeling and intensity.

Following intermission, Mary and Carolyn presented "Souvenirs" from the Ballet Suite op. 28 by Samuel Barber. The souvenirs—the Schottische, Hesitation Tango, Pas de deux, and Galop—were intended to portray, with amused tenderness, the dance styles of the early twentieth century.

Gloria closed the program with "By a Lonely Forest Pathway" by Griffes, "Gavotte" by Popper, "O Lovely Night" from Song Cycle "Summertime" by Ronald, and "Spring Dropped a Song into My Heart" by Fenner. For her encore, Gloria sang "The Highlander", which she and Mary and Carolyn dedicated to Dr. Thomas Armstrong, who so thoughtfully presented them with feathered red carnation corsages.

Much credit and applause goes to Universal Language Evaluated by Myers

Talking rapidly and without notes, Dr. Rowland B. Myers held the attention of students, faculty, and visitors at the recent Star Course. Introduced by Dr. Russell Gilbert, Dr. Myers sprinkled his lecture, "Romance of Words", with numerous interesting and humorous anecdotes.

He began by illustrating the absurdity of some of our words, pointing out that in many cases the old and the new meanings are diametrically opposed. Silly does not mean holy nor does pretty conotate deceitful in our modern tongue, yet in the past these were the original meanings.

Dr. Myers went on to say that English is without a doubt the craziest and most irrational language in the world. In spelling it is practically unpredictable, for, although mice is the plural of mouse, hice is not the plural of house. Some constructions heard every day are many times absurd when examined carefully. "Throw mama from the train a kiss," may be good German but certainly not proper English.

He asserted that the immediate adoption of one language as a universal standard was not forseeable, yet he did state his belief that someday, after economic and social problems have been solved, all languages will of necessity blend into one. The students were strongly advised to learn another language, both to broad-

Published weekly throughout the school year, with the exception of Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter and Semester holidays, at a subscription rate of $2.50 a year.

Right, Just, and True

It has ben said that a man's honor is the most valuable thing he possesses. The word honor can be used to express esteem or respect for someone, or to refer to academic awards. But honor has a much deeper meaning; it connotes a sense of what is right, just, and true.

This definition of "right. just, and true" is of particular importance to us this week—mid-semester exam week.

We've all had many tests and perhaps may consider them an unnecessary evil. Perhaps they are. However, does this give any student the right to deliberatly cheat on an exam? Yes, cheat, for this is something we are all aware of.

Many excuses are given for cheating, ranging from "I just had to have a good mark to pass the course" to "It's all the teacher's fault." Who should be blamed for cheating? Not the teacher, nor the student nearby; just ourself.

A student who cheats exhibits a weak character; in other words, he is lacking in honor. On the college level we should be able to believe in and trust the integrity of our fellowmen. Thus the college student should be expected to maintain certain high standards—even when it comes to taking exams.

Honor is a personal thing, and only you yourself are responsible for it. To borrow a famous line fom the bard of Avon, "This above all, to thing own self be true."

Frosh to Sponsor "Mend Day", April 3

Do your shirts have any missing buttons? Are there any torn hems in your skirts? Have seams torn open because you have gained weight? If so, bring all clothing that has to be hospitalized to the freshman girls.

"Mend Day" is going to take place on April 3. The girls will be doing work in the rear S.C.A. room at Hassinger Hall. You can bring articles of clothing from morning until evening. There will be a small charge for the work of the girls with nimble fingers.

The purpose of this activity is to raise money for the Freshman Picnic in May.

Support us with this philosophy: "A stitch in time saves nine."

PHI KAPPA PHI ELECTS FLETCHER

The regular meeting of Phi Kappa Phi was held Thursday, March 21, in Bogar. A business meeting, election of officers, and a discussion of future plans occurred.

The new officers for the society are as follows: President, Gerald Fletcher; vice-president, Lester Rudisill; secretary, Mimi Overly; and treasurer, Richard Reichard.

The group will hold a supper-time party on May 14. Those in charge of making arrangements for this affair are Carole Sadosuk, Al Roshon, and Douglas Smith. Plans for next year include a movie, a group party, programs by the group, and some interesting speakers.

THE NEW LOOK

Winter is going
But as it passes.
We're still here trudging
Off to our classes.

Whenever Spring comes
The campus is green,
But great globs of mud
Are all I've seen.

But that's not enough!
Because of detours
We're tracking the "stuff"
All over the floors.

All hail to Progress (?)
And give her first place.
(Although it's a mess
When we are in haste.)

But keep a stout heart
And be of good cheer,
For May twenty-ninth
Very soon will be here.

en their knowledge of English and to increase their understanding of other peoples.

Dr. Myer cited the danger of lifting words from context and noted the importance of getting the entire meaning. He expressed his concrn in the use of words in world politics.

After shocking the audience by revealing that he was from Brooklyn, he concluded by saying that whatever is socially acceptable is correct in a sense, and that we'll go on stumbling through the English of our ancestors.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Test week is here; this is one of those times during the semester when one begins to wonder whatever induced him to come to college in the first place. Individuals can be heard, bragging that he has, oh perhaps 130 tests in three days, etc. I understand that a special committee is being formed on campus, simply for the purpose of identifying those students who have the greatest number of tests during test week, and reward them accordingly. There will be two categories: "Most Tests Per Day" and "Most Tests Per Week". The winner of the former category will receive two Kelly truck tires; the winner of the latter is to accept a prepared slide of gametangia. (It's all a lie.)

A belated and sincere congratulations to Dale Patterson, who was recently pledged to Lambda Chi Alpha.

The brothers wish to acknowledge the presence of the three missionaries who visited S. U. last week Tuesday night, Rev. Carrens and Mr. Benjamin Lotz were our welcome dinner guests.

Volley ball-wise, the Bunders have conquered two intramural foes, G. A. Hall and Selinsgrove North. Six wins are credited to the house team.

A word-a good word-for the sophomores, who "Hopped" on Saturday night.

That's it for now.

—S—

PHI MU DELTA

Congraulations to the Sophomores for their fine dance on Saturday evening. Their "foggy night" turned out to be one of the brightest ever. Those concerned with the arrangements deserve a large vote of thanks.

This past Wednesday evening, at the weekly meeting of Mu Alpha chapter, the brotherhood elected chapter officers for the next academic year. They are as follows: president, Don Trimmer; vice-president, Gerry Fletcher; comptroller, Bob Fiscus; secretary, Bob Bartels; sergeant-at-arms, Gordie Thompson; chaplain, Bob White; pledge-master, Jim White; chapter editor, Gene Witiak; social chairman, Al Hazen; house manager, Jim Bayruns; steward, Gil Bannerman; athletic director, Clyde Wood. We congratulate these officers, and wish them the best of luck as they assume their new positions, and wish them the best of luck as they assume their new positions. We are also happy to welcome Mr. Axel Kleinsorg back as our faculty advisor. And as the outgoing officers fade into the past, the brotherhood thanks and congratulates them for the admirable job they have done during the past year.

This Saturday night Phi Mu Delta will observe its annual "Ladies' Nite" party. The brothers will be more than happy to have the girls come down and decorate, and give us a rest.

The intramural scene saw the Black and Orange defeat both Selinsgrove South and Selinsgrove North in scheduled volleyball contests. This is a tremendous start, and we wish the team the best of luck in the remaining games.

One more bit of news. The brothers trounced the pledges in a recent pre-season softball game, but not without stiff competition. And speaking of stiff competition, there'll be plenty of that in this year's intramural softball loop.

—S—

THETA CHI NEWS

The intramural volley ball league is under way and the brothers looked very good in their first two sets. Led by Gary Schroeder they played fine ball sweeping six stright games. "good luck, and let's keep up those winning ways."

The brothers were delighted with the humorous euphuism of Dr. Rowland Myers in the Star Course lecture. A hearty chuckle was had by all.

Congratulations to Miss Mary Moore, Miss Carolyn Gillaspie and Miss Gloria Myers on their joint student recital. We know how many hours of hard work went into this performance and the brothers enjoyed it mightily!

Salutations and congratulations to brother Frank Romano on being chosen for an honrable mention on the Little All-American Basketball Team.

The brothers applaud the recent audition of brother Bucky Clark for a role in a Broadway play.

Congratulations to the sophomores on their intriguing "Soph Hop."

Glad to see the baseball team hard at training. The brothers send hopes for a successful season.

Campus Spotlights

Our spotlight this week falls on a senior from Barclay, Maryland, Elizabeth Stradling. Liz graduated from Neshamin High School, Langhorne, Penna. in the class of 1953.

Liz Stradling

At Susquehanna Elizabeth is enrolled in the Music Education Department. In her musical studies, Liz has been a member of the Susquehanna Singers, the chapel choir, and the marching band. She has been a member of the Student Christian Association and the Women's Athletic Association. During her freshman and sophomore years she was active on the May Day committee. The Lanthorn staff was one of her activities during her junior year.

Liz has represented the senior class as homecoming queen representative for the last two years. This year she was crowned Homecoming Queen.

At the present time Liz is completing her student teaching in the Selinsgrove Area Schools. We wish her the best of luck as she begins her work teaching elementary music in the Dongal Area Joint School System.

—S—

Les Rudisill

Lester Rudisill is the newly elected Men's Sports Editor for the Susquehanna.

"Rudy" was graduated from McCaskey High School, Lancaster, in 1953. For two years he was employed by Educator's Mutual Insurance Company, also in Lancaster. Since arriving at Susquehanna in 1955, Rudy has been active in several fields: presently he is the sophomore representative of S.C.A., and he is treasurer of Phi Kappa Phi. As a house brother of Lambda Chi Alpha he is the ritualist and house chaplain. Rudy has also been active in sports, playing varsity baseball and in intramural athletics.

Les is a pre-theological student.

Sorority News

ALPHA DELTA PI

Bouquets of red roses to SAI's Gloria Myers, Mary Moore and Carolyn Gillaspie for their admirable display of talents in their recital on Friday evening in Seibert Chapel.

Pledges, pledges, pledges! ADPi's pledges are always up to something different. Besides being "silver polishers extrordinaire", handy with a vacumn cleaner and a dust-mop, they are also able to give a fun-filled party. Pledges "Brick" and Bonnie entertained NST, SAI, and KD pledges on Tuesday evening with some games and songs. "Zort" provided the refreshments and Stephie, Izzy and Ginny got "stuck" with the cleaning and setting up.

Shakespeare will soon be giving strong evidences of presence at S. U. very soon. The Shakespearean Festival is near at hand, we are reassured of this as we notice Sister Thiry "Helena" Reamer doing some last minute "line-cramming".

The sisters of the blue and white have baskets and Easter bunnies on the brain these days. Friday evening the sisters are having an "Easter Egg Dying Party" in preparation for the big "Easter Egg Hunt" on Sunday afternoon. The campus will be alive with underpriviliged tots in their search for the hidden eggs and chocolates on Sunday afternoon.

On this same week-end KD will find some opposition by the Alpha Delt's in the "Powder Puff Derby". With our "pro" coaches and the ADPi spirit, the wheels are turning to make Saturday afternoon a unique event, to say the least. We hope to see spectators out to cheer their team to victory.

—S—

KAPPA DELTA

Even though Spring is officially here as of Wednesday, March 20th; no one seems to know it here at Susquehanna (except for our practicing pro baseball team). There's no difference this week to that of last week, same weather, same people, same noise. Really, the only thing different are the tests which is nice because it cuts down on the monotony.

If you're one of the lucky ones who never has to study especially during test week or if you were born with a surplus amount of cranium ells, you probably have enjoyed the extras such as the Star Course Thursday night, the concert Friday night, and the famous "Soph Hop" Saturday night.

Robert Kenyon

The new man behind the camera for our tabloid is Bob Kenyon, an economics major from Genesee, Pennsylvania. No stranger to flashbulb chores, Bob has done much of the picture work for this year's Lanthorn and is the Iensman for his fraternity —Lambda Chi Alpha.

His pre-college days were spent at Genesee High School where he not only participated in all sports, but also exhibited an administrative talent by serving as freshman class president and sophomore representative to the student council. Finishing up at Wellsville Central High, he changed his boundless energy into such bone-crushing activities as football, wrestling, and the stage lighting crew.

In spite of his many contributions to campus activity, and his demonstrated ability on the local stage, Robert's aspirations for the future are humble —consisting solely of a burning desire to establish himself as a large wheel in the world of industry.

Special sorority congratulations go to Sister Lois Andren for receiving the best dressed "hoboist" award last Saturday night at Lambda Chi Alpha.

In action again this week were the green and whites with buckets, sponges, and wet feet practicing their college liberal education on washing cars. Enthusiastically they worked a good part of the day shining the "eat-mobiles" of student and teacher. K. D. thanks you all for your patronage.

—S—

NU SIGMA TAU NEWS

Once again, we are all compelled to study harder than usual. This week marks the beginning of the season commonly known as mid-semester testing.

Three things of major importance took place last week. First was Star Course Thursday night, which was quite amusing besides being very informative. Then on Friday was the Joint Student Recital featuring Gloria Myers, Mary Moore and Carolyn Gillaspie. These girls presented an outstanding concert with many different types of songs and music. Last, but definitely not least ,was the Soph Hop, Saturday night, which took place in London. We all enjoyed our short stay on the other side of the Atlantic, but were forced to return to America much to soon, and much to our disappointment.

The main things coming up this week are those tests, so the sisters of Nu Sigma Tau leave you with this reminder: The more you study, the more you know. You take it from there.

Janis Adams

Janis Adams, a sophomore, is a proofreader on The Susquehanna staff. Janis hails from Mt. Carmel, Pennsylvania. She is in the music education department majoring in piano.

She belongs to S.A.I., Kappa Delta, Chapel Choir, W.A.A., S.C.A., the symphony orchestra and the M.E.N.C.

SPORTS SHORTS

By GEORGE POSPISIL

Frank Romano was given honorable mention on the Little All-American Team. . . .

Whispers from the baseball field indicate there are some Freshmen who have their sights on a starting assignment. This is good for it makes the veterans hustle. Ken James is making his bid for the first baseman job. Ken has a lot of experience in high school and American Legion ball. . . Keith Tyler has his eye on Second Base. George Schlucterer has decided not to play this year because of the "books", that leaves a big gap to fill at second; George was a three year veteran. Tyler is also a pitcher, in fact, reports say he can play almost any position. . . Frank DelNero looks good at shortstop. If he hits as well as he fields he should be a surfire starter. . . Freshman chuckers include Harry Powers and Mike Fahey. Junior, Sheldon Johnson is also taking his turn on the mound. . .

John Rodkey, ace pitcher of last year's Crusader nine, is seriously considering returning to school next Fall. Is there some way we can enroll him for this Spring?. . . .

On the Intramural front, the three frats are blazing a hot trail in the volleyball league. They have each won 6 straight games and will mix it up themselves this week. . .

The softball league gets underway April 9th. Better take advantage of this balmy weather to limber up the arms. . . .

This is my farewell column as Sports Editor. Your new writer is Les Rudisill. I think everyone knows Les, if not you can see him any afternoon on the baseball field. Les would like to have a couple of reporters to help him out. So if there are any sports enthusiasts among you, see Les and you can put it down on paper and see it in print.

Thank you one and all for putting up with my ramblings for the past four years, and good luck, Les!

WOMEN'S SPORTS

Champions in the girls' intramural basketball tournament have been chosen. Sophomore team 7, under the capable captainship of Bev Hofecker, has captured the leading position, with a series of twelve straight wins. Members of the team are Bev Hofecker, Susie Lehman, Elinor McKim, Sandy Mayer, Gladys Ransom. Jan Smith, and Betsy Walker. Congratulations, girls—you all played well.

Second place in the tournament goes to another sophomore team. Nancy Eiserman was the fine captain of this group. These girls also played extremely well, failing to gain a victory in just one game, and that was in competition with team 7. This team was composed of Janis Adams, Peggy Dalby, Nancy Eiserman, Liz Gage, Kate Henry, Lois Kohl, Posey Nelson, and Joan Shetterly.

Team number 13 composed entirely of seniors and captained by Marian Drumheller, placed third in the tournament. On this team were Barbara Boob, Marion Drumheller, Nancy Marek, Marty McNitt, Carole Sadosuk, Liz Strading, Ruth Ann Ulsh, Sue Wahl, and Doris Wittes.

Next week the high scorers from each of the teams will be listed.

Badminton doubles (girls only!) will begin this week. Please check to see when your games are scheduled and then play them immediately.

VESPERS

The Pre-Theological Association had charge of vespers on Sunday evening in the chapel. Ed Strayer was the liturgist and Dick Reichard was the speaker. The hymns used were "Jesus, and Shall it Ever Be", and "A Mighty Fortress is Our God." The scripture was taken from Matthew, the fifth chapter. Dick spoke about "Prayer", and we closed with the Lord's Pray. The organist was Ray Stiller.

"Frats" Big Guns in Volley Ball Fray

The intramural Volley Ball League swung into action last Monday evening as the three fraternities each blanked their opponents 3 games to none.

The "Big Red" from Theta Chi started the evening by dumping Selinsgrove North in three stright games. In the third game the "Big Red" came from behind to eke out the win. Phi Mu Delta easily downed Selinsgrove South 3-0 in the second series of the evening.

The defending champions, the "Bunders" from Lambda Chi Alpha, completed the sweep by brushing aside G. A. Hall in their 3 game match.

On Wednesday evening the three "frats" again applied the whitewash to the dorms. This time it was Theta Chi over G. A. Hall 3-0; Lambda Chi over Selinsgrove North 3-0; Phi Mu over Selinsgrove South 3-0.

A look at the early standings show "Fraternity Row" dead locked for the top rung with identical 6-0 records. The three dorms are currently sporting 0 win 6 loss records.

On tap Wednesday evening will be an all-important fray pitting Phi Mu against Lambda Chi at 8:00 p. m.

Jerry Kunkle

The local businessmen and shopkeepers will be approached during the forthcoming year by a new personality who is also a new face to S.U.'s campus. The duty of canvassing for advertisments and partially supporting the University weekly falls on the capable shoulders of A. Gerald Kunkle.

Publication work is not new to Jerry because, in the Greenwood Joint High School where he was graduated in 1955, he was connected with the newspaper staff and spent much time in assisting the yearbook planning. His proposed economics major should give him a level financial outlook and his association with the public during his pre-college days should give him a sound foundation for his duties.

In high school, Jerry was active in dramatics, varsity basketball and a member of Hi-Y, which all add to a sense of responsibility, poise and an ability to get along with people. At S.U., Jerry became a member of the S.C.A., and the Business Society, and pledged at Lambda Chi Alpha. The future looks bright and productive for him here as it did prior to 1955.

Cindy Smith

Cindy Smith, freshman from Drums, Pennsylvania, is one of the new proofreaders on The Susquehanna staff. She is a graduate of Hazleton Senior High School. Cindy is a liberal arts student who is majoring in French. She hopes to be an interpreter.

She is an active member of the following organizations on campus:

F.T.A.—librarian, reporter on the newspaper, and S.C.A.

Cindy has also been a great help to the plays on campus. She has worked as a prompter, and on the make-up committees and will appear "on stage" in the Shakespearean play A Midsummer Night's Dream. Also she is publicity chairman for May Day, and the freshman representative to Woman's Student Council.

YANK'S ATLANTIC

Carlton Smith

Among those whose job it will be to ferret out the misspellings and grammatical faux pas in the copy for The Susquehanna during the coming year, appears the name of Carlton Smith. Better known as "Chief" to his more intimate friends, Carlton is a personable pre-theological student from Glen Rock. He will be bringing to his job as proofreader long experience in high school journalism. Starting as sports editor in his sophomore year, Carlton rose to managing editor the following year and landed the job of editor-in-chief as a senior. The members of the Quill and Scroll (a national honorary society for high school journalists) showed their appreciation for Chief's journalistic skill by electing him their president for his senior year. Carlton was also one of the solons of the Student Council of Susquehannock High School. He served as manager for the baseball, football and basketbal lteams at various times throughout his high school career.

Soon after his arrival at Susquehanna, Chief became well known to freshmen and upperclassmen alike as a result of his performance as the business-law-comedian in the Freshmen Stunt Night. Until his recent initiation, Carlton was chaplain of the Theta Chi pledge class. In addition to his membership in the Pre-Theological Club, he continued to cultivate his journalistic interests by serving as a reporter on The Susquehanna. Activity in the Luther League of the Central Pennsylvania Synod also finds a large place in Carlton's schedule.

—S—

Ralph Wagoner

One of the proofreaders on The Susquehanna staff for the coming year will be Ralph Wagoner. Ralph is a tall, likable chap from Westford, Pa. who is interested in the legal profession. A glance at the list of his high school activities may indicate the scope of Ralph's personality. He participated in the band and the choir, he was secretary of the Key Club, and he belonged to the senior class board of directors as well as to the student council. Ralph was secretary of the Latin Club at Crafton High School and he represented his school on the varsity baseball team. In the field of journalism, he shone as the editor of the yearbook and the feature editor of the school paper. A facility with words is indicated by the fact that he was elected president of the Public Speaking Club.

Here at Susquehanna, Ralph has been quite active. He is the capable vice-president of the Phi Mu Delta pledge class, he participates in intramurals, and he lends his solid bass voice to the Chapel Choir as well as to the Methodist Church in Sunbury. In the field of dramatics, Ralph appeared in the production of The Patsy. He is also a member of the intramural board, the S.C.A., and the production staff of A Midsummer Night's Dream in the capacity of assistant business manager.

—S—

Donald Lehmer

It has sometimes been said that the job of circulation manager on the Susquehanna staff is nothing more than that of a glorified newsboy. If such be the case, than the new circulation manager is indeed well qualified. Having worked for three years as a delivery boy, Donald Lehmer brings his knowledge of circulation methods to his new post. During his high school years at Susquehanna Township, Don found varied interests. He was a member of the literary staff of the yearbook; he played clarinet in the high school band as well as in the dance orchestra; and he was active in dramatics.

Having taken the step from Susquehanna Township High to Susquehanna University, Don is still not quite so close to home as it would appear at first glance, since his home is just outside of Harrisburg. Here at S.U. Don is the efficient secretary of the Lambda Chi Alpha pledges, an active participant in intramurals, and a member of the S.C.A. In his spare time during the summer, Don enjoys fishing, swimming, and tinkering with automobiles. A position in the business world is Don's probable destination after college.

ADMINISRAION NEWS .....

The spotlight of the administration news falls on Mr. Dan MacCuish this week, who seems to be a busy man spreading good will for Susquehanna.

On March 13, Mr. MacCuish visited Sunbury High School's Career Day, accompanied by Dr. Albert Zimmer and Mr. Frederick Billman.

March 19, found Mr. MacCuish in Wilkes Barre at a District Alumni Meeting, where Dr. William Russ delivered a speech.

Mr. MacCuish traveled to Glen Rock, Pa. on March 21, to attend another Career Day.

"Grand Tour" Rehatched By Wayfaring Songbirds

Last Friday evening the Chapel Choir returned from their latest world barnstoming tour sponsored annually by the Susquehanna Administration. Although a trifle worn out, the choir members, under the artistic direction of Pofessor Lavan Robinson, had much to tell of their exciting trip.

They left New York October 5th, 1956, aboard the Queen Mary. While aboard ship they provided background music for the daily chapel services. Their excellent musical inflections caught the attention of Rudolph Bing who signed them up for a season at the Metropolitan Opera House in 1958.

They arrived in England and went directly to London, where they gave several performances. They were so well received that they stayed an extra week and gave two performances daily at the Palladium. From London they went to France. In France they traveled by bicycle through the beauteous countryside serenading the charming country peasants. With their lungs filled to capacity with the fresh pure country air, they sang sweeter than ever.

Fresh and invigorated, they journeyed to Monaco where they gave a command performance for the newly married Princess Grace and spouse. Thence they traveled to Italy, Germany, and several Asiatic countries, including Russia. In Russia they journeyed far into Siberia by dog sled. They did not sing there but went only for the exciting trip and for rest.

They spent a few weeks entertaining in the Orient and then sailed the Pacific, stopping at the Hawaiian Islands for two weeks. They landed in San Francisco Feb. 2nd. While in California, they made a short film in Hollywood called "Singing Around the World in 175 Days." From Hollywood they chartered a special Trans World Airliner to Harrisburg and were brought back to campus by the rationally known BKW Bus Lines.

Specialities on the program were widely varied. Elvis Kisslak knocked the people dead with his renditions of "Puppy Dog" and "I Love You Tender." Madam Golden Trill Meyers enraptured thousands with "How You Gonna Keep Her Down on the Farm?", and vivacious "Queenie" Harrington stunned the London audiences to tears with her arias from the new American Opera, "Down in the Gully." We are to be proud of our talented scholars and their director. It has been an experience which they will not forget and they are looking forward to another such trip next year throughout the North and South American Continents.

UNLIMITED FUNDS FOR RADIATION

The hottest news in the science department this week is the recent announcement by the state department concerning financial grants. According to the most recent news release, the Susquehanna Science Department will receive unlimited funds to be used as the department sees fit. The Biemic Society will supervise spending and building. The following paragraphs will explain the plans that have been made so far.

The first change you will notice on the Campus will be the erection of a new and completely modern science building. The building will be four stories high and will cover an area of seven acres. All the latest advances in science will be housed in the new chemistry and physics building. The structure will be completely air conditioned and will be provided with a lounge, snack bar, elevators, projection rooms, and conference rooms.

The present science building is being converted into a storage building. The first floor of the building will be used to house the department of radiation. Complete courses in radiation biology, radiation physics, and radiation chemistry will be offered when the remodeling is complete. Perhaps you have already noticed the screens or bars which are being placed on the windows of the first floor. They are required by law for any building conducting radioactive research. In association with the building, construction is in progress for a completely modern 100 bed hospital. This will be used in studying the effects of radiation on the human body, and also, extensive research will be carried on in the line of radioactive tracers. Medical students from the Philadelphia schools will spend their senior year at Susquehanna learning about radiation from the human standpoint.

ATTENTION

There has been a cancellation of the Easter vacation scheduled to start April 13. This is due to a necessary extension of test week in order to enable students to raise their grades. The student is expected to cooperate with this change in plans.

THE ADMINISTRATION

New Clinic Planned For SU Student Body

Because of the recent epidemic of illnesses and the number of classes being missed it has been decided that the erection of a new Student Infirmary and Recovery Clinic is necessary.

The new S. I. R. C. will have a 250 bed capacity with a special wing for the faculty. Its architecture will be ultra-ultra modern with glass being used to the greatest advantage to admit beneficia sunlight. Each room will be equipped with a combination television, radio and phonograph so that classes can be heard and viewed and studies kept up to date.

Also inclued in the clinic will be a recovery center which will consist of a swimming pool and a movie theater which will show only the latest Hollywood releases. The concession stand will be handled by "Marcie" who promises a free "crib" sheet" in each box of popcorn.

The staff will be headed by Dr. Benzenberg and Miss Joanne Heinly, with Miss Betsy McDowell as pool supervisor, and Mr. Axel Kleinsorg as movie projectionist.

Construction has been started already and the administration hopes the student body will take advantage of this new service when the project is completed.

"PAT BOONE" FOR MAY DAY DANCE

The annual fete of May Day takes place on May 11 this year. It is to be climaxed by the May Day Dance which is to be the best dance of the whole year. Dancing starts at 8 o'clock with the champagne music of Lawrence Welk. Benny Goodman and his orchestra then takes over at 10 o'clock and plays until 12. At 12 o'clock Guy Lombardo comes to the band stand and plays until 2 o'clock for the finale to this Band Stand. The guest singer for the entire evening is Pat Boone.

The dance takes place at the "Cercle de la Reine". The exquisite decorations for this gala occasion are being kept a large secret. The refreshment list sort of sneaked itself out in the open—shrimp, caviar, herring, well lets face it—it will be an entire smorgasbord. The price is only $1.75 per.

By the way girls, we finally got your very late permission especially for this occasion. Turn on the charm!

JANE MANSFIELD CHOSEN MAY QUEEN

The date is May 11, 1957. The stadium is packed and the noisy crowd streams over the surrounding area. Seats are at a premium. It is rumored that they acn be obtained only by such V. I. P.'s as college presidents, full professors, visiting dignitaries, and fraternity house managers. Students from smaller neighboring schools, such as Bucknell, Penn State, and Temple, are here to get ideas for their own productions. They mill about on the track, but the Theta Chi guards push them back.

Suddenly we hear the blare of a trumpet. No. . . six trumpets, blown by handsome young Lambda Chi Alphas on white chargers. As they ride into sight the crowd hushes momentarily. Then there is a rustle of crackling paper as everyone opens their programs. The first page tells us the reason for all the excitement.

Susquehanna University is presenting a world premiere of "Uncle Wigley and his friends". It is produced by Melvin R. Morgan and directed by Carole S. DeMills, daughter of her famous father. Staging is under the supervision of Max Kleintop; lighting is by Douglas Smith; scenery was designed by the great Allen (Red) Hazen. Costumes are by Dior; hair styles by Royer.

The curtain rises, and there before our eyes is a panorama of beauty? Uncle Wigley, played by Harry Haney, limps onstage. The audience holds its breath, waiting to hear the star's first line. After a long pause we find out that Harry is suffering from a case of laryngitis, so the main part of the act falls on his wife, Joy Klinger. Later we meet some of Uncle Wigley's friends. They are Doctor Fixit, John Albright; Barber John, Dick Purnell; the mad scientists, Clarence Lorah; Miss Singer, Gloria Myers; Mr. Foody, Randall Fox; and Madame Twinkle Toes, Betty Ann Ormond.

These characters kept up a sparkling chatter throughout the whole thing. After sixteen acts, thirty-three scenes, and two intermissions the curtain falls for the last time.

How was the premiere? We all liked it. Of course we must wait for a more valid critical judgement by the English Lit. students, who have recently learned all about those details.

And now for the big moment, the crowning of our May Queen. It is reported that voting was heavy in the Seibert, G. A., and Hasisnger districts, with a lighter turnout in the fraternity districts. The returns are all in now, and Bucky Clark, the master of ceremonies, is about to name

"CON" CONNECTED WITH HASSINGER IN IMPRESSIVE SEWER CEREMONY

Susquehanna recently witnessed a ceremony of monumental importance. This was the impressive and breathtaking ceremony that saw the laying of the first sewer pipes connecting our new Heilman Hall with Hassinger Hall. President Smith solemnly dropped the initial pipe into place on March 15, and thereby insured S. U. with a structure that will rank a close second to the Eiffel Tower in drawing crowds from all over the world.

These pipes will serve a dual purpose on our not-so-fair campus. First of all, they will provide a short route from the new music hall to Hassinger for the chippies that reside in the latter place and take music education courses. Second, the pipes will serve as an escape route from Steele Science in case of an unforseen hydrogen bomb explosion. The only difficulty is that all students using this passageway will have to be equipped with bathing suits or frogman suits so that they can swim safely through the materials flowing within the pipes.

That the pipes will prove to act as an attraction for huge paying audiences can be seen in that the recent construction drew some of the largest crowds in the history of this institution. It has been said that Mr. Krapf plans to employ some 2000 students to collect the admission price from the eagerly awaited tourists. Herewith are the best opportunities for employment since the Depression presented the United States with WPA. The pay scale will be very high, running from 15 to 25 cents a day, with tremendous opportunities for advancement. Interested parties may obtain further information in the office of the Business Manager.

Finally, we would like very much to mention to those students who have a flair for homicide that here is your chance to do away with some of your most beloved professors. All that is needed is a length of rope, a lead weight, and one slightly-used, pedantic academician. Then drop the prof into the rapidly flowing current of waste, say a small prayer, and just hope! Chances are that he, or she, will drown before passing Bogar Hall. . .

Be proud! ! Such a well-planned, well-executed bit of construction is rarely seen in these environs.

MALENKOV, CROSBY IN STAR COURSE

Dr. G. Morris Smith has announced the Star Course calendar for next year. He feels that the scheduled programs will prove both interesting and informative.

On October 24 Georgi Malenkov will deliver a lecture on "The Advantages of Capitalism." December 11 there will be a special treat , concert by the Seventeenth Corps Salvation Army band. Valentine's Day, Princess Grace Grimaldi and Bing Crosby will give dramatic readings from "Love Sonnets to the Portugese" by Elizabeth Barrett Browning. The closing program of the season, on April 4, will be a lecture on "The relative Merits of Nylon and Wood as Used in Knitting". The lecture will be given by Grandma Moses.

Grape-Squashing Party Spices Phi Kappa Phi

In true allegiance to their classical heritage, the members of Phi Kappa Phi held a grape-squashing party last Saturday night (At least it started on Saturday night!). The fellows wish to thank Miss Meister for waiving the rules concerning hours in the girls' dorms. All the members would also like to thank the faculty for volunteering in a body to be chaperones.

Gerry Fletcher solemnly inaugurated the festivities by wading bare-foot into the pile of grapes and doing the Can-Can in his toga. It is rumored that next year he will order seedless grapes! Soon everyone had joined in the jubilation, although there was a question as to how the liquid could be reclaimed from the floor. The problem was was amazingly solved when the room suddenly tilted.

Note to Mr. Krapf: You will be given a check as soon as possible for cleaning the mess from Bogar 103.

MUSIC NOTES

The weekly faculty recital class will convene today in the college chapel. The audience of music stuednts will have a special treat in store because all the performers have worked hard on their numbers and have memorized them! The program is as follows.

Dr. John Leach will open the program with "Sleep Why Didst Thou Leave Me", a song composed by the performer. He is dedicating the lovely ballad to the insomnia students.

Mrs. Francis Alterman, because of a bad cold, has turned to the piano and will play a difficult rondo for loud and soft pedals. The title she will announce because I can't spell it.

Our brilliant basso-continuo, rather baritone, Mr. Frederick Billman will offer two arias, and if the students applaud enthusiastically enough he may sing two more.

Mrs. Hatz has always had a secret desire to present her version of "Throw Mamma From the Train a Flute". This is a favorite in her extensive voice repetoire, and I'm sure it will be rendered with feeling.

Some other hidden talents are at last revealed. Mrs. Glauque and the bassoon will tackle a concerto for bassoon and player.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Before I start, I don't want you to think I'm a chronic complainer, but the following things have come to my attention.

First of all, my schoolmates and I are sick of having a maid come into our room everyday to clean our rooms. She not only gets in the way, but she moves things out of their place making it very difficult for us to locate them. Also, the wall-to-wall carpeting makes it necessary for us to move the dresser etc. to clean it with our personal vacuum cleaner. Without carpeting, cleaning would just be a small matter of swishing the clean mop around several times under the article of furnishing. That would certainly be a good deal more simple.

There is no need for the Hollywood beds either! More room would be avilable if sleepign bags were provided. Those could be rolled up and stored in your closet during the day. I have been told that students have been complaining of "sea sickness" from the elevators in Seibert Hall. In my day it was better for one's health to climb a healthy flight of stairs now and then.

As for the students watching T. V. programs every night in their rooms, I think it is absolutely absurd! ! I should think a stop would be called to that. The same thing goes for the dancing to the juke box in the Recreation Room. Seems to me a dance once a month would be sufficient. There's no use wearing yourself out during the day so as you're not in fit health for a good night of studying.

It seems to me too much time is given to relaxation around here and not enough time to the education which is the major reason you're in school.

The school taxi to Sunbury should cost at least 10c. I should think the students would be willing to pay for such a luxury!

And last but not least, I've been hearing complaints from girls about getting fat because of the repeated steak dinners at the dining hall. Now having steak more than once a week is ridiculous. I'm sure if you'd change off with pork chops, spare ribs, prime rib of beef, etc., it would serve the same purpose. After all, steak isn't the only meat in the world.

Well, I'd better stop before I get mad. I just want to suggest a "more simple" and less extravagant schedule for the students.

I'm sure you all agree! Don't you? ! ?

Signed,
Interested Student

Left-over Money Used To Build Swimming Pool

Since the Business Society has a lot of left-over money this year, they have decided to build a swimming pool on the other side of the new music hall. The administration has graciously consented to add $10,000 to this project. The pool should be ready by the end of May—so don't forget your swim suits when you return after that long three week Easter vacation.

Just a reminder to all Business Society members. Don't forget the steak dinner next Friday at the Waldorf-Astoria.

THE EVIL WEEVIL

The Cotton Planter sprayed and slew
All the cotton bugs—but two
Survived through these upheavals;
One was large, the other small,
The latter which we perhaps might call
The lesser of two weevils.

LINES OF LOVE

by AMY LOVORA

Dear Amy,

I am a star football, basketball and baseball player here at SU and I have a problem. I have received gold footballs, silver basketballs and chromium plated baseballs by the gross. I would like to give the girls on campus a chance to date me, I feel it is sort of my duty. Yet it seems that if I date one girl I get typed as going steady with her. I would like to get lots of girls to wear my trophies, I can accomodate twelve or thirteen girls. Please advise.

Dutiously,
Iamo Kay

Dear Iamo,

Go to a large campus and join the swimming team. Float in the pool, your head will keep you afloat I'm sure, and let the girls come to you. My advice is by all means... TRANSFER!

Dear Amy,

I am helplessly in love with a junior boy who is everything rolled up in one package. Yet I am a nonenity, a lower than low freshman. I see him in the snack bar (once he actually smiled at me!) and occasionally in the library. As a result, I divide my time between these two places. I cannot study in the snack bar and when I'm in the library I just sit and watch for HIM. What should I do? I am going to flunk out before he even graduates!

Dee Stressed

Dear Dee,

Go to your advisor. Your advisor is a parent to you and will prescribe a suitable study schedule and also give you advice on how to get this boy to pay attention to you. Besides, the interview will go on record for the Sophomore Review!

Dear Amy,

I am a faculty member and am in an advisory position. One of my charges is a girl with who I am in love. She sits in class—I teach a very simple survey type course—with a blank, empty look on her face, but her brown eyes enchant me. Although she is twenty years my junior, I know our love could grow. My problem is that she is going to funk out before our relationship can mature.

Anonymous

Dear Prof,

Gee whiz, you had better read a book! You are supposed to know all the answers! I'm sure you can find something in the school library, if not, perhaps you could ask your mother?

Confidential to Confused,

Dear heart, don't believe his foolish line, remember that a bird in the hand is worth two on the list and only you have to pay the piper. A stitch in time may save nine, but a penny saved is a penny toward your future. Don't believe the stories he tells you, don't fall for a line for which you will suffer in the long run. I will give it to you straight, make your decision for yourself: They are marking chapel this week!

LAMBDA CHI KAPPA

Well, the word from the upper echelon is, "Write the article with an April-Fool's Day twist;" so I shall attempt to bend the material accordingly.

Speaking of the upper echelon, let's first sparkle the new Susquehanna staff with congratulatory mention. We're glad to see brother Ray Yeingst as the business manager, brother Les Rudisill as woman's sports editor, brother Bob Kenyon—photography editor, and pledge brothers Jerry Kungle and Don Lehmer, advertising manager and circulation manager, respectively. Naturally they are all poor choices. (the April-Fool's Day twist—remember)

Attention! Or as they say in Istanbul ("Istarbul, not Constantinople"), "Attention!" (Naturally it depends on who is in Istanbul.) There is an announcement that the past test week was merely a trial run—a sort of mock raid. All tests taken during that time are to be considered invalid, and next week the actual testing will commence. The call to arms is, "Bring on the No-Doz".

Lambda Chi dropped two games to Theta Chi in Bolley-Vall.

Painting, sanding, repairing, etc. is the big play at the fraternity home in preparation for the Initiation weekend, the last of April. The battle cry—"Don't paint that door green!"

In conclusion I should like to say. . .

DELTA MU PHI NEWS

The brothers were very unhappy to note the Ladies' Nite that the girls presented on Saturday night. Everything was terrible, especially the food. Everyone present agreed that they had a lousy time. We were unfortunate in having Dr. and Mrs. T. T. Smith and the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lotz as our whip-swinging, "April foo" chaperones.

The brothers wish to congratulate brother Bob Artz who was fortunate enough to land a big singing role in an upcoming Broadway production. Bob will handle the lead part in the new musical "No Time for Professors." We urge all students who can possibly make it to attend opening night, on May 20, and enjoy a fabulous evening. Admission price will be $.35.

The Black and Orange softball squad recently defeated a strong Cedarcrest College team in a non-league contest. Th score 69-7, with brothers Lynx Wolfe and Walt Benham contributing home runs to the victory. Sophia Loren connected with a round-tripper for the Cedar Crest lassies.

Phi Mu Delta was pleased to note that the conservatory suffered a wonderful fire that burned out ten practice rooms. This is really great news, and the person that set the fire deserves a huge round of applause! ! ! !

We'd like to slip this one last thing in here before we sign off. The brothers were extremely pleased (Zoweeee! !) to note the visit of Miss Zelda Finkelstein, of Vassar. Miss Finkelstein was kind enough to present the entire brotherhood with an impromptu dance on Friday night at 10:30 p. m. All brothers, pledges, professors, invited guests, etc., etc., etc., calmly watched Miss Finkelstein as she reduced our entire dining room to a mas sof charred ruble. We thank her profusely and hope she will come back again, and again, and again and again. . . !

THETA CHI NEWS

Hi! Oh, excuse me, fellow slaves. Friends, enemies, and decadent students, the brothers are pleased to announce that thy have not come to praise Chief Susquehannock, but to bury the hatchet—right in the middle of his octogenarian cranium. The chief. you know, is the expounder of that famous doctrine of A.B.C.—Authority, Backwardness, and Censorship. So we, the brothers who are dying, salute you. Many things happened to the brothers this week!

The pledges are attempting revolution. They demand fair treatment from the brothers, freedom of expression, open-mindedness on the part of the brothers, modern education, and an honest effort to find truth. In addition to these requests, they further their anarchy by refusing to write term papers for their big brothers. Leaders in these demands include: that disillusioned rebel Chief Smith, Ed "TV watching (that's a progressive form of corruption)" Strayer, and Jim Rhodes.

The brothers are pleased to note these recent elections and appointments. Ken James, the new world champion pinochle king, Carl Catherman's appointment to the Asia language interpreting bureau, John Albright elected as president of the SPNBSR (the Society for the Preservation and Non-Breakage of Slide Rules), Buck Clark the new head of the Conservatory, Stanley DeCamp the new adviser of The Susquehanna (Oh, no!), Jack Anthony the president of the Business (Monkey) Society, Dr. Gilbert's endurance record of ping pong victories, and Day Oh as S. U.'s Business Manager.

Congratulations to Frank Romano on his recent appointment as head basketball coach of San Francisco University. S. F. U. is in the heart of the celery-growing country, and now he can eat to his heart's delight. Felicitations also to to Dave Diehl for playing the part of the crocodile in the song, "Don't ever Smile at a Crocodile", to Chester Hall for growing a colorless, odorless rose, and for finally getting to press.

Sorry to see our handsome Foster McCurley lose the academy award to Yul Brynner. The reason was that Foster refused to have his hair shaved.

The brothers were pleased to see the acquisition of three new TV sets for the lounge; also applauded was the new separation policy in the dining hall. Such modernness is wonderful.

JANE MANSFIELD From P. 1

the lucky girl. She is. . . Jane Mansfield, the darling of Theta Chi, Lambda Chi, Phi Mu Delta, Men's Student Council, and every other men's organization on campus.

The queen's court is composed of lesser figures. They are as follows: Kim Novak, lady in waiting; Rita Hayworth, Marilyn Monroe, Susan Hayward, June Allison, and Leslie Caron.

The 1956 Queen, Miss Elizabeth Taylor, crowned this year's reigning beauty. Then the May pole dancers, dressed in the traditional attire of Bermudas, knee socks, and sweat shirts, wind the multi-colored May Pole for the Queen.

For Queen Jane this is the beginning of a glorious day. Immediately after the crowning there will be a lawn party with dancing and dining. Then there will be the official Queen's banquet. For a thrilling climax, che and her court will sit in state at the May Day Dance, held in the grand-hallroom of the Governor Snyder Hotel.

DAPPA KELTA

Starcourse this coming Wednesday morning will be presented at 7:00 sharp. Dr. R. U. A. Monkey will talk on the Origin of the Species. From all reports, one of S. U.'s student body has been identified as the missing link. He has been offered 100 bananas daily to accompany Mr. R. U. A. Monkey on his tour through East Africa.

The Dappa Kelta "Mudwash" is this Saturday afternoon. For only $1.50 we will guarantee to mud your car. With your support, we will be able to buy a new supply of backscratchers. Redheaded boys are excluded: your cars are dirty enough.

The football team next year promises to be extra special. Sorry boys, but when Blackie Keil saw the DK team hard at work he immediately signed them. Don't forget though, we need your support to back us up.

Construction of the new $.48 library is underway. It will be a lovely rustic building about 6' by 8', situated at the entrance to the football field. On Saturdays and evenings it will be used as a ticket booth. Its shelves will be lined with paper. No books will be bought until next year when the True Romance subscription runs out.

Congratulations to Brother Lois Andren for making all F's on the last marking period. Keep up the good work. Our thanks to the Administration for the automatic pop-corn poppers they put in each room. It was a veryp pleasant surprise. A bushel of very pleasant surprise Te-He for being selected as Miss Left-Over Flash Bulb for 1957.

In closing I leave this thought in mind. Teter-Tetter, Tetter-Teter.

IOTA ALPHA SIGMA

SAI has just recently completed their building drive for $50,000 with which they will build a modern sorority house in the vacant field across from Seibert. Frank Lloyd Wright, contemporary architect, has designed the house which will have 20 rooms, each equipped with an alto tonnette. T. V. and Hi-Fi sets will be built into the walls of each room and all meals will be served in bed.

Sisters Gloria Myers recently has replaced Maria Callas as prima donna soprano with the Metropolitan Opera Company. For her audition Gloria sang "Throw Mamma From the Train a Bass Horn."

All sisters of Sigma Omega are touring Europe this summer under the auspices of a generous "Con" faculty member who wants to remain annonymous—Ssim Regiettop.

Sister Carolann Zust will present her alto wood block recital on Friday morning at 5:32 a. m. in the Lounge. All attending are requested to bring soprano wood blocks to accompany Miss Zust in her numbers.

Dr. John Leach has recently trained his collie to make bassoon reeds which he is selling for the very nominal cost of $5.00 each. All funds will be used to purchase a 10 year supply of tobacco and pipes for Dr. Leach.

Thought for the week—do you know that Billman spelled backwards is "Namlib?"

Crowd Gets Dusted In Powder-Puff Game

Susquehanna Universty Stadium saw much action on the gridiron April 6, when the AD Pirates and the KD Caterpillars clashed in the Powder Puff Bowl. A capacity crowd of 20,000 witnessed this history making event.

In the opening quarter, the Pirates kicked the ball out of the Stadium into the ball park. The game was delayed for 30 seconds until Speedy Crothers found the ball.

During half time with the score tied 69-69, the mammoth crowd was entertained by the string music of Lawrence Welk and the Rockettes precision drills.

The Pirates were coached by Whitey Keiser, Shoes, Herbie Daniels, Jerry Bernstein and Denny Shenk. The Caterpillars were under the able direction of Walt Benham, Scully, Milroy, Bartlow, and Porky.

In the third half Lois Andren kicked the pigskin down to the Pirates 3 yard line where it was taken by Joanie Shetterly, who ran to the Caterpillars 45 yard line where she threw a pass intended for Carole Sadosuk into the arms of Janis Adams. In the next down the Pirates were penalized 15.5 yards. One of their coaches misunderstood the rules and taught the girls how to throw dirt in the center's eye. Shoes still can't understand the penalty.

At the final whistle the score was 77-69. Who won? Well come to the game April 6th and find out for yourself.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

At the regular meeting of the Women's Athletic Association it was announced by President Marty McNitt, that the girls of W.A.A. had volunteered their services for work on the new music hall.

The organization will be divided into two crews; one will pour concrete for the foundation of the building, and the other crew will begin digging another ditch for an underground tunnel to the snack bar.

The girls of Tau Kappa will serve as foremen for the work and Miss Betsy McDowell is the chief engineer of the project.

On the sports scene we find that S. U.'s cagerettes have successfully completed their intercollegiate schedule and will appear in the Madison Square Garden play off. . . Congratulations to Oscar winner, Ingrid McNitt. . . and to the Pisan for his performance on the faculty team. . . FLASH. . . mixed phys' ed classes will begin next week.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

F. T. A. SPONSORS EDUCATION REVOLT

At a recent meeting of the Future Teachers of America, the organization unanimously voted to sponsor a revolt against any form of education offered on the Susquehanna University campus. This revolt is to be staged on April 31, 1957 in the dormitories and fraternity houses.

The F.T.A. believes this revolt will be to the students' advantage. The health of the students will improve since all students will be able to get the proper amount of sleep in bed instead of dividing it up between their beds and the classrooms. In this way expenses may be cut down by the elimination of the student health service.

Also in this revolt, the library will be off limits for all students. The building will no longer need to be guarded against the on rush of eager S. U. students in their quest for knowledge.

Everyone will be able to join in on all conversations on campus since one will need absolutely no intelligence to understand the trend of thought. All conversations and bull sessions on campus will become completely unintellectual.

If any student has any other ideas how to turn S. U. into a complete ruin, will they please submit all ideas to any officer of the organization. The F.T.A. hopes all students will cooperate in their venture to make S. U. a better place for people to enjoy themselvs.

MEN'S SPORTS

The baseball season has not yet officially opened here at S. U. and already, through the grapevine, it is understood that an invitation has been issued to the Crusader team to enter the NCAA regional play-offs in May.

It has been noted that several scouts from the Cleveland Indians (we identified them through their headdress) and the Boston "Red" Sox have been on hand for the practice sessions.

It has been brought to my attention by a reliable source that we are to be blessed with several improvements and additions to our athletic department. Remodeling of the swimming pool with maroon tiling on the bottom of the pool and three diving boards. Additional bleachers for our football field to increase the seating capacity from 2,000 to 25,000.

A new field house will be be constructed which will include an indoor track, tennis courts, and a standard size baseball diamond. The roof of the field house will be an ultra-modern glass bubble.

Our ardent business manager reports that there are still $15,000 worth of athletic scholarships unclaimed.

Campus Spotlights

Farmall 'Red' Tractor

This week the campus spotlight is on our very versatile personality "Red" Tractor. Red is a very suitable nickname given him by his many friends since Farmall is rather lengthy.

Here on Susquehanna's broad campus Red serves on many projects. Take for instance the snow he plows so as to make the sidewalks clear for us to walk on. In the fall he rakes the many leaves so our campus doesn't get that cluttered look. Spring finds him mowing the grass. Red is a special character on this campus with special permission to travel anywhere, particularly on the grass which is forbidden to fellow students.

Red can be seen by Bogar Hall attempting to level the heaps of ground left by the bulldog and his crew of workmen.

Red also hauls away the refuge and garbage from the various dormitories. So you can see his jobs are many.

Bringing the mail to the students is one of his most rewarding jobs; although his reward is not monetary.

Sowing grass seed and fertilizer helps keep our campus green; one of Red's Spring and Fall jobs.

So you can see that Red Tractor is very deserving of this Campus Spotlight.

ents, is going to play a contemporary drum solo. The title is "Ump ba ba bi, bi ba ba boo."

Mary Potteiger will play and sing at the same time. Her choice is the favorite "Song without Words, No. 1" by Mendelssohn.

Mr. Lavan Robinson has been having a terrible time deciding in what medium he will perform. He finally decided to just vocalize but he will entitle it "Vocalese Ad libitum". He will be accompanied by banging pipes.

The grand finale ("Long Live Liberace") will be directed by Dr. Percy Linebaugh who has worked hard to make this recital a success. Be sure to notice his grunts as he tries to pull emotion from the faculty ensemble.

In addition to the above changes, the society is planning to build a theater for Mr. Kleinsorg and the Susquehanna Players. The method to this madness is this: by taking the Players from the Little Theater, it can be converted into a 122 in. cyclotron. The building is ideal and the cyclotron should arrive any day.

The society will also provide all faculty members in the department with new automobiles. These cars will be specially built for the Susquehanna professor. They were designed by a student in the science department and are sure to become universal favorites with science teachers. The cars are long black Cadillacs, with bullet proof glass, and completely automatic controls. They are lead coated to prevent radiation from reaching the occupants, and each will come equipped with two way radio, television, chauffeur, and two bodys guards. Since the professors are so essential in a department of radiation, the society feels it is necessary to offer them all the protection possible.

If any of you who read this article are interested in learning more of the "Susquehanna Scientific Revolution", see any member of the Biemic Society, or any professor in the present department. Just by walking past Stele Science you can see evidence of the fact that somthing mysterious is going on. After all, no one, no one in the world, would ever think of putting bars on a science building unless the above were absolutely true.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA WILL GO NATIONAL

On Saturday, April 27, the local colony of Lambda Chi Alpha will become the one hundred and seventy second chapter of the national fraternity. It was almost a year ago that the Bond and Key Club was introduced to Lambda Chi, and became one of its colonies.

The transformation from colony to chapter status is not a passive attainment but rather, an active and laborous graduation. The duties of preparation are best reflected in the manner of committees, so established: committee on finance, chairman Roger Holtzapple; committee on membership, chairman Vernon Hoover; committee on publicity, chairman Ron Fouche; committee on registration, chairman Dick Purnell; committee on ceremony, chairman Lester Rudisill; committee on housing and hospitality, chairman George Pospisil; dance committee, chairman Ray Yeingst; committee on banquet, chairman Dick Neff. With the aid of fraternity service-secretary, brother George W. Spasyk, and under the direction of two local fraternity "administrations" (particularly: presidents Arthur Zimmerman and Donald Boyer); the Susquehanna colony has progressed toward its goal.

The week-end of April 26 to 28 is scheduled with the hope to compliment the importance of the event.

Bumbarger, Hazen Will Attend Seminar

During the week of Easter Vacation the National Lutheran Council is sponsoring a Seminar for Lutheran Students. The Seminar will be held in Washington, D. C., and the purpose is to observe the government in action.

Visits will be made to the U. S. Congress, with the opportunitity of attending sessions of both the House of Representatives and the Senate.

In addition to visiting the other departments of the government and various historical spots of interest several prominent national leaders will be guest speakers for the group.

In past years several hundred Lutheran students from all parts of the United States have attended this worhwhile conference. Last year Susquehanna sent one delegate. Allan Hazen and Nancy Bumbarger will be present representing Susquehanna University this year.

COUNCIL MINUTES

Joint meeting of the Men's and Women's Student Councils was held this past Tuesday evening in the Men's Day Student room. George Pospisil, president of the men's council presided over the meeting.

The main topic of discussion was conditions of the lounge and snack bar. It was decided that more forceful action will be instigated to improve this condition and keep the lounge clean since this is the time of year when "the Class of '61 looks over our school". We all have a responsibility to our school of making a good impression on future "Frosh".

A discussion was also held on the possibility of a future merger of the two councils and consideration will be given this suggestion in the near future.

ASSISTANCESHIP WON BY D. WISE

A senior student at Susquehanna University, C. David Wise of Philadelphia, has just received a research assistantship at Yale University and will begin his work there in September.

Selected this year for honorable mention by the National Science Foundation, Mr. Wise was offered scholarships and fellowships by fifteen universities across the nation. He made definite application to four such universities: Penn State U., U. of Delaware, Hardvard and Yale. He was accepted at all four and after careful consideration selected Yale.

Mr. Wise, at Yale, will proceed toward his Ph.D. degree in the field of biophysical chemistry.

At Susquehanna, he is president of the Biemic Society, honorary society for science students and has been active in his fraternity, Phi Mu Delta.

"A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM" COMEDY HIGHLIGHTS THE ANNUAL SUSQUEHANNA SHAKESPEAREAN FESTIVAL

The capriciousness, the changeableness of lovers is the theme of the perenially romantic and entertaining comedy, A Midsummer Night's Dream, now being presented nightly by the Susquehanna Players in the Little Theater. Shakespeare's delightful comedy introduces to the student body and schools of the surrounding area, Susquehanna University's Eighth Annual Shakespearean Festival.

The play presents a group of lovers so irresponsible in their actions that their freakish behaviour can be explained only by the intervention of supernatural beings. All of the lovers in the play switch their affections from time to time, but they are not responsible for their infidelity; love makes them irrational.

FRANK STUGART
(Puck)

Particular mention must be made of the outstanding set creation produced by the Production Staff of the Susquehanna Players and of the brilliant stage effects and set decor which greatly enhance the production of A Midsummer Night's Dream. The Shakespearean Festival will continue through April 11. Students may attend the Wednesday night performance, April 10, if they were unable to secure tickets for the other student performances.

Seniors appearing in the cast include:

Puck, the fairy-spirit, is played by Frank Stugart, a new member of the Susquehanna Players. Frank comes from Montgomery, Pa., and has been active in several campus organizations. They are: Phi Mu Delta, Pi Gamma Mu, Biemic Society, and May Day Committee.

Thiry Reamer, who has one of the romantic roles in A Midsummer Night's Dream is a senior liberal arts student. She is chaplain of Alpha Thiry was also named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. A veteran actress, she has taken part in "The Heiress", Macbeth, "The Late George Apley", and is "Helena" in the present production.

George R. Cawley plays the part of Peter Quince, an actor-tradesman, in A Midsummer Night's Dream. George who resides in Selinsgrove, is a member of Phi Mu Delta. He appeared on S. U.'s stage in the Merchant of Venice in 1952. He also played the part of Yank in "The Hasty Heart", a production of the Sunbury Community Players.

Barbara Boob returned to the Susquehanna stage as a spirit in the current play. Barb has also been in Hamlet, "You Can't Take It With You", and Macbeth. Quite active in campus activities, Barbara has been corresponding secretary of Sigma Alpha Iota, and historian of F.T.A. She is a member of Alpha Psi Omega and W.A.A. At present she is also rehearsing for the operetta, "Down In The Valley."

Frank Chango is a senior who hails from Mt. Carmel, Pa. While at Susquehanna, he has been a member of

Folk Music Is Background For "Down In The Valley"

The music department of Susquehanna University will hold a "Night at the Opera" with the presentation of "Down in the Valley", music by Kurt Weil and libretta by Arnold Sundgard, tonight at 8:30 p. m. in Seibert Auditorium. The folk opera depicts a story of southern mountain folks and contains typical American folk music.

Barbara Boob, music senior, and Bucky Clark, sophomore, will have the romantic leads as the ill-fated lovers. Barbara comes to S. U. from Millheim, Penna. and she is active in band, chapel choir and dramatics here on campus. Barbara is also a member of Sigma Alpha Iota, national honorary music fraternity for women.

Bucky, from Hatboro, Penna., was in last year's production of "A Night at the Opera". He is a member of band, chapel choir, Susquehanna Singers, and a brother of Theta Chi Fraternity.

The villain will be played by Wayne Miller, sophomore from West Stratford, Connecticut. "Skitch" is active in band, orchestra, chapel choir, and he Susquehanna Singers.

A junior Richard Kisslak from Johnstown Penna. will be the leader who relates sequences between scenes. Dick is a member of band, chapel choir Susquehanna Singers, Theta Chi Fraternity, and is active in sports.

Robert White, junior from Morrisville, Penna., will be cast as the preacher. Bob is a member of Phi Mu Delta Fraternity and he is active in chapel choir, and the Susquehanna Sngers.

Other principals include Gary Crum, Baird Collins, and Bill Aspray, juniors; David Diehl, freshman; and Denece Newhard and Anne Rey-

Karniol Paintings On Exhibit at S. U.

The student body and the many guests of the Shakespearean Festival are highly privileged to have on exhibition in Bogar Hall a collection of paintings of unusual interest by the talented artst, Hilda Karniol, of Sunbury. The work of this highly gifted woman will be seen through the 12th of this month.

Mrs. Karniol was born in Vienna, and received her training there and in Italy and Switzerland. She and her husband lived for several years in France prior to coming to the United States, where she continued her work and ripened her style. The fruit of it is to be seen in the fifth annual exhibition currently hanging in Bogar.

The twenty-four pictures represent several media—oils, casein, combinations of these two, and gouache, or opaque water colors. Her techniques and subjects vary almost as widely as her media. Most of her landscapes show a modified realism; modified,

"Jazz Comes to SU" Sponsored by SAI

Jazz comes to S. U. on Friday, April 26 at 8:30 p. m. ! ! All jazz lovers will revel in this news by looking forward to a good evening's entertainment. This program will be sponsored by SAI and the very nominal cost is only $.25 per person.

The SAI girls will present their musical parody on the nursery rhyme "Jack and Jill", which they presented last year for the Inter-Fraternity-Sorority Sing. The parody itself is done in the style, rather a farce on the style, of various musical composers with the final chorus in the style of a modern jazz chorus line.

Gloria Myers will serve as narrator, and Denece Newhard will portray the angelic chorister of Handel's style. Nancy Kendall will present the

Dr. Amy to Conduct Research Program

Dr. Robert L. Amy, associate professor of biology, has recently received a grant from the United States Public Health Service in the amount of $7,313. This grant has come to Dr. Amy and Susquehanna University upon the recommendation of the National Advisory Council and covers a two year period.

Briefly, the study, which is a continuation of work originally started by Dr. Amy in the Biology Division of the Oak Ridge National Laboratories, is in connection with an investigation concerning the effects of ultra-violet radiation on insect development.

It is known that a number of the substances involved in embryological development are sensitive to this type of radiation, but at present, their exact role in development is poorly understood. The purpose of the proposed study is to gain additional information about these sub-

"CREDIT WHERE CREDIT IS DUE"

Many complaints, gripes, etc. have been sounded at various times during the current year concerning the food served in Horton Dining Hall. This writer is of the opinion that although some criticism is justified, some praise is also in order. Why run-down to the extent that any improvement is overlooked?

Haven't you noticed an improvement in the past several weeks in the meals being served in our dining hall? Individual servings of chicken, filled pork chops, baked potatoes, green asparagus, spiced pears, and pineapple salad are among the dishes which have been especially enjoyed by SU's students.

When meals are prepared for 200 or 300 people, it cannot be expected that home-cooking exactly "like mother's" will be the result. Let's think of this before we criticize.

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Humphrey and her staff for their special efforts in preparing varied and wholesome meals for the student body. Theirs is a thankless job, and when special improvements appear I think they should be given mention.

Having been informed by the editor that this issue is long on copy and short on space, I shall make my comments brief. First, my sincere thanks go to all of those who helped in any way with the Susquehanna this past year. The staff was most competent and cooperative, and I enjoyed working with it.

To the new staff, and to Don in particular, I would like to wish the very best of luck. I am sure they will do their utmost to produce a good paper in the coming year.

Dream is the first play in which Charles has appeared here at S. U.

Demetrius, in love with Hermia, is played by Ronald Anthony who hails from East Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania. Ron is taking pre-engineering. He is a member of the band. This is the first play on campus in which Ron has participated.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA From P. 1

After the registration of guests Friday afternoon (April 26), will follow a buffet dinner and an evening smoker, at the fraternity home. The ceremony that will create the local chapter will dominate the daylight hours of Saturday. The ritual will be performed at Trinity Lutheran Church, and conducted by the chapter-ritual-team of Maryland. At noon, Saturday, the guests will feast at the fraternity home. An evening formal banquet will proceed at American Legion Post 201, Sunday morning church attendance completes the "big weekend".

Those pledges prepared for attainment, will become brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha during the ceremony at Trinity Lutheran Church. Alumni of Bond and Key, who so-desires to obtain membership to the national brotherhood, will do so at the same occasion.

The weekend events are expected to attract a number of the national officers, as well as numerous "brothers" from different parts of the United States. Acceptance of invitations has been announced as far away as 1800 miles.

(Light Technician)

has appeared in Hamlet and "The Heiress" here at S. U.

Hermia in love with Lysander, is played by Joan Heslop, a freshman from Trevorton, Pennsylvania. Joan is taking business education. She is a Kappa Delta pledge, and has appeared in "The Patsy" here on campus.

Titania is played by Betty Ann Ormond, who is a junior from Summit, New Jersey. Betty Ann is in business education. She is president of Kappa Delta sorority, a member of the Business Society, F.T.A., Pan-Hellenic, Judiciary, W.S.C., and Susquehanna Players. She is also a cheerleader and plays intramurals. Other plays Betty Ann has appeared in here at S. U. include "So Wonderful in White" and Hamlet.

The spirit was played by Cindy Smith a freshman from Hazleton, Pennsylvania. Cindy is in liberal arts and is a member of W.S.C., librarian of F.T.A., S.C.A., and is proofreader on The Susquehanna staff. Cindy has done backstage work in other plays on campus tihs year. A member of W.A.A., she is active in intramural sports.

Behind the actual scenes of a play with its actors and backdrops stands an impressive array of vital people whose role plays an important part in the success of the play. Such is the produtcion staff of A Midsummer Night's Dream. Their work provides the beautiful scenery and costumes, the lighting effects, the sound effects, and takes care of all the necessary business details such as publicity. To them, along with the players, we give a big hand for a job well done.

The production staff of A Midsummer Night's Dream is as follows:

Shakespearean Consultant, Dr. Arthur H. Wlson; Business Manager, James Bayruns; Stage Managers, Gil Bannerman, Walter Benham; Assistant Stage Manager, Lawrence Hoover.

Letter to the Editor

Certainly every Susquehanna student has had at one time or another to do some work in the college library. One who does so for the first time walks up to the building and no doubt, notices that it is a handsome, well kept structure. Upon walking inside, our imaginary student finds a neat and orderly interior awainting him. He then sits down, flicks on the lamp, and there ends his heretofore good impression of the library.

There is obviously room for improvement in the library lighting system. The advantage of moderately quiet study conditions that the library offers are offset by the poor illumination.

The following suggestions might possibly aid in the correction of the situation:

1. Purchase a type of lamp with a wider shade to diffuse the light more evenly, and at the same time, increase the watt power of the bulbs.
2. Install more lamps with approximately three to a table, instead of the customary two.

Thank you for your time,
Bob Fiscus

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

We "hear tell' of a "bad-old" vacation creeping up. Time to grab your second wind for that final sprint.

It appears that S. U.'s campus is finally being put back together. Reports of great skill and ability while balancing on a narrow plank above a sea of mud were in evidence. There is hope expressed that no two stubborn individuals shall meet at the center of the plank, both of whom might refuse to turn back.

The brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha have been laboring in preparation for the "Initiation Weekend". Saturday, many of the brothers and pledges could be seen painting, sanding, etc. Brother Herb Daniels, house manager, deserves much credit for preparation of the house for the event.

By. word of mouth, I am informed and asked to announce that brother Lenny Taomas "pinned" brother Dick Neff in a wrestling contest. (hmmm).

Congratulations to brothers—Jerry Herbster, Vern Hoover, and Fred Chivala for having received invitations of membership from Pi Gamma Mu.

Also congratulatory mention to Mr. Kleinsorg and his cast of Susquehanna Players for their fine presentation of A Midsummer Night's Dream. Pledge-brother Charles Rovenolt was among the cast.

And other congratulations to Theta Chi for having secured the volleyball trophy.

Well, three "congratulations" and an "out".

———S———

PHI MU DELTA

Congratulations this week are in order for the Susquehanna Players for their fine presentation of Shakespeare's fantasy, A Midsummer Night's Dream. The set and lighting was great, the roles were well-filled, and Mrs. Kleinsorg is to be commended for another outstanding production. Plaudits are due to brothers Frank Stugart, Frank Chango, Al Hazen, George Cawley, and Bill Hand, and pledges John Brokenshire, Dan Marvin, Vance Maneval, and Jim Middleswarth. Well-earned praise is due Gil Bannerman, Walt Benham, Larry Hoover, Al Hazen, Doug Smtih, Gerry Fletcher, Bob Bartels, and Paul Olbrich for their "behind the scenes" work Thanks also to the brothers and pledges who acted as ushers throughout the week.

After the play, an open house was held at Mu Alpha Chapter. Refreshments were served, with pledge Dawson Frock in charge of arrangements for the affair. We were happy to welcome members of the cast, the brothers and their guests, and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Stevens, Miss Mary Potteiger, Miss Janet Rohrbach, Miss Ruth Meister, Dr. Lyder Unstad, Mr. Robert W. Meader, and Mr. Albert Potteiger.

Installation of officers was held at the weekly meeting of Mu Alpha chapter this past Wednesday. The brotherhood takes this opportunity to commend the past officers for serving us so well, and wish the new officers the best of luck as they assume their positions. We know they too will do a fine job.

Congratulations to brothers Don Trimmer, Gerry Fletcher, and Bill Hand in being selected to the posts of Editor-in-Chief, Managing Editor, and Editorial Assistant, respectively, of The Susquehanna.

Congratulations to brother John Biber who recently pinned Charlene Grunner, a freshman from New York.

The brothers are happy to welcome former pledge Joe Ziemian back for a short visit on Saturday evening. Joe is now attending Rutgers University.

It seems that congratulations are the order of the day; this time Doug Smith and James White for their recent invitation to become members of Pi Gamma Mu.

Last, but not least, a feather for the cap of the Big Red of Theta Chi for coping the volleyball championship. Mu Alpha chapter finished third.

THETA CHI NEWS

After our little escape into foolishness last week we now can return to some red news.

The brothers elected new officers for next year. Proudly receiving the gavel as president is Jack Anthony. Foster McCurley is vice-president. Other officers are: secretary, Stanley DeCamp; treasurer, John Renshaw; assistant treasurer, Carl Catherman; chaplain, Bucky Clark; historian, "Chief" Smith; social chairman, Ray Stiller; guards, Don Colen.an and Dave Dienl; and librarian, Bill Elmer. We congratulate these men and wish them the best of success in their offices.

To the outgoing officers the brothers extend a hand of gratitude and honors.

Over the past two weeks the Big Red defeated Lambda Chi Alpha and Phi Mu Delta, two games to one; coupled with another Lambda Chi loss, this gave the intramural volleyball championship to Theta Chi. Congratulations to all the brothers who helped bring home the prize. It can only be said, in the words of that famous cliche, "if at first you don't succeed, try, try again." You will, we did.

Congratulations to Mr. Axel Kleinsorg and the cast of A Midsummer Night's Dream for a fine performance. The scenery and lighting were especially outstanding. Applause to brother Don Winey for his portrayal of "Moonshine."

After the play on Saturday night the brothers held an open house. In an atmosphere of soft easualness, everyone had an enjoyable evening. One thing of note—the Easter bunny's grass turned up early in a blaze. It was our privilege to have for the evening Mrs. Margaret Miller, Miss Leatrice Voorhees, and Mrs. Ernstine Connors. We thank them for their presence and good company.

Fat thought for the week: At last, at last, a pleasant vacation for everyone.

Administration News

President G. Morris Smith on Saturday, attended the inauguration of the new president of Franklin & Marshall College, Lancaster.

On Sunday and Monday, Dr. Smith was in Washington attending a meeting of the Board of Education of the U. L. C. A.

Dr. Albert A. Zimmer, associate professor of education at Susquehanna University, was in Harrisburg last week with a committee of the Middle States Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, considering the reaffirmation of the accreditation of Central Dauphin High School. Dr. Zimmer is Chairman of a subcommittee of Guidance and is a member of the sub-committee on Art and Music.

Coaches Henry J. "Whitey" Keil and Robert Pitello were on campus on April 3, in order to have a meeting with the boys interested in football for the approaching year.

On Monday, April 1, the first of a series of committee meetings was held to discuss plans for the Centennial Year. President Smith chose Dr. Amy as chairman of the committee. The next meeting will be April 8, and other ways to celebrate the Centennial Year will be brought up.

Professor Russell Hatz was unanimously elected president of the Selinsgrove Rotary Club at a meeting held Thursday evening at the Susquehanna Valley Country Club.

Dr. Thomas F. Armstrong, Jr., has released to the Susquehanna his schedule for showing slides from behind the Iron Curtain. The schedule is as follows:

April 9, Business and Professional Women's Club, Sunbury, Penna., (Italy);
April 11, Rotary Club, Sunbury, Pa.;
April 23, Albright Evangelical United Brethren Church, Sunbury, Pa., and April 25, Perry Township P.T.A., Mt. Pleasant Mills, Pa.

Campus Spotlights

This week The Susquehanna is proud to present a synopsis of a play which took many years to prepare. The title of the play is "Her Life at S.U." and the star is Miss Carole Sadosuk. So now if all is ready "Light that Spotlight, Please".

CAROLE SADOSUK

During the prologue we find Miss Sadosuk at her home near Mount Union, Pa. (Kistler to be exact). Here she spent four wonderful years at Captain Jack High School, where, as you can guess, she was active in school activities and graduated with high honors.

Now the play begius. The setting changes, and we find Carole as just a "frosh" on the campus of S. U. But it doesn't take Carole long to gain the respect that she had in high school.

Here at S. U. she is hurrying to and from the meetings of Alpha Delta Pi sorority, Future Teachers of America, S.C.A., Phi Kappa Phi, W.A.A., Tau Kappa, Women's Student Council, and Women's Judiciary Committee. Also she finds time for The Susquehanna, The Lanthorn, Freshman Orientation, and directing May Day activities. Through all this her scholarship does not suffer, because we are sure to find the name of our star on each and every Dean's List.

As the play draws to a close, we find Carole selected as a member of the 1957 May Court and Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. On June 1, the curtain closes when she receives a B.A. degree from Susquehanna University.

Now for a brief epilogue—Carol is teaching in a school near Paoli, Penna. Here she is teaching mathematics and Latin, and is rumored that here she is as active as was "Her Life at S. U."

FTA Installs Officers For Coming School Year

The installation of officers of the Susquehanna FTA chapter was held Thursday evening, April 4 in Bogar Hall. Lynn Hassinger, the past president, read the duties of each officer. As each officer made a silent pledge to fulfill her duties, she lit her candle from the center candle which represented the torch of knowledge.

The following are the new officers: president, Carolyn Gillaspie; vice-president, Nancy Bumbarger; secretary, Nancy Zimmerman; treasurer, Eleanor Pourron; librarian, Cynthia Smith; historian, Betty Ann Ormond.

Following a short business meeting, the chapter held a birthday party for the N.E.A., which was celebrating its one-hundredth anniversary that day. The party was complete, including a beautifully decorated birthday cake.

The visits to the local high schools were cancelled because of bad weather.

Carolyn Gillaspie and Nancy Zimmerman were chosen as delegates for the Pennsylvania Convention, which will be held May 3-4 at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

A dinner meeting is being planned for the regular May meeting, Thursday, May 2.

Sorority News

ALPHA DELTA PI NEWS

Anyone looking for six unemployed, slightly used football coaches? Since the game between the KD caterpillars and the AD Pirates was cancelled, the Alpha Delta coaches Jim Keiser, Jerry Bernstein, Herb Daniels, Danny Shank, Cary Shoemaker, and Joe Osinchak are tempararily unemployed. We wish to thank them for their time and instruction and hope they will soon find new employment.

Friday evening the sisters held an Easter-egg dyeing party in the sorority room in preparation for the Easter Egg Hunt on Sunday afternoon. Several underprivileged children from the Selinsgrove area were the guests of the girls in their annual party for underprivileged tots. Complete with decorated eggs, baskets and chocolates the tots were treated royally There was a surprise visit from Easter Bunny in the person of Sister Posey Nelson.

We wish to congratulate the sisters on their new offices in W.A.A. The new vice-president is Sister Bobbie Hewitt, the treasurer is Sister Sue Bates, the corresponding secretary is Sister Joan Shetterley and the representative to the Women's Student Council is Sister Jill Fuller. Also we wish to congratulate those sisters receiving their letters for participation in sports. The sisters obtaining enough points for Susquehanna letters are Bobbie Hewitt, Joan Shetterley, Nancy Altland, Sandy Meyer, Posy Nelson, and Jan Smith.

Shakespeare certainly left his mark on the S. U. campus. One of Mr. Axel Kleinsorg's best productions has been presented this year. Especially notable was the outstanding and professional job done by the students behind the scenes in the setting and lighting. To everyone for a job well done, congratulations. Alpha Delta Pi's were pleased to act as hostesses for the festival. One last word of congratulations to Sister Thiry Reamer for her poignant portrayal of "Helena".

KAPPA DELA NEWS

Have you been psychoanalyzed lately? Your tendency to be maladjusted may have increased in this past semester. In all matter of precaution it would seem wise to take advantage of this opportunity. Do you find yourself slipping into deep thought, muscles aching, eyes bulging, head splitting, ears ranging low, feet walking backwards? This is a definite deviation from the mean as you can plainly comprehend. Actually this is a very serious problem and should be taken care of immediately.

As you are catching up on your mental activities there are a few social ones which are just as important and should not be overlooked. Biemic Society Monday night was of great interest and importance to those dreaming of piloting their own guided missiles some day.

Actress Sister Judi Anderson, with her long lists of experience backing her up played the part of Queen of the Amazons; Sister Betty Ormond played Titania; and Pledge Joan Heslop filled the part of Hermia in the current Shakespearean production of A Midsummer Night's Dream". All were very successful in displaying their talent.

We were all very glad to see Sister Carol Marshall on campus this last week as she made her routine inspection of Susquehanna University.

Don't forget the Opera, April 9, in Seibert Chapel.

S.A.I. NEWS

Officers for the coming year were installed last Monday evening by the Sigma Omega chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota. President is Carolyn Gillaspie; vice-president is Carolann Zust; Denece Newhard is recording secretary; and Janet Gordon is corresponding secretary; Mary Davis is treasurer; Sgt.-at-arms is Janis Adams; chaplain is Mary Louise Neal and editor is Gloria Myers. Mary Moore and Alice Ann Patterson will be our accompanist and choral director respectively in 1957-1958.

All the sisters wish to thank the Shakespearean Players and Mr. Axel R. Kleinsorg for our enchanting two hour stay in the palace wood of A Midsummer Night's Dream. It was a professional production and in every way a success.

Sisters Carolyn Gillaspie, Mary Moore, Nancy Kendall, Gloria Myers, and Mary Davis performed for the Ladies Auxiliary Saturday afternoon in the college chapel.

We are happy to have Sister Mary Ellen Harrington back with us in our classes after a week of recuperating from a nasty cold. "Great is Jehovah". wasn't the same!

Don't miss a "Night at the Opera" tonight at 8:30 p.m. in Seibert Chapel. It's a tear jerker. S.A.I. would also have you keep in mind our "Jazz Comes to S. U." program April 26. Admission will be one fourth of a dollar — two bits.

NU SIGMA TAU NEWS

Now that those mid-semester tests are over (over?) and those little yellow slips have been given out we should be able to relax (relax?) just a little from the strain, stress, and worry of the week just past. Saturday isn't too far off anymore, and then we can all go home for ten glorious days of vacation.

The annual Shakespearean festival has come again to SU, this time in the form of a light comedy, "A Midsummer Night's Dream." The presentation is just as excellent as any of the other previous presentations. If you haven't already taken advantage of this opportunity of seeing Shakespeare at one of his best, be sure to do so this Wednesday evening.

Tonight is the operetta, "Down in the Valley," presented by the music students. This also is something we should not miss.

Sunday night the Susquehanna Singers presented a lenten concert in the chapel. It was enjoyed by all who attended.

Saturday night after the play, many of us attended the Theta Chi and Phi Mu Delta open houses. We all had a wonderful time, both at the play and the frat houses.

Did you know that on April 9, 1860 the Pony Express was started?

Well, have fun over the Easter vacation and on the 23rd we'll look forward to seeing all your faces again, this time they should be happy ones because than we only have 6 more weeks to go 'til summer.

It was nice to see Coach "Whitey" Keil and his assistant coach Bob Pitello on campus last Wednesday. The purpose of their visit was to meet with last year's football team and any other men interested in playing football next year. Carl "Shoes" Shoemaker, out last season with a broken leg, has already started to get into shape for the coming season.

Congratulations to Theta Chi for copping the Volleyball Trophy. Softball intramurals will be getting under way this week, and from observing the practices of the different teams entered, it looks like a red hot race is in the making. The Bunders from Lambda Chi Alpha are the defending champions.

Coach Dick Hummel of the Baseball squad is in need of a manager for the team. If anyone is interested in the job please see Coach Hummel immediately as the season is already underway.

The weatherman, for the second straight year, has put the damper on the first baseball game by washing out last Saturday's game with Lebanon Valley. With the weatherman's permission, another attempt will be made on Monday afternoon when the squad will travel to Lewisburg to tangle with the Bucknell Bisons. Following is the schedule for the remainder of the season.

LIBRARY NEWS

Have you tried out the new recording machine that is located in the library? It's available every Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday afternoon from 3:10 to 5:00. However it can be used at other times if you have someone who knows how to run it. The machine has been placed here for the benefit of the entire campus.

Are you planning to take a book out during Easter vacation? Books may be checked anytime after Tuesday, April 9. Reserve books may be checked out Saturday, April 13 in the morning. As a reminder to you who are writing term papers, magazines never leave the library.

If you would like a copy of the History of the Susquehanna Synod there are several copies left. There are also book lists available of the notable books of 1956. In order to obtain either of the above simply ask for them at the desk.

Following is a partial list of the new books obtained at the library:

Augustine to Galileo—The History of Science A. D. 400-1650 by A. C. Crombine.

Word Orgins and Their Romantic Stories by Funk.

An Introduction to Education in American Society by Raymond E. Gallahan.

The Story of the Metropolitan Opera 1883-1950 by Irving Kolodin.

Tecumseh Vision of Glory by Glen Tucker.

The Push Button World—Automation Today by Hugh-Jones.

The Correspondence of Thomas Wolfe and Homer Andrew Watt by New York University Press.

val has been an annual event ever since.

The second play of the series was The Taming of the Shrew. This play featured Paul Jones in the role of Petruccio, and Elaine Adamick playing the part of Katherine. The following year Jacob Spangler portrayed Shylock and Charlotte Newman played Portia in The Merchant of Venice. In 1953 the Susquehanna Players performed A Midsummer Night's Dream. Kenneth Erdley played the role of Puck, and Herbert Krause played Bottom.

The year 1954 marked the first repitition of the series. Macbeth was once again performed on the Susquehanna stage, this time with Clyde Kauffman in the role of Macbeth and Audrey Vollman as Lady Macbeth. The following year Romeo and Juliet was presented. Frank Chango and Charlotte Sandt co-starred in the title roles.

Last year's production of Hamlet saw Clyde Kauffman again playing a title role with Judi Anderson as Gertrude, Donald Boyer as Claudius, and Donald Trimmer as Polonius. This year's performance of A Midsummer Night's Dream is the eighth in the series of festivals. It is the second year for the performance of this particular play. The choice of the play for next year has not yet been made. Twelfth Night, Comedy of Errors and Julius Caesar are the most important possibilities.

When the Shakespearean Festival originated it ran for only a week. Since then increased demand for the performance has led to an increase in the number of showings for each play. On one occasion (the 1952 production of The Merchant of Venice) the usual two weeks did not allow sufficient performance time to accomodate all who wishes to see the play. In order not to prolong the festival unnecessarily, the play was moved to Millersburg for a large one-night performance.

There are two basic purposes behind the Shakespearean festival at Susquehanna. The first purpose is to make Shakespeare live by presenting his plays to the students of the college. The second purpose is to provide an educational program for the 1500 to 2000 high schools students who come to S. U. each year to see the Shakespearean play. The entire program is coordinated with the English departments of high schools within a radius of almost 100 miles from Selinsgrove. The choice of the play itself is partially dependent upon the desires of the teachers involved. After the high schools have been informed concerning the play for the year, that particular play is taught in the English classes of the high school. In that way Shakespeare is introduced to the students before they see the play. When they come to S. U. they see, often for the first time, that Shakespeare is not a dry and dusty author who should be confined to books on a shelf, but that he is a dramatist of the first rank, and that his plays have meaning to us, several centuries after their first appearance.

No history of the Shakespearean Festival would be complete without some refrence to Mr. Axel Kleinsorg, the man who has directed the plays in the festival from the beginning. Mr. Kleinsorg is quite well qualified to direct Shakespearean drama, since he studied under B. Iden Payne, the former director of the Stratford-On-Avon Memorial Theater. In addition to his duties as an instructor in English department here at Susquehanna, Mr. Kleinsorg is also the guiding hand behind all the dramatic productions at the college. He has also directed productions of the Sunbury Community Theater, the Selinsgrove Centennial Players, and summer stock in Bucks County.

People find it a lot easier to convert cash into experience than experience into cash.

that is, by the broad techniques more usually associated with what is popularly known as impressionism. Typical of this technique is the magnificent painting etitled "Trees," and even more in the "White Moutains from Mt. Washington." The latter is especially subtle, combining as it does composition based on the S-curve and on receding planes, plus the atmospheric perspective on the ranges of the receding hills.

Her seascapes are equally happy. Several types of perspective appear here, and of composition as well. The familiar S-curve appears time and again, often in most subtle and unobtrusive ways, coupled with the strong diagonals which give the picture force and power and dynamic lift. Another factor is the color tieins, whereby the picture is held together by spots of repeated color of the same or a derived hue.

Another subject with which Hilda Karniol has extraordinary success is still-life, of which the exhibition has several examples. Especially noteworthy are her paintings of roses and of lilacs. And then there is a portrait! Mrs. Karniol is peculiarly able to catch character, though this picture of little Steve does not display this particular gift as other of her portraits have. After all, he is a very little boy, and it is hardly to be expected that a child of two will have developed many character lines.

The work, however, which has caused the most comment is a series of six expression paintings of great power. Those who look for a realistic representation of the destruction of a city should pass by "Holocaust," for it is not there. In this type of painting the artist tries to objectify an idea, a passion, or a feeling—in this case, the terror of a bombing raid, the flight of screaming people, the roar of flames, the searing pall of smoke, and the crash of falling walls. The composition is circular in spirit, eternally leading the eye back to the point where first lighted. In "The Flight" we find a picture with no composition in the usual sense at all, but instead a unified emotion, frenzied and aimless, expressed by an extraordinary complex and rich color scheme. As it is an emotion which is portrayed, no details of faces and clothing are either needed or given. In "Dancers" we find the graceful swirling movements of two dancers, whose distorted limbs no longer look distorted in the light of the movement and rhythmic flow which the picture attempts to portray. The "Waiting Room" typifies all the waiting rooms of all the doctors in America, and for that reason no further clarification is necessary. And the sad and weary dejection of "Homeless" sums up the numbed aching of every refugee who ever fled from the terror at home. Interestingly enough, Mrs. Karniol insists that both "Homeless", "The Flight" and "Holocaust" were painted before the recent European revolutions. Is it the result of pre-vision?

All in all, one can say that Hilda Karniol's fifth annual Susquehanna exhibition is the best she has ever done (all but two paintings are new this year), and constitutes one of the best shows, both in quality and versatility of media and subject, that has ever come to the University.

lyric Schubert rendition; Mary Ellen Harrington will demonstrate the high C's of the Italian style; Carolann Zust will be the guy Parisian of the French style; and Alice Ann Patterson will spit and sputter through a Wagnerian rendition (poor Dr. Gilbert!). The chorus will end the SAI portion with a modern impression of the rhyme, complete with chorus line.

Also included on the program will be the cool, modern music of the Nu-Tones—Fred Mursch at the piano, Bill Woelkers strumming the electric guitar, Joe Aleknavage beating the drums, and Larry Wingard slapping the bass.

Sweet cool sounds will come from the vocal blend of the S. U. "Co-Eds", Liz Stradling, Mary Ellen Harrington, and Linda Youhon as they present vocal music in a modern vein—a la trio.

Bucky Clark will serve as Master of Ceremonies and present some red hot piano jazz as well as a few vocal tunes.

Be sure to tell all your friends and bring them to the "Jazz Comes to S. U." program on Friday, April 26 at 8:30 p. m. in Seibert Chapel. See everyone there—let's have a full house!

Big Red Capture Volleyball Trophy

After collecting nine consecutive intramural trophies over a span of two years, Lambda Chi Alpha has finally yielded a championship. The Bunds have dominated the intramural scene since the Spring of 1955; this goes into the books as an all-time intramural record.

Theta Chi eked out a one-victory lead over the Bunders and managed to emerge winners of the volleyball crown.

The Big Red won 13 games and lost 2, one each to Lambda Chi and Phi Mu. The second place Bunders, 12-3, held a one-game edge over the Black & Orange, 11-4.

The dorms were led by G. A. Hall with 5 victories and Selinsgrove North with 4 wins. A number of forfeits marred the last part of the schedule and points were deducted for the non-appearances.

Softball was scheduled to get underway today with Selinsgrove Hall and Theta Chi set to meet each other, and Phi Mu Delta taking on G. A. Hall. The defending champions, swing into action tomorrow against Selinsgrove Hall, and G. A. engages Theta Chi.

Final volleyball standings and points for Amos Alonzo Stagg Trophy.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

On the intramural scene the tournament now in progress is badminton. Thirty-four teams are participating in doubles competition.

At its March meeting the W. A. A. initiated thirteen new members. They are: Ann Arbromovage, Nancy Forrest, Bert Hays, and freshmen Isabell Carroll, Bert Close, Darl Derr, Carol Duncan, Charlene Grunner, Barbara Kauffman, Judy Poulette, Sandy Risser, Cindy Smith, and Helene Schumacher. Congratulations girls.

Also at this meeting the award of class numerals was given to Sue Bates, Carolyn Birkhimer, Sandy Crothers, Kathy Gallagher, Peg Pattyson, Eleanor Pourron and Thelma Rosetti.

The award of Susquehanna letters was given to Nancy Altland, Bobbie Hewitt, Sandy Meyer, Posey Nelson, Jan Smith, Joan Shetterly, and aJnet Swenson.

The intramural basketball was completed with team five the victors, and team seven the runner-up. The captains of these teams were Beverly Hofecker and Nancy Eiserman.

Here are the top eleven scorers from the basketball tournament:

SUSQUEHANNA SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA WILL PRESENT SPRING CONCERT

Under the capable direction of Professor Russell C. Hatz the Susquehanna University orchestra will preent its spring concert this evening at 8:15 in Seibert Chapel. This small symphony orchestra is made up of college and conservatory students as well as area musicians. Nancy Kendall, sophomore music student from Troy, Penna., will be concertmaster.

This year the program has been selected from the "pop concert" repetoire to appeal to a larger public. At the same time it is representative of the best orchestral literature.

The program includes the devotional "Adoramus Te" and "Sanctus", Palestrina and Schuber's well loved "Unfinished" Symphony. Mary Ellen Harrington, soprano, will be the featured soloist with the singing of two arias from Puccini's "La Boheme". The concluding part of the program is a series of dances depicting a variety of melody and rhythm; the Shepherds' Dance and "Torch Dance", Sir Edward German; dance of Delilah "Danse Bacchanale" from Saint-Saens' Samson and Delilah; and "Mambo Tropical", a Latin-American mambo, by Alfredo Antonini.

Mary Ellen Harrington is a senior music student from Selinsgrove. She studied three years with Miss Margaret Kommel, now at Wittenburg College, and this year with Mrs. Frances Alterman. Active in all musical organizations on campus, Mary Ellen also found time to be a freshman counsellor her junior year and work in college journalism. This year she was elected to "Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities."

Orchestra personnel include William Woelkers, John Repko, Mrs. Willard Zimmerman, and Jacqueline Heckert, violins; David Boltz and Mary Alice Crawford, violas; Daniel Heitzman, Mary Ellen Harrington and Gloria Myers, 'cellos; Robert Willauer, Larry Wingard and Harry Clark, contrabass; Alice Ann Patterson, Mary Ann Heck and Nancy Boyer, flutes; Lynne Cramer, oboe; Eleanor Hinkle, Gary Crum, and Mary Louise Neal clarinets; Gail Weikel and Andrew Melnick bassons; Fred Mursch and Barbara Schilling, French horns; Wayne Hiller and Wally Kutz and Raymond Stiller, trumpets; David Diehl, trombone; and Douglas Smith, tympani.

Mary Ellen Harrington Recital May 3; Robert White to Accompany at Piano

Friday evening, May 3rd, at 8:15, Mrs. Mary Ellen Harrington, senior music education student, will present a vocal recital in Seibert Chapel. She will be accompanied by Mr. Robert White, junior music education student. Mary Ellen is the pupil of Mrs. Frances Alterman, vocal instructor and Bob is studying piano with Mr. Frederick Billman, piano instructor.

MARY ELLEN HARRINGTON

Mary Ellen hails from Benton Pa. and keeps herself very active here at Susquehanna. She is a member of S.C.A., Sigma Alpha Iota, Chapel Choir, Concert Band, concert orchestra, was Drum Majorette of the marching band for two years, Vice-Presidents' Council, Women's Judiciary Committee, The Susquehanna Staff, Lanthorn, Counselor and Hassinger Hall President, and has participated in the May Day and Homecoming festivities. She has been chosen as the 1957 May Queen and this Tuesday evening, she is the soloist with the Susquehanna Symphony Orchestra. She is the wife of Mr. John Harrington.

BOB WHITE

Bob is from Morrisville, Pa. and is in the concert and marching bands, Susquehanna Singers, Chapel Choir, and is a member of the Phi Mu Delta Fraternity.

The program for the evening promises to be varied and extremely enjoyable.

SOCIETY OFFERS FINANCIAL AID

Each year the Business Society of Susquehanna University offers a substantial scholarship to a worthy student enrolled in the Departments of Business Administration or Business Education of the University. It is assumed that the recipient of the scholarship, after having graduated and attained earning capacity, makes an appropriate contribution to the fund.

The only way of knowing who these students are is by having those interested in receiving the scholarship write a letter stating their reasons for deserving the award.

If you feel that you would like to be considered for the scholarship, write a letter to the Business Society Box 203. The deadline is May 8, 1957. You may be assured that the contents of the letter will be kept in strict confidence.

MISS VOORHEES GETS MRS DEGREE

Miss Leatrice Voorhees was married on Saturday April 13 at the First Baptist Church of Sunbury to Mr. Richard E. Grove. The Rev. Mr. Michael J. Sheldon officiated.

Mr. Philip Bossart a member of Susquehanna's Psychology Department, was best man and Mrs. Frank Knosp, sister of the bride was the matron of honor.

The newlyweds honeymooned at Gettysburg, Washington, D. C., and Charlottesville, Virginia.

Mrs. Grove is a graduate of Houghton College, New York and received her masters degree at Syracuse University.

Mr. Grove is a graduate of Randolph Macon College where he is a member of the faculty. He is at present getting his doctorate at Syracuse.

The couple will live in Syracuse in the summer and will live in Ashland, Virginia in the fall. Mrs. Grove is presently filling the vacancy created by the absence of Mr. Bossart in the Psychology department.

Pi Gamma Mu Presents Dr. Karraker on May 9

Pi Gamma Mu will hold an open meeting on Thursday, May 9, at 7:00 p. m., in the Little Theater. There will be an intiation ceremony of new members, election of next year's officers, and a guest speaker, Dr. Cyrus H. Karraker.

Dr. Karraker is associate professor of history at Bucknell University. He will speak on an especially important problem in this area—"the migrant worker problem." Dr. Karraker serves on a state commission which has its purpose the improvement of the situation of the migrant farm worker. He has written numerous articles on the subject.

The members of Pi Gamma Mu extend an invitation to the entire student body to attend this meeting and get a glimpse of a serious contemporary sociological problem.

CAN YOU SPARE A NICKLE?

SU COLONY ACCEPTS NATIONAL NOD; BECOMES IOTA ETA ZETA CHAPTER

Iota Eta Zeta is now a reality. The realism of the dream has been at times a tedious journey, and many times an exciting, pleasant one. An earlier Susquehanna column told of the labor involved in preparation for the initiation weekend. A logical conclusion would be a description of the objective.

Friday afternoon thirteen brothers of Polytechnical Institute of Brooklyn arrived, but it was not until the evening of the same day that the majority of the guests presented themselves: Lycoming (three brothers), Muhlenberg (2), Bucknell (3), Washington College (2), Michigan (3), East Tennessee State (2), High Point, North Car. (11), Maryland (10), and arriving Saturday afternoon—Penn State (3). Several alumni were among the visitors.

On a hot Saturday afternoon those pledges who were eligible, and alumni members of Bond and Key, were initiated by the degree-team of Maryland. The ceremony at Lutheran Trinity Church also included the formal initiation of the Iota Eta Zeta of Lambda Chi Alpha. Linn C. Lightner, editor of the fraternity magazine, The Cross and Crescent, aided in the ceremonial presentation.

Those pledges who were activated: Jim Stone, Chas. Baylor, Frank DelNero, Ralph Ferraro, George Gopie, Jerry Kunkle, John O'Malley, Dale Patterson, Anthony Pupo, Ray Richie, Chas. Rovenolt, and John Yanuklis.

Saturday evening there was a turkey dinner at American Legion Post 201. Dinner music was provided on the organ by Fred Mursch, (Theta Chi).

After dinner Dr. Robert Amy, High Pi; Marsch Bogar, alumni president of Bond and Key; George W. Spasyk, chapter service secretary; Dr. Russell Galt, Dean; Linn Lightner, The Cross and Crescent editor; E. J. C. Fisher; chapter president, Don Boyer;

Alpha Xi Delta Accepts Nu Sigma Tau; Susquehanna Group to Be 67th Chapter

Official notification has been received that Alpha Xi Delta Fraternity has accepted the petition of Nu Sigma Tau. The members of Nu Sigma Tau had been contacted by a number of national groups who sent representatives to the campus. After a careful study of information, a decision was made to petition Alpha Xi Delta.

Alpha Xi Delta was founded at Lombard College, Galesburg, Illinois, April 17, 1893. This group was one of the pioneers in the national Panhellenic movement which sought to develop a friendly attitude among Greek organizations and to help solve problems on the campus. A representative of Alpha Xi Delta joined delegates of nine other women's fraternities in 1904 at the Third Intersorority Conference, thus assuming a leadership in the formation of policies governing groups today in this organization known as the National Panhellenic Conference.

The aim of fostering true friendship in small chapters in a conservative chapter roll, has helped Alpha Xi Delta to remain strong in numbers, traditions, and resources. At present, Alpha Xi Delta has 67 active college chapters with approximately 32,000 members. Other Pennsylvania chapters are located at Allegheny College, University of Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania State University, and Gettysburg College.

The official emblem of Alpha Xi Delta is a Quill of gold set with pearls and bearing raised Greek letters. The colors of the Fraternity are double blue, light and dark, and gold. The flower is the pink Killarney rose.

As a living memorial to its founders, Alphn Xi Delta maintains a broad, vital service program. Since 1942, the Fraternity has followed a policy based on timeliness and need. During World War II, Alpha Xi Delta helped the American Red Cross to purchase much needed equipment. A blood donors' ambulance, a clubmobile for use in the African campaign, a mobile canteen for Colorado ski troopers ,a utility unit in Hawaii and 17 portable pianos for hospital ships bringing home wounded veterans. At the close of the war 100 bicycles were purchased to be used in the rehabilitation program for blind service men.

After the war, Alpha Xi Delta "adopted" a devastated village in Holland, Noordwyck-by-the-Sea, thus fulfilling a desire to aid in establishing international understanding and world peace. Food, clothing and medical supplies were purchased in 1947 to help rebuild the physical strength and courage of the valiant people of this village. The following year a dispensary, equipped with the best in medical apparatus and instruments, was established in the Town Hall.

Since 1947 five graduate students from the Netherlands have received Alpha Xi Delta's scholarships to pursue graduate study in this country. Their chosen fields were varied—law, public relations and journalism, home economics, library methods and Cyril F. Flad, executive director—all presented remarks. The address was spoken by Thomas F. Morgan, Grand High Tau; doing the toastmaster chores was Lester Heilman, S. U. and Bond and Key alumnus. Brother Geo. Spasyk gave the invocation and benediction.

The long Saturday concluded with a formal dance at the American Legion Post 201 also. "Rudy" Gelnett's music accompanied the event. President of the recent pledge class, John O'Malley, presented the pledge paddle to president Boyer. "Crescent Queen" Maureen Ball, received flowers.

Some guests leaving Saturday night, were followed by those departing Sunday after church services.

and music. Three national officers of the Fraternity were knighted by the Dutch Queen in appreciation for Alpha Xi Delta's part in this far-reaching program.

In recent years Alpha Xi Delta has carried on service projects in behalf of children living in isolated rural areas where there are few, if any, of the opportunities and benefits generally assumed accessible to our American children. The Fraternity was one of only two volunteer organizations to participate in the 1950 White House Conference for the Welfare of the American Child.

Through "Save the Children Federation," Alpha Xi Delta is currently sponsoring poorly equipped rural schools in Kentucky, Tennessee, and Arkansas. Alpha Xi Delta has purchased books, art supplies, record players, playground equipment, electric wiring and furniture. In the same areas layettes and other equipment for needy infants have been provided.

Each year a library of one hundred books is presented to a tuberculosis sanatorium. Ten states have received these libraries provided by a fund maintained through voluntary contributions from individual members and chapters.

Formal pledging of the members of Nu Sigma Tau to Alpha Xi Delta will take place in the very near future. National officers will attend the beautiful and impressive ceremony.

FRATERNITY ROW

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Some astute gentleman once declared that nothing is impossible; but an equally astute gentleman reasoned that there is an exception which proves every rule. The exception which proves the former rule is the impossibility for Iota Eta Zeta to thank everyone who offered aid and cordiality, and the impossibility to express our appreciation in a manner that would reflect accurately our sincerity. I'll give it a try, but at four a. m. after a full weekend it is not impossible that I would exclude many who are deserving of mention: Maureen Ball, Liz Gage, Gracia Thomas, Ginny Steigerwalt, Georgia Curtis, Carol Royer, Robin Palmer, Janis Adams, Lois Andren, to the two fraternities on campus, to all of the sororities, the administration, chaperones, Mrs. Benjamin Lotz—there are many more; this is only a cross-section.

There is much I wanted to say about the brothers we met—"Shrimp", "Bones", "Mouse" and the brothers who hitch-hiked all the way from East Tennessee State .There occurred the war between the North and South (you-all), a successful dance and a successful weekend; but there is neither space nor energy enough to do justice to the event.

Congratulations to Sigma Alpha Iota for their jazz-concert.

PHI MU DELTA NEWS

To initiate this week's column, Phi Mu Delta would like to extend congratulations to Lambda Chi Alpha colony of Susquehanna on its formal acceptance as an active chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha national fraternity. The brotherhood wishes the members of Lambda Chi luck and success in their new status.

Congratulations to S.A.I. and other members of the conservatory for the outstanding jazz concert presented on Friday night. Everyone performed tremendously, especially Susquehanna's contribution to female vocal groups—"The Co-eds." The progressive music of the Nu-Tones rounded off an extremely enjoyable evening. We're sure everyone will agree that more such concerts should definitely be on the agenda of SU's musical presentations.

Mu Alpha chapter recently received congratulatory letters from the National Educational Adviser of Phi Mu Delta fraternity that the brothers here have taken first place in the 1955-56 national scholastic index competition, as conducted among the various chapters of the Phi Mu Delta Fraternity.

Phi Mu Delta, here at Susquehanna, received the scholarship cup for the year 1956—for the third consecutive time—thereby retiring the cup from competition, and retaining it in permanent possession. Congratulations brothers, and keep up the tremendous work.

The intramural sofetball league will get under full power this week. Mu Alpha has four games on the agenda, including a game with the team of the Federal Penitentiary at Lewisburg on Tuesday.

Abject apologies to brother Gil Bannerman for failing to mention his good fortune in being selected to Pi Gamma Mu. So—congratulations, Gil!

Congratulations of the highest order to brother Jim White who recently pinned Gail Woolbert, and brother Harry Leonard who pinned Nancy Ridinger of ADPi.

THETA CHI NEWS

CONGRATULATIONS to Lambda Chi Alpha on its installation as a national fraternity. We of Theta Chi are proud to welcome you to the family of National Fraternities.

The brothers returned from their vacations anxiously dreaming of June 1. (Wonder what that could be?) They immediately plunged into repainting the kitchen. The new colors are green and ivory.

Congratulations to brothers John Renshaw for being chosen president of the Business Society, to Foster McCurley elected as vice-president of the Pre-Theological Association and Stanley DeCamp chosen a member of Pi Gamma Mu.

Congratulations also go to all the members of "Jazz Comes to S. U." on a "real crazy show". The brothers enjoyed it cooledly!

Nothing else to report this week—everyone is too busy. Ah College!

ALPHA DELTA PI NEWS

Our very best wishes to all the members of S. U.'s chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha. It was a wonderful week-end and S. U. is proud to welcome Iota Eta as the official S. U. chapter. Congratulations, L.C.A.

Bouquets of violets are in order for Sister Nancy Ridinger, president of Gamma Omicron, on her recent pinning to Harry Leonard of Phi Mu Delta Fraternity. Best wishes, Nancy.

"On a picnic we will go". On Sunday afternoon, May 5, the sisters and their dates will go picnicking up to Shickellamy Lookout. Sister Robin Palmer will be in charge of the outing.

The Pine Barn Inn in Danville will once again provide the setting for Gamma Omicron's Senior Banquet on May 3. The outstanding pledge will be awarded a gift and the seniors will be honored at this annual affair.

Boutonnieres of violets to our new sisters. We are proud to welcome in all our pledges as active Alpha Delts. The new members are Sisters Ginny Alexander, Nancy Bricker, Izzy Carroll, Bonnie Gilfillan, Stephanie Haase and Jan Zortman. As new actives they planned a party for the old actives. The party was held Monday evening in the Seibert Social Rooms. It was the "Peers of Poverty" and their "hobo party" for the actives. Thanks for the food and fun, girls.

And last, but not least, get out and support the baseball team!

KAPPA DELTA NEWS

Wednesday night was one of our most important events of the year. Nine girls pledging Kappa Delta, having taken first and second degree, were initinted. Mary Alice Crawford, Joan Heslop, Maxine James, Carol Mackel, June Nonnemacher, Janet Paluck, Gwen Park, Sandy Risser, and Helene Schumacher became actives. Congratulations, Sisters.

Much credit for the ex-pledges accomplishment goes to their excellent trainer, Judi Anderson. Her reward is yet to come and no doubt, in due time will catch up with her.

Our talented Sister Janice Adams represented Kappa Delta in the Jazz Concert Friday night in the chorus line of "Jack and Jill".

A very important event occured on campus last week attracting students from all over the United States. Congratulations Iota-Eta Zeta Chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha. Kappa Delta wishes the best of everything in the world to one of the most famous fraternities in the country. We are proud to have Sister Maureen Ball honored as first Cresent Queen of Lambda Chi Alpha at Susquehanna University.

———S———

NU SIGMA TAU NEWS

Congratulations to our new members, Sandy Kimmel, Mary Louise McCann and Cecile Yeakley, who were installed just before the Easter vacation.

The jazz concert given by SAI on Friday night deserves the title of "well done." All of us that attended enjoyed ourselves immensely.

Sister Lois Kohl was pinned to Bill Woelkers of Theta Chi during the vacation. Best of luck to you, Lois.

Lambda Chi Alpha really made the news around SU last weekend. Congratulations to all of you on having gone national. All of the sisters that attended the dance on Saturday night had a very nice time.

Sister Judy Paulette deserves belated best wishes on having been initiated into WAA.

The operetta "Down in the Valley," given April 9th by the music students was also "well done." Sister Nancy Boyer participated in the chorus.

Have you been out to see our baseball team in action yet? Why don't you go to see our next home game?

Don't forget the symphony orchestra concert tonight at 8:15 in the chapel. We hope to see all of you out.

Did you know that the hottest spring in the world is located in Iceland?

SAI NEWS

The sisters of Sigma Omega chapter wish to thank Bucky Clark and the Nu-Tones for their contribution to our jazz program. Thanks to you, students and faculty, for being such a grand audience.

Bouquets of red roses to each of the SAI's who have been elected to the May Court—Sister Mary Ellen Harrington, Queen, and Sisters Barb Boob and Linda Youhon, members of the court. The sisters are proud of "you all"!

Last Sunday afternoon, the patronesses and alumnae of S.A.I. held the annual Charter Day tea for the actives at the home of Miss Mary Potteiger. A short program was presented by our pledges, Nancy Kendall, violin; Doris Schumacher, piano; and Helen Harding, piano.

Our congratulations and best wishes go to sister Mary Ellen Harrington, soprano, who is the featured soloist in the spring orchestra concert. The program is tonight at 8:15 in Seibert Chapel. On Friday evening Mary Ellen will present her senior recital, also in Seibert Chapel. She will be assisted by Robert White at the piano.

Pledge Nancy Kendall is the concertmaster for the orchestra this year. We sing you a note of praise, Nancy.

Sisters Barbara Boob, Mary Ellen Harrington and Linda Youhon will perform with Chapel Choir for their final time this Sunday in Shamokin as the choir sings its last spring engagement. We'll miss you gals!

Best wishes to Lambda Chi Alpha on their weekend activities. The sisters of SAI welcome the newly installed Iota Eta Zeta chapter to S. U.'s campus.

CRUSADER BATMEN BOW TO AGGIES 3-1

The Crusaders (0-2) searching for their first victory of the season traveled to Doylestown on Saturday to tangle with the National Aggies. The Aggies won 3-1, scoring all their runs in the 3rd.

Kratzer started on the hill for the Hummel-coached nine and blanked the Aggies for the first 2 innings. Watson started the big inning by drawing a walk. McCarty forced his teammate at second and was safe on first base. The leadoff hitter Weinberg flied out to Thompson in right field. With 2 out Bunn tripled to deep left center driving in McCarty. Markovic doubled in Bunn for the 2nd tally. Blair then walked and Scott smashed a liner to Herbster who lobbed the ball and all hands were safe with Markovic scoring the 3rd run. Fleming relieved Kratzer and retired Madano for the 3rd out. Fleming pitched shut out ball for the remainder of the game allowing just 2 base hits.

Susquehanna's tally came in the first inning when Larry Updegrove walked, Keith Tyler singled him to second and Bob Lewis singled Updegrove home. James reached 1st base on an infield error and it looked like the Crusaders were going to blow the game wide open early. But Scott, the Aggies hurler, horn down hard and retired the next 3 men in order striking 2 of them out. In the 5th, S. U. threatened once again as Fleming singled and Updegrove singled with none out. Here again Scott went to work and retired 3 in a row.

INTRAMURALS

Intramural softball is back in the sports picture on campus. The weatherman smiled upon the two softball diamonds and at the sound of "Kill the ump" the teams were off and running.

In the first game Theta Chi hooked up with Selinsgrove Hall and after a 5-5 deadlock, the Big Red pulled away and copped the victory.

On the same day, Phi Mu Delta served notice to the rest of the league that they were out for all the marbles. The Delts easily thumped G. A. Hall by a comfortable margin.

The next action came when Theta Chi and G. A. Hall played nip and tuck for six innings. G. A. Hall got two markers in the final frame and won 11-9.

Lambda Chi Alpha, the defending champions, swung into action in a game with Selinsgrove Hall. After starting slowly, the Bunders picked up speed and won going away by the score of 10-2.

Here are the standings as of April 28, with points for the Stagg Trophy.

Dissertation On A Fishpond

"And now Students, as an extra added attraction, on your tour of Susquehanna, we shall see that famous campus landmark, the Fishpond.

For countless years the students of S. U. have come to this spot to drink in the natural beauties of this renowned place. The stately evergreens and the shrubbery surrounding it give the pond that secluded feeling, allowing the goldfish to swim around indifferently and completely ignore both student and professor.

Not only may students go there to observe our scaly friends but the plant life as well. As all Botany majors well know the pond is supplied with numerous varieties of plants which afford excellent opportunities for field trips without a lot of walking. However, if the student wishes to study them independently he must supply his own microscope as the school does not have an over abundance of them.

A legend has been connected with the pond and it's pretty good as legends go. It seems that if a student, on the night before a big test, throws a penning in the pond and it lands on the pedestal in the center he'll pass the exam with ease. But, woe unto the student whose penny falls to the bottom of the pond, he is doomed to a long siege of study which he should have done in the first place instead of wasting his penny.

Yes, truly this is the most famous spot on campus as can be judged by the number of people who, since they have classes during the day, observe the habits of the goldfish at night.

Figures that add up to benefits for you

Some time ago we told you in this column that "the sooner you start, the lower the premium...the greater the benefits."

To demonstrate, let's look at some actual figures for a $5,000 endowment policy which matures at age 65 —

Age	Annual Premium	Money You Get at 65*	Profit Over Premiums	Years Protected
20	$100.00	$8,408.10	$3,908.10	45
25	117.60	7,937.60	3,233.60	40

Warriors Wallop SU; Diamond Jinx Upheld

Lycoming College (3-0), their bats silenced for 7 innings by the fine hurling of Joe Barlow, broke loose for 6 runs in the 8th and an 8-2 victory over the Crusaders (0-1).

Barlow, although in trouble a few times early in the game, hurled well enough to have won. In the disastrous 8th the Warriors put 5 hits together with one walk and 2 errors for 6 runs and the game.

Larry Updegrove garnered S. U.'s only extra base hit, a double in the 8th. Runkle, freshman pitcher for Lycoming struck out 10 and gave up 8 hits while turning in the victory...

Spring Is Sprung The Grass Is Riz

With warm weather here again a student's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of baseball, romance, tennis, swimming, or in fact, anything that can be done outside. With the birds singing outside your window and the sun shining so brightly on the grass down below it is hard to study economics or psychology. The close of school is almost here and who feels like studying so near to the end?

Let's face it. For some people this last month could be the most important in their lives. The marks you get in your tests this month count just as much as any other test would count, and they could make the difference between getting and A or a B, passing a course or flunking it, or even graduating or not. Beautiful weather calls for the use of will power, but execising self-control is important for anyone who wants to improve his marks.

MAY MERRIMENT REIGNS OVER S. U. CAMPUS

BOOB, McNITT, REAMER, YOUHON, SADOSUK, AND WALKER INCLUDED IN SUSQUEHANNA '57 MAY COURT

No May Day would ever be complete without the traditional May Day Court. This year six representatives have been selected from tht senior class to represent the Court.

The girls will reign as attendants to the Queen during the May Day Ceremony, and at the dance in her honor that evening.

The following girls have been chosen as attendants:

Barbara Boob

Barbara hails from Millheim, Pa., and keeps herself very busy here at Susquehanna. She is active in many organizations and has been seen on stage many times. In her latest role, she played the romantic lead in the musical production, "Down in the Valley". She also appeared in "A Midsummer Night's Dream", and has done much backstage dramatic work. A member of Alpha Psi Omega, she accompanied the group on its trip to New York. Barbara is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota, a national honorary music fraternity for women, and was secretary of that organization for the past year. Enrolled in the music education course, she plans to teach upon graduation. She is currently doing her student teaching in Northumberland.

Marty McNitt

A very active member of the campus. Marty comes from Reedsville, Pa. In her sophomore year, she transferred from Linden Hall Junior College in Lititz where she had been active in the Student Council and on the newspaper staff. She was also an attendant in the May Court while at Lititz. Marty has served as president of the Women's Athletic Association and vice-president of Kappa Delta sorority for the past year. She acted as song director for Kappa Delta last year when the sorority won the Inter-Fraternity Sing. Also interested in dramatics, Marty appeared as Corporal Evans in "Time Limit". She has taken the four-year secretarial course and plans to take up personnel work after graduation. Marty was not available for the picture.

Thiry Reamer

A Liberal Arts student, Thiry is a psychology-sociology major. Upon graduation, she plans to enter a field related to these two courses. Thiry is especially well-known for her dramatic ability. This year she has played in "The Heiress", as Helena in "A Midsummer Night's Dream", and has done extensive backstage dramatic work. She acts as secretary-treasurer of Alpha Psi Omega and was chaplain of Alpha Delta Pi. This year Thiry was named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities".

Carole Sadosuk

Carole is one of Susquehanna's most active students. Having served as editor-in-chief of The Susquehanna, she also found time for the Lanthorn and many other campus activities. Carole is a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority, and has been selected as a representative to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. She is acting student director for the May Day festivities, in addition to her appearance in the Court. Having taken the Liberal Arts curriculum, she is planning to teach mathematics and Latin in Berwyn, Pa.

Linda Youhon

Linda is a music education student who plans to teach elementary vocal music in New Jersey upon graduation. She has been especially active in musical activities; she belongs to the Chapel Choir, the Marching Band, and she sang for "A Midsummer Night's Dream". This year Linda served as president and choral director of Sigma Alpha Iota; she was also secretary of the organization last year. Linda is a member of the well-known trio here on campus named the "Coeds". They have appeared on television in Harrisburg, besides making many other campus appearances. Among these performances are included the Jazz Concert and the Orientation Week ceremonies. Linda is now busy student teaching in Middleburg.

Pat Walker

Pat came to us from Cheyney, Pa. She is in the Liberal Arts course and has chosen biology as her major field of study. After June 1, Pat plans to work in an animal laboratory near Philadelphia. While in college, she

Susquehanna Plans For New Frosh Class

The enrollment for next year's freshman class is nearly completed. Over a hundred and thirty applications have been accepted by the office and students are represented from Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, North Carolina, Maryland and Ohio.

The student committees for orientation will have the usual welcoming program planned for these freshmen to given them an understanding of Susquehanna and its spirit and activities. Lists will be posted for students, wishing to help with orientation, to sign.

The ig Sister program will also be used this year to help freshman girls solve the millions of questions about what to expect at school.

The class of 1961 includes the following:

Mary Ann Adams, Mifflinburg, Pa, Biruta Aigars, Harrisburg, Pa., Gloria Albert, Beavertown, Pa., Eugene Alichwer, Lake Ariel, Pa., Barbara Angle, Camp Hill, Pa. and Gilbert Askew, Baltimore 25, Md.

Cleanup—Jim White, Dick Purnell and Dick Kisslak.

LECTURE TONIGHT!

The faculty and student body are cordially invited to a lecture given by Mr. Joseph Nagy of Bucknell University in the Little Theatre at 7:30 p. m., Tuesday, May 7, on Communism as seen and lived by recently arrived Hungarian refugees. This is a topic of vital interest to all Americans.

MAY QUEEN

Queen. . . what magic that name implies. . . beauty. . . regality. . . pleasing personality. . . sweetness. . . tact. . . many adjectives can be used to fittingly describe any queen. All of these fit our beautiful May Queen, Mary Ellen Harrington. Mary Ellen will reign in beauty for our annual May Day festivities on Saturday.

Mary Ellen is a composite of all the qualities which we associate with a queen. She is a leader in campus activities, and has a very pleasing personality, as well as beauty.

Mary Ellen is a senior studying Music Education. This past Tuesday she appeared as guest soloist with the S. U. Orchestra doing two arias from Puccini's "La Boheme", and Friday evening she and Robert White presented a voice-piano recital. Mary Ellen is one of the most active sisters in Sigma Omega chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota. This year she was chos-

Lady-In-Waiting

ELIZABETH STRADLING

Elizabeth Stradling has been chosen as the lady-in-waiting for Queen Mary Ellen. This means that Liz will be the first attendant to the queen.

Home for Liz is Barclay, Md. but she attended Nesaminy High School in Langhorne, Pa., where she was very active. Among these activities were Student Council, color guard for the band, Glee Club and varsity hockey, basketball, and softball. In her senior year she was chosen the best athelete in her class and also prom queen for her senior prom.

Here at Susquehanna, Liz has been active also. She has participated in chapel choir, Susquehanna Singers and in the band as a member of the color guard since her sophomore year. She has also been active in F.T.A., S.C.A. and intramurals and W.A.A. In her junior year she was chosen as the junior representative for Homecoming and this year she reigned as

SADOSUK, ASSISTED BY ROSETTI, DIRECTS DISNEYLAND PAGEANT

Carole Sadosuk, a senior Liberal Arts student, is student director of May Day. She is working in conjunction with Miss Betsy McDowell, faculty director, and Thelma Rosetti, assistant student director.

As assistant director last year, Carole gained much useful experience which prepared her for this position. She has also displayed qualities of outstanding leadership in many phases of college life. A member of Alpha Delta Pi, Carole is the past editor of The Susquehanna and assistant editor of the Lanthorn. She was a freshman counselor, member of Women's Student Council and president of Judiciary Committee. Last year she received the Charles E. Covert Memorial Award, which is given to the outstanding member of the Junior Class. As a culminating honor, Carole was elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

"Maytime In Disneyland" to Dominate Annual Susquehanna May Day Pageant

"Maytime in Disneyland" is the theme for the annual May Day pageant at S. U. this year.

All the credit for the idea goes to Miss Lynn Hassinger, a senior. Her theme is a "take-off" on the ever popular fairy tale, "Alice in Wonderland."

As the pageant opens, during a beautiful May afternoon, there is excitement in the air. Something wonderful is to happen in Disneyland today—a queen is to be crowned. All the little people are overjoyed at the thought of a real live queen coming to see them and having her reign over them.

The beautiful queen, Mary Ellen Harrington, will be greeted by such famous characters as Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, Peter Pan and Michael, John and Wendy, Alice and the Mad Hatter, and so many other friends who are just eager to greet her.

As the time for the coronation draws near, the excited people gather in awe of the throne for their queen. Music is heard in the distance as the anxious-awaited moment draws near.

ESTABLISHED 1894

Published weekly throughout the school year, with the exception of Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter and Semester holidays, at a subscription rate of $2.50 a year.

Reentered as second-class matter February 21, 1947, at the post office at Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania, under the act of March 3, 1879.

WELCOME CLASS OF 1961

Upperclassmen and women, do you remember when you were looking forward to being an honest to goodness college student? The many days you read and reread catalogues of this school and that school, and finally chose to attend Susquehanna. These were days filled with dreams of the story-book ideals of what you would experience at college. Today next week and all summer, in fact right up to September 21st, the members of Susquehanna's graduating class of 1961 will be dreaming such dreams and trying to visualize their life here at S. U. We welcome these new students and pledge to help them learn to love S. U.

The football games have many of the highlights of fall; the pep rallies, the cheers and cheerleaders, the torchlight parades, the bright chrysanthamums on a sorority jacket, and the thrill of the kickoff. The Homemaking weekend activities blend the fall highlights into harmony, as perfect as our band's marching rhythm. Winter brings snow, sometimes lots of snow, and also a new phase of collegian dreams including carol singing and cocoa; formals, dinners and rushing; and of course semester exams, marks and vacation. In the spring Susquehanna offers a wide range of activities, not the least of which being the May Day Pageant. But no matter the season, Susquhanna offers to her students a conducive attitude for study, and fun. To quote Daniel Webster—She may be a small school, but there are those of us who love her.

Rain, Rain - - Go To Spain

by Eleanor Pourron

A little bit of sun, we'll say,
To keep us warm throughout the day.
We've had enough of snow and cold
Although it's still around, I'm told.

Oh weatherman, that's all we ask,
It shouldn't be too great a task;
For May Day comes but once a year
And when it does it should bring cheer.

Just you think of what a mess
If it should rain on your new dress
For then our Queen, who's a lovely one,
And all her ladies would have to run.

The wooden soldiers will look quite neat,
While the dance of the cards will be a treat.
Disneyland animals, with the tortoise and hare,
Cinderella and Alice will also be there.

So now, Mr. Weatherman, just COOPERATE
Cause we need your help to make it first rate.
No flurries or drizzles nor tornado like squalls,
Just a beautiful May Day for one and all!

Thelma Rosetti is another versatile young lady. She is a member o fAlpha Delta Pi, Judiciary Committee, and Women's Student Council. As Assistant business manager of the Lanthorn, Thelma gleefully takes charge of the money. She is also president of Hassinger Hall, a member of Pi Gamma Mu, and an active member of the Susquehanna Players.

The faculty advisor, Miss Betsy Jane McDowell, is a graduate of Luther College and has been at Susquehanna for two years. Besides fulfilling her duties as instructor in physical education, she is an active advisor for girls intramural sports, Homemaking festivities, and May Day celebrations.

The following committee chairmen have been chosen by Carole and Thelma in conjunction with Miss McDowell: Set-Erhard Werner and Nancy Altland; programs-Jeanette Cooley and Joy Klingler; costumes-Sandra Locke and Carolyn Gillaspie; choreography-Joan Heslop, Betty Ann Ormond and Gracia Thomas; recording-Robert Wilhour; and publicity-Cindy Smith.

BIEMIC SOCIETY

Last evening the Biemic Society had the pleasure of having Dr. J. G. Donelson as its speaker. Dr. Donelson's topic, "Opportunities for Research in the Steel Industry", was well presented and provided a great deal of interest to all members and friends present. We hope all students will, in the future, take advantage of the opportunity of hearing some of America's finest men in science.

FRATERNITY ROW

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

A cold, rainy, snowy, miserable- but perhaps in many ways a pleasant Alumni Day has passed. (as did a number of the alumni.)

"On the diamond" S. U. pulled through, and the team deserves credit for its victory over Dickinson. Nice pitching, Joe.

Incidentally, on the intramural diamond, Lambda Chi leads the field. Two lopsided scores, 25-2 and 13-1, characterized the brother's play with G. A. Hall and Phi Mu Delta. (I presume a good old "keep it up" would be appropriate.) Keep it up.

Congratulations to Nu Sigma Tau for their Alpha Xi Delta invitation. Good luck girls.

Among a million other things that were not included in last week's column ,the new brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha-Iota Eta, were not greeted by congratulatory welcome "into the fold". (Is there possibly a more trite expression than "into the fold"?) so here goes: Chas Baylor, Fran DelNero, Ralph Ferraro, George Gopie, Jerry Kunkle, John O'Malley, Dale Patterson, Tony Pupo, Ray Richie, Chas. Rovenolt, and John Yanuklis.

"Over and out".

PHI MU DELTA

The brothers of Mu Alpha chapter were extremely pleased to have our National President Mr. J. Robert Zahn, visit with us on Saturday—Alumni Day. Mr. Zahn inspected the house and found everything very satisfactory, we are happy to report. He then met with the Board of Trustees to hear the various reports on active and alumni activities. The brotherhood also welcomed other alumni for this all-to-short day. A very tasteful and delicious lunch was served to all those present. Warren Pirie, president of our chapter alumni association, received thanks from President Don Trimmer for the new showers which were recently installed. The brothers extend a hearty "welcome back, anytime" to all the alumni who were here.

Congratulations of the very highest sort to Mu Alpha's tremendous pledge class for their great party on Saturday night! ! ! They really did a "bang-up" job! The theme of the affair was Travel, and travel posters advertised places from Acapulco to Italy covered the walls. Jack Clarke was Master of Ceremonies, and introduced such skits as satires on campus characters and the "Susquehanna Campus Cuties," a bevy of buxom can-can dancers straight from the "Left Bank." There were a number of solo vocal renditions, and a combo composed of pledges added an extra tuch with their jazz selections. It was a great show!

After the entertainment, refreshments were served and dancing was provided by the very latest recordings. We were happy to have as our guests for the evening Dr. and Mrs. T. Townsend Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hatz, Mr. and Mrs. Badger, Miss Ruth Meister, Dr. Lyder Unstad, Mr. Robert Meader, Mr. Lavan Robinson, as well as Mr. Clyde Spitzner, Mr. Warren Pirie, and other alumni of Mu Alpha chapter and their wives. Dawson Frock did an excellent job in arranging the affair.

Pledge paddles were presented to the following brothers directly after the entertainment: Pete Nunn, Clarence Lorah, Doug Smith, Dave Wise, Frank Chango, Bob Greco, Guy Frisk, Frank Stugart, Milan Kratzer, George Schlucterer, 'Lynx' Wolfe, and Armor Wolfe.

In intramurals last week the Black and Orange copped two victories, over Theta Chi and Selinsgrove Hall, and dropped one to Lambda Chi Alpha. The team also lost a close one to the Lewisburg "Feds" by a 2-1 score. This week there are two games on the agenda.

Congratulations are in order for the following brothers and pledges: Jim White, Senior class president; Jim Bayruns, Gene Witiak and Dick Frank, president, vice president, and treasurer, respectively of the Junior class; Ralph Wagoner, Jack Clarke, and Joe Aleknavage, president, vice president and treasurer, respectively, of the Sophomore class.

Congratulations, also, for brother Wally Smith who recently pinned Susan Lehman.

A large round of applause is due to Mary Ellen Harrington for her very beautiful and impressive vocal recital Friday evening. Plaudits to brother Bob White who accompanied Mary Ellen.

—S—

THETA CHI

Folks came to our house on Saturday night. Theta Chi held its Dutch Party this past weekend. It proved to be one of the most enjoyable. The theme of "Hexes and Hayseeds" was appropriately carried out. Refreshments come under the category of superb; especially the country cheese! The "Nu-Tones" set feet a-dancing with their rhythmical hands—to the delight of all. As the climax to the evening Miss Joyce Bond was crowned Theta Chi Dutch Queen. The brothers presented black Theta Chi mugs to their fair ladies. We would like to thank our guests for the evening, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Amy, Mr. and Mrs. Howard DeMott, The Reverend Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lotz and Dr. Robison. We hope they had as nice a time as we had in having them. Thanks go to all who helped make the dance an enjoyable one. As this is the last party for several of the brothers we would like to say a special word of thanks to Chester Hall (for his long years of ingenuity and help), to Park Haussler (for his many refreshment ideas) and to Jack Bishop (for his consistent helping hand). We will surely miss the talents of these men. One further word of commendation should be made to the clean-up committee for getting all the straw swept up.

Congratulations to Mr. Hatz and all the members of the orchestra for a fine concert. Congratulations also to Mary Ellen Harrington on her recital. The brothers enjoyed both performances mightily.

A well deserved hand of applause goes to the baseball team on their win over Dickinson. Let's keep up the work!

In the intramural league the Big Red finally succumbed to Phi Mu Delta after a well pitched game by Brother Kisslak.

Fat thought for the week: "You can't buy much with a nickel!"

Sorority News

ALPHA DELTA PI

The sisters who attended the Pledge Dance at Phi Mu Delta and the Dutch Party at Theta Chi had a wonderful time. Thanks again to both the frats.

On Friday evening the sisters of the blue and white held their annual Senior Banquet at the Pine Barn Inn in Danville. At this time the senior with the highest four year average was awarded a prize. The honor went to Sister Carole Sadosuk. Carole also was awarded the prize by the alumnae association of Gamma Omicron for being the outstanding senior. Congratulations, Carole. At this same banquet the award for the most scholarship improvement over the year was given to Sister Noretta Sheesley. The pledges, who are now the new actives, were also given recognition. Sister Stephanie Haase was given the award for the outstanding pledge and Sister Ginny Alexander read her winning essay on "What Alpha Delta Pi Means to Me". Nice work, girls!

Saturday will usher in another May Day week-end and the sisters will be doing their share to see that it is a success. Sister Carole Sadosuk is the student director of the May Day program and Sister Thelma Rosetti is assistant director. Also participating in the festivites will be Alpha Delta Pi Sisters Thiry Reamer, Carole Sadosuk, and Pat Walker as members of the May Court. It is on this same week-end that Gamma Omicron will hold the picnic at Shickellamy Lookout for the sisters and their dates. It should be a successful week-end and we hope the weatherman cooperates.

When S. U.'s baseball team plays, it is up to us, the students, to get out and support the team. Friday afternoon it will be S. U. against Temple. Let's all go out to the ballgame!

ALPHA XI DELTA

At long last, Nu Sigma Tau has turned national. Our chapter, Gamma Kappa, of Alpha Xi Delta, is having pledging ceremonies on Saturday afternoon, after the May Day program, in the Hotel Edison, Sunbury. Following the ceremonies, we will be served a buffet supper at the hotel.

The symphony orchestra concert of last Tuesday night was excellent. Sisters Nancy Boyer, and Fran Wirt played in the orchestra. Mary Ellen Harrington's concert on Friday and also the numbers she sang with the orchestra Tuesday, were very, very good. There is a student evening recital this Friday night, so why don't you go if you don't have any tests on Saturday. (But you History of Civ. people better stay home and study).

Thank you's go to ADPi for their serenade on the evening of May 1st and to Theta Chi and Phi Mu Delta for their frat parties on Saturday night. We enjoyed them all.

This coming Saturday is May Day, one of the biggest days of the year on our campus. Don't, whether you have tests or not, miss the pageant in the afternoon as it promises to be very good. Our only hope is that it doesn't decide to snow as it did last Saturday. Can anyone explain these riddles of the weather? Anyway, we hope to see all of you out for May Day.

KAPPA DELTA

Well, summer's not even here, and more than half the girls are seen around here with authentic Florida tans.

We'd like to congratulate Mary Ellen Harrington on her fine recital on Friday night. Bob White did a very good job of accompanying her.

It seems as though the music students are extremely busy lately. The orchestra concert, which was held in Seibert Chapel Tuesday night, April 30, was quite good.

Bouquets to KD's former pledges for the terrific job they did on the party they gave the actives. Everyone had a marvelous time! The evening was climaxed by a parade to the fish pond when the pledge class of '57 threw their pledgemaster, Judi Anderson, into the pond. Little did they know that at that moment the acives were prepared to push them in also. Wow, what a splash!

SAI

A bouquet of red roses to sister Mary Ellen Harrington for her artistic interpretations of Puccini's arias in the orchestra concert. Congratulations to the orchestra for an interesting and well done program.

Susquehanna students. faculty and friends were thrilled with the senior recital of Mary Ellen Harrington, soprano, on Friday evening, May 3. The program was done with interpretations of pleasing and varied moods and showed the mastery of the art of singing by Mary Ellen. At the piano Robert White was at his best both as an accompanist and as a solo performer. We of S.A.I. are "proud as punch" of you both!

Congratulations to Nu Sigma Tau on their recent announcement of becoming affiliated with Alpha Xi Delta, national sorority.

We are all looking forward to the festivities of this coming weekend, May Day. The theme of the afternoon's crowning ceremony is "Maytime in Disneyland". May we have as lovely a day as we have lovely ladies in the May Court.

Softball Honors Won By Lambda Chi Alpha

The Bunders of Lambda Chi Alpha smashed all opposition by scoring double figures in every game and making off with the first half of the intramural softball league.

The Green Wave downed Selinsgrove Hall 10-2, G. A. Hall 24-2, Theta Chi 19-6, and Phi Mu Delta 13-1, thereby completing a clean sweep in their defense of the softball trophy.

Phi Mu Delta, the strongest challenger, finished in second place losing only to the champions. A close battle was expected when these two frat teams met, but the Bunders quickly dispelled any doubts by scoring five runs in the first inning which proved enough to win.

The second half will get underway this week with all the teams aiming at upsetting Lambda Chi.

Here are the first half standings and points as of May 5.

	W	L	Pts.
Lambda Chi Alpha	4	0	266
Phi Mu Delta	3	1	216
G. A. Hall	2	2	170
Theta Chi	1	3	191

She is a member of chapel choir, marching band for which she served as majorette for two years, concert band and symphony orchestra. Last year she served as a freshman counselor and Hassinger House president, as well as serving as Literary Editor of the Lanthorn and being on the Women's Student Council. This distinction of beauty and popularity is not new for Mary Ellen as she was an attendant to the Homecoming Queen during her Freshman and Sophomore years.

Mary Ellen is a native of Benton, Pa., and at present she is living in Selinsgrove. Next year Mary Ellen and her husband, John, plan to live in Toronto where John will be working on his Masters' Degree in Metallurgy at the University of Toronto while Mary Ellen teaches.

SPORTS SHORTS

The tennis clinic conducted by William Bos last Wednesday was termed a great success by those in attendance.

It has come to my attention that a new type of sporting event will be staged on S. U.'s campus Saturday, May 18th, in connection with the Student Christian Association's W.U.S. carnival. It will be in the form of a "turtle" race. The organizations on campus will purchase the turtles from the S.C.A. and train them for the event. This should prove to be an interesting event.

Congratulations to Lambda Chi Alpha for winning the first half Intramural Softball League.

Congratulations to Dick Hummel and his proteges for copping their first win of the year. Dickinson's Red Devils being the victims.

Beauties Compete for College Beauty Queen

Ten girls from Susquehanna University have just qualified as entrants in a COLLEGE BEAUTY QUEEN CONTEST now being conducted throughout the nation by a leading cosmetic manufacturer. The girls are: Nancy Lee Bricker, Dawn Douglass, Sandra Marie Meyer, Gail Muller, and Robin Palmer, of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority and Liz Gage, Maureen Ball, Lois Andren, Helen Frereichs, and Mary Lou Ernst, of Kappa Delta Sorority.

One of these girls will be selected by popular vote among friends and students on the campus to represent Susquehanna University.

Let's support our own contestants. You can vote for the girl of your choice by simply addressing a postal card to: CAMPANNA, Batavia, Illinois, voting for her as the SOLITAIR College Beauty Queen, and sign your name.

SU Diamond Squad Notches Initial Win

On Thursday, May 2, the Hummel-coached Crusader baseball team traveled to Carlisle, still searching for their initial win of the season. Sparked by the brilliant pitching of Joe Barlow, and some timely hitting by the rest of the squad, the Crusaders notched victory number one by the score of 5-1.

Barlow, in gaining the win, gave up just 4 singles, 2 of which were infield hits. He walked 3 batters and struck out 8. In support of his fine pitching, S. U.'s hitters came to life poking out 9 base hits, including a home run by Jerry Herbster into deep left field. Bob Lewis, husky catcher for the Crusaders, led the hitting parade with 3 for 4, followed by Jerry Herbster and Larry Updegrove who each got 2 hits.

The Red Devils from Dickinson could muster only 1 run off the slants of Joe Barlow, that being in the 7th inning. It came on a walk, a hit, and an error.

The next game for the Crusaders will be on Friday, May 10, when th Temple Owls will furnish the opposition.

Figures that add up to benefits for you

Some time ago we told you in this column that "the sooner you start, the lower the premium...the greater the benefits."

To demonstrate, let's look at some actual figures for a $5,000 endowment policy which matures at age 65 —

Age	Annual Premium	Money You Get at 65*	Profit Over Premiums	Years Protected
20	$100.00	$8,408.10	$3,908.10	45
25	117.60	7,937.60	3,233.60	40
30	140.65	7,516.40	2,593.65	35
35	171.90	7,066.20	1,909.20	30
40	215.65	6,649.60	1,258.35	25

* If dividends (at present rate) are left to accumulate.

Yes, whether you consider profit, protection or premium payment, you benefit when you start young. Get a head-start today — write . . .

S.U.'s Summer School To Begin June 10

Susquehanna's Summer School will open June 10 and close on July 19. This special session provides the students with the opportunity of either accelerating and gaining extra credits, or making up a course.

Because of the size of our summer school, the college seeks to keep student expenses down by securing as many boarding students as possible to operate the dormitories and dining hall. Therefore summer school students must either room and board in the college dormitories and dining hall or be commuting students living at home. No requests should be made to live in rooming or fraternity houses off campus.

Classes are held Monday to Friday inclusive; therefore no meals will be served in the college dining hall on Saturday and Sundays. Class periods are 80 minutes in length and, for those classes which are usually in demand, are scheduled in the mornings only.

A subject which is not officially offered in a regularly scheduled class may be given in a reading or tutorial course in which the teacher, giving individual attention, will not meet the students as often as is necessary in a regular class. Arrangements for a tutored subject must be made personally with the teacher of that subject and be approved by the Dean.

All fees must be paid in full on the first day of registration, which will be held on Monday, June 10, 1957 from 9 a. m. to 1 noon and from 2 p. m. to 4 p. m. in the Registrar's Office.

DeMott Will Attend Science Institute

Mr. Howard E. DeMott, assistant professor of science at Susquehanna University, has been awarded a participantship in the Summer Institute of Botany, a National Science Foundation Institute sponsored by the Botanical Society of America.

The Institute will be held at Cornell University from June 30 to August 10 and will have on its faculty, many national and international leaders in the field of Botany.

Bon Voyage Amys To Turin, Italy

The National Science Foundation recently awarded a travel grant to Dr. Robert L. Amy, associate professor of biology at Susquehanna University for the purpose of attending the second International Congress of Photobiology in Turin, Italy.

The Congress is being held at the University of Turin, from June 2-8th.

Dr. Amy has been asked to present a paper at the Congress on the subject "The Effects of Ultraviolet Radiation on the Habrobracon Egg". Dr. Amy has done some original work in this field at the Oak Ridge National Laboratories and is now continuing further research in his laboratory at Susquehanna under a grant from the U. S. Public Health Service.

Dr. and Mrs. Amy will sail from New York on the Queen Elizabeth on May 29 and after the Congress, plan to visit Switzerland, France and England. They sail for home on the Queen Mary the middle of July.

Alpha Xi Delta Holds Pledging Service; Kelly First President of Gamma Kappa

The members of Gamma Kappa Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta Fraternity were pledged in impressive formal ceremonies at the Hotel Edison, Sunbuy, Pa. at 4:30 p. m. Saturday, May 11. The ceremony was conducted by Dr. Elizabeth G. Van Buskirk, National President of Alpha Xi Delta and Miss Mildred Boss, President of Theta Province. The following members of Beta Chi Chapter at Gettysburg College also took part in the ceremonies: Ann Fargie, Dorothy Kravich, Eileen Engstrom, Jean Foellner, Kathryn Eiler, Lois Brobst, Virginia Lammey, Ada Louise Kreider and Susan Gibble.

Following the pledging ceremonies, the guests, along with the pledges of Gamma Kappa Chapter and their mothers enjoyed a delicious buffet supper catered by the Hotel Edison staff. After the supper, the new pledges were welcomed to Alpha Xi Delta by Dr. Van Buskirk, National President. Miss Mildred Boss extended greetings from Theta Province and Dean Ruth A. Meister welcomed the National Fraternity to the campus of Susquehanna University.

Officers for Gamma Kappa Chapter for the school year 1957-1958 have been elected. The following girls will have the privilege of being the first officers of Alpha Xi Delta on Susquehanna's campus: Lorraine Kelly, president; Edith Parr, vice president; Carol Royer, membership chairman; Mildred Barabas, recording secretary; Frances Wirt, treasurer; Pat Bodle corresponding secretary; Sally Myers, chaplain; Mary Lou McCann, marshall; Lois Kohl, Historian; Joyce Arnold, Journal Correspondent; Judy Poulette Panhellenic Council representative; Nancy Boyer, song leader.

Formal initiation and installation ceremonies for Gamma Kappa Chapter will be conducted early in the first semester next year.

HEADLINES FROM 57-58

It's just a hunch but the Editor thought that in the last issue of The Susquehanna for 1956-57, you might enjoy a recap of the year's happenings here on Susquehanna's Campus. The story can best be told with pertinent headlines from the newspapers published for you during this school year.

Back in September when we arrived on campus primed for a fresh new year, these names and activities made headlines:

C. Lorah Receives Teaching Stipend

Clarence Lorah, who will graduate from Susquehanna this month, has received a graduate teaching assistantship in bio-chemistry from Pittsburgh University and will begin his work in September.

Lorah had been offered similar assistantships at Louisiana State University, Penn State University, University of Tennessee and the Virginia Polytechnic Institute on the basis of his splendid record at Susquehanna.

Well-known on the campus and active in many student organizations, Lorah had been elected to "Who's Who Among Students in America's Colleges and Universities" and in his junior year was editor of the Lanthorn, Susquehanna's yearbook. He was on the staff of the Susquehanna for 4 years and has been active in his fraternity, Phi Mu Delta.

Lorah, whose home is in Ashland, Pa., plans to work toward his Ph.D degree at the University of Pittsburgh and expects to enter the field of industrial research.

UNSTAD AWARDED CIT FELLOWSHIP

Dr. Lyder L. Unstad, assistant professor of business administration at Susquehanna University, has been awarded a fellowship for the 1957 Economics-in-Action program which is to be held at the Case Institute of Technology, Cleveland.

The Economics-in-Action program at Case Institute of Technology is designed to extend the acquaintance of college teachers of Economics and Social Science with industry and its operations by providing opportunities for study and observation and for discussion between leading economic thinkers, industrial and business leaders, and the teachers.

The program is being held this year from June 15 to July 13.

SU Wives' Club Forms; Picnic Planned for June

The newest organization on Susquehanna's campus is the Susquehanna University Wives' Club. At a meeting held Friday, May 10, 1957 in the Seibert Social Rooms, the wives of the day students decided to hold a monthly get-together.

The following officers were elected: Mrs. Dave Yorty, president; Mrs. Charles Baylor, recording secretary; Mrs. Ronald Bartholomew, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Gleason Whipple, treasurer.

The next meeting will be held at Rolling Green Park, behind the band shell near the swings, on Friday, June 21 at 6 p. m. This will be a hot dog roast. All day students and their families are invited. Just bring your own dogs and buns and join the fun!

In case of rain a meeting for wives only will be held at 7 West Walnut Street, Selinsgrove, Pa. at 7:30 p. m. Bring your children and join the fun at Rolling Green on June 21.

Reentered as second-class matter February 21, 1947, at the post office at Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania, under the act of March 3, 1879.

BEST OF LUCK

"There's a divinity that shapes our ends, rough-hew them how we will."
Hamlet: Act V, Scene 2

These words are never more true than to the graduating classes of colleges all over the Nation, as they leave their leisure days and go to seek their fortune, whatever it may be. Yet a college senior must rely not only on a divinity to determine the course of his life after his studying days are past but on the God given strength to ue the knowledge he has gained in the classroom and the lecture hall, and on the ability to apply this knowledge. You, the seniors of Susquehanna, have demonstrated in countless ways that you not only have assimilated the knowledge, bu that you have the highest ability needed to utilize it.

No one can predict the future with any degree of certainty, and yet we venture to predict, here, that each member of the graduating class of 1957 will serve this great society of ours with the best that is in him, and never cease to service as long as there are higher goals to be reached.

To you, the class of '57, we wish the very best of luck and success as you leave Susquehanna and enter your life's work. We're sure that others will gain by your example, and be better men for it.

PAR EXCELLENCE

"Nothing stays the same. Nor can the mind capture and hold unchanged the thoughts, visions, and happenings that surround us now. For this reason, we have tried to make your 1958 Lanthorn a picture book. So that in the years to come, you may—by looking through this book—be transported back to the mystical, wnderful days of your college life."

This meaningful presentation by Gail Woolbert, our Lanthorn editor, has aroused worthy comment from the entire student body. The Susquehanna, for the students of S. U., proudly takes this opportunity to thank the yearbook staff for a job "well done" but especially to commend Gail for her many hours of time, energy, and her wealth of ideas which made this book of memories possible.

"Gail, your Lanthorn will serve to brighten our future with all the favorite memories of the past—our college days."

Help Wanted; Experienced–

With summer vacation not too far in the offing I decided it was just about time to go looking for a summer job.

Now, one way to look for a job is to curl up in an easy chair with the Want Ads column of any newspaper of any well known city and any not so well known city (provided you live near that city). That's the way I usually start anyway. The only trouble with this is that I can never get beyond—Experienced help wanted. It seems that most employers are being choosey these days and want only experienced help. How on earth am I ever going to get experience if I don't experience the experiences?

So far in my college experiences I've learned: to type a fair term paper plus numerous reports of one kind or another, and I've learned to look up things like Euglenophycophyta in the library quite well. I can also make quite exquisite tissue paper flowers, with either wire or string, numerous favors, place cards and programs, etc. Unfortunately these accomplishments are not what employers are looking for these days.

Then there's the employer who wants the "full time" employee. Well, I'm willing to be a "full time" summer employee just as long as I get off all day Saturday and every nice afternoon so that I can go swimming and cultivate a good tan.

Of course there are summer waitress jobs that would be just the thing but I can't carry a cup of tea without spilling it and just think of the mess if I tried carrying food.

No, I feel my talents are best suited at a job where the hours are short, pay high (with weekly increases) and benefits (lounge, television, magazines, and refrigerator) in abundance. However, since this kind of job is rarely to be had (one still needs experience) I find that the best solution to my problem is to tell my brother to call me when it's time for supper and then go to sleep in my easy chair.

Bumbarger Recipient Of Brotherhood Award

"On the nomination of the Faculty and in recognition of scholastic excellence and leadership in the field of religious service on the campus." These are the words found on the certificate acompanying the Lutheran Brotherhood Scholarship. This award was presented to Miss Nancy E. Bumbarger on Monday, May 6, by Mr. C. E. Davis, the local Brotherhood representative.

The purpose of this scholarship is to promote good scholarship and religious service on the college campus. Any Lutheran student, attending a Lutheran college or university which grants the Bachelor of Arts degree, is eligible for the award.

This year's selection, from Susquehanna, is Miss Nancy Bumbarger who hails from Somerset, Peunsylvania where she attended high school. During her high school days, Nancy was active in sports, 4-H, Luther League, and other church and school activities.

While attending Susquehanna, Nancy has been the Women's Vice-President of the S.C.A., a member of Women's Student Council, the assistant housemother of Hassinger Hall, a member of Tau Kappa W.A.A. and just recently she became the Women's Sports Editor of The Susquehanna. During her senior year, Nancy will be the president of W.A.A. and the Vice-President of the F.T.A.

Nancy is majoring in history and German which she hopes to teach after graduation.

POURRON AND BANNERMAN WILL EDIT CENTENNIAL EDITION OF LANTHORN

The college yearbook, The Lanthorn, is a publication that both students and faculty look forward to each school year. The responsibility for this publication is placed with the Junior Class and especially those individuals who comprise the literary and business staff of the yearbook.

ELEANOR POURRON

Eleanor Pourron, a capable and attractive sophomore from Johnstown, Pennsylvania, has been chosen by a student-faculty committee to be next year's editor of The Lanthorn. Congratulations Eleanor, for it is an honor to be editor of The Lanthorn, and especially so when we realize that yours is the responsibility of presenting the student body with the Centennial Edition. Eleanor was literary editor of the Westmont High School yearbook as well as being active in chorus and band in her high school days. Here at Susquehanna, she holds the position of Feature Editor of The Susquehanna, treasurer of F.T.A., and a member of W.A.A. and Alpha Delta Pi sorority. Eleanor is majoring in English Literature and plans to teach.

To manage the business staff of any publication requires a capable individual. The committee has chosen Gil Bannerman, a sophomore business administration and economics major, to fill the duties of business manager of the yearbook. Gil comes to Susquehanna from Lansdowne High School and after a hitch in the U. S. Navy. He is vice-president of the Business Society, a member of Alpha Psi Omega and Pi Gamma Mu, and steward of Phi Mu Delta Fraternity.

GIL BANNERMAN

Dick Reichard Named Handbook Editor; Project for 1958 Sponsored by S.C.A.

The Susquehanna University handbook is published annually by a committee selected from the Student Christian Association. The purpose of the handbook is to serve the new "Frosh" as a guide and reference book; it is the "Freshman Bible."

For the 1957-58 school year, the editor of the handbook will be Dick Reichard, a pre-ministerial student from York, Pennsylvania. Dick is more than capable for the position of editor. On campus, he is active in the Student Christian Association, Pre-ministerial Association, Phi Mu Delta Fraternity, and with the Susquehanna Players.

Dick has chosen as his assistants in publishing the handbook, Sue Apgar, Alice Ann Patterson, Steffie Haase, Ed Strayer, and Ralph Ferraro. With such a fine staff, the Class of 1961 is assured of getting the "straight dope" on campus affairs.

SAI FRATERNITY-SORORITY SING HELD ON SEIBERT STEPS FRIDAY

This Friday evening evening at 7:30, the annual Inter-Fraternity-Sorority sing will be held on the steps of Seibert Hall.

This year the annual sing, is being held out-of-doors in an effort to give a more informal setting to the event.

The sing is sponsored by Sigma Alpha Iota, national professional muic fraternity for women, whose chapters help to promote a greater interest in good music, both listening and performing.

Each of the social fraternities and sororities is given an opportunity to paticipate in a competition similar to those held on many campuses. When undertaken in an enthusiastic, competitive spirit, a closer social link can be created among the fraternities and sororities.

Last year's winners, Kappa Delta sorority, first place, Alpha Delta Pi sorority, second place, and Phi Mu Delta fraternity, third place are anxiously guading their standings, while the other fraternities and sororities are also out to cope fo winning places.

Rules governing the sing are as follows:

I. Dress will be of an informal nature
II. With the exception of a solo with the chrous, the whole group must take part in each of the categories mentioned below
III. Each group shall sing, and points be awarded for. . .
   A. A serious fraternity or sorority song—Interpretation, blend of voices and quality of performance
   B. A choral number in the semi-classical or sacred vein—Interpretation, blend of voices and general effect
   C. A comedy number or light fraternity, sorority song or some novelty number which does not involve any set or costumes — Originality and quality of performance

ANNUAL INTRAMURAL TROPHY HONORS "GRAND OLD MAN OF FOOTBALL"

The Amos Alonzo Stagg Memorial Trophy is presented to the fraternity or dormitory which compiles the most points throughout the year in intramural sports.

The Men's Student Council decided to institute this trophy as a tradition. The trophy is dedicated to Amos Alonzo Stagg the "Grand Old Man of Football", and father of Susquehanna's Professor Stagg.

The rules governing the awarding of points were drawn up by the Men's Student Council, and patterned after the All-Sports Trophy at Bucknell University.

Points are awarded for winning intramural contests and also for providing referees when scheduled to do so. Points are deducted when a team forfeits a scheduled contest. The rules try to encourage all teams to play all their games regardless of their standings in the league.

Lambda Chi Alpha was the first organization to win the award. They captured it in 1956 with an unprecedented five successive intramural championships. The Bunders are once again in the lead this year. They have a 55 point lead over their closest rivals, Phi Mu Delta, and are a cinch to come out on top again. In fact, mathematically Lambda Chi has already won.

Should the Bunders take top honors again next year, they would retire the trophy since it requires three successive winners to turn the trick.

Kratzer Dominates First Six Innings; 2-Run Homer in 8th Accounts for Loss

The Temple "Owls" (12-2) invaded Selinsgrove on Friday, and after a bitter struggle capped by Charlie Bergdolls' 2 run home run in the top of the 9th, walked off with a 5-3 victory.

For 6 innings Milan Kratzer silenced the big bats of the "Owls" with just 3 base hits. The Cruaders tallied once in the 3rd to give Milan a 1-0 lead which held until the 7th when Temple tied the score on base hits by Velykis and Rosen and a sacrifice by Fannucci.

In the 8th Temple picked up 2 runs on a walk, a double, and a single, all with none out. Here coach Hummel removed Kratzer in favor of Harry Powers, frosh from Middleburg. Harry was equal to the task and retired the side without further damage. In the Crusader's half of the 8th, after Shilling had fanned, Bob Lewis singled, Gordy Thompson drew a walk, and Barlow pinch hitting for Jim Stone singled in one run. This was enough to send Temple's pitcher Neil Rosen to the showers. Charley Bergdol moved in from left field to take over the pitching chores and Jerry Herbster promptly singled in Thompson with the tieing run. He then settled down to get Ken James and Keith Tyler on infield outs.

Then in the 9th with one out and one man on first base via a walk, Bergdoll stepped into Power's offering and belted it over the hedge in deep right center field to put the "Owls" ahead for good. The Crusaders could not come back in their half of the 9th and Temple had victory no. 13.

It was a tough game to lose for everyone played excellent ball.

Devils Avenge Loss; Home-JinxContinues

Last Tuesday afternoon here on SU's own diamond, the "Red Devils" from Dickinson College gained revenge for a previous defeat at the hands of the Crusaders, by sounding a victory over the Hummel coached nine 12-1. The "Red Devils" backed up the brilliant three hit pitching of Caswell with an 11 hit attack.

Joe Barlow started on the hill for the Crusaders and lasted 4 innings. He was relieved by Ron Fleming who in turn was relieved by Harry Powers in the seventh. It was just not SU's day as they committed five errors in the field, and could manage only three base hits, one each by Larry Updegrove, Jim Stone, and Gordie Thompson.

INTRAMURALS

Lambda Chi Alpha still remains the team to beat. The Bunders opened their defense of the second half with two decisive victories. Selinsgrove Hall fell by the score of 17-8, and Theta Chi dropped a 16-9 game.

Phi Mu Delta copped their first game from G. A. Hall to remain in second place and to be the team with the best chance of unseating the Bunders.

Selinsgrove Hall broke into the win column with a 13-3 victory over Theta Chi, G. A. Hall dropped two contests, and thus comes a game closer to the cellar position.

Phi Mu and Lambda Chi clash head-on Tuesday afternoon. Weather permitting, the outcome of the game should be in the record books before this paper is published.

Since this is the last issue of the Susquehanna, here is a little reminder that the intramural Track Meet is scheduled for Wednesday May 15.

Huseman, Kratzer, Quick, Romano, Shilling Seniors Participating in Sports for 1957

Sports at Susquehanna may not be carried out on as wide a scale as the larger universities, but it's the spirit that counts in any college, big or little. It is for that reason that "time out" has been taken to praise the feats of our graduating seniors and to commend them on the fine school spirit they displayed during their sports careers at Susquehanna. Whether on the baseball diamond shagging fly balls or on the Crusader gridiron grinding out those precious yards or atop the hardwoods on the Alumni Gymnasium practicing for that coming game with E-town, these boys have each done more than their share to keep Susquehanna the fine example of sportsmanship and fair play it is today.

Has anyone ever really stopped to notice who is relentlessly upholding the Maroon and White forward wall, refusing at any time to give an inch of ground? Well, it happens to be a senior from Winburne, Penna. by the name of Leonard Quick. "Quickie" to his teammates has spent two toiling seasons under coach "Whitey" Keil and come out a seasoned veteran in the art of football. This 179 pound guard of the Susquehanna line has not only been an encouraging factor in the Crusader line up, but has bolstered the T-attack in time of injury. Coming off the bench to fill in at guard whenever called on or being a member of the starting eleven, it's all the same to "Quickie". So hats off to the senior spirit of the 1957 football squad.

Two safeties in twenty-one appearances at the plate. Someone says that's not a very good aveeage. Maybe not, but take into consideration when they were hit; one came against Bucknell in the initial inning giving the Crusaders the edge at the moment and the other was against Juniata, ieing a 5-2 victory for S. U. Senior Stan Shilling was behind these run-producing hits and well deserves merit in the eyes of Susquehanna students. Coming off the bench in mnay games, this senior right fielder was strong in the defense and will to play the game. Wherever you go, Stan, or whatever you do, your spirit and competitive instinct will always be a part of Susquehanna.

Another dominating figure, this time on the mound staff of Susquehanna is Milan Kratzer. "Kermit" as called by his fraternity brothers is a four-year man on the diamond and has pitched his way to victory after victory. Being used primarily as a relief hurler, Milan, who hails from Dalmatia, Penna. also plays summer ball and thoroughly enjoys baseball in general. Making several starting assignments "Kermit" fared quite well under Coach Hummel, appearing in contests with Bucknell, Dickinson, Juniata, and others. Boasting a twenty-one strike out skeen las tyear while allowing only nineteen safeties Milan, was rated second on the mound staff of the Hummelmen. Whether you continue your baseball career or not, "Kermit" your contribution to the student activities at Susquehanna will long be appreciated.

The only seniors still left unmentioned are the Maroon and White cagers of coach Pfeiffer, Dwight Huseman and Frank "Pisan" Romano are always on the lips of Susquehanna students come early December. Compare them, why not? The only trouble you will encounter is that they are two entirely different types of ball players. Dwight has pounded those hardwoods four years developing one of the best rebounding records in the annals of S. U., while Frank has dumped those left handed hookers throught the nets totaling the all-time high scoring record in the history of the college. What most people seem to forget is the fact that one without the other just doesn't work. If the students can remember those few games when Dwight has been sidelined for one reason or another, they will also recall the rebounding power lost. Dwight, a pre-theological student at Susquehanna has secured an irriplaceable pivot position and that combined with unusual offensive and defensive rebounding efforts has made him part of the Crusader team. Frank, or "Pisan" if you prefer, well enough said right there; will live in the minds of every student who attended Susquehanna University during the years he played basketball here. Whether winning honorable mention on the Little All-American team or being compared to Temple's Hal Lear (Philadelphia Inquirer Feb. 5, 1956) is Frank's greatest achievement we'll never know, but to continue with basketball will certainly be one of the "Pisan's" goals in life.

POSPISIL EULOGY

For the past two years, George Pospisil has provided the readers of The Susquehanna with timely "Sports Shorts" and complete coverage of all the Crusaders and intramural sports programs. George is virtually a one-man sports page. We proudly salute this senior who will receive his degree from Susquehanna University on June 1, and extend to him a "thank you" for a job well done.

When George came to the newspaper staff, his goal was to improve our sports coverage and insert some jargon blood into the sports articles each week. To this end, he devoted many of his extra-curricular hours.

On campus, George finds time to weild the gavel over the Men's Student Council, take an active part in the Susquehanna Players, participate in sports ,and is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity. Upon graduation the entire Pospisil family (George, Barbara, and daughter) will leave Selinsgrove for New Jersey where George has accepted a position with The Prudential Insurance Company.

Indians Beat SU 4-2; Hummelmen Drop 7th

The luckless Crusaders (1-6) traveled to Susquehanna on Saturday hoping to snap their losing streak, but after another fine game for the Hummel coached nine, the Juniata "Indians" eked out a 4-2 win, scoring the wining runs in the last half of the eighth inning.

Joe Barlow went all the way for the Crusaders, striking out five and walking but three, all intentional. The eighth proved to be his undoing when the Indians bunched three of their eight hit stogether to score the tie-breaking runs. The big blow of the inning was Beers pinch hit double with the bases loaded.

Susquehanna scored its first run in the second on three straight hits by James, Tyler and Barlow. Juniata also tallied once in their half of the inning. After Juniata went ahead with one run in the sixth, the Crusaders roared back to knot the game at 2-2 in the seventh without benefit of a hit. This set the stage for the winning rally of the Indians.

FRATERNITY ROW

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

This being the last column of the school year, I guess I'll be fired now. (It's somewhat of a wonder that I wasn't fired after the first column of the year.)

It's been a big week and a big weekend. During the week we "hear tell" of three baseball defeats. The team deserves credit for its fine play, however, deserving particular praise is Friday afternoon's stand against stong Temple. (Hear that, Lanny?)

The brothers continue on the victory path in intramural softball. Brother Neff's pail (or whatever) of punch satisfied the thirst of the weary troops.

A special "happy birthday" to brother Herb Daniels. (Oh-oh, now I'm going to get it.)

"May Daywise"—a rather damp but sucessful. Mary Ellen Harrington was a stunning May Day Queen and was accompanied by an equally stunning "court". Everyone connected with the weekend activities are to be congratulated. The music of Les Michner and the clever decorations in the college gym combined to produce the evening dance. I think the typical phrase connected with college dances is, "A good time was had by all." Let's add the adverb "sincerely".

Added to the May Day festivities the sisters of Nu Sigma Tau became affiliated with Alpha Xi Delta, Saturday afternoon. Congratulations and good luck.

Congratulations also to brothers Jerry Herbster and Vern Hoover who have been elected treasurer and vice-president, respectively, of next year's senior class.

With the sun sinking quickly into the West the brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha tip their hats to campus friends wishing them "bon voyage"; we climb onto our hearty steeds—and fall off.

———S———

THETA CHI

The last column of the year, how strange it seems. Now that it is all over, it has gone by so quickly. This past week has been an aggrandizement of the whole year; rollicking fun, surprises, foolishness, hard work, sublimeness, serious thinking and important decisions.

Water is composed of hydrogen and oxygen. This is nothing new, but when you add mud, fish and plants and then throw some unsuspecting, innocent mortal into this, hilarity results. The brothers were forcibly exhibited to great hilarity (to the former pledges, at least). A slight few of the brothers escaped the awesome fate, but most fell (rather, were tossed) into the mixture. However the swift hand of revenge soon swooped down to do its job. With cutting precision, the aggressors were knocked back, I mean walked back! Their aquatic garb left a trail that would serve as a grim symbol of the forces of brotherhood.

Such good sportsmanship and uproarious fun make up a college experience. Salute!

Congratulations are in order this week. First to the staff of the Lanthorn and its editor, Gail Woolbert for producing one of the finest yearbooks at S. U. Such long and hard work was indeed worthwhile. Secondly, congratulations to the May Day Pageant and Dance Commitee for a beautiful affair. S.D.C. would especially like to thank his co-chairman, Helen Frerichs, for her invaluable help in making "My Fair Lady" one fine evening. Special mention goes to brothers Ed Simonds and Bill Shepherd, without whose resources the dance would have been hampered greatly.

We were glad to see some of our alumni back over the weekend. Hope they stop in many more tines.

Congratulations to Eleanor Pourron on being chosen editor of the '58 Lanthorn and to Brother John Albright, the new assistant editor.

The end of the year is approaching. For some of us new schedules are being made out, new decisions drawn, for a few there will be no more schedules to make out. To the seniors: we at Theta Chi wish them the best of success. Particularly, to Jack Bishop, Chester Hall, Park Haussler, Frank Romano, Gary Schroeder, Stan Shilling, and Dwight Huseman, we extend fraternal felicitations.

Whether this year of 1956-57 has been of value can be determined solely by the individual himself. Yet above everything else there remains that inestimable thing called memory. The good times, the good friends, the failures and the successes, as they pass quickly through our mind, we can only think of the answer to that famous question, as an epilogue—"Should auld acquaintance be forgot, And never brot to mind?"—no, they cannot and will not.

Fat thought for the year: Don't dream small, and we'll see you next year.

———S———

PHI MU DELTA

With this issue of the paper, Phi Mu Delta puts its news to rest for another year—a year that has been filled with the most pleasant memories for all, especially the graduating seniors. So, in this final column, we extend to the graduating brothers of Mu Alpha chapter the finest and best in life as they leave the campus of S. U. We wish you—Pete Nunn, Clarence Lorah, Joe Scully, Doug Smith, Dave Wise, Frank Chango, Bob Greco, 'Lynx' Wolfe, Guy Frisk, Frank Stugart, Milan Kratzer, George Schluchterer, Larry Hoover, Nick Kloap, and Armor Wolfe—the best of luck in whatever you may do.

Congratulations to Susquehanna's beautiful May Queen, Mary Ellen Harrington, and her court for being selected to reign over the campus during the May Day festivities. This was a most fitting honor for these lovely girls as they finish their college days. Congratulations, also, to the Junior class for their very fine dance in honor of the Queen and her court.

Mu Alpha held a luncheon on Saturday afternoon fo rthe May Court and their relatives and friends, as well as the brothers and their guests. Social Chariman Al Hazen arranged the affair.

The brotherhood of Mu Alpha chapter welcomes into active status the new brothers who were initiated on Wednesday evening, following the regular weekly meeting. They are: Jerry Bernstein, Ralph Wagoner, Vance Maneval, Jim Maurer, Dick Reichard, Dan Marvin, Mike Fahey, George Swann, Jim Straussser, Ron Smith, Allen Rowe, Jim Middleswarth, Willi Weichelt, Dan Ward, John Brokenshire, Joe Aleknavage, Larry Updegrove, Denny Shank, and George Schulman. Congratulations! We know you'll continue to carry on the proud traditions of Phi Mu Delta in the years to come.

Congratulations are in order also, for brother Jim White who was recently elected president of Pi Gamma Mu. Jim was initiated into Pi Gamma Mu on Thursday evening, as was Gil Bannerman and Doug Smith.

The annual Spring Formal of Mu Alpha chapter will be held on Saturday, May 25. Plans are being completed for the affair, and it promises to be just as great as all the previous ones have been. We advise all brothers to get dates for this last event in the social year of Phi Mu Delta.

In intramurals last week, the Black and Orange of Phi Mu Delta triumphed over a G. A. Hall aggregate by a 10-4 score. This week will see the end of intramural softball. Next on the agenda will be the annual IM track meet, which promises to develop into another hard 'contest of the cinders.'

Last, but not least, congratulations to the staff of this year's Lanthorn. In my humble opinion, this was one of the best, if not the best, yearbook that has come off the Susquehanna campus.

Congratulations to brother Bob Greco who recently presented a diamond to Miss Jean Lazarski. Best of luck, Bob.

ALPHA DELTA PI

May Day lived up to all expectations. Though the weather didn't cooperate, all the May Court looked their winsome best. Best wishes to the lovely queen, S.A.I.'s Mary Ellen Harrington and to all the members of her court including Sisters Thiry Reamer, Carole Sadosuk and Pat Walker. The entire cast did a fine job under the direction of Miss Betsy McDowell, student director Sister Carole Sadosuk and assistant director Sister Thelma Rossetti. The Junior Class is also to be congratulated for their lovely 'My Fair Lady" dance.

On the same week-end the sisters of the blue and white and their dates traveled up to Shickellamy Lookout for a picnic on Sunday afternoon. Sister Robin Palmer and her "chef" are to be praised for the fete.

Another year is drawing to a close and this means the departure of many Alpha Delt's from S. U. and Gamma Omicron. The sisters leaving this year wil be given their Jewel Degree on Wednesday afternoon before the Founder's Day Tea. The Senior sisters receiving the degree are Carletta Chubb, Janet Cole, Nancy Forrest, Nancy Marek, Gloria Masteller Thiry Reamer, Ruth Ann Ulsh, Sue Wahl, Joan Wendel and Nat Wilhour. The sophomores receiving the degree before leaving are Sisters Nancy Altland, Carol Daily, Gail Muller, Posey Nelson, Janet Rohrbach, Jan Smith, Jan Snyder and Julie Stauffer. Best wishes for your future, Sisters.

It has been an exciting year for all of us and we will carry many happy memories into the summer and years to come. All the fraternities had wonderful parties, a new sorority has become a part of S. U., Lambda Chi Alpha is national, Phi Mu Delta retained their scholarship cup, Theta Chi continued their football spirit, SAI entertained us with their musical skill, KD gave us a look at fashion and a face-lift for our cars. We had a wonderful Homecoming and May Day. So much fun and so much to remember. . . .

———S———

ALPHA XI DELTA

Despite all of our pleas and hopes, the weatherman just couldn't keep the rain up so we would have a nice day for May Day. But even with the inclement weather, the program was superb and everybody played their part very well. Congratulations to Mary Ellen and all of her court.

Immediately following the program, all the sisters hurried to the Hotel Edison in Sunbury, where we were taken in as pledges of Alpha Xi Delta. Sisters of Beta Chi from Gettysburg, the province president and the national president were present at the ceremony. After this we were served a buffet supper at the hotel which several of our mothers attended. Many thanks to all who sent flowers for this occasion.

This Wednesday we are jouneying to Milton, where we are having our Senior banquet at the Hotel Milton. We will feast on fried chciken.

A our last meeting we elected the following officers of our pledge calss for the coming year: President, Lorraine Kelly; Vice President, Edith Parr; Membership Chairman, Carol Royer; Recording Secretary, Millie Barabas; Treasurer, Fran Wirt; Corresponding Secretary, Pat Bodle; Chaplain Sally Myers; Marshall, Mary Lou McCann; Historian, Lois Kohl; Journal Correspondent, Joyce Arnold; Panhellenic Representative, Judy Poulette; and Song Director, Nancy Boyer.

The Students Evening Recital of last Friday night was very well presented. Sister Lois Kohl played a piano solo.

The yearbook that arrived last week is "the best ever."

Congrats to the Junior class on a nice piece of work. The pictures and prose are very interesting.

Since this is the last article for this year, Alpha Xi Delta wishes to extend congratulations to our two outgoing Seniors, Lynn Hassinger and Bonnie Miller. Best of luck to you in whatever you do. And to the rest of you, we hope to see all of your smiling faces again next September. Have fun during the summer!

SAI

Rain certainly did not dampen spirits for our May Day festivities. It was a wonderful weekend and Queen Mary Ellen and her court looked charming. A sincere thank you to all who aided in the May Day preparations.

S.A.I.'s farewell party for the seniors will be held this Monday, May 20. We wish to extend sincere wishes for a happy and musically successful future for our four departing seniors, Mary Ellen Harrington, Martha Flood, Barbara Boob, and Linda Youhon. Initiation was held last evening for sophomores, Nancy Kendall and Doris Schumacher, and for freshmen, Helen Harding. Congratulation girls; we are proud to have you as sisters.

This Friday on the steps of Seibert Hall the annual Inter-Sorority and Fraternity Sing will be held. Through competition a winner will be chosen from the three sororities and one from the three fraternities. S.A.I., sponsoring the sing, will present selections from the "King and I" while the judges decide the winners. Hope to see everyone Friday evening.

Everyone who attended the recital last Friday evening in Seibert Chapel enjoyed a well presented program by members of the junior, sophomore and freshman classes of the conservatory Recitals are better than ever!

This Saturday the sisters of Sigma Omega will be the guests of the alumnae and patronesses at the annual SAI luncheon, to be held at the Hotel Edison. This is an event to which the sisters always look forward. Our senior members and our retiring advisor will be honored at the luncheon.

All sisters of S.A.I. be sure to be on hand Saturday evening and spur our turtle on to victory. Trainers of all the sororities and fraternities will be working diligenly this week to educate their turtles in the art of racing. Some trainers have accomplished quite a bit as the S.A.I. turtle can spell backwards. Right, Nancy?

KAPPA DELTA

Forty-nine shades of tan, does anyone realize what an effort and sacrifice it is to become noticeably tanned? Long hours of exhausting heat and brilliant scorching sun just about diminishes one down to a minute spot of grease. The agony is prolonged and antagonized by the undesirable form of amusement such as the social worker better known in the classification of Hymenoptera as the bee.

Kappa Delta is losing some of her best members either as graduates or as two year students. Sister Marty, Sister Doris, Sister Marian, Siser Mo, Sister Claudette, Sister Barbara and Sister Carol, Sister Muriel, Sister Sandy—to you we wish all the luck and happiness in the world.

We would like to make an apology to Sister Doris Schumacher for omitting her in the Jazz Concert line up from K. D. It was definitely an uncontrollable anomaly which we in the future will try to avoid.

The Kappa Delta's activities for this week have run such as this: song practice, song practice, song practice, as is the cry of all the other sororities. There will certainly be plenty of strong and ardent competition for the song trophy.

We have found that most everyone has organized a chaotic schedule for next semester and have planned and replanned their "plans" for the summer months.

Have an enthusiastic vacation and don't let anyone kid you, life is worth living even without a tan.

Dear Foster Parent Writes Kim Tong Kun

Several years ago Susquehanna University was given the privilege of becoming the foster parents of a young Korean boy. The life story of Kim Tong Kun is one very unrealistci from our fine American way of life.

Kim Tong Kun and his two brothers are orphans, the children of Kim duk Joe and Lee Chang Soon. Their pitiable plight is the counterpart of more than 100,000 war children in Korea, separated from their parents, killed by enemy-communists, shellfire in the path of war or lost in the frenzied flight for safety.

Kim Tong Kun's family lived near Seoul where the father owned a prosperous grocery business and provided very comfortably for his growing family. When the communist-enemy invaded the country south of the 38th parallel, the family suffered great hardships, but greater tragedy befell them when the Soviet Red Army reoccupied Seoul in January, 1951. The family tried to flee and ran into the path of furious battle between the Chinese Reds and U. N. forces, and Ki mTong Kun's mother and his six year old sister were killed by shellfire on January 4. The next day the father and the remaining children buried the mother and sister on the side of the hill when a band of Chinese Reds captured the grieving father. The frightened boys were left to starve and nearly collapsed from thirst and cold when an American soldier picked them up in his jeep and got them to an orphanage.

Regularly, Kim Tong Kun writes to S. U., his foster parents, and tells the happenings of his country and how he is progressing. In January Susquehanna received a happy letter wishing everybody a Merry Christmas. "Kim" explained just how they celebrate "Kachi New Year's Day" and the "Mid January Festival." From his letters it seems that in his country people don't have birthdays as we do. Everybody just gets a year older every January 1.

It is easy to see how Kim Tong Kun feels from this quotation of his latest letter. "Yesterday, all of my classmates went together to a movie theater, in which we appreciated an American moving picture called 'The boy lost'. The story of the picture was a tragedy. I cried and cried over the boy whom I saw in the screen, feeling the boy's case as if what I am. Have you seen the picture, dear foster parents?"

Thus we have the story of the young Korean boy who is now studying hard in the hope that he may some day come to this country and study to become a judge in Korea when he reutrns. This serious, manly lad needs our help and friendship.

Student Rehearsal Room New Auxiliary Objective

Acting on the unanimous vote of the Executive Committee, President Mrs. Charles Nicely announced to the Women's Auxiliary at their annual meeting last Saturday, that Heilman Hall's Rehearsal Room would be the definite objective of their funds. This important wing becomes a permanent memorial to the efforts of the women of the Auxiliary who have been concentrating on S. U.'s music project for ten years.

Saturday's meeting, beginning with a 10:30 session in the Little Theatre, included annual reports, election of officers, a tour to the site of the rising music hall, luncheon in a capacity filled Horton Dining Hall, a program of music at 1:30 in the Chapel, the annual May Day ingathering of memberships and book entries, and attendance at a damp though delightful College May Day.

Faculty artists, Professor and Mrs. Russell Hatz, Mr. Frederick Billman, Mrs. Frances Alterman and Mr. Lavan Robinson thrilled the group with violin, piano and vocal presentations. Featured at both morning and afternoon sessions were the faithful keywomen of the area whose efforts brought in $1866 in Auxiliary memberships. The traditional "shower of remembrances" at the close, brought the day's ingathering to $2246—all toward the Music Building objective.

The Auxiliary, now embarking on its final year toward its current goal, is depending upon every parent (there were a fine number of parents in attndance this year) every friend, and every neighbor, to join in its climactic effort. Memberships beginning at $1, and Book Entries, from $5 to $100 invite students, parents, everyone to participate. Every imaginable occasion can be uniquely remembered through a book entry of loving remembrance, by organizations and individuals—and all toward a completed NEW MUSIC BUILDING! Let the Auxiliary help you and achieve its own goal, too!'

WOMEN'S SPORTS

The crack of the bat and girlish screams coming from the direction of the Women's Athletic Field tell us that the intramural softball has started.

There are five teams participating in the competition. The softball manager is Joan Shetterly.

Tau Kappa has elected officers for next year. Sandy Meyer will serve as president, with Joan Shetterly as vice-president, Nancy Ridinger as secretary, and Betty Ann Ormond as treasurer. This week the patroneses of Tau Kappa will be entertained at a picnic behind faculty row.

The championship badminton players are Ruth Ann Ulsh and Carole Sadosuk, who played as an undefeated team.

"WUS CARNIVAL" SATURDAY, MAY 18

Have you seen strange signs lately around campus? Have you heard rumors that the signs had something to do with WUS? Did you wonder what WUS was? Here's the answer. . .

WUS stands for World University Service. It is a world-wide organization, with headquarters in Geneva, of students and professors who believe in the unity of the world university community. The aim of WUS is to enable students to carry on a program of mutual self-help around the world, often with loans, scholarships, food, clothing, equipment and housing. In the United States the WUS program helps to break down the barriers of isolation.

The fight against poverty, hunger, sickness, and despair at colleges throughout the world takes different forms in different countries.

The initial program of World University Service, launched after the First World War, provided relief for universities in central and southern Europe. Since that time, the organization had grown into a world-wide operation battling against ignorance and need of an international scale.

In Europe, where World War II disrupted lives and weakened the physical and moral fiber of almost every student, WUS offers aid to refugees; provides scholarships, medicines and food; and contributes to the operation of an international center offering rest cures.

It is in Asia today that the need is greatest and help is most strategic. Newly-established nations are desparately in need of skilled technicians. These countries cannot afford the loss of students forced to abandon their studies by ill health, bad housing, or insufficient funds. Throughout Asia, WUS has constructed Student Health Centers and TB Sanatoria, stocked libraries and laboratories, established dormitories, and provided scholarships and loan funds.

In the Middle East, universities fail to adequately meet the demand for trained and enlightened leadership because of insufficient resources. Here WUS has helped by undertaking the construction of dormitories, and by sending books and educational equipment.

African universities educate pitifully small numbers of students, largely in isolation from the rest of the world. World University Service provides scholarships for African students as one means of securing effective, skilled, and friendly future leadership. Books and equipment shipped to many of these centers of learning help to overcome the barriers of isolation.

This year the budget calls for a total expenditure of $1,395,349. WUS is sponsored internationally by Pax Romana, the World's Student Christian, Federation, and the World Union of Jewish Students. It has consultative status with ECOSOC and UNESCO. In addition it has contacts with other UN agencies, including WHO and the office of the UN High Commissioner for Refugees.

Saturday night, the Student Christian Association will sponsor their annual carnival in an effort to raise money for Susquehanna's contribution to WUS. Everyone is invited and urged to join in the carnival fun and spirit. "Have fun and help others."

Figures that add up to benefits for you

Some time ago we told you in this column that "the sooner you start, the lower the premium... the greater the benefits."

To demonstrate, let's look at some actual figures for a $5,000 endowment policy which matures at age 65—

Age	Annual Premium	Money You Get at 65*	Profit Over Premiums	Years Protected
20	$100.00	$8,408.10	$3,908.10	45
25	117.60	7,937.60	3,233.60	40
30	140.65	7,516.40	2,593.65	35
35	171.90	7,066.20	1,909.20	30
40	215.65	6,649.60	1,258.35	25

* If dividends (at present rate) are left to accumulate.

Woolbert Heads '57 Orientation Program

When you arrived on campus your freshmen year, who was the first person you saw? Was that person an upperclassmen who greeted you with a friendly "hi" and gave you directions to the dorm? That gal or guy was a member of the orientation committee.

Every year the freshmen are greeted by a group of students, who try to help them feel at home here at SU. The orientation schedule is filled with dances and games so that the freshmen get to know each other. Saturday night the fraternities have open house for the girls, and the sororities have open house for the boys.

But orientation is not all play. Placement tests and psychological tests are also given. The freshmen learn the rules and traditions of SU during meetings and "bull sessions." Then comes the big problem of making up that first schedule and going through registration.

Gail Woolbert will be in charge of this frenzy of activity. Gail, a senior, hailing from Shavertown, is majoring in English. This year Gail was editor of the Lanthorn, and she is also newly elected secretary of the senior class. Assistant chairman of the orientation committee last year, Gail, is well qualified for the important job of welcoming the freshmen into the SU family.

If you want to help welcome the freshmen to SU, sign your name to the papers which have been posted in the dormitories and the fraternities.

Muller Represents SU in College Queen Contest

Miss Gail M. Muller of the Alpha Delta Pi Sorority, has won a College Beauty Queen Contest at Susquehanna University, it was announced today. The contest, part of a National College Beauty Queen program, was sponsored by the Campana Company in conjunction with their national advertising campaign for Solitaire, the Moisture-Miracle Make-up.

Miss Muller received the most votes from among those entered from Susquehanna University. She will represent her college among a group of 51 schools across the country and has qualified for the opportunity to be chosen one of the three Regional College Beauty Queens to be featured in a Fall national advertising program for Solitaire.

MAY DAY SUCCESS DESPITE WET SET

On Saturday afternoon Susquehanna presented their annual May Day pageant. In spite of weather conditions, the program was very successful. The football field was the scene of the coronation and the Disneyland fantasy.

The program began when Al Hazen emerged as Donald Duck. He set the stage for "Zippidi-Doo-Da," a clever dance done by Betty Ann Ormond, Gracia Thomas and Bert Hayes. Then Joyce Bond, as Cinderella, was followed by the Seven Dwarfs: Audrey Dry, Sallyrae Koepke, Darl Derr, Milli Barabas, Diane Heisner, Barbara Shapiro and Kitti Wagner.

The Queen and court were preceded by the "Parade of the Palace Guard," who completed the royal scene. The latter was composed of: Carolyn Birkhimer, Betty Lou Hubler, Lois Kohl, Esther Rebuck, Muriel Behrens, Terri Feliciano, Shirley Worthington, Eleanor Pourron, Janet Rohrbach, Maureen Ball, Jane Sanders, Carolyn Shyrock, Sally Myers, and Joyce Arnold.

Mary Ellen was crowned by Mrs. Area D'Esposito, the Queen of 1956. The members of the court were then entertained by Pat Eitzen Sandy Risser, Maxine James, Janet Zortman, and Nancy Bricker as they did the "Bibbidi Bobbidi-Boo" dance.

Denice Newhard and Mary Davis came forth as the turtle and the hare and were followed by Bucky Clark, playing the part of the famous rabbit from "Alice in Wonderland."

Pinnochio and Jiminy Cricket, acted by Claudette Bedeaux and Dick Kisslak, then pantomined their comical song. A well-liked act, the "Siamese Cats" was performed by Lois Andren, Robin Palmer, Jan Smith, and Sandra Meyer. Then who was that little blonde who almost "lost her head" as she sang "He's a Tramp" with Posey Nelson?

The Queen's next treat was in the form of the "March of the Cards." Thsoe participating were: Nancy Eiserman, Sue Bates, Marian Bowman, Virginia Steigerwalt, Ginny Alexander, Izzy Carroll, Carole Duncan and Helene Schumacher.

Everyone could easily picture Alice in Wonderland as Sue Apgar performed "Very Good Advice," immediately followed by the comical "Never Smile at a Crocodile," dance by Dave Diehl.

Betsy Walker, Elinor McKim, Elinor Brandt, Janice Hiddeman, Barbara Tongue, Cindy Smith, Elberta Close and Bonnie Gilfillan then did the traditional May Pole dance to the music of "Someday My Prince Will Come."

Many people took part in making this May Day program a success. Thanks are especially due Miss Betsy McDowell Carole Sadosuk, and Thelma Rosetti for their fine direction of the program. Organ accompaniments and recording were done by Fred Mursch and Robert Willauer.

A fitting climax to such a day was the May Day dance held in the gym that night. Les Michner and his orchestra from Gettysburg provided the dance music. The theme for the dance, "My Fair Lady," was chosen in honor of Queen Mary Ellen.
